

I'm not robot  reCAPTCHA

I'm not robot!

John proctor quotes about pride

Important john proctor quotes. How does john proctor show pride in the crucible. John proctor act 1 quotes.

John Proctor is a tragic hero in The Crucible. He makes mistakes, and he pays for them dearly. But his quotes are some of the most memorable in the play. Here are 20 John Proctor quotes with page numbers from The Crucible: 60 The Crucible Quotes With Page Numbers John Proctor Character AnalysisThe 25 best John Proctor quotes from The Crucible with page numbers1. “knowing smile on his face: What’s this mischief here?”2. “Abby, I may think of you softly from time to time. But I’ll cut off my hand before I ever reach for you again.”3. “We vote by name in this society, not by acreage.”4. “Why do you never wonder if Parris be innocent, or Abigail? Is the accuser always holy now? Were they born this morning as clean as God’s fingers?”5. “Let you look to your own improvement before you go to judge your husband anymore.”6. “Some dream I had must have mistaken you for God that day. But you’re not, you’re not, and let you remember! Let you look sometimes for the goodness in me, and judge me not.”7.

“Spare me! You forget nothin’ and forgive nothin’.” Learn charity, woman. I have gone tiptoe in this house all seven month since she is gone. I have not moved from there to there without I think to please you, and still an everlasting funeral marches around your heart. I cannot speak but I am doubted, every moment judged for lies, as though I come into a court when I come into this house”8. “I should have roared you down when first you told me your suspicion. But I willed, and, like a Christian, I confessed. Confessed! Some dream I had must have mistaken you for God that day.”9. “Oh, Elizabeth, your justice would freeze beer.”10. “What work you do! It’s strange work for a Christian girl to hang old women!”11. “Because it speaks deceit, and I am honest! But I’ll plead no more! I see now your spirit twists around the single error of my life, and I will never tear it free!”12. “If she is innocent! Why do you never wonder if Parris be innocent, or Abigail? Is the accuser always holy now? Were they born this morning as clean as God’s fingers?” I’ll tell you what’s walking Salem—vengeance is walking Salem. We are what we always were in Salem, but now the little crazy children are jangling the keys of the kingdom, and common vengeance writes the law!”14. “Pontius Pilate! God will not let you clean your hands of this!”15. “Peace. It is a providence, and no great change; we are only what wealwys were, but naked now.”16. “we are only what we always were.”17. “Do that which is good, and no harm shall come to thee.”18. “But if she say she is pregnant, then she must be! That woman will never lie, Mr. Danforth”19. “A man may think God sleeps, but God sees everything, I know it now. I beg you, sir, I beg you – see her what she is...She thinks to dance with me on my wife’s grave! And well she might, for I thought of her softly. God help me, I lusted and there is a promise in such sweat. But it is a whore’s vengeance....”20. “You are pulling heaven down and raising up a whore”21. “A fire, a fire is burning! I hear the boot of Lucifer, I see his filthy face! And it is my face, and yours, Danforth! For them that quail to bring men out of ignorance, as I have quailed, and as you quail now when you know in all your black hearts that this be fraud...we will burn, we will burn together!”22. “I speak my own sins; I cannot judge another. I have no tongue for it.”23. “I am John Proctor! You will not use me! It is no part of salvation that you should use me!”24. “he knows it is insane: No, it is not the same! What others say and what i sign to is not the same!”25. “Because it is my name! Because I cannot have another in my life! Because I lie and sign myself to lies! Because I am not worth the dust on the feet of them that hang! How may I live without my name? I have given you my soul; leave me my name!”26. “...I can. And there’s your first marvel, that I can. You have made your magic now, for now I do think I see some shred of goodness in John Proctor. Not enough to weave a banner with, but white enough to keep it from such dogs.”27. “He have his goodness now.

