

JUNIOR'S PENIS PARABLE # II

Three months after Junior's initial lesson in sex education, the new priest at his parochial school asked if Junior wanted to become an altar boy. He wasn't Catholic but his father liked the excellent academics and the "no nonsense" discipline policy this particular Catholic school offered. Of course, most of his friends enrolled their sons in military prep schools. Yet, Junior's father did not want his son to think he had to follow in his footsteps. There never were any fights to speak of and many former students went on to graduate from Ivy League universities. Since this particular Catholic school did not accept Protestant pupils, Junior was a student in this priest's Bible class and Catechism class for converts. Unbeknown to the father, only Catholic youths who have been baptized can legitimately become altar boys. So, the priest never should have asked Junior to become an altar boy in the first place! Junior's dad was not at all enthused about this after-school activity; but he relented via his son's adulation over such an honor. Less than two weeks later, however, the priest exposed himself and fondled Junior when the two of them were away from the other boys. Junior pushed the priest away and told his father what happened as soon as he got home! Junior's dad impulsively grabbed one of his pistols and jumped in his SUV to confront the pedophile. However, he cooled down prior to arriving at the parish and drove to the police station instead to report the incident. That priest, who eventually confessed to having molested nearly sixty boys, now is in prison. By the way, like his Dad, Junior doesn't go to church anymore either.

As soon as school was out, this Army dad sent his son off to summer camp. Once again, Junior looked forward to some more of the same fun and same friends he had last summer at the lake! At camp, the boys enjoyed football, basketball, swimming, hiking, and countless other outdoor activities. One of the camp counselors in his mid-twenties had a strange habit of showering with the boys, slapping their butts with his towel, and sometimes getting an erection in front of them! Despite his being a former collegiate football jock, Junior intuitively sensed this kind of horseplay in the boy's locker room was weird. The only man he trusted or felt comfortable with rubbing his booty was his dad! Two other naïve boys, however, eventually were seduced and were sodomized by this handsome counselor, primarily via a natural curiosity about seeing a grown man's hard penis. Because the jock counselor threatened to take them out on the lake and to drown them if ever they told anyone, both naïve and fatherless boys kept their little secret all summer. Despite having repeated his sneaky, slow seduction of young campers each of the four summers he worked there, amazingly, this very popular sexual predator never got in trouble because none of his victims of child molestation dared to report him. In this context, was this military father's demonstration of masturbation tantamount to child molestation, incest, or a deterrent that prevented Junior from possibly being molested by a priest and a counselor at summer camp? Explain.
