

A Call to Obedience

05-05-21 - School of Mary

Queen of Mercy:

My message to you today is that you pray, pray, pray. Pray in thanksgiving of all the many prayers that have been answered, the many prayers that are still in the Lord's hands: waiting to be answered.

My child, pray that you may stay committed to your "yes." Pray that your soul will be opened and stay open to do the will of God, for it is in love that I call obedience. Obedience is what comes so that what is beautiful, what is perfect may continue to manifest in your life. Obedience and joy is a prayer answered.

My children, the deception of evil is that obedience is meant to place you under chains with fetters. But obedience will set you free from the chains that others have placed on you and chains you have placed on yourselves by your own pride and arrogance: this comes from not knowing my love: the love that sets captives free.

Mary, my daughter, you will become a great advocate of obedience: obedience to me: and to the Father. For in this, you will live a life to its fullest. When you can conquer disobedience and be its owner, you can live for me: live a life without fear, the fear that enslaves you.

My beloveds, thank you, thank you for being here today.

Peace. Peace. Peace of Jesus be with you. ¹

¹ Thank you. Thank you, Mother. I have such joy in what you are saying. How I am writing this joy is springing up inside of me like never before when we talked about obedience.
