

PIOUS MEDITATIONS
THE QUEEN OF MERCY
VOLUME 1

WRITINGS FROM FEBRUARY 1988 – NOVEMBER 2019

Disclaimer

This book is based on private revelations that DO NOT enjoy ecclesiastical approbation, nor are they intended to replace Biblical or Magisterial teachings. These pious meditations should be read in a spirit of prayer and discernment.

The inspirational pious meditations found in this book are from the diaries and writings of Mary Constancio on the Queen of Mercy. In addition, this volume includes several of the pious meditations of Mike Slate and Theresa Werner written in 1988 and are noted in this book. All writings are used by the permission of the authors.

The author guarantees all contents are original and do not infringe upon the legal rights of any other person or work. No part of this book may be reproduced, stored in a retrieval system, or transmitted in any form or by any means without expressed written permission of the Ambassadors of the Flame of Mercy, Inc.

Copyrights © 2021 by the Ambassadors of the Flame of Mercy, Inc.
All rights reserved.

DEDICATION

To Henry and Mary Constancio, who have given up everything for the glory of God.

TABLE OF CONTENTS

INTRODUCTION	1
GETTING THE MOST OUT OF THE MESSAGES	1
HISTORICAL COMMENT CONCERNING THE EDITING OF TRANSCRIPTIONS:	3
THE TITLED MESSAGES	3
MY SONS, MY DAUGHTERS	3
THE QUEEN OF MERCY MEDITATIONS IN CHRONOLOGICAL ORDER	4
PRAYER FOR MERCY	10
HAIL MARY	11
MANTLE PRAYER	50
MORNING PRAYER	54
PRAYER FOR THOSE IN BONDAGE	55
MY MESSAGE IS OF LOVE	78
WEAR THE EYES OF MERCY	85
PRAYER OF THE HEART	85
LOVE	86
ACTIONS OF MERCY	86
MYSTERIES OF LOVE	88
PRAYER OF SURRENDER	91
DISCIPLES OF MERCY	102
BEDSIDE PRAYER	102
OIL OF GLADNESS	114
SICKNESS OF THE SOUL	121
INTERCESSION PRAYER	138
PRAYER FOR FAMILY UNITY	145
PRAYER TO UNITE OUR HEART WITH THE HEARTS OF JESUS AND MARY	152
UNLEASH GOD’S LOVE	154
3 @ 3 PRAYER	159
MISSING DATE	184
“MY WORDS”	184
THE DOOR	186
DELIVERANCE PRAYER	186
APPENDIX	189
A DEEPER UNDERSTANDING OF THE MESSAGES	189
BRIEF HISTORY OF THE	190
MESSAGES OF MERCY	190
ABOUT THE MARY CONSTANCIO	197

INTRODUCTION

By: Howard A. Huntzinger Jr.

The Blessed Virgin Mary was created by God for the sole purpose of bringing Jesus the Christ into the world and all humanity to God through her son. She describes this purpose as she glorified God before her cousin Elizabeth as she said, “My soul magnifies the Lord, and my spirit rejoices in God my Savior, for he has regarded the low estate of his handmaiden. For behold, henceforth all generations will call me blessed; for he who is mighty has done great things for me, and holy is his name.” (Luke 2: 47-49)

Our Lady in scripture and throughout history, including the private revelations under the titles of Our Lady of Guadalupe and Our Lady of Fatima, can be summed up in one line of holy scripture, “His mother said to the servants, “Do whatever he tells you.” (John 2:5)

So, what about the meditative writings and private revelations presented under the title of the Queen of Mercy which this book presents? First of all, I believe the Queen of Mercy revelations are not miraculous in origin, but through the supernatural grace of Christ, the Holy Spirit has revealed to good people the heart and words of the Blessed Virgin Mary under the title of Queen of Mercy. These good people are Mary Constancio, Mike Slate, and Theresa Werner. Mike and Theresa wrote down their experiences which occurred only in 1988 and were given to Father Joseph James, pastor of Saint John Neumann Church at the time of their writings, while Mary Constancio has been documenting her experience from 1988 to August 2019. Mary Constancio continued to get meditative writings and private revelations after August 2019, and these writings are found in Pious Meditations Volume II - The School of Mary.

