left NJ. I believe the SBA left long before its work was done, leaving thousands of us economically injured and going out of business.

For the first time ever, the SBA came back to a disaster location. This, I believe is a great move and can lead to great things for all those who are still devastated from Super Storm Sandy, including MEA. Therefore, I am reaching out to the SBA again to get the money needed to begin with to help MEA move forward with the automobile world, as well as society.

As stated before, MEA helps many auto shops, especially with all the advancements the automobile world has made, at such a rapid rate too. The 2 teachers we have cannot supply the demand that is out there now. MEA needs more money to obtain more teachers, who can then be available to teach more protégés, who can then become the future teachers. (This scenario was already set in place before Super Storm Sandy. Super Storm Sandy came and washed that scenario away.) In other words, I don't need the help from the SBA to expand MEA. I need help to get MEA back to its original ever evolving state. Thank you for your time.