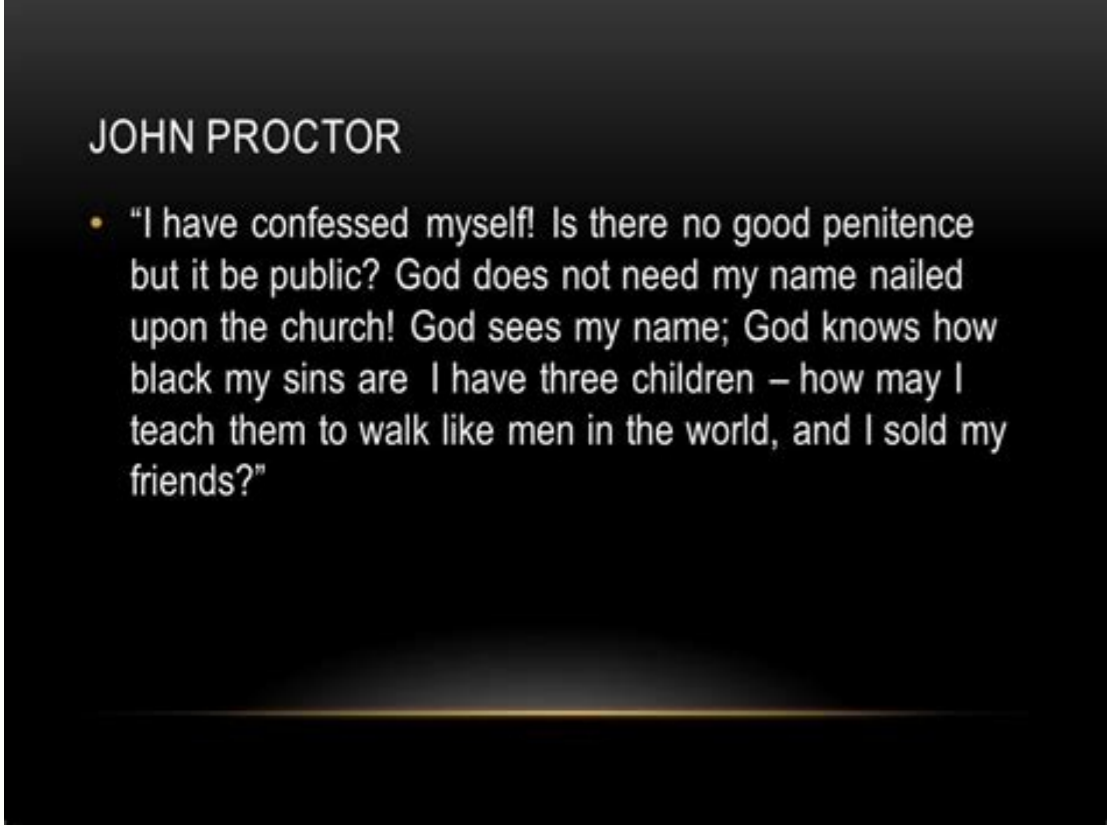

God forbid I take it from him!”John proctor quotes act 1Quotes about john proctor being a good manJohn Proctor Quotes About AbigailJohn proctor quotes about his reputationJohn Proctor Pride QuotesJohn Proctor Character Analysis John Proctor Quotes About ElizabethJohn Proctor Adultery QuotesFAQs John Proctor Character Analysis John Proctor is a complex character in Arthur Miller’s “The Crucible.” He is a proud and argumentative man who stands up for his beliefs and is unafraid to challenge the court’s authority. His morals are constantly tested, and his views on ethical implications evolve throughout the story. Despite his adulterous affair with Abigail Williams, he demonstrates integrity and honesty, always trying to protect his name and reputation. He will put his pride aside and come forward with the truth, even if it damages his reputation. He ultimately sacrifices, confirming his commitment to truth, justice, and morality.

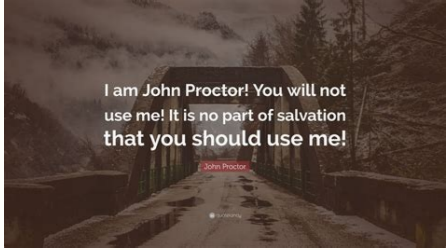

His actions throughout the story serve as a powerful example of courage, integrity, and morality. The 25 best John Proctor quotes from The Crucible with page numbers 1. “knowing smile on his face: What’s this mischief here?” –Arthur Miller, The Crucible, John Proctor, Act One, Page 20 Meaning: John Proctor implies that the people in the courtroom have a hidden agenda and are not as innocent as they appear to be, as his words suggest that they know something they are not revealing.

