National Federation, and other influential and legislative groups

Student scholarships

Student recognition

Today, there are greater demands upon the student/athlete in all areas, especially academics, citizenship, and athletic performance. The changes in focus for athletic administrators are more reason for all of us to continue to network at all levels.

Articles and news about technologies, trends, and ideas have kept our membership current relative to national change. HSSA provides information for those in the educational/athletic community so they may meet the challenges of the future as effectively as possible.
