THE MERCHANT OF VENICE

PERFORMANCES AT CACCC: OCT. 18—20

PERFORMANCES AT SAINT FRANCIS: NOV. 7—10

Presented as a part of Hope Springs Eternal: The Holocaust Project:

Shakespeare's classically known play, a comedic tragedy that is not only controversial, but forces actors and audiences to take a deeper look at their own moral compass and question if the play's antagonist, Shylock, is the villain or the victim. Love, greed, revenge, and prejudice are all present; however, the play reveals that love is more important than money, that mercy is better than revenge, and that love lasts forever. In the end, cynical voices caution that money rules the world, that mercy alone cannot run people's lives, and that love can disappear after marriage. The Merchant of Venice will intrigue those from all walks of life.

After each performance there will be an optional open forum discussion between the cast & crew and audience members to talk about the history, cultural heritage, morality, antisemitism, and more within the production.

Presented in partnership with Saint Francis University drama department, as a part of Hope Springs Eternal: The Holocaust Project
