

Privacy Policy

SAUCY POSH

Effective October 13, 2026

Your privacy matters. This policy explains what information Saucy Posh may collect, why it is used, when it may be shared, and the choices available to you.

1. Scope of this policy

This Privacy Policy applies to personal information handled through saucyposh.com, including when you browse the website, create or use an account, shop, place an order, sign up for marketing, or contact Saucy Posh. It does not control the privacy practices of third-party websites or services that have their own policies.

2. Information we collect

The information collected depends on how you interact with the website.

- Information you provide. This may include your name, email address, telephone number, shipping and billing details, account credentials, newsletter preferences, and the content of messages you send.
- Order and transaction information. When you shop, information may include products viewed or purchased, order history, amounts, payment status, delivery details, returns, and customer-service records. Payment credentials are handled by the checkout or payment provider; Saucy Posh does not need your full payment card number to fulfill an order.
- Device and usage information. The website and its service providers may automatically collect internet protocol address, browser type, device type, pages visited, referral information, dates and times of visits, and interactions with the website.
- Cookies and similar technologies. Cookies, pixels, local storage, and similar tools may collect or remember information about your browser, preferences, and use of the website.

3. How we use information

Saucy Posh may use personal information to:

- Operate the store. Provide website features, maintain accounts, save preferences, and display relevant content.
- Process and support orders. Confirm purchases, collect payment through service providers, prepare and deliver products, handle returns, and respond to order questions.
- Communicate with you. Send service messages, answer inquiries, and, where permitted, send newsletters, product updates, specials, or promotions.
- Improve the experience. Understand website traffic and performance, troubleshoot problems, and improve products, services, and content.

- Protect the business and customers. Detect and prevent fraud, misuse, security incidents, and violations of applicable terms.
- Meet legal obligations. Maintain records, respond to lawful requests, resolve disputes, and enforce agreements.

4. Cookies and similar technologies

Saucy Posh uses cookies and similar technologies to support website functionality, understand website traffic, and improve the customer experience. The website may also use security tools, including reCAPTCHA, to help protect forms and accounts from abuse.

You can use available cookie-banner controls and your browser settings to manage cookies. Blocking some cookies may affect website features. Browser controls vary, so review the settings and help information for your browser or device.

5. How we disclose information

Saucy Posh may disclose personal information only as reasonably necessary for the purposes described in this policy, including to:

- Website and commerce providers. Providers that host or support the website, accounts, checkout, payments, communications, analytics, security, and related business operations.
- Delivery and fulfillment providers. Carriers and other providers that help prepare, ship, track, or deliver orders.
- Professional advisers. Accountants, insurers, consultants, and legal advisers when their services require the information.
- Government authorities or other parties. When reasonably necessary to comply with law, legal process, or a lawful request; protect rights, safety, or property; investigate fraud or misuse; or enforce agreements.
- A successor organization. As part of a proposed or completed merger, sale, financing, reorganization, or transfer of all or part of the business, subject to appropriate safeguards.

Service providers are permitted to use personal information only for the services they provide or as otherwise allowed by law. Third parties may independently determine how they handle information when they provide a service directly to you, and their own privacy policies may apply.

6. Data retention

Saucy Posh retains personal information for as long as reasonably necessary to provide services, complete transactions, maintain business and tax records, resolve disputes, enforce agreements, protect against fraud, and satisfy legal obligations. Retention periods vary based on the type of information, the purpose for collection, and applicable requirements. Information may be deleted or de-identified when it is no longer needed.

7. Security

Saucy Posh uses reasonable administrative, technical, and physical safeguards designed to protect personal information. No website, transmission, or storage system is completely secure, so absolute security cannot be guaranteed. Keep account credentials confidential and contact Saucy Posh if you believe an account or transaction has been compromised.

8. Your choices and privacy rights

Depending on where you live and subject to applicable exceptions, you may have the right to request access to, correction of, deletion of, or a copy of certain personal information. You may also have the right to object to or restrict certain processing, withdraw consent where processing is based on consent, or appeal a decision about a request.

- Marketing messages. Use the unsubscribe instructions in a marketing email or contact Saucy Posh through the website. You may still receive non-marketing messages about orders, accounts, or customer service.
- Account information. Use available account controls to review or update information, or submit a request through the website contact method.
- Cookies. Use available cookie controls or browser settings. Your choice may need to be repeated on another browser or device.
- Privacy requests. Submit a request using the contact method made available on saucyposh.com. Saucy Posh may need to verify your identity before completing a request and may retain limited information to document the response.

Saucy Posh will not discriminate against you for exercising a privacy right. If an authorized agent submits a request for you, Saucy Posh may require proof of authorization and may still need to verify your identity directly.

9. Children's privacy

The website is not directed to children under 13, and Saucy Posh does not knowingly collect personal information from children under 13. If you believe a child has provided personal information, contact Saucy Posh through the website so the information can be reviewed and, where appropriate, deleted.

10. Third-party services and links

The website may link to or rely on third-party services, such as payment, delivery, social media, analytics, or security services. Those third parties may collect information directly from you and handle it under their own privacy policies. Review their notices before providing information to them. A link does not mean Saucy Posh controls or endorses a third party's privacy practices.

11. Visitors outside the United States

If you access the website from outside the United States, your information may be processed in the United States or another country where service providers operate. Privacy laws in those locations may differ from the laws where you live. Where required, Saucy Posh will use appropriate safeguards for international transfers.

12. Changes to this policy

Saucy Posh may update this Privacy Policy to reflect changes in the website, business practices, or law. The effective date at the top will be updated when the policy changes. If a change materially affects how personal information is handled, additional notice will be provided when appropriate.

13. Contact Saucy Posh

For questions about this Privacy Policy or to submit a privacy request, use the contact method made available on saucyposh.com.

Confirm before publishing

This draft is written to avoid naming unverified vendors or business details. Confirm the following points so the published policy matches actual practices:

- Business identity. Add the legal business name, mailing address, and a monitored privacy email address if customers should use them.
- Commerce providers. Confirm the website host, checkout, payment, shipping, email, analytics, advertising, and security providers currently in use.
- Payment handling. Confirm that Saucy Posh does not receive or store full payment card numbers.
- Advertising and data sharing. Determine whether advertising pixels, cross-site targeted advertising, or any activity treated as a sale or sharing under state law is used.
- Cookie controls. Make sure the banner and policy describe the choices actually offered, including any legally required reject or preference controls.
- State and international requirements. Ask a qualified privacy professional whether additional notices or rights are needed for customers in particular states or countries.
- Retention. Set practical retention periods for orders, tax records, messages, marketing records, and account data.
- Request process. Choose a reliable method for receiving, verifying, documenting, and answering privacy requests.

Important: This draft is general information, not legal advice. Privacy requirements depend on actual data practices and customer locations. Have the final version reviewed for the business before publishing.
