

ABOUT OUR OWNERSHIP

CHRIS PARRY

Owner

A multi-Webster Award winner for excellence in BC journalism, Chris is the founder of Equity.Guru, which he built with the specific plan of blending old school stock promotion with an emphasis on truth, high standards, and ethics.

Chris is a veteran of TV, radio, and print, consulting with public companies to help them figure out their storylines, achievable milestones and improve their communication with shareholders, while also posting regular deep dive analysis of companies in the public spotlight.

In 2020, Chris became an investor and board member with Altrincham FC (England), and is also a board member locally with Richmond FC.

Chris' love for wrestling started early back in Australia referring one match before realizing he better leave it to the pros.

ROB FAI

Co-Founder, President

With 15 years of sports management in professional baseball and even more time in sports broadcasting, Rob brings a unique skillset and ability to NEW.

Recipient of the Paul Carson Award as Top Playby-Play broadcaster in British Columbia, Rob was also key in helping the Vancouver Canadians Baseball Club attain the John H. Johnson President's Award given to the most complete franchise in Minor League Baseball, the first time in MiLB history a Canadian franchise had received the honour.

In 2015, Rob was inducted into the Vancouver Canadians Hall of Fame and also received the Baseball B.C. Meritorious Award for his lifetime commitment to the game of baseball.

Rob worked with TSN1040 Sports Radio hosting his own evening show, and is still one of the voices heard on EA Sports NHL Hockey series.

how we can best bring our fans into potential storylines and outcomes AND listen to what they have to say online. When our fans realize they are being heard, a loyalty is created that is already forming with our travelling fanbase.

Incase you've been living under a rock, @NEWWrestlingInc is the hottest You've worked hard to build your brand and our goal is simply to make it fun, engaging and easy to connect with. Nation Extreme Wrestling made a commitment from 'day one' that we would produce a show worthy of partnership and are also select in who we do business with. This isn't simply about meeting a quota, this is about developing a relationship that is both sustainable and enjoyable.

Let us learn about what your vision is and allow us to show you the options that we have. Maybe there's a perfect fit or perhaps we can show you a creative idea that helps you reach a NEW audience.

Our production team is outstanding and is committed to the highest standard and people across Canada are noticing.

In partnership with The Gaming Stadium, one of Canada's leading e-Sports and gaming venues, Nation Extreme Wrestling is able to produce TV quality matches at every event. Our matches have full commentary and have already showcased the likes of IMPACT Wrestling's Josh Alexander, New Japan Wrestling's El Phantasmo, and former WWE stars The Bollywood Boyz! What's the one thing in common? They are all Canadian.

Nation Extreme Wrestling is committed to providing a showcase for the amazing talent that we have right in our own backyard and are fiercely proud to represent the amazing workers from right here in the Pacific Northwest. (click on photo to left to watch NEW 2)