For me, these writings have been of source of meditation and inspiration in my life, which continue to lead me to be reminded of the Blessed Mother’s words found in scripture, “Do whatever he tells you.” (John 2:5) My hope for this book would be that these words would inspire us to ask Our Lady to assist and help us in our daily journey to and with God.

Getting the most out of the messages

By: Howard A. Huntzinger Jr.

I wasn't there on that blessed day in 1988 when the Queen of Mercy came. I wasn't there to see the large crowds that came to pray the rosary on Monday nights throughout 1988 and to hear the messengers speak the pious meditations and private revelations they received. I wasn't there on August 15, 1988, when over 20,000 people came to mass at Saint John Neumann to celebrate God and the Feast of the Assumption of Mary into Heaven. I didn't arrive in Lubbock, Texas, until 1994, and like most people who were not there when these meditations were first given, I looked at the meditations given before 1994 as historical events. I felt these earlier meditations were "nice" and not that important, for they were given to the people present at that event and at that time, but not directed directly at me. I became more interested in the meditations given during 1994 and after when I was present as Mary Constancio wrote and presented these private revelations. I was involved in these events, and because of that, these writings were personal.

In June of 2014, when I was reading through Mary Constancio's private diary entitled The Tower Messages, my eyes were opened for the first time by the Holy Spirit concerning all these meditations. What Mary Constancio had written down was not meant for a handful of people present when these private revelations were first given but were meant for the world. I found the keyword that unveiled this new understanding that the private revelations were meant for everyone; that word was "TODAY": a word meaning now or at this moment. When I searched through all the writings from February 1988 to August 2019, I discovered that the word "today" had been used over 215 times. As you read through these pious meditations and private revelations and come across the term "today," understand these words are being presented to you right now. Embrace these writings as the gift they are meant to be: loving words being spoken to your heart for the first time.

To sum up my revelation on the word "today," I wish to present two excerpts from these writings; the first from April 4, 1988: "Be it known today that my love will spread even to those who are not here." In the second excerpt from the writings of November 21, 1988, we receive, "My dear children, remember I am the Queen of Mercy, your queen, and your mother. I do not only come as your mother, but as a queen who has been given powers; not of my own, but of our Father, for he alone distributes to whom he chooses." We find in the word "today" a calling to receive the graces of wisdom and blessings, not being presented to people of the past, but being offered to us at this moment, hearing the calling now, to accept the calling now, and to live God's calling with his blessings now. I challenge you to go back and start reading the messages in the light of the grace of today. She is waiting right now to talk to your heart; grab the grace today!

Historical Comment Concerning the Editing of Transcriptions:

The messages received during Mary Constancio's pious meditations were written as the words were received. While Mary Constancio did add punctuations to the sentences as she was writing them, the punctuations were not always correctly added due to the speed of writing down the words.

Over the thirty-one years, many people were selected to transcribe Mary Constancio's journals to digital form, which could be later printed. Some people transcribed directly from the journals with no corrections, and others transcribed with partial correction.

For this publication, I have prayerfully taken the initiative to carefully edit all these pious meditations to be presented in the same format, correcting punctuations, spelling, and grammar errors where necessary.

Many of Mary Constancio's notes and commentaries were written along with the messages have been move as footnotes to separate them from the main body of the message being received.

The Titled Messages

Also added to some messages are titles to identify prayers and teachings that stand out. For example, the Ambassadors of the Flame of Mercy, an Association of Christ Faithful, founded by Henry and Mary Constancio, often use these particular writings for teaching and ministering to God's people, for they contain wisdom and insight on love and God's mercy.

My sons, My daughters

The question sometimes arises from people reading the messages, who is Our Lady talking to when she uses the phrase "My sons" or "My daughters?"

Starting during the first men's retreat of September 1997, Our Lady began delivering messages at every men's retreat and later to many women's retreats. These messages usually start with the greeting, "My sons," or "My beloved sons. " The women's retreats would also have similar greeting of "My daughters," or "My beloved daughters."

The Queen of Mercy MEDITATIONS

In Chronological Order

February 28, 1988¹

"People are stabbing each other in the back with words, but if they begin praying the rosary, within six months, you will see the spirit of this church change."

