

Filmed in Peru: Experience Authentic Peruvian Cinema at Village East This Week!

With just three days remaining to immerse yourself in Peru's vibrant cinematic culture, Filmed in Peru arrives at the historic Village East Cinema Wednesday. This exclusive showcase brings the very best of Peruvian filmmaking to New York City for a limited engagement that promises to be both culturally enriching and visually stunning.

Films that have previously sold out in Miami and Long Island are now available for Manhattan audiences, but only until the end of the week

Mistura: A Culinary Journey

Wednesday @ 6:40pm

After selling out in Miami, this sensory masterpiece follows a Franco-Peruvian woman's transformative journey from heartbreak to culinary discovery. Set against the backdrop of 1965 Lima, Mistura offers audiences a feast for the senses with its authentic portrayal of Peruvian cuisine and culture. Critics have called it "a delicious gateway to understanding Peru's soul," making it essential viewing for food enthusiasts and cultural explorers alike.

Family Album: Award-Winning Drama

Thursday @ 5:50pm

This gripping drama directed by acclaimed filmmaker Joel Calero sold out during its Long Island screening and is now available for its final NYC showing. Family Album delves deep into family secrets against the backdrop of Peru's Internal Armed Conflict, delivering powerful storytelling and unforgettable performances that have earned international recognition. This emotional journey through Peru's complex history will be made even more special with lead actor Emanuel Soriano and director Calero in attendance for a post-screening discussion on Thursday.
