Building confidence, connections & life skills

Group Program

For secondary school students who enjoy gaming and want to connect with others who share their interests. This group is about bringing skills out of the clinic room and putting them into practice — using gaming, teamwork and shared challenges to practise communication, problem-solving, flexibility, independence and everyday life skills in a supportive social environment.

What to expect

- Cooperative gaming challenges
- Cooking and collaborative activities
- Real-world problem solving
- Teamwork and communication challenges
- Exploring online friendships and digital safety
