

Realms of Akasha

Week 11 Reading your client's Akashic Records

When you are going to do a reading for someone else, always make sure to put yourself in a space of being of service to your client. Remember, you are looking into an issue that your client would like to resolve, not curiosity. Most importantly, you have asked for permission from your client to enter their records. Always stay neutral and in the present time. Any information the guides show you or convey to you is how you interpret it. For example if the guides show you a rose, what does it mean to you? Don't think about what it might mean to the client as the guides are communicating with you. If you don't understand what the sign, symbol or word means, you can always ask the client – What does this mean to you? And they might just get the message.

1. Start by clearing your energy for 7 minutes.
2. Do the preparations you normally do to visit your own records
 - Clear your room and bring it to the present time.
 - Open your crown chakra and connect your certainty cords to the top corners of the room
 - Call your aura to 1.5ft around you
 - Adjust your spiritual body to your physical body
 - Place your veil of roses and any other protection
3. Call your own records around you
4. Set your intention to give reading from a space of neutrality and be in the present time
5. Ask client if to specify any issue they would like to be resolved then ask for permission from your client to enter their records
6. Ask client to set their intention what they would like to receive from this session
7. Do prayer to enter the client's records
8. Walk through the veil of roses
9. Go through transition phase and explain what you see/sense/hear/feel
10. Greet Akashic Records Guardian
11. As you enter the Akashic Records, tune into the records, call the guides and ask message for the client (first reading, convey the message then skip to 16.)
12. Ask more info about client's issue

13. Ask for clarity if you don't receive answers.
14. Ask for any healing required – do the healing (Ho'oponopono, inner child etc, clearing contract etc)- If the client has made an unconscious agreement, ask if they are ready to destroy that now.
15. When you finish with healing, ask guides for homework (forgiveness letter etc).
16. Thank the guides, leave the records. Notice if the scenery has changed
17. Come back to your veil of roses
18. Sit back in your physical body adjusting physical and spiritual. Take a deep breath to feel grounded and centered
19. Ask your Higher Self to remove your veil of roses and cleanse and release your certainty cords and the ground cords of the room.
20. Set up a fresh protection
21. Thank your client, your Higher Self and Yourself for this session.