DISCLAIMER

To whom it may concern,

Lexbridge Consulting LLC is a legal support and consulting company offering non-attorney services including legal document preparation, virtual paralegal assistance, and notary/apostille coordination. We are not a law firm, and none of our non-attorney representatives are acting as your attorney.

No Attorney-Client Relationship (Unless Formally Established):

Using our general services does not automatically create an attorney-client relationship. Legal advice or representation is only provided through a licensed attorney affiliated with Lexbridge Consulting LLC upon separate engagement.

Licensed Attorneys Available:

Lexbridge Consulting LLC employs or partners with licensed attorneys who may be available to assist you when your matter requires legal advice, representation, or court-related services. These services are offered independently by the attorney under their own fee structure, separate from the pricing of our standard support services. If your situation requires such legal assistance, you will be notified and given the option to engage the attorney directly.

Non-Attorney Services:

Our core offerings—legal document preparation, virtual paralegal support, and notary/apostille coordination—are provided by trained professionals who do not offer legal advice or represent clients in court. These services are administrative in nature and comply with applicable laws regarding the unauthorized practice of law (UPL).

State Compliance:

Lexbridge Consulting LLC operates in full compliance with federal and state regulations. We do not provide legal advice or representation through non-attorney staff, and we do not engage in activities that constitute the unauthorized practice of law in any state, including Florida, Texas, and Georgia.