His quote implies they are up to no good and hiding something. 2. “Abby, I may think of you softly from time to time. But I’ll cut off my hand before I ever reach for you again.” –Arthur Miller, The Crucible, John Proctor, Act One, Page 22 Meaning: John Proctor’s quote emphasizes his determination to end his relationship with Abigail and his readiness to go to extreme lengths to ensure they never reunite. He is willing to sacrifice his own hand rather than risk going back to Abigail and his feelings for her. 3. “We vote by name in this society, not by acreage.” –Arthur Miller, The Crucible, John Proctor, Act One, Page 27 Meaning: John Proctor’s quote implies that individual people receive recognition and respect in society, regardless of the land they own. He emphasizes the importance of personal reputation and identity over material wealth. 4. “Why do you never wonder if Parris be innocent, or Abigail? Is the accuser always holy now?

Were they born this morning as clean as God’s fingers?” –Arthur Miller, The Crucible, John Proctor, Act Two, Page 51 Meaning: In this quote, John Proctor is questioning why people take the accusations of certain individuals as absolute truth without considering the possibility that they may be wrong. He suggests that people should not automatically assign holiness or innocence to the accuser but rather examine all the evidence before concluding. 5. “Let you look to your own improvement before you go to judge your husband anymore.” –Arthur Miller, The Crucible, John Proctor, Act Two, Page 52 Meaning: This quote reflects John Proctor’s plea for his wife, Elizabeth, to reflect on her actions before she judges him. Rather than simply blaming him, he asks her to consider how her choices and behaviors may have led to their current situation. 6. “Some dream I had must have mistaken you for God that day. But you’re not, and let you remember! Let you look sometimes for the goodness in me, and judge me not.” –Arthur Miller, The Crucible, John Proctor, Act Two, Page 51 Meaning: John Proctor emphasizes that he is not perfect and that others should look for the good in him instead of judging him and giving him a chance. He’s alluding to the fact that even in his dream, he was mistaken in thinking that the person he was dealing with was God-like. 7. “Spare me! You forget nothin’ and forgive nothin’.” Learn charity, woman.

I have gone tiptoe in this house all seven month since she is gone. I have not moved from there to there without I think to please you, and still an everlasting funeral marches around your heart. I cannot speak but I am doubted, every moment judged for lies, as though I come into a court when I come into this house!” –Arthur Miller, The Crucible, John Proctor, Act Two, Page 52 Meaning: John Proctor pleads with Elizabeth to show him compassion and understanding. He reminds her of all the efforts he has put in to make her happy, although he has been doubted and judged every moment of their marriage. He asks her to learn the power of charity and forgive him for his mistakes. 8. “I should have roared you down when first you told me your suspicion.

But I willed, and, like a Christian, I confessed. Confessed! Some dream I had must have mistaken you for God that day.” –Arthur Miller, The Crucible, John Proctor, Act Two, Page 52 Meaning: John Proctor regrets not standing up for himself and admitting guilt for something he did not do. He implies that he was shocked and confused when accused, believing that God Himself was addressing him. He wishes he had been more assertive and defended himself instead. 9. “Oh, Elizabeth, your justice would freeze beer.” –Arthur Miller, The Crucible, John Proctor, Act Two, Page 53 Meaning: John Proctor’s quote, “Oh, Elizabeth, your justice would freeze beer,” is a sarcastic comment that suggests that Elizabeth’s justice and judgment are so strict that it would be like freezing the beer, making it impossible to enjoy. He is implying that Elizabeth’s justice is too harsh. 10. “What work you do! It’s strange work for a Christian girl to hang old women!” –Arthur Miller, The Crucible, John Proctor, Act Two, Page 56 Meaning: This quote from John Proctor in The Crucible highlights the hypocrisy of the accusations of witchcraft in Salem and suggests that the actions of the young girls are not in line with what is expected of a good Christian. 11. “Because it speaks deceit, and I am honest! But I’ll plead no more! I see now your spirit twists around the single error of my life, and I will never tear it free!”

