

IT'S NOT THE END...

Though you may be tempted to believe it, this is not the end. Your heartache and hard times are not without purpose. Everything I allow is for your good. I know it's hard to trust Me on that. Though you find yourself in a pit of destruction, I've promised to bring you out.

Know that I will do whatever is necessary to set you free from the bondage of despair that consumes you. Though you might be tempted to act within your own resources, your best course of action is to run to Me, turn completely to Me, and rely on Me for your every need. I always have your best interests in mind. I only ask that you turn your worry into worship and beckon Me through praise and prayer.

Trust that I will do exactly what is necessary to fully heal your broken heart and bring joy out of your pain. There is no tear wasted or unnoticed; I collect each one. And in due time, I will bring beauty from the ashes of your failed expectations of life. Though you're weary and losing hope now, I AM working all things together for good. And when I have, you'll be firm in faith, lacking nothing.

He brought me up out of the pit of destruction, out of the miry clay, and He set my feet upon a rock making my footsteps firm.

PSALM 40:2 God Bless You! Peace and Blessings
