Aenon Bible College Collaborates with Kairos Pacific University of California
In Historic Partnership to Offer Accredited Academic Degrees

August 5, 2025, Indianapolis, Indiana.

Aenon Bible College is collaborating with Kairos Pacific University in an historic partnership to offer academic courses that are fully accredited, leading to an Associate, Bachelor, Masters and Doctoral Degrees, with courses being co-taught by both Aenon faculty and Kairos Pacific University faculty. This collaboration will allow Aenon students to become eligible for federal financial aid, the General Infantry Bill, and scholarship opportunities. Aenon Bible College President, Dr. Eugene T. W. Sanders, noted, “This opportunity that the Lord has provided us will allow our students to immediately access fully accredited coursework leading to academic degrees. For the first time in our 85-year history, Aenon Bible College will do so through a formal partnership like the one we now share with Kairos Pacific University—and we praise God.”

Kairos Pacific University President, Dr. Grace Kim, is equally excited about this unique partnership. Dr. Kim shared:

“We are pleased to partner with Aenon Bible College and the Pentecostal Assemblies of the World, to offer academic courses with full accreditation. We recognize the prophetic leadership and vision that Aenon represents, with over two million members around the world. The time is now to partner for this level of progress.”

Bishop Theodore L. Brooks, Sr., Presiding Prelate of the Pentecostal Assemblies of the World, Inc., praised the leadership team of Aenon Bible College and noted that the college has unveiled a number of progressive, transformational and innovative programs over the last several months that are both academic and centers on professional development. “The renaissance of Aenon Bible College has been a core goal of my administration, and we are very pleased and looking forward to this partnership. To God be the glory.”