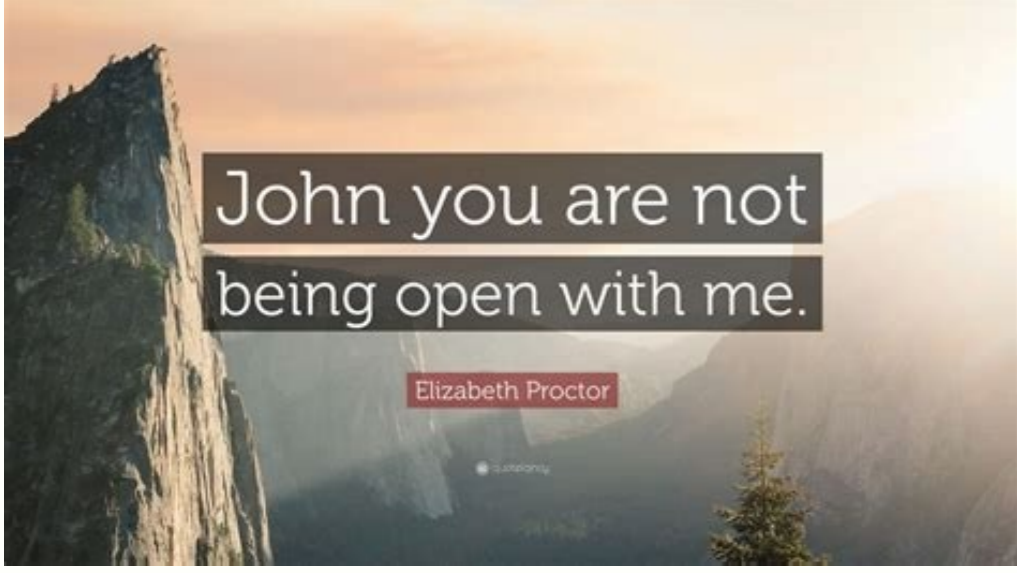

–Arthur Miller, The Crucible, John Proctor, Act Two, Page 59 Meaning: John Proctor is asserting his integrity and refusing to be shamed or judged for his past mistakes. He realizes that the court and his accusers are trying to use his single error in life to discredit him, so he will not give them the satisfaction of trying to tear it free and prove his innocence. 12. “If she is innocent! Why do you never wonder if Parris be innocent, or Abigail? Is the accuser always holy now? Were they born this morning as clean as God’s fingers? I’ll tell you what’s walking Salem—vengeance is walking Salem. We are what we always were in Salem, but now the little crazy children are jangling the keys of the kingdom, and common vengeance writes the law!” –Arthur Miller, The Crucible, John Proctor, Act Two, Page 73 Meaning: John Proctor suggests that the people of Salem should question the accusations against Parris and Abigail and consider that they may be innocent. He also implies that it is wrong to assume that the accuser is always right and that vengeance should not determine the law. 13. “We are what we always were in Salem, but now the little crazy children are jangling the keys of the kingdom, and common vengeance writes the law!” –Arthur Miller, The Crucible, John Proctor, Act Two, Page 73 Meaning: John Proctor is referring to how the power dynamics in Salem have changed, with children now holding power and driving justice according to their whims. He implies that the justice system has become corrupted, with vengeance guiding their decisions instead of sound judgment. 14. “Pontius Pilate! God will not let you clean your hands of this!” –Arthur Miller, The Crucible, John Proctor, Act Two, Page 73 Meaning: John Proctor’s quote reminds us that we cannot escape our guilt and responsibility for our actions, no matter how much we want to. Even if, like Pontius Pilate, we try to absolve ourselves of guilt, God will not allow us to escape. 15. “Peace. It is a providence, and no great change; we are only what we always were, but naked now.” –Arthur Miller, The Crucible, John Proctor, Act Two, Page 76 Meaning: John Proctor’s quote suggests that despite the tragedy and chaos that have befallen Salem, there is still hope for peace and salvation. He acknowledges that everything may have changed on the surface, but people are the same deep down. They are only what they have always been, but now they are stripped of the masks and facades that once hid their true selves. 16. “we are only what we always were” –Arthur Miller, The Crucible, John Proctor, Act Two, Page 76 Meaning: John Proctor’s quote implies that no matter the situation, people remain unchanged and stay true to their original values and beliefs.

