Wow, we are saying goodbye to the school year and hello to summer! This month we will be talking about the sports that we like and the activities we do in the summertime. We will also be talking about the transportation we use to come to school. After this, we will be constructing our own buses, toys, and cars. Lastly, we will talk about what we love about our dads and how they makes us happy. Remember water play begins this month.

Happy Father's Day!

Dear parents,

Summer is finally here and we deserve to enjoy it after working so hard on our graduation! This month we are celebrating our dads and why they are the best. Please join your child for some delicious donuts for breakfast on the 13th. We will then be splashing into summer by making lots of beach crafts and eating cool popsicles. The last week we will be blasting into space and talking about the different planets especially the one we live in.
