President's Message

Spring 2019

Do you have your seeds and plants ordered? Are you still looking through your seed and plant catalogues with anticipation of spring planting? After a month of up and down winter weather think positive. It is only about three weeks until March 20th, the Vernal Equinox, the first day of spring. Will Mother Nature cooperate?

Some of you may be seeing some robins appear in your yard, especially if you have fruit-bearing trees or shrubs that still hang on to their fruit, like the holly, juniper, hawthorns and crabapples. For me the first welcome sign of spring is the conk-la-ree musical trill of the red-winged blackbird.

We have several bird feeders in the yard that we feed the birds year-round. We have to keep an eye on their predators. There are two black cats that make their daily rounds through our yard. When the cats try to hide or be perfectly still near our feeders, we try to swoosh them away. It doesn't take much – just the opening sound of one of our patio doors or the sound of our voice will cause them to flee.

Then there are the hawks – two different species are occasionally seen in some of the trees on our property. We are not as successful keeping the hawks from grabbing a meal. We can't continuously be looking in our trees. I know the hawks have to eat too, but it breaks my heart to see them swoop down and grab one of the song birds.

The very high winds we recently experienced has wreaked havoc on our greenhouse. A number of the panels have been blown out. Once the weather gets a little warmer we have repair work to do so we can get an early start on our plants in our greenhouse. It is such a welcome feeling to be in a warm greenhouse playing in the dirt while it is a little cool outside the greenhouse.

Happy dreaming of planting,

Steve Maki

Easter Egg Plants destined for the Spring Plant Sale

Focus on the Sale

The April meeting of The Gardeners of Lima will be devoted to final plans and arrangements for the Spring Plant Sale.

A major change this year is location, as the Sale will be at the Clubhouse, instead of the previous spot in Shawnee.

Meeting will be at 7 pm on April 9 at the Clubhouse in Faurot Park.

If you have any TGOL yard signs, please bring them to the meeting so that they can be up-dated.

Two billboards are being made. The 4x8 one goes at our old sale site and the 3x6 one goes up at the cemetery stop light.

Thanks for the Help

Following are excerpts from a message of appreciation sent by Donna Maki.

Diane Halpern helped paint the second side. She is a great asset to our club.

Becky Wendroth is working on the postcards to be sent out. She is a treasure as our secretary,

Persetta Bowsher has been working diligently on the free advertising and is sending in our flower orders to the growers.

Ray Brown has been a terrific leader as committee chairman.

Jo Hanley is and always will be our mother hen that worries about everything and everyone. She is a special lady and great asset to our club.

Editor's Note: Donna Maki and her husband Steve help in many ways, not least by providing their basement for growing seedlings and their garage for sign painting.

Masthead picture on page 1 was taken in Florida in February.

The Parks in Lima

Lima's Deputy Director of Public Works, Mr. Ric Stolly, was the speaker at the March meeting of The Gardeners of Lima. He is in charge of Parks and Recreation for the city.

He gave a history of the parks with special reference to Faurot Park where our Clubhouse is located.

He also expressed appreciation to the members of the club for the annual planting of the flowers in the downtown public square area. His department manages the care and upkeep of that area along with the various parks.

One Week's Growth

Flowers planted by The Gardeners of Lima in Lima's Downtown Planters are an attractive part of the public square area.

These two pictures of a planter were taken a week apart, The scene below was on June 23 and the scene to the right was on June 30.

The picture on the left showing the row of planters in front of the Civic Center was photographed looking north on June 23rd.

On the right the planters are seen looking south with a portion of the Civic Center building shown in the background. This was taken on June 30.

Donna Maki explained the pros and cons of each of these sample “entries.”

How To Show Flowers

2nd V.P. Donna Maki has had a lot of experience showing flowers at the Allen County Fair. At the June meeting she gave tips and suggestions on how to prepare and present winning entries. She encouraged members to enter.

