My beloved children, my beloved sons, I chose you by the grace of God. He sent you this weekend so that I could embrace you and love you with the mercy God is showering upon you today.

My sons, do you not know what this mercy means to you? This mercy was gained for you by my son, my son who died for each of you. As he was dying, he saw you here today. This day, he destined that he would shower you with this grace of love, of forgiveness by his actions of suffering for you. There is nothing, nothing that he did not die for you. Do not think that your sin is too big and too grand that the mercy of my son cannot cover. Bring it to him tonight as I bring you the compassion that I am flooding your soul with. Do not resist, for you are resisting God himself.

My beloved sons, there are so many of you who feel lonely and that you are walking alone in this world like an orphan. You are my sons, the sons of God's brothers of my son. So many of you feel lost because you had no guidance from the ones that were your parents.

My sons, tonight it takes much faith to believe that I am here to bless you with my embraces of love. Come under my mantle, as I call your family. There, you will always find protection and confidence that God loves you.

Many are motivated by their flesh, the sins that drive them away from God. Begin to move towards him, not away from him. Always choose his ways. Be aware that the enemy and his arrows of the sins that depart you from the grace of God. Look and choose the graces towards heaven.

My sons, listen to the truth of God and those wiser than you in the way of God.

My beloved sons, peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you, and thank you for being here tonight.

My sons, I would ask again that you unite to pray the Rosary as soldiers of the Rosary. You will begin to bring down the Kingdom of this world, who is the enemy, the devil who wishes to tear down your faith.

Please, please pray for your children in the prayer I have given you.
