Gift of CURIOSITY

DIRECTIONS

Preparation:

Print one set of insect parts playing pieces for each player. For durability, print on cardstock and/or laminate the page after printing.

Cut out the insect parts playing pieces.

Depending on the players' skill level(s), you may also want to print the sample insect so players can see where each body part goes.

Materials:
- One set of insect body parts per player
- One dice
- Sample insect (optional)

Directions:

Players take turns rolling the dice.

Each player selects body parts to build his/her insect according to the number rolled on the dice.

The first player to finish building his/her insect wins!

Alternatively, the game can be played non-competitively by allowing all players to continue rolling the dice until their insects are complete.
