Subject: Urgent Action Needed: Protect Children from Harmful Federal Policies

Dear [Representative/Senator/Official's Name],

I am writing to you as a concerned constituent and advocate during Child Abuse Prevention Month to raise alarm about recent federal policy changes that are actively harming children across the country. These are not abstract political shifts—they are decisions with devastating real-life consequences for vulnerable kids.

The Trump administration has enacted or revived policies that:

- Prolong detention for migrant children by discouraging family sponsorship and permitting the use of sponsor information for immigration enforcement.
- Cut billions in public health and social services funding, reducing access to child abuse prevention programs, mental health care, and family support services.
- Weaken Title IX protections, making it harder for student survivors to report sexual assault and feel safe in school.
- Strip away protections for LGBTQ+ and marginalized children, erasing their identities from federal communications about trafficking and abuse.
- Undermine services for children with disabilities and mental health challenges by targeting IDEA enforcement and threatening Medicaid and CHIP funding.

These actions are not only morally indefensible—they are in direct contradiction to our nation's stated commitment to child welfare and abuse prevention.

I urge you to:

1. Publicly denounce policies that place children in harm's way.

2. Support legislation that protects children’s access to healthcare, education, and safe housing—regardless of immigration status or identity.
3. Ensure full funding and enforcement for child welfare programs at every level of government.
4. Listen to survivors and experts, and fight for trauma-informed, equity-focused policies that center the needs of children—not politics.

Our children deserve better. And history will remember who stood up for them—and who stayed silent.

I hope I can count on you to lead with courage and compassion.
Thank you for your service and attention to this urgent matter.

Sincerely,