Members were challenged to see how well they could pick a winner from these “entries.”

Alice Cooley and Clyde Wise examine pictures of some of Donna’s past ribbon-winners. Photos included comments to explain how entries are judged.

Damsels and Dragons

No, this is not an early Halloween program. It is what our September speaker will be discussing... sort of.

One of our favorite speakers, Mr Dan Hodges, will be back to talk about “Dragonflies and Damselflies.”

We have found Dan to be highly informative and delightfully entertaining in his presentations. Among his previous topics are “Frogs and Toads” and “Butterflies and Caterpillars.”

Come to the Clubhouse in Faurot Park for the meeting at 7:00 pm on Tuesday, August 13.

For those who have entered the Big Tomato Contest, we’ll have the first weigh-in.

Here is some of the weighing that was done in 2017.

Bothered By Beetles?

1st V.P. Ray Brown brought to our attention a handbook from the USDA: Managing the Japanese Beetle:

Customers find baked goods as well as fresh garden-grown vegetables, while enjoying the colorful displays in the planters.

Flowers Not Only Way to Plant a Garden

Community Cooperation Pays Off

Faurot Park Enhanced by Flowers

When members and guests of The Gardeners of Lima gather at their clubhouse in Lima's Faurot Park, they may pass the beautiful raised flower beds along S. Cole St. near Northshore Dr.

Mr. Ric Stolly, who was a recent speaker at a TGOL meeting, provided the following helpful information.

The flowers are planted by the city parks crew.

Weeding is done by persons employed by Marimore Industries.

Watering is accomplished through a timed system which was funded as a project of the Lima Sertoma Club.

The Cannas have to be taken up and stored through the winter.

Lima is truly blessed to have so many who contribute in their various ways. It is also good that Lima has leaders who have the vision and the will to channel all these efforts into something for all to enjoy

LISTEN TO THE MUSIC

Insects that make music were the subjects covered by Mr. Dan Hodges at the September meeting of The Gardeners of Lima. Though their sounds are not vocal, they may be called singing insects. Wings or legs may be used to produce the music.

Katydids, crickets, grasshoppers and cicadas give us choruses of their music in late summer and fall, when the songs of birds are not so plentiful.

We are always entertained as well as informed by Dan. He works for Johnny Appleseed Metro Park District,

Steve Maki, President
The Gardeners of Lima

From the President

President Steve Maki provided the material on this and the next two pages for the enjoyment and enlightenment of readers of Sprigs N Sprouts.

Is the tomato a vegetable or a fruit?

In the 19th century, the U.S. Supreme Court faced this question: Are tomatoes fruits or vegetables?

At the time the Port Authority of New York classified tomatoes as vegetables, which were subject to a 10 percent import tax. A fruit importer argued that tomatoes were fruits, which were not taxed.

The high court issued this 1893 tomato ruling in a case brought by members of the Nix family against Edward Hedden, collector at the Port of New York, to recover the fees they spent transporting tomatoes. The Nixes sued under the Tariff of 1883, which required import taxes on vegetables — but not fruit.

Botanically, any seed-bearing structure formed from an angiosperm's (a flowering plant's) ovary is a fruit. Since a tomato protects and contains the seeds of its host plant, the juicy sphere is technically a fruit. Some might be shocked to learn a zucchini is a fruit, too.

In the case, witnesses read from dictionaries, and definitions for "fruit", "vegetable", "tomato," "pea," "eggplant," "cucumber," "squash" and "pepper."

In the Supreme Court decision, the justices distinguished between science and everyday life. The justices admitted that botanically speaking, tomatoes were technically fruits. But in everyday life, vegetables were things "usually served at dinner in, with, or after the soup, fish, or meats ... and not, like fruits generally, as dessert." General or culinary classifications, however, tend to differ from the botanical one. Most people would consider a tomato a vegetable. And the court essentially gave that reasoning in Nix v. Hedden: A tomato is a vegetable because people think it is— and the importer had to keep paying the tariff.

