- Honeycomb and Cellular Shades are designed to provide superior insulation at the window, helping to lower your monthly utility bills.
- Reducing your energy use also helps create a more sustainable environment.

* Applicable “purchase price” is the amount paid by the consumer for the product(s), including sales tax, and does not cover the costs for measuring or installing qualifying products.

How The Tax Credit Works

1. Purchase Qualifying Products

Purchase qualifying products between August 1, 2023, and December 31, 2023.

For a list of qualifying products, please see the Qualifying Product Document below.

2. Save Your Invoice

Save your original purchase invoice and/or proof of payment for the amount paid for the qualifying Alta Window Fashions products. (Measuring and installation charges are not eligible for this tax credit.)

3. Print Out the Required Documents and Meet with Your Tax Professional

Download and print the required documents and take them, along with your sales invoice and/or proof of payment, to your tax professional when filing your 2023 tax returns.

Save Energy Year-Round

The unique cell-within-a-cell design of Honeycomb and Cellular Shades traps air in distinct pockets, keeping your house warmer when temperatures drop and cooler when they rise.
