As we begin another season, we want to share with our first-time guests, as well our future guests, the successes, challenges and future plans for WCR!

We are excited to see what 2023 has in store for our campground. 2021 and 2022 saw many first-time guests who thoroughly enjoyed the region and the WCR space. The area is truly spectacular with activities for all ages. The Wilson Creek Falls is definitely the fan favorite, as well as the relaxing beaches and scenic area towns and historic sites.

Among our goals for 2023, the most important pursuit is continuing to add landscaping elements to enhance our space and your experience. Bringing power to the site in early 2021, resulted in the loss of many of our trees and foliage. But have no fear, we will continue to plant and enhance the space for years to come. We are continuing to work on the construction of a sturdy noise reducing fence between the campground and the highway.

Future plans include converting the Selkirk stall into a 12x14 canvas tent stall with wood floor and power plug-ins. It will be an exciting addition when the time comes as we can then accommodate families that do not own RV units or groups such as motorcycle enthusiasts.

We would like to thank everyone that has trusted us with their camping adventure the past two seasons and we hope to see you again in the future. Word of mouth to your friends and family goes a long way towards ensuring the success and longevity of WCR.

Special thank you to our site attendant Gordie! He makes running the campground easy and worry free. He is there to assist you with your firewood purchase and attend to the maintenance needs of WCR. One other person who deserves a much deserved thank you is my sister Tricia Pothmann for keeping the website, and our brand, looking sharp. Thank you to you both!

See you in the Kootenays!!!
