

Red roses are the most popular Valentine's Day flower

Shocking, right? The Society of American Florists (SAF) estimates that more than 250 million roses are produced for Valentine's Day and 84% of consumers who buy flowers for Valentine's Day purchase roses. Red roses are the most popular color sold, followed by white roses, and then pink roses. The SAF also noted that Valentine's Day is the number one holiday for florists and floral purchases, with 28% of American adults purchasing fresh flowers or plants as a Valentine's Day gift in 2019.

Celebrating the Month of LOVE

Carrington Court is so fortunate to have Bernie & James as part of our community.

The LOVE story of Bernie & James Written by Bernie

Our story begins in a small town in Oregon where we attended school together. Our junior year we started dating while James was President of the class and I was class secretary. I was his greatest cheerleader while he played football, basketball and baseball. We walked together when graduating with honors. We both attended the University of Oregon where we were pinned, then engaged. Challenges bring change; for us it was when James broke his leg playing basketball and was in a cast for 11 months. We married at age 19, then WAR, I was teaching and James was drafted and went to Vietnam. Upon returning we bought our first home and James became a banker. He excelled and we were sent to wherever there were problems, meaning 18 moves; Oregon, California and Utah. We became members of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints and served in many leadership positions. We were blessed with two daughters, four grandchildren and two great grandchildren. We have had many adventures and can say it has been a wonderful life.

Happy Birthday!
