

AI Class for Real People

Walk in curious. Walk out dangerous.

No tech background. No design skills. No excuses left.

You've watched other people start using AI. You've told yourself you'll figure it out "later." But later keeps getting further away—and the gap between you and the people actually using these tools is getting wider every single day.

This workshop closes that gap in one morning on Saturday, January 24, 2026.

You'll walk in curious. You'll walk out dangerous.

Things You'll Learn

1. Build your own custom GPT — an AI assistant trained on your voice, your rules, and your workflow
2. Learn how to use hundreds of free bots for marketing to planning vacations to strategy.
3. Turn one sentence into a polished image — graphics, slides, portraits, product shots

ChatGPT — Your New Assistant

Forget everything you think you know about "typing into a chatbox." We'll show you hundreds of pre-built bots that will draft, strategize, write, research, and organize on command. You'll use it to prep for negotiations, take vacations, write emails and create entire workflows.

Then we go deeper.

You'll build your own custom GPT from scratch. One that knows your voice, your business, your health, your preferences, and your rules. A personal assistant that doesn't forget, doesn't need training, and doesn't call in sick. After this session, you'll have an AI that works the way you work—taking tasks off your plate every single day.

Nano Banana — Your Personal Design Studio

No Canva. No Photoshop. No graphic designer on retainer.

One sentence becomes a polished image in seconds with Gemini's image tool. Social graphics, presentation slides, book covers, product shots, professional portraits. You control the style, the lighting, the mood—and you'll learn how to keep characters consistent across every image you create.

This is a design team in your back pocket.

You'll leave with tools installed, custom GPTs built, images created, and a clear plan for using AI in your actual life—your business, your job, your creative work—starting the moment you walk out the door.

This is Rotary Reimagined. Learn more at <https://denvermetrosouth.org/>.