

THE SPARSHA PROCESS

At Sparsha, we create exclusive paintings – with distilled concepts and meticulous execution.

Starting with superior quality stretched canvas, we use premium branded acrylic and oil paints for our creations. Initial coat of primer binds the paint and canvas, upon which multiple lush coats of paint are applied, to-a-plan, line-by-line with love and attention, nourishing our paintings.

The paintings are layered with liquid varnish upon drying, to seal and protect them from weathering. Upon varnishing, the paintings go in for framing where they are floated into premium quality frames, ready for installation.

Every detail is attended to, with in-depth inspections at each stage, to deliver creations of high quality - each creation being exclusive to its taker - one and only of its kind!