This quote suggests that the arrival of a crisis or conflict does not suddenly change a person’s essential identity. 17. “Do that which is good, and no harm shall come to thee.” –Arthur Miller, The Crucible, John Proctor, Act Three, Page 88 Meaning: John Proctor’s quote encourages people to do good and reminds them that if they act with kindness and integrity, they will be protected from harm. 18. “But if she say she is pregnant, then she must be! That woman will never lie, Mr. Danforth” –Arthur Miller, The Crucible, John Proctor, Act Three, Page 93 Meaning: John Proctor affirms the truthfulness of Elizabeth’s accusations and urges Judge Danforth to believe her. He is suggesting that there is no reason for her to lie about her pregnancy, as it would bring her no benefit. 19. “A man may think God sleeps, but God sees everything, I know it now. I beg you, sir, I beg you – see her what she is... She thinks to dance with me on my wife’s grave! And well she might, for I thought of her softly. God help me, I lusted and there is a promise in such sweat. But it is a whore’s vengeance....” –Arthur Miller, The Crucible, John Proctor, Act Three, Page 102 Meaning: He also takes responsibility for his actions and admits to lusting after Abigail, despite his promise to his wife to stay faithful. His words also hint at his understanding that Abigail’s anger and revenge are motivated by her hurt and betrayal. 20. “You are pulling heaven down and raising up a whore” –Arthur Miller, The Crucible, John Proctor, Act Three, Page 111 Meaning: John Proctor’s quote from The Crucible illustrates his moral outrage over those in power’s hypocritical and unjust actions. He believes corrupt authorities are dragging down goodness and righteousness while exalting immorality and sin. 21. “A fire, a fire is burning! I hear the boot of Lucifer, I see his filthy face! And it is my face, and yours, Danforth! For them that quail to bring men out of ignorance, as I have quailed, and as you quail now when you know in all your black hearts that this be fraud...we will burn, we will burn together!” –Arthur Miller, The Crucible, John Proctor, Act Three, Page 111 Meaning: In this quote, John Proctor warns Danforth of their actions’ consequences if they ignore and hide the truth.

He suggests that they will eventually be punished for their deceit and burn together in the fires of revenge for what they have done. 22. “I speak my own sins; I cannot judge another. I have no tongue for it.” –Arthur Miller, The Crucible, John Proctor, Act Four, Page 131 Meaning: This quote from John Proctor speaks to his self-awareness and recognition of his wrongdoings and shortcomings, as well as his understanding of the importance of self-reflection and personal growth. He advocates for understanding and accepting that we all have our sins and that judging others is not our place. 23. “I am John Proctor! You will not use me! It is no part of salvation that you should use me!”

–Arthur Miller, The Crucible, John Proctor, Act Four, Page 132 Meaning: John Proctor asserts his agency and dignity in this quote, clarifying that nobody should try to take advantage of him or use him for their gain. He believes that no part of attaining salvation should involve using him or any other person. 24. “he knows it is insane: No, it is not the same! What others say and what i sign to is not the same!” –Arthur Miller, The Crucible, John Proctor, Act Four, Page 132 Meaning: John Proctor emphasizes the importance of speaking the truth despite what others may demand. He explains that signing a document under false pretenses does not make it true and that standing up for one’s beliefs is the only thing that gives value to one’s words. 25. “Because it is my name! Because I cannot have another in my life! Because I lie and sign myself to lies! Because I am not worth the dust on the feet of them that hang! How may I live without my name? I have given you my soul; leave me my name!” –Arthur Miller, The Crucible, John Proctor, Act Four, Page 133 Meaning: John Proctor’s quote speaks to the importance of maintaining one’s good name, even when difficult. He is willing to sacrifice his life to keep his reputation intact and recognizes that it is more important than his soul.

He is making a powerful statement about the importance of truth and integrity. 26. “...I can. And there’s your first marvel, that I can. You have made your magic now, for now I do think I see some shred of goodness in John Proctor. Not enough to weave a banner with, but white enough to keep it from such dogs.” –Arthur Miller, The Crucible, John Proctor and Elizabeth, Act Four, Page 133 Meaning: This quote shows John Proctor’s character growth and ability to recognize the goodness in himself. Even though he has made mistakes, he can still find a shred of goodness and use it to protect himself and others from harm. 27. “He have his goodness now.”

“He have his goodness now.” –Arthur Miller, The Crucible, John Proctor, Act Four, Page 134 Meaning: This quote from John Proctor in the Crucible suggests that he is willing to sacrifice his feelings and desires to let his husband keep his goodness. Elizabeth demonstrates her selfless and caring nature by prioritizing her husband’s well-being before her own. John proctor quotes act 1 “knowing smile on his face: What’s this mischief here?” –Arthur Miller, The Crucible, John Proctor, Act One, Page 20 “Abby, I may think of you softly from time to time.

