"Leadership Logic's Executive Training is to the Mission Critical Operations Leader, what Annapolis is to the Navy!"

Leadership Logic Consulting to offer an exclusive day of executive leadership training program for Greer Chamber Members Business Leaders, Chief "X" Officers and senior leaders/executives. This tuition reduced executive training program differs from similar executive level training programs in five very distinct ways:

- C-Suite executives will share their insights on how best to communicate the jargon of mission critical in ways they can understand and support;
- Each session highlights a specific aspect of a data center executive's job and provides practical tips they can take back in order to be more effective leaders;
- Each session builds in time for table discussions so participants can discuss plans for converting what they heard in the panel discussion into actions they could take back to their company;
- The training concludes by translating the lessons learned into the development of a strategic business plan that demonstrates the value of mission critical and data center operations in a language the C-suite and company will understand; and,
- Participants leave with a network of colleagues with whom they can call upon after the forum is over.
