Cell Wellbeing Epigenetic Wellness Assessment

A Personalized Look at What Your Body Needs

This advanced assessment helps us understand the influences that may be affecting your health—so we can help you feel your best.

1 HOW IT WORKS

We use only four strands of hair with the root bulbs attached.

Our S-Drive's spectrum coil captures the hair's natural energy (or frequency) and turns it into a digital code.

This coded information is securely sent to our technology center in Hamburg, Germany.

2 WHAT IT ANALYZES

Specialized computer algorithms review more than 800 nutritional and environmental indicators, including:

Vitamins & Minerals

Amino Acids

Antioxidants

Essential Fatty Acids

Foods & Nutrition

Environmental Influences

Electromagnetic Interference

Lifestyle Factors

Stress & Wellbeing

3 WHAT IT SHOWS

This assessment explores epigenetic influences—changeable factors that surround your genes and can affect how well your body adapts and functions.

It helps us identify the areas where your body may need the most support right now.

4 TRUSTED TECHNOLOGY

- More than 20 years of development
- Company established in Hamburg, Germany in 2007
- Lab and technology based in Germany
- Germany has very strict data confidentiality laws—your information remains private and secure.

5 IMPORTANT TO KNOW

- This is an educational, non-invasive wellness assessment—not a medical diagnostic or laboratory test.
- It does not confirm diseases or measure exact blood nutrient levels.

- It transforms hundreds of complex wellness indicators into practical, personalized steps involving nutrition, hydration, movement, sleep, sunlight, stress management, and healthier daily habits.
- Medical concerns and suspected deficiencies should be evaluated through appropriate clinical testing and a qualified healthcare professional.