But I’ll cut off my hand before I ever reach for you again.” –Arthur Miller, The Crucible, John Proctor, Act One, Page 22 “We vote by name in this society, not by acreage.” –Arthur Miller, The Crucible, John Proctor, Act One, Page 27 Quotes about john proctor being a good man “We vote by name in this society, not by acreage.” – JOHN PROCTOR “Peace. It is a providence, and no great change; we are only what we always were, but naked now.” – JOHN PROCTOR “I speak my own sins; I cannot judge another. I have no tongue for it.” – JOHN PROCTOR “Do that which is good, and no harm shall come to thee.” – JOHN PROCTOR John Proctor Quotes About Abigail “Abby, I may think of you softly from time to time. But I will cut off my hand before I’ll ever reach for you again. We never touched, Abby.” – John Proctor “You’re wicked yet aren’t you.” – John Proctor John proctor quotes about his reputation John Proctor’s quotes about his reputation show his strong belief in the value of a good name. In Act Two, he says, “If the girl’s a saint now, I think it is not easy to prove she’s a fraud.” He reminds the court that his good reputation starkly contrasts Abigail’s and that she is not as saintly as she seems. In Act Three, Proctor says, “Oh, Elizabeth, your justice would freeze beer!” He refers to the fact that his good name has granted him a certain amount of power and authority, even in a court of law. In Act Two, Proctor asks, “Why do you never wonder if Parris be innocent, or Abigail? Is the accuser always holy now? Were they born this morning as clean as God’s fingers?” He is pointing out that even though he is not perfect, his good reputation will always stand in contrast to those who do not have one. John Proctor Pride Quotes “Because it speaks deceit, and I am honest! But I’ll plead no more! I see now your spirit twists around the single error of my life, and I will never tear it free!” – John Proctor, Act Four “knowing smile on his face: What’s this mischief here?”Act One “If the girl’s a saint now, I think it is not easy to prove she’s a fraud.” – John Proctor, Act Two. “Why do you never wonder if Parris be innocent, or Abigail? Is the accuser always holy now? Were they born this morning as clean as God’s fingers?” – John Proctor, Act Two. “... Vengeance is walking Salem... We are what we always were in Salem, but now the little crazy children are jangling the keys of the kingdom, and common vengeance writes the law” – John Proctor, Act Two. “I have trouble enough without I come five mile to hear him preach only hellfire and bloody damnation. Take it to heart, Mr. Parris. There are many others who stay away from church these days because you hardly ever mention God any more.” – John Proctor, Act One. “I’ll plead no more! I see now your spirit twists around the single error of my life, and I will never tear it free!” – John Proctor, Act Two. “I like it not that Mr. Parris should lay his hand upon my baby. I see no light of God in that man. I’ll not conceal it.” – John Proctor, Act Two. “I’ll tell you what’s walking Salem—vengeance is walking Salem.

We are what we always were in Salem, but now the little crazy children are jangling the keys of the kingdom, and common vengeance writes the law! This warrant’s vengeance! I’ll not give my wife to vengeance!” – John Proctor, Act Two. “A man may think God sleeps, but God sees everything, I know it now. I beg you, sir, I beg you—see her what she is . . . She thinks to dance with me on my wife’s grave! And well she might, for I thought of her softly. God help me, I lusted, and there is a promise in such sweat. But it is a whore’s vengeance.” – John Proctor, Act Three. John Proctor Quotes About Elizabeth “Not enough for expressing all the ideas in the play. One says things about John who doesn’t mention God as much in life while making a living and a life with Elizabeth.” – John Proctor “But if she say she is pregnant, then she must be! That woman will never lie, Mr. Danforth.” – John Proctor “Spare me! You forget nothin’ and forgive nothin’.” Learn charity, woman.” – John Proctor “Let you look to your own improvement before you go to judge your husband anymore.” – John Proctor “I cannot speak but I am doubted, every moment judged for lies, as though I come into a court when I come into this house!” – John Proctor “Oh, Elizabeth, your justice would freeze beer!” – John Proctor John Proctor Adultery Quotes John Proctor’s adultery is a major theme in The Crucible. In Act Two, he confesses to the court that he had an affair with Abigail Williams and is wracked with guilt and regret. Here are some of his best quotes on the subject: “I look for John Proctor that took me from my sleep and put knowledge in my heart! I never knew what pretense Salem was, I never knew the lying lessons I was taught by all these Christian women and their covenanted men! And now you bid me tear the light out of my eyes? I will not, I cannot! You loved me, John Proctor, and whatever sin it is, you love me yet!” (Act Two) “I’ll plead no more! I see now your spirit twists around the single error of my life, and I will never tear it free!” (Act Two) “I’ll tell you what’s walking Salem—vengeance is walking Salem. We are what we always were in Salem, but now the little crazy children are jangling the keys of the kingdom, and common vengeance writes the law! This warrant’s vengeance! I’ll not give my wife to vengeance!” (Act Two) “A man may think God sleeps, but God sees everything, I know it now. I beg you, sir, I beg you—see her what she is . . .

