Biographical Summary:

My current goal in life is to get an education and play softball at the collegiate level. My family has owned their own restaurant for eight years and I understand the hard work required to make a business successful. Earning a degree will not only help my family grow it's business but will also help me become more employable in the future.

Softball became my passion at an early age and is such a large part of my life. By travelling two hours one way to go to team practices and going to pitching lessons two times per week, I understand how important it is to manage my personal time and school life more efficiently. I also enjoy attending softball camps to learn new techniques and to connect with other coaches and players in the area.
