ABOUT THE ARTIST

Kendra Pearl is an artist born in Everett, PA, and now living in Westmont, who has studied at the Corcoran School of Art and Design. Many of you will recognize Kendra as one who helped you in your choice of colors at a local paint store. Others may recognize her as one who helped you, in a local high-end jewelry store, to find that special piece. Kendra has raised her two daughters and is now able to focus more fully on her studio work. Her goal is to create a community of clients to help surround themselves with beautiful paintings that highlight the personality of her clients. "Serenity in Faces and Colors." Kendra's exhibit is comprised mostly of faces. As you walk by each one, gaze into their eyes. It is almost as though those eyes are looking right back at you. With years of studying color theory, the colors she applies do more than just capture a serene scene. Many times, a specific color is the inspiration for your mind to respond in a pre-determined way. She finds that facet a fascinating science held within the craft of painting. Please sign Kendra Pearl Studios Visitor Log! You may leave a note for her and she will contact you. If you would like assistance choosing colors for your walls and custom paintings for your home and business, take a card. If you are seeking a pet portrait, please do the same. Kendra works with home and business owners to choose the right color for rooms and creates custom paintings to highlight their goals.
