Training and Employment Consortium (TEC)

The Training and Employment Consortium provides Work Experience opportunities for job seekers aged 16-24 as well as On-the-Job Training for adults (ages 18+) in all eight counties of Eastern Oregon.

On-the-Job Trainings

An On-The-Job-Training is a short term contract that the employer, trainee and TEC enter into so the new employee can learn necessary skills while TEC reimburses the employer up to half of the employee's wage for a limited training period. The expectation at the end of a successful training period is that the employer will retain the employee.

Young Adult Paid Work Experience (ages 16-24yrs)

Work experiences are short term, planned, structured learning experiences that occur in local businesses. The participating employer provides the worksite and training. TEC is the employer of record paying wages directly to employee and covering the employee's Workman's Comp Insurance. TEC will support the youth and worksite in all aspects of the WE, but will not intrude into the work environment.

Incumbent Worker Training Program

Incumbent Worker Training (IWT) is designed to provide funding assistance to qualifying employers to provide skills training to full-time, permanent employees. The training must be necessary for employers to retain a skilled workforce, improve the skills of employees, increase the competitiveness of the employee and the employer or retain or avert layoffs of the incumbent workers trained.

WIOA Youth Program

Through Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act (WIOA), youth ages 16-24 can gain valuable work skills through a variety of job opportunities such as job shadows, internships, summer jobs, etc. Participants can also receive financial literacy training, leadership development support, guidance and counseling, help getting reengaged in secondary or post-secondary education, etc.

The WIOA Adult/Dislocated Worker Program

TEC in partnership with WorkSource Oregon helps job seekers of all ages and experience with job-seeking services, including education and training. Most services are available at no cost, although some eligibility requirements may apply.

New Drive-Thru Hiring Events

A new and innovative way to meet job seekers from a safe distance. We've used this approach in areas and sectors where a technology gap may exist to allow employers to connect with job seekers in a more organic way. These events are well planned, with extreme care given to follow all guidelines for social distancing and safety.

Virtual Hiring Event

An open virtual world and community where employers get to "meet" job seekers who showcase their interest and skills to your career opportunities. The virtual world consists of web links of each employer's home page, available careers, and services provided. We take care of setting up the Virtual World and our team will be with you every (virtual) step of the way, whether you are new or a seasoned user of online platforms.

We handle all applicant inquiries and conduct initial interviews to narrow down the candidate pool to the top potential candidates that match your criteria and ideals for you to interview directly and make the best hire.

We help organize & fund experiences such as:

Company tours and informational interviews

Tours and interviews are a great way to introduce potential candidates to you and your business. A tour or interview can provide a better understanding of your workplace and the types of skills needed to be successful.

Short-term job shadows

Ranging from a few hours to a few days, short-term job shadows are an excellent opportunity for employers and potential candidates to meet. Candidates can get a glimpse of the company culture and a better perspective on the types of work they may be expected to perform so they can determine whether a company will be a good fit for them.

Work Experience

A 'hands on' opportunity for potential candidates to build skills, assess the position and develop current references. As an employer, you get to review the candidate's skills and determine if they would be a good fit for your business. The worker is paid by OCB and covered under our Worker's Compensation and general liability policy.

Hiring workers who are visually impaired

Many employers include disability in their diversity planning and hiring initiatives. All employers strive to determine whether job applicants have the skills, experience, and education to perform specific job functions regardless of disability status. People who are blind or visually impaired have similar career goals to all employees and with training and the right equipment, they can perform a multitude of job tasks that may be perceived as requiring vision.

If accommodations are needed, we work with employers to research adaptive equipment and jobsite options that will help our clients perform at their highest levels.

OHDC helps employers hire and retain great people. Employers who select an OHDC farmworker client are hiring a carefully screened, fully supported and trained employee who has a desire to get ahead, and who wants to work hard for their employer. Most farmworkers work long hours, rain or shine, in both individual and group settings for multiple employers. This means that farmworkers are motivated, adaptable and dependable and offer great potential for future employers.

OHDC creates relationships with employers that result in quality matches between farmworker job seekers and the employer's job openings. OHDC also offers job retention services, supplemental training and other supports for career advancement for the newly-hired farmworker employee.

Finding and retaining good employees can be challenging and expensive. OHDC services are free to both the employer and the employee. There are no commissions or "finding fees" and employees are not required to pay for the services they receive from OHDC.

National Farmworker Job Program (NFJP)

OHDC receives funding from the U.S. Department of Labor to provide these services as part of the National Farmworker Jobs Program (NFJP), authorized in Section 167 of the Workforce Investment Act, which establishes the nation's comprehensive workforce system. As the NFJP operator for the state of Oregon, OHDC is part of a national network of organizations funded by the Department of Labor to provide specialized employment and training services for eligible migrant and seasonal farmworkers in each state.

NFJP Youth Program supports students with financial assistance with tuition/books/Room & Board. In addition to resume and interview preparation.
