Baker College

Pi Zeta Epsilon Chapter

On the morning of July 13, 2024, members of Baker's Alpha Phi Sigma Chapter, Pi Zeta Epsilon, and guests, met in person to clean up Michigan Roadways in Kent County and Washtenaw County. They collected 18 bags of debris from the highway. This cleanup effort served PZE's mission to improve the safety and appearance of communities, which according to the "Broken Windows" theory of crime can reduce crime rates and civil disorder/disobedience. The Washtenaw County cleanup group consisted of Robert Garavaglia, Joseph Lambert, Deonta Norman, and Mavala Sanchez. The Kent County cleanup group consisted of Elizabeth Clark, Rose Cullen-Belcher, Desiree Franzel, and her daughter, Karla.

On Saturday, July 27, Baker College Pi Zeta Epsilon Honor Society members volunteered at the Santa Clarita Valley Food Pantry. Members Joanne Gervais Ainsworth, Anita Belakopatova, and her sons, Alex and Mitchell, sorted food and made bags for the community's food-insecure neighbors. The Santa Clarita Valley Food Pantry serves over 7000 people a month in the Santa Clarita Valley. It is the oldest running pantry in the area and partners with the Los Angeles Regional Food Bank to feed hungry Californians.

Pi Zeta Epsilon Chapter

On Saturday, September 21st, Pi Zeta Epsilon President Liz Clark and Secretary Desiree Franzel visited the Daily Recovery Zone in Van Buren County, Michigan. Founded in May 2019 by Jewel Dailey, a woman in recovery herself, the DRZ was created to offer a safe space for individuals beginning their recovery journey. By fostering a strong community, the DRZ aims to empower people to achieve sustainable sobriety through support services, education, and engagement, by addressing the challenges posed by addiction and providing a stable environment for exploration of recovery. Beginning at 9AM, Liz and Desiree began helping to organize the stockroom which houses basic facility needs, but also many seasonal items for events and meetings to help engage participants and the community. Later in the afternoon, PZE members engaged in a Q and A with individuals who use the DRZ facility and services. Questions that were asked by participants focused on the effectiveness of available community resources, experiences with the juvenile justice system, what triggers and tools to manage sobriety are present among participants, and describing a specific moment with DRZ that significantly impacted their life. Some comments shared by the 8 participants include: "DRZ gave me back my life," "sobriety would not be possible without Jewel and DRZ," "having a safe space to spend my free time has been instrumental to my recovery," and "DRZ is not just a community resource, this is family, this is home." Upon completion of the volunteer effort, Pi Zeta Epsilon is applying for an advocacy grant through their parent organization Alpha Phi Sigma, to help support this vital and instrumental community resource.

Sandra Ballard, a member of the Pi Zeta Epsilon Honor Society and Psychology student at Baker College recently had the opportunity to volunteer at Oakland Hope in Pontiac, MI. Oakland Hope is a food pantry and thrift store that gives out food to families in the community weekly. Sandra and other volunteers were able to serve 250 families in one day.

George Zodiacal

A son of American Samoa, George Zodiacal of Nu'uuli recently earned a Master's degree in Legal Studies, graduating with an outstanding GPA of 3.91 from Wayland Baptist University, in Hawaii. This significant accomplishment is particularly noteworthy as he is one of the inaugural three individuals from American Samoa to be inducted into the distinguished Alpha Phi Sigma Criminal Justice Honor Society, which recognizes high academic performance and leadership within the field of criminal justice.

As an active member of the Pi Zeta Upsilon chapter located in Plainview, Texas, George remains dedicated to his academic and professional pursuits. He attributes his success to the steadfast support of his family, including his wife and children, who have encouraged him throughout his educational journey. Their unwavering assistance has played a crucial role in his achievements. Furthermore, George is committed to serving his community in Nu'uuli and aims to leverage his education and experiences to become an influential leader. He aspires to effect positive change and empower others within his village.

As the son of Dr. Tuimalo Elvis and Sina Zodiacal, George's journey stands as a testament to the resilience, determination, and ambition inherent in the people of American Samoa. His accomplishments not only bring pride to his family and community but also inspire future generations to pursue their aspirations.

IN MEMORIAM

INGRID RIVERA-ZUNIGA

Alpha Phi Sigma Member

With profound sadness, we honor the life and legacy of Ingrid Rivera-Zuniga, a remarkable student, athlete, and officer who embodied the ideals of Alpha Phi Sigma, the Criminal Justice Honor Society. Ingrid, who was tragically taken from us in October 2024 at the age of 21, leaves behind a legacy of service, determination, and excellence that will continue to inspire us all.

As an honors student, a Class 1 Officer working in the Toms River, NJ jail, and a key member of our D2 track and field team, Ingrid exemplified what it means to persevere in pursuing justice and excellence. Ingrid also worked part-time designing tee shirts and mugs, which she brought to the Criminal Justice Honor Society at Georgian Court University as the Chapter President.

We extend our deepest condolences to Ingrid's parents, younger sister, extended family, and dear friends, who have all shown incredible strength in this difficult time. In her Induction biography, she wrote,

"The most influential person in my life has been my mom. She has instilled her work ethic in me and has shown me what resilience and dedication look like. I am passionate about studying criminal justice because I have always had a deep curiosity about crime, its causes, and its impact on communities. That curiosity is fueled by wanting to make an active contribution and positive difference in people's lives..."

Her friend, teammate, colleague, and fellow Alpha Phi Sigma inductee, Nina Casalino, describes her as "always willing to help anyone ...involved in GCU through clubs and sports as well as her local community ...Her goals were to graduate college, go through the police academy, and become a detective." The bonds she formed testify to her vibrant and compassionate spirit. Even in tragedy, Ingrid's generosity continues to inspire. As an organ donor, she saved five lives, including a ten-year-old boy who received her heart—a testament to the selflessness that defined her life.

As a community of students and professionals in criminal justice, we will forever cherish Ingrid's memory and strive to honor her legacy through our work. She remains an enduring part of the Alpha Phi Sigma family and a cherished member of the Class of 2025.

To celebrate Ingrid's life and legacy, we invite you to view the heartfelt tributes shared by her community:
