

This is Aenon

Since 1941, Aenon Bible College has been the official ministerial training and leadership center of the Pentecostal Assemblies of the World. Founded in Columbus, Ohio by the late Bishop Karl F. Smith, Aenon has faithfully equipped Apostolic Pentecostal ministers and leaders across the U.S. and around the world for over eight decades.

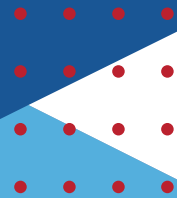

Rooted in our rich heritage and anointed by the Holy Spirit, Aenon's mission is clear: to provide systematic, faith-driven higher education that prepares ministers and leaders with the 21st-century skills they need to serve effectively and lead boldly.

Our experienced, credentialed, Holy Ghost-filled faculty and staff carry forward Aenon's legacy as the International Clearinghouse for Licensing and Ordination of Apostolic Pentecostal ministers — training men and women to lead with excellence and conviction, wherever God calls them.

Program Overview

The Making of a Bishop

The Episcopacy Formation framework is designed to ensure that those elevated to the office of Bishop within Apostolic Pentecostal organizations are fully prepared for their responsibilities as spiritual overseers, administrative leaders, doctrinal defenders, and mentors to pastors and churches under their jurisdiction.

The Bishop has significant responsibility serving essentially as a leader of clergy, managing ecclesiastical matters, and has a comprehensive set of leadership responsibilities that are spiritual, administrative and jurisdictional. Among the many roles of the Bishop, there are assignments associated with ordination, consecration, dedication, and tasks associated with the management of pastors and leaders within the organization.

Effective training and high-level academic experiences are central to ensuring the ongoing viability of the Apostolic Pentecostal organization.
