

SJ Norman is a writer, artist and curator. He has been the recipient of numerous significant honours for his work in the visual and performing arts and literature, including: the 67th Blake Prize, the 2022 Peter Blazey Prize, a Sidney Myer Creative Fellowship and an Australia Council Fellowship. His debut collection of fiction, Permafrost, was published in 2021, garnering many award nominations. He is based in Lenapehoking/New York.