

Rule for Ringer

Mark off a circle on the ground or with a rope or chalk. Place thirteen (13) small marbles in the center in the shape of a plus sign (“+”). Players lag their shooter marble to a wall or line several feet away. The player who lands closest gets to shoot first.

Players take turns shooting with their large “shooter” marble from outside the ring, “Knuckle Down”- shooting with your thumb. If you knock a small marble out of the ring you place it in your pile and shoot again. If you’re using a hoop ring, contact with the edge. is out-of-bounds. If you miss your turn is over. The first person to knock 7 marbles out of the ring wins.

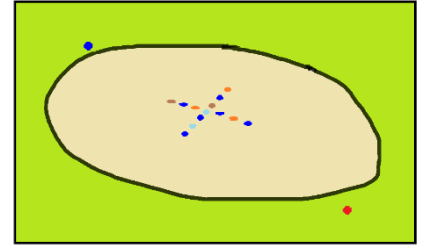

Ringer is a game that has been played for 1,000’s of year, by almost as many names. It is the official game played on a 10-foot ring at most marble tournaments including the National Marble Tournament in June, in Wildwood NJ.

For information on the National Tournament and the official Tournament Rules go to www.NationalMarblesTournament.org

Choking Hazard. Keep marbles away from children under 4 years of age.

Rule for Ringer

Mark off a circle on the ground or with a rope or chalk. Place thirteen (13) small marbles in the center in the shape of a plus sign (“+”). Players lag their shooter marble to a wall or line several feet away. The player who lands closest gets to shoot first.

Players take turns shooting with their large “shooter” marble from outside the ring, “Knuckle Down”- shooting with your thumb. If you knock a small marble out of the ring you place it in your pile and shoot again. If you’re using a hoop ring, contact with the edge. is out-of-bounds. If you miss your turn is over. The first person to knock 7 marbles out of the ring wins.

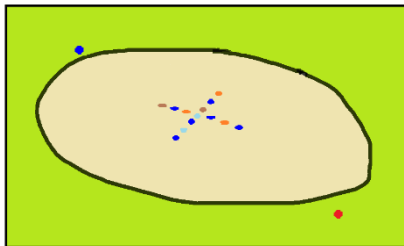

Ringer is a game that has been played for 1,000’s of year, by almost as many names. It is the official game played on a 10-foot ring at most marble tournaments including the National Marble Tournament in June, in Wildwood NJ.

For information on the National Tournament and the official Tournament Rules go to www.NationalMarblesTournament.org

Choking Hazard. Keep marbles away from children under 4 years of age.

Rule for Ringer

Mark off a circle on the ground or with a rope or chalk. Place thirteen (13) small marbles in the center in the shape of a plus sign (“+”). Players lag their shooter marble to a wall or line several feet away. The player who lands closest gets to shoot first.

Players take turns shooting with their large “shooter” marble from outside the ring, “Knuckle Down”- shooting with your thumb. If you knock a small marble out of the ring you place it in your pile and shoot again. If you’re using a hoop ring, contact with the edge. is out-of-bounds. If you miss your turn is over. The first person to knock 7 marbles out of the ring wins.

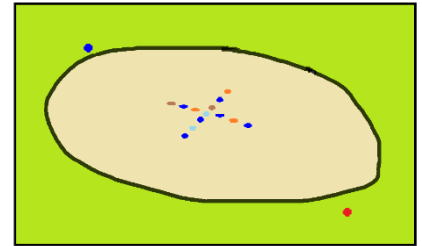

Ringer is a game that has been played for 1,000’s of year, by almost as many names. It is the official game played on a 10-foot ring at most marble tournaments including the National Marble Tournament in June, in Wildwood NJ.

For information on the National Tournament and the official Tournament Rules go to www.NationalMarblesTournament.org

Choking Hazard. Keep marbles away from children under 4 years of age.

Rule for Ringer

Mark off a circle on the ground or with a rope or chalk. Place thirteen (13) small marbles in the center in the shape of a plus sign (“+”). Players lag their shooter marble to a wall or line several feet away. The player who lands closest gets to shoot first.

Players take turns shooting with their large “shooter” marble from outside the ring, “Knuckle Down”- shooting with your thumb. If you knock a small marble out of the ring you place it in your pile and shoot again. If you’re using a hoop ring, contact with the edge. is out-of-bounds. If you miss your turn is over. The first person to knock 7 marbles out of the ring wins.

Ringer is a game that has been played for 1,000’s of year, by almost as many names. It is the official game played on a 10-foot ring at most marble tournaments including the National Marble Tournament in June, in Wildwood NJ.

For information on the National Tournament and the official Tournament Rules go to www.NationalMarblesTournament.org

Choking Hazard. Keep marbles away from children under 4 years of age.