

Julie Thompson Davis is an artist, art consultant and art educator who has been working in the fine art industry since 1995. Julie was born into a family of artists and was interested in creating as soon as she could hold a crayon in hand.

Julie's professional life has been primarily in conjunction with Cheap Joe's Art Stuff either as an employee or as a consultant since 1996 after graduating from Appalachian State University with a BA in Commercial Art/Marketing. Due to her exposure to almost every kind of artist material on earth, Julie differs from most artists in that she does not have a primary media that she works in. Her work varies widely stylistically and media can include watercolor, acrylic, graphite, mixed media, collage, colored pencil, pastel, alloys, underwater basket weaving, emotive jell-o sculpture and more.

Art instruction was not her intended path, but after a decade of working in advertising it was time for a change of direction back to fine art. Julie then became the Owner and Primary Instructor at Periwinkle Art School teaching art to children and adults of all ages in her community. Julie's consulting with Cheap Joe's Art Stuff has evolved over the years. Julie is the Educational Content Developer and host/instructor of 2 Minutes Art Tips on YouTube. The series delivers a unique blend of information, technique, demonstration and inspiration with a generous helping of Julie's own take on the art making process. (And sarcasm... there is that too.) Julie now teaches privately in various media and is showing her work at various venues and festivals.
