Davie Legal Team:

It is absolutely unacceptable that a special district responsible for drainage no less, and the health and safety of your residents, is not even able to make a legal determination of what their noticed bond hearing is.

This is likely to be exhibit 1 for arbitrary decision making pattern for matters that impact the property rights and financial futures of your taxpayer constituents and their heirs.

Best regards,
Sunil

Thank you Tom!

It's a non-answer to be honest.

Tom,

The District has been, and continues to be, inclined to assist Mr. Menon in his inquiries. For that reason, a response had been provided to his simple inquiry previously. A further response to the below inquiry, however, would constitute providing legal advice as it requires legal analysis to answer. Therefore, it would be inappropriate for either the District or myself to provide a response to his inquiry below. Instead, I must instead direct Mr. Menon to contact his own legal counsel.

Julie,

Mr. Menon is requesting an answer to the Question: What is the legal category of noticed bond release hearings? Are you able to assist? Thanks. Tom