She thinks to dance with me on my wife’s grave! And well she might, for I thought of her softly. God help me, I lusted, and there is a promise in such sweat. But it is a whore’s vengeance.” (Act Three) These quotes from John Proctor demonstrate his immense guilt and regret for his adultery and how he struggles to reconcile his actions with his faith. FAQs What is a quote from John Proctor?

John Proctor’s most famous quote from the play is “Because it is my name! Because I cannot have another in my life!” which he delivers in Act 3 in response to being asked to sign a false confession. What is John Proctor’s tragic flaw quote? John Proctor’s tragic flaw is his excessive pride, which leads him to make decisions that ultimately result in his demise. His pride prevents him from admitting his mistake of having an affair with Abigail, leading to his refusal to confess in court and, ultimately, his execution.

Moreover, his pride drives him to stand for his beliefs and what is right in the community, despite the consequences. What quote is given when John Proctor confesses? John Proctor finally confesses to being a witch, saying, “ You are the high court, your word is good enough! tell them I confessed myself; say Proctor broke his knees and wept like a woman, but my name cannot!” This conveys Proctor’s desire to protect his friends and that he still believes in doing the right thing, even though it means confessing to a crime he did not commit. What does Proctor say at the end? At the end of the play, John Proctor refuses to sign the confession of witchcraft despite being offered a pardon for his life. He says, “Because it is my name! Because I cannot have another in my life! Because I lie and sign myself to lies! Because I am not worth the dust on the feet of them that hang! How may I live without my name? I have given you my soul; leave me my name!” Here, Proctor is determined to uphold his principles and protect his good name, even if it means sacrificing his life. What did John Proctor say in Act 4? In Act 4, John Proctor declares his innocence, despite the court’s attempts to get him to confess to practicing witchcraft. He refused to sign a false confession and declared that he was honest and would not lie. Proctor courageously accepted his inevitable death sentence, saying he would “die with a guiltless soul” even though he was executed for a crime he had not committed. What is John Proctor’s most fatal flaw? John Proctor’s most fatal flaw is his immense pride, leading to many of the unfortunate events in the play. His pride causes him to deny confessing to a crime he did not commit, ultimately leading to his death. His pride also causes him to make decisions that put his loved ones at risk of death or imprisonment. Sources: John Proctor is an honest, hardworking, good man except for his one flaw that became a downfall for him and other accused “witches” living in Salem. His lust for Abigail that led to an affair created jealousy towards his wife Elizabeth, and resulted in Abigail spreading lies and causing witch hysteria to arise. After the trials began, John realized that he could out Abigail and make everyone see her for what she was (a liar) and put an end to many innocent deaths by confessing to his adultery and proving Abigail was only extracting revenge on his wife Elizabeth Proctor. He tried to save his reputation through a testimony of Mary Warren without revealing his crucial information but it failed. When this happened he publicly proclaimed his guilt and confessed, calling Abigail Williams a whore, but his admission was too late and could not stop everything that Abigail had already set in motion. John's penance only resulted in his arrest and conviction of a witch, and he feels culpable for allowing Abigail and her friends to take it as far as they did. In his final act, John Proctor still wants to save his name, but for personal and religious reasons, rather than pride and fear of the public's opinion. John was given the chance to concede and live, but he declined, which was a true private and religious stand. If he did attest it would dishonor those condemned that stood beside him, who were not afraid to die for the truth. A false admission would also dishonor him and his soul. By refusing to confess, Proctor proclaims that such integrity would bring him into heaven, and he goes to the gallows with his fellow prisoners, redeemed for his earlier...