Creating Courteous Companions

You'll do the work either way.
You'll either do the work to train your dog, or you'll do the work to manage, cope, and struggle with your dog's behavior.
They're both work, but one offers connection, inclusion and freedom, the other limitations, frustration and resentment.

Thank You to all our Instructors on doing a Great Job.

Without YOU these classes would not be possible.

We appreciate your dedication to our students and our club.

A Special Thanks to Lois Breslow and Barb Pische for bringing Great snacks on our Training Nights.

Message from Mary Laurie, President

Rand Park Dog Training Club warmly welcomes our new 2021-2022 members: Annice Coughlan, Audrey Drechsler, Bill and Evelyn Eiden, Nicolette Grieco, Vicki Henderson, Lizzy Liu, Bradley McGinnis, Jacob Meding, Wendy Mejia, Jackie Montero, Candido Martinez, Martha Nelson, Don Martin Ramos, Debra Rathberger, Liana Rozo, Lori Scott, Micah Shapiro, Jill Spooner, Stephen Traphagen, Julie Minbiole, Ruth Wedekind, Barbara Zaporowska, and Scott Zetsche. We are excited to get to know you better and look forward to good times ahead. It is our good fortune to have you and your dog as a part of the Rand Park Dog Training Club.

To those friends who are considering joining our club, jump over that bar and do it. We would love to have you and your dog as part of our pack.

My sincere thanks to our dedicated obedience, rally and nosework instructors who give so much of their time and expertise. As our trainees read the above, I am sure they are nodding their heads in agreement.

A well-deserved thank you to our tracking team as well. They are a passionate group.

To my friends on the board there would not be a club if not for you and your efforts.

To the committees there would not be a club if not for your efforts as well.

A loud, resounding thank you to the every past, present and future Rand Park Dog Training Club volunteer for your commitment to the club.

This is a Great Example of Why Training is so Important for All Dogs

GREAT JOB DON AND YOSHI !!!

What a Good Boy!

Yoshi is a very high-energy dog who was struggling with his manners and tolerance of handling early on, but his owners have been putting in great effort with training, and it shows! He is now a very well-behaved dog! His owners have been very happy with the training classes he has been participating in at Rand Park Dog Training Club.

Putting in the effort to train and socialize your dog is a key aspect of dog ownership, and something we recommend for all canine patients.

Not only does it allow our team to provide better care with a better behaved patient, Yoshi's owners will be able to get more enjoyment out of their little gentleman. Congrats on putting in the effort and getting such great results!
