

See'er' Model by Shawn Bernard

A "see"er is simply someone who has an extremely analytical, extremely logical, extremely literal, extremely perceptive and expansive mind for regular things that sees patterns other people miss and notices details others don't see. They think in probabilities and percentages, not absolutes and can also go into trances.

These eventually expand into dots

One Grey, One Blue and one red

Blue is for positive

Grey is for neutral

Red is for negative

Helping someone will shift slightly Blue

Helping someone In a Big Way will shift to Blue

Helping someone In a Major Way will shift to a Major Blue

The reverse is true

Doing harm a little negatively will slightly shift to red

Doing harm a lot will shift into red

Doing harm extremely will shift to extreme red

Slight shifts to Blue and red will shift back to grey quickly

Shifts to Blue or red will shift back to grey if support is lost or gained slowly

Major shifts to Blue or red take an EXTREME amount of time to shift back to neutral even if support is lost or gained

Almost impossible to shift from Extreme Blue to Extreme Red

Almost impossible to shift from Extreme Red to Extreme Blue

Hence the Extreme Empath and the Extreme Narcissist

See'ers think in lines, think in loops, then can expand those loops backwards, forwards and side to side. They can consider similar loops Downwards to Upwards, Upward to Downward and Side to Side. Multiple loops, hundreds of similar loops. One simple loop pattern to explain it all. It is fairly simple yet extremely complex. Eventually it leads to dots which are endpoints for the singular loop as you expand left to right.

Life experience coupled with trauma, pain, loneliness. Being sandwiched between different cultures and beliefs. Knowledge with pictures, numbers and written words up to where experience ends. I can speak in pictures and write-ups to explain. I can connect with neurodivergent people. I can "see" gifted. I can "see" autism. I can see "ADHD" but it is impossible to show anything with simple words. Only actions.

This leads to time travelling. It isn't physical, it is mental.

Old Patterns Repeat.

You can't change The Then

You can only change The Now

In order to change What Is To Come

By speaking in The Now. By Being Different. By Being Interesting. Because Different is Interesting and Interesting is Different. EMPATHY

Which is what "see"ers do.

So when the prophecies "don't" come true

It is simply because the probabilities changed

That probability didn't come to pass This Time

Thank the All for that

With Natural Light there is always Shadows and Probabilities

With the Darkness there is nothing left

Quantum is coming. Extreme Empaths must control Quantum.
