

Who Is This Man?

March 25, 2013

PF Lazor was born and raised in Michigan and moved to California in 1976, with big dreams for his future. By his mid-20s, he had accomplished far more than most people do in a whole lifetime.

Through his accomplishments, PF contributed much to the good of society in many ways. Some of these accomplishments are: he was a pilot and skydiving instructor, a licensed realtor, the author of numerous books, including poetry in hardback at age 20, a songwriter /composer of hundreds of songs, had his own renowned band doing a tribute performance of Buddy Holly and became known worldwide as "Buddy Holly Jr". He had various patented inventions and many other patents pending.

Throughout PF's growing up years, he was often very ill and bedridden with bronchial and toxicity related illnesses. 1982 was his first year of normal health. To this day he still has a condition known as MCS (Multiple Chemical Sensitivity) which has resulted in causing him extreme pain and retaliation due to where he has had to live for the past 29 1/2 years; a place where he has no control over his food, drink and other environmental factors.

Despite his health issues, PF worked labor jobs as early as age 8 and began early in life as an entrepreneur. There was no support system available to him, so he accomplished all that he did without any help, encouragement or financial aid from family, school, community or anyone.

At age 16 PF laid out his whole life plan - knowing that he wanted a life of lofty achievements for the good of society. He devoted his time and his life to good causes. He became very outspoken against drugs, crime, and purposelessness - the things that waste the precious gift of life. He values every moment of life (his and others') and used his time for constructive purposes to benefit his community and all humanity. On more than one occasion, he risked his own life to save someone else's.

PF founded a small corporation with 10 small businesses he operated for over 12 years. All of these businesses served the purpose of helping others in one way or another. He lived close to the poverty line so that he could reinvest his money into his big dreams in the music, film and invention industries. PF also volunteered his aeronautical skills for emergency and rescue needs, on call at any time, despite his full schedule.

In his late 20s, a terrible tragedy occurred that basically took away PF's life and put a stop to all he was doing. In January of 1983, a man who had been threatening to kill PF, violently broke into PF's home and came at him with a gun and a meat cleaver. In self-defense, PF shot the man. Shockingly, PF was convicted of second degree murder and sentenced to 17 years in prison.

Nearly 30 years now and he is still in prison today – more than 20 years past his mandatory release date, which with good time credits was May 1992. He has watched career criminals, sentenced to exactly his same sentence, who came to prison years after he did and who have already been released on parole and gone home years ago!

This whole thing has been a great injustice, not only for PF and everyone that knows and loves him, but to the people of the jury, who never got to hear the truth of the case. Tragically, they think they did. You see, PF's attorney would not allow him to tell his side of what happened. I and the people who know PF know that he was framed and wrongfully convicted. PF is not a criminal, never has been, and never would be. His case was one of self-defense and there shouldn't have even been a trial, let alone a conviction. His trial was full of misrepresentations and misinformation, much of which (I am sad to say) is still being presented as the truth through different sources on the internet and in court records. He was clearly railroaded. We have 100% proof that dozens of pieces of trial evidence were falsified by the prosecution team and the police, with the aid of PF's own attorney. PF's attorney was the main person who covered up all of the misconduct!

One year after his conviction, California enacted a law (Home Protection Self- Defense Bill, Penal Code section 198.5) which recognizes that PF's act was not a crime, but it cannot be applied retroactively. In today's world, being falsely imprisoned could happen to anyone, even you or me, as it does hundreds of times every year across America. The U.S. Department of Justice recently acknowledged that some 270,000 U.S. prisoners are actually innocent.

I know all of this to be true and much of it first-hand, because I myself have lived through it with him. This man has become, in essence, my adopted son and I have been in contact with him, almost daily, for all of these many years. He continues to amaze me with who he is inside, as well as outside. He has been through torture and hell for the past 29- plus years in prison, yet he continues to hold a kind and loving, forgiving, appreciative attitude towards most everyone. His love for our Heavenly Father is what has given him the courage and strength to withstand the unbearable and unjust experiences he has had to endure. Of course our greatest desire is for PF to be released from prison and exonerated.
