Thinking Christianly about Race

Tim Blake will present this month's installment of Thinking Christianly today, February 28, at 6:00 p.m. With the recent rise of groups like Black Lives Matter and curriculum like the 1619 Project, racial tension in our country and throughout the world has grown increasingly high. Our challenge is to address the subject of race from a Christian perspective, taking into consideration both creation and redemption.

Northwest Missions

Next week will kick off our giving emphasis for NW Missions. Any giving designated to missions through March and April will go directly to the Northwest Baptist Convention to help churches in the Northwest.
