Yangyidi Ye is a dual-licensed attorney in Minnesota and Iowa, USA. She has been recognized by Super Lawyers as a top rated international attorney in Des Moines, Iowa, and was consecutively selected by Super Lawyers as a “Rising Star” from 2021 to 2025. She earned a Master of Laws in Taxation from Georgetown University, graduating with honors.

Personal Introduction

Attorney Yangyidi Ye is a senior partner at Causey & Ye Law, P.L.L.C., dedicated to bridging the gap between international and U.S. business communities. With a deep understanding of domestic and international legal environments, she provides reliable advisory services to companies navigating complex regulatory frameworks.

Academically, Attorney Ye is a distinguished graduate of Georgetown University’s Master of Tax Law program, receiving honors and awards for her outstanding academic achievements. During her time at Georgetown, she gained valuable experience through an internship at the Office of the Chief Financial Officer (OCFO) in Washington, D.C., providing litigation support for key issues such as Qualified High Technology Company (QHTC) eligibility, property tax assessments, and state tax credit calculations.

Her two consecutive terms as an intern at the U.S. Department of Treasury’s Office of International Tax Counsel further deepened her legal expertise. During this time, she participated in projects involving U.S. trade and business tax obligations of foreign entities, characterization of digital content and cloud computing, Foreign Investment in Real Property Tax Act (FIRPTA), OECD’s opinions on bilateral trade and investment tax provisions, and taxation of foreign trusts and gifts.

Attorney Ye has extensive experience working with startups and established companies across various industries, including hospitality, retail, manufacturing, information technology, and commercial real estate. Her practice areas include immigration law, international corporate law, mergers and acquisitions, foreign direct investment, and tax policy. She is committed to guiding clients through federal, state, and local regulatory complexities to ensure compliance and effective communication with regulatory authorities.

In addition, she is dedicated to helping clients achieve local and international tax compliance, offering professional guidance on civil and criminal tax matters, resolving disputes, managing audits, and protecting client interests.
