

Kathleen Broaderick is an award-winning fine artist and art instructor based in Northwest Florida and the Appalachian Mountains. Known for her vibrant, expressive style, her artwork has been described as both energetic and calming—like a hazy dream you don't want to forget upon waking.

When she's not painting, Kathleen is passionate about sharing her knowledge in person and with students worldwide through her online courses. She is the author of The Artist's Virtues, a unique reference guide for those seeking to build an artistic life.

Kathleen believes that studying art is a twofold journey—it develops technical skill while also enriching life with deeper creativity and awareness.