The Potato Story

Girl Potato and Boy Potato had eyes for each other, and finally they got married and had a little sweet potato, which they called 'Yam.' Of course, they wanted the best for Yam.

When it was time, they told her about the facts of life. They warned her about going out and getting half-baked, so she wouldn't get accidentally mashed, and get a bad name for herself like 'Hot Potato,' and end up with a bunch of Tater Tots. Yam said not to worry, no Spud would get her into the sack and make a rotten potato out of her! But on the other hand she wouldn't stay home and become a Couch Potato either. She would get plenty of exercise so as not to be skinny like her Shoestring cousins.

When she went off to Europe, Mr. and Mrs. Potato told Yam to watch out for the hard-boiled guys from Ireland, and the greasy guys from France called the French Fries. Yam said she would stay on the straight and narrow and wouldn't associate with those high class Yukon Golds, or the ones from the other side of the tracks who advertise their trade on all the trucks that say, 'Frito Lay.'

Mr. and Mrs. Potato sent Yam to Idaho P.U. (that's Potato University) so that when she graduated she'd really be in the Chips. Yet, in spite of all they did for her, one-day Yam came home and announced she was going to marry Tom Brokaw. Tom Brokaw! Mr. and Mrs. Potato were very upset. They told Yam she couldn't possibly marry Tom Brokaw because he's just a commentator.

Winter Activities in the Garden

It's important to pay attention to the weather as well as to how the season in general is progressing and the conditions of your specific site. Timing can be tricky. Weather can make it difficult to do things at the ideal time. We may get a lot of rain or none. Killing frosts can occur in late September one year but not until November in the next. The following is a general guide to various tasks in the winter garden.

General Activities

- Clean, repair, oil, and store tools and garden hoses.
- Store fertilizers and pesticides securely. Keep liquids from freezing and protect powders from moisture.
- Periodically check on stored produce for decay. Maintain adequate moisture in stored potted bulbs being forced.
- Feed the birds. Keep feeders full, hang suet blocks
- Check what's on sale. Make a list of what you need for the new season and pickup gardening supplies at a discount. It's off season so many of last season's tools and equipment can be found for a great price.
- Decide what you will be planting next season.
- Plan next year's garden out completely. Keep in mind crop rotation, plant spacing, succession planting and companion planting. Make a map and play with your placement.
- Order catalogs and seeds

Flowers

- Whether or not to cut back perennials in fall or wait until spring is often a personal choice. In general, there is no harm in leaving them until spring. You might want to cut back extremely tall plants somewhat to prevent wind damage. There are many advantages to leaving the plants – they provide winter interest and food for birds, help hold mulch in place, and some perennials such as mums and salvia over-winter better if not cut back.

Trees and Shrubs

- Prune Japanese maple trees, weeping cherry trees and fruit trees (except stone fruits)

Vegetables and Fruits

- Prune grapevines, but no later than January or the cut end will bleed sap.

Miscellaneous

One of the easier and essential tasks in winter for your garden is to start seeds in a greenhouse or indoors. You can do this with indoor grow lights.

If you just started growing your own food and you're not stopping, then it's important you start a garden journal as well. You'll find this very helpful in the long run.

Protect the root crown of perennial bushes like roses and hydrangea by applying a thick layer of mulch or covering the plant with a burlap sack or row covers.

I like this quote by Teresa Watkins: "Every garden is unique with a multitude of choices in soils, plants and themes. Finding your garden theme is as easy as seeing what brings a smile to your face."

Persetta Bowsher who organized the annual Poinsettia Sale writes: "A big Thank You to the poinsettia Elves who made the day a big success. Steve, Ray, Joe, Ed, Rita, and Toni unloading and delivering some 213 plants. A great day. Thanks to all who submitted orders. Takes a village."

And our thanks to Persetta, as well.
