In April 1775, the American Revolutionary War began with the Battles of Lexington and Concord on April 19, sparked by the "shot heard 'round the world". Following Paul Revere's famous ride on April 18 to warn that British troops were marching to seize colonial supplies, fighting broke out, leading to a British retreat and the start of the Siege of Boston by American colonists.

Paul Revere's Ride
By Henry Wadsworth Longfellow

LISTEN, my children, and you shall hear
Of the midnight ride of Paul Revere,
On the eighteenth of April, in 'Seventy-five;
Hardly a man is now alive
Who remembers that famous day and year.

He said to his friend, "If the British march
By land or sea from the town to-night,
Hang a lantern aloft in the belfry arch
Of the North Church tower as a signal light, --
One, if by land, and two, if by sea;
And I on the opposite shore will be,
Ready to ride and spread the alarm
Through every Middlesex village and farm,
For the country folk to be up and to arm."

This is just two of the stanzas of the 14-stanza poem.
It is almost our country's 250th birthday!
