Thank You to Our Gabbaim

Dear Friends,

Thanksgiving, as in giving thanks, is a very Jewish thing to do. According to tradition, Jews are to give thanks 100 times each day. We are to give thanks before we eat, for having food, and after we eat, for having been able to have food.

I love Thanksgiving for the reminders that come from the very name itself – the invitation to give thanks for what we have, how we live, the food we eat, and the freedom we live.

This month in honor of Thanksgiving I want to give thanks to one group of people that attend all services and do exceptional jobs- our Gabbaim.

First some explanation from My Jewish Learning about the meaning of the term Gabbaim:

“Gabbai (pl. gabbaim) is an Aramaic word that means tax collector, but today a gabbai is someone who assists with the reading of the Torah. Typically, when the Torah is taken out to be read before the community, one person reads the Torah, and that person is surrounded on either side with two gabbaim who ensure that the Torah is being read and treated respectfully and accurately. One of the gabbaim also assigns aliyot (plural of aliyah, being called up to the Torah) to the members of the congregation, and calls up the people who are being honored with aliyot. In many communities the gabbai is charged with making sure that all synagogue services run smoothly, a logistical job that can be a lot of work. In other communities, the gabbai collects money for the synagogue. It is considered an honor and a great responsibility to be the gabbai, or one of the gabbaim, in any community.”

Our Gabbaim truly deserve to be honored and acknowledged for their contribution to our Temple. I am delighted to have the opportunity to pay tribute and to honor my dear friends and assistants, the Gabbaim:

Danny Winkler, Lenny Reznik, Mark Sloan, Anne Peacock, Heather Concklin and Roz & Alvin Weinerman.

From our long history, we know that, since the destruction of the Temple in Jerusalem in 70 CE, the synagogue attained a central role as a unifying institution for the Jewish community.

In my view, a synagogue has many functions, but in its core, it is a house of prayers, and here comes into play the important role of our Gabbaim. In Temple Emanu-El we are blessed with a group of dedicated individuals who attend all Shabbat and holiday services and help to lead, orchestrate, organize and chant prayers. The Gabbaim add to the splendor and glory of the ritual that our tradition is so known for. Each one of them brings a rich experience and a special flavor combined with his/her expertise. Their weekly commitment enhances our services; however, more than knowledge, they bring their love and devotion to Judaism. Their devotion reflects on their true service of the heart. Temple Emanu-El is indebted to their magnificent activities, and their efforts are praised in the eyes of man and in the eyes of God.

May you continue your Mitzvot Journey, and may you be privileged to do many more good deeds. May God bless you and your loved ones with a good life, health, and prosperity.

Amen.

Fun to use and make great gifts...get yours today!

Sisterhood Doings... November 2025

Sisterhood held a general meeting on October 18. It was very well attended, and people enjoyed a light breakfast and schmoozing. Thank you to everyone who volunteered to chair a committee. Also, a BIG Thank You to all who participated in our Tushes and Toes project.

Lynne Baronoff deserves a standing ovation. She received the check from the National Mah-Jongg League for the 2025 cards she sold, and it was the most money we've received in over 13 years. Way to go, Lynne!

Looking for a unique way to honor/remember a loved one? We have the perfect solution to your dilemma. Light a Chanukiah project is underway. You can purchase a virtual Chanukiah for $18.00 and dedicate it to whomever or whatever you wish. This is fun and easy. Just fill out the form found in the Bulletin, attach a check, and mail it to the Temple by December 15. All submissions will be printed in the January Bulletin.

Vita Friedman and Dori Schefflin are gearing up for another Mah-Jongg Tournament on December 17. There is always a great need for volunteers to make these tournaments run smoothly and be successful. If you can help, please call Dori. It will be greatly appreciated.

Speaking of Mah Jongg...do you want to learn how to play? Starting on Monday, November 3, lessons will be offered at 12:30 PM in the Rosen Center. This is for Temple members only. RSVP to Roz Weinerman.

Have you purchased your Attraction and Dining Coupon Books? No? Well, you are in luck because Benay Brockman is ready to sell you as many as you need. For $25.00, you can gift your friends, coworkers, postal carrier, refuse collector, UPS/FedEx driver, pet sitter, etc. It is something people will really appreciate. Give Benay a call or pick up an Attractions Book in Amy's office in the Rosen Center.

B'Shalom,
Perri Sullivan
