News & Notes January 2026

PARTS OF THE LITURGY: THE SERMON

As we have been making our way through the liturgy of worship, the readings lead to the sermon. The sermon is not a place for the pastor to simply share quips, jokes, stories, or off-the-cuff thoughts on events of the world. While the pastor may certainly make use of stories, funny quips, or other tools to help everyone in worship that day enter into the life of the sermon, the sermon is a serious affair where the word of God is brought to bear on the hearts and minds of the people there.

It is in the sermon that several things take place: the Word of God is applied to people. However, it is more than instruction alone. The sermon is about God and it is about people and how God comes to people through that same Word. The double-edge sword of the Spirit works on our hearts through the hearing and explanation of the Word of God. This brings us, in a sense, face-to-face with our sin; it also confronts us with God's free offer of forgiveness and then finally with God's mercy and grace as revealed in Jesus.

We are, in some sense, brought to the feet of Jesus every time we enter into the life of the sermon. This makes it a serious affair for the pastor in his preparation and also the people in their hearing and applying. But it also makes it a happy thing because as we hear from the Word we hear from Jesus.

This then prepares us to give and receive as we will see further on in the service.

In Christ,
Nathan Misch - Pastor, St. Paul Lutheran Church
