Capabilities Statement | 501(c)(3) Nonprofit

Who We Are

IGCT Ltd is a nonprofit that helps women who have survived sexual exploitation and trafficking heal, build their own businesses, and become financially independent. We combine a free online platform, scholarship-funded healing retreats in Mexico, and, beginning in 2028, residential safe houses where survivors live bill-free for 6 to 12 months while they recover and launch a business.

Mission: IGCT Ltd provides survivors of sexual exploitation and trafficking with safe residential homes, healing, and entrepreneurial mentorship so they can rebuild their lives and become self-sustaining business owners.

Core Capabilities

- Entrepreneurial training and mentorship: Online courses and one-on-one mentoring that take survivors from a business idea to a working business.
- Healing programs: Trauma-informed healing tools and nervous-system restoration, online and in person.
- Healing retreats: Four private, one-week retreats a year in Mexico, on full scholarships.
- Safe residential housing (from 2028): A secure, substance-free home where women live bill-free for 6 to 12 months.
- Educational resource vault: An online library of courses and resources on business, finances, and personal growth.
- Reintegration support: A structured mentorship program with a clear graduation standard and support after graduation.

What Sets IGCT Apart

- One continuous pathway: Most services stop at emergency shelter. IGCT carries women from healing to running their own business.
- Long-term care: 6-to-12-month stays go well beyond what most shelters can offer.
- Economic independence: Every survivor leaves with business skills and a plan to support herself, lowering her risk of being exploited again.
- Free to every survivor: The app, retreats, and housing are funded entirely by grants and donors.
- Safety and privacy: Confidential tools and locations protect women from former exploiters.
- Cost-effective: Basing retreats and housing in Mexico lets each dollar support more women for longer.

Progress to Date

- Retreats: Our first four scholarship-funded retreats are scheduled monthly from November 2027 through February 2028. Local partners are in place: 3 retreat venues, 3 therapists who specialize in nervous-system restoration, 4 restaurants for private dinners, and a yacht company for a day on the water.
- Partnerships: Affiliate partnerships with 18 health and wellness brands. We promote these "Game Changer" products, chosen to improve survivors' health and wellbeing, on social media, and the proceeds help fund IGCT's programs.
- Foundation: 501(c)(3) tax-exempt status, a UEI for federal funding, a five-year strategic plan, and program budgets.

- Corporate partners: Sponsor a retreat or a resident's stay, donate goods and services, or buy from and hire our graduates.
- Individual donors: Sponsor a woman's scholarship, safe-house stay, or mentorship seat through monthly giving.
- Service providers: Partner with us as therapists, mentors, healers, and referral organizations in the U.S., Canada, and Mexico.
