Looking ahead: What the loss of crucial funding will mean for child crime victims in Kansas

Author: Kasey Dalke

Executive Director of the Children's Advocacy Centers of Kansas

"This year, VOCA grants saw a $600 million federal cut. Across the board, the nation's nearly 1,000 CACs are being forced to consider making cuts or shutting their doors."

"Already, Kansas CAC's are unable to reach 32% of the state. Further limitation of our services will see that percentage grow, cutting off countless children that need to reach our doors, it will result in shrinking staffs, shutting down satellite centers and leaving our rural communities to fend for themselves without the funds to establish their own CAC. The Kansas Legislature has taken care to keep doors open in our urban and rural communities, but we are still around $4 million short to meet the demand.

At the end of the day, VOCA cuts mean that child victims will have to carry the trauma of their abuse alone."

NCK CASA PRESENTS

NOT ALONE

IN A WORLD THAT IS SO CONNECTED,
WHY DO WE FEEL SO ALONE?

Driven by a desire to understand why her best friend killed herself at 16, Jacqueline Monetta asks teens to share their struggles with mental illness and suicide attempts. Through her intimate teen — to — teen conversations, Jacqueline, and the audience learn about depression, anxiety, self — harm, suicide attempts, getting help and treating mental illness. Each teen paints a vivid picture of the depths of despair he/she suffered and how talking about it saved them. They assure the audience that mental illnesses, like physical illnesses, can and should be treated.
