WHOVA APP INFORMATION

You will receive an email from our online Whova App about setting up your virtual booth and collecting attendee leads. Using the Whova App for the Workforce Summit will allow you to:

- Complete your booth with all your company contact information
- Upload brochures about your products or companies
- Schedule live info sessions or demos
- Provide coupons, giveaways, and raffles to generate more leads
- Collect attendee leads using your phone to scan their badge QR codes

Whova App provides step-by-step instructions on how to set up your booth. You will also receive additional information on how to use the Whova App to communicate with the attendees.

TABLETOP SELECTION

You will receive an email from Christine Doyle asking you to select your booth. The booth locations are in the area of the breakout rooms.

There will also be Networking with Sponsors: Lite Bites & Prizes. Nightly receptions will be held in the Exhibitor area to give away prizes. Any sponsor with a prize is welcome to participate; just let us know!

The SPONSOR RECEPTION for all eligible sponsors will be held on Wednesday, September 16.

EXHIBITOR SAFETY & SECURITY

EXHIBITOR SAFETY

- All exhibitors must set up their displays within the boundaries of their tabletop area.
- Any person involved in moving equipment, supplies, or goods into or out of the facility is prohibited from consuming alcohol or being under the influence of alcohol.
- Booth construction must comply with applicable building codes, including electrical and plumbing regulations. All work conducted on booths on-site must adhere to facility regulations. For more information, please contact Marti Coley, the event's Sponsorship Representative. In an emergency evacuation, program staff will direct you to the nearest emergency exit, so familiarize yourself with the facility's layout.

EXHIBITOR SECURITY

- The Exhibit Hall is located inside a ballroom that will be locked at night, but this does not guarantee that Exhibitors will not experience loss. Nor does it imply an assumption of liability for an Exhibitor's property by Show Management or their agents
- Do not assume the exhibit hall is secure. Each exhibitor must take responsibility for the security of all items in their booth. Show Management, facility personnel, and the hotel staff will attempt to guard against theft and damage, but the burden ultimately falls on the Exhibitor. Move-in and move-out are particularly vulnerable times, so protect your exhibit materials carefully.
- Never display "one-of-a-kind" items or irreplaceable samples unless someone is present to monitor them. For example, plasma screens are a high-theft item. We also recommend not marking the shipping containers "PLASMA SCREEN."
- Do not leave your booth unattended during the busy and crowded move-in and move-out periods.
- Consider covering your exhibit with cloth at the close of each day. This psychological deterrent makes it more difficult for people to handle merchandise, as criminals often look for an easy target first.
- Business tools such as laptop computers, recorders, calculators, and giveaway items are frequently stolen, so they should be watched over and stored safely at night. Don't leave anything at your booth that could be taken.
- Thieves will also take personal items like purses, suit coats, and toolboxes, so do not leave personal belongings unprotected at your tabletop.
- Never store items in containers marked "Empty."
- Show Management provides overnight security to prevent entry to the exhibit area by anyone not authorized, but this security service does not guarantee that Exhibitors will not experience loss. Nor does it imply an assumption of liability for an Exhibitor's property by Show Management or their agents