March 1, 1988²

Go and tell your priest and go and tell your bishop that Mary, your mother, has come to give a message: that they should spread her word throughout radio, throughout television, throughout the newspaper, throughout the pulpit, throughout the world, to come and say the rosary with me on Monday nights; that those who come will be blessed, will be full of grace, will become closer to my son, Jesus; that the world must hear the good news that my son, Jesus, has come to keep his promise; that I have come for my people.

Please, I plead with you, my children; do not wait any longer for a sign. Do not wait, for the Sign has come. The Sign will come again in glory. I hurt to see so many, so many of you waiting: you children, you young people, you married couples, you blessed old, you poor and rich, waiting for a sign with which to believe, with which to come closer to my son. Do not wait any longer. This is your sign upon hearing this word.

March 14, 1988³

Why do you not take me seriously? Why do you not invite others to come? It gives me great sorrow that you have not done so. Do you not think that I am here through the power of God, our Father, and through the love of my son, Jesus? Do not be afraid, for I am with you.

Know that your Father in heaven has come unto this lowly church for his glory and for the salvation of others. Do not think that this is for you, but for the world. There's a harvest that is ready and waiting.

I plead with you again: do not wait. For at this moment, my children, whom I love as much as I love you, are crying for your help, your prayers.

¹ This first revelation was given to Mary Constancio while in the St. John Neumann chapel.

² The revelation of March 1, 1988, is the first that Mary Constancio took as dictation from the Blessed Mother in her home at 2:30 a.m. Many times, this second message or private revelation is referred to as the first message, but it is really the first published message.

³ The revelations received during 1988 were known as the Rosary Message. This is the first message given during the rosary at Saint John Neumann church.

The Lord, my son, is wanting to build a glorious Church here on earth. Throughout the centuries, there have been a few, and you have been blessed and chosen to bring others to salvation. Know, my children, my beloveds, that I am asking of my son a new and overwhelming and life-changing spirit to come and set you free. Do not reject what I am invoking on you. Know, my children, that all the angels and saints are at your doorstep to help you. My son is ready and waiting for your prayers and your heart.

I have so much to tell you, so much love to give you. Thank you, my children, for being here to hear me and for your faith and love.

March 21, 1988

Rejoice, my children, for you have been chosen! You lowly children of God have already been blessed. Rejoice, for our Father in heaven has smiled on your church! Protect your blessed church with prayer to reach our Father's ears, for I have cleared the path that your prayers may be heard. I will help you to be faithful to prayer, faithful to communion, faithful to confession. For the grace that our Father has given me, I will give freely to you.

My children, at this time in which my son is remembered, when he was crucified for you. I remember the great pain that he felt and the great pain that I had when I saw him agonizing saw him until the last hour of his life. Remember, my children, and keep it holy. For where you go, my holy son will go with you if you allow Him.

Please, my children, I plead with you again to stop and forgive rather than to stop and condemn, for my son condemns no one. My son wants to bless you and give his gift of Himself to you.

My children, how much I want you to know the importance of prayer, of communion, of penance, and I add one more, of fasting. I do not ask this for my glory but for my son's glory.

Thank you, my children, for coming to be with me. Please bring others with you.

⁴My dear, blessed friend, I say to you not to worry anymore about your parish's finances. For our Father in heaven has heard our prayers for your finances, and there are other harvesters of your church that will take care of this.

Your concern and your whole heart is to be totally concerned for your sheep and their conversion. You are correct in asking your sheep for their tithe, their full tithe, but not to the point of worrying about the finances of the church, for this church has been redeemed and claimed by our Father, and he shall take care of it.

⁴ Message for Monsignor Joseph W. James

Yes, my friend, my son, I smile on you, for you have blessed me with your love and for bringing others to me.

March 28, 1988

My dearly beloved sons and daughters, thank you again for being here. There is so much to tell you, especially today. For my son and all in heaven, this is a special week, for all remember my son's crucifixion, his hours of agony. My children do not fall asleep. Be ready and prepared, for he has come to make a covenant with all those who will accept Him.

At this moment, many of your own people are praying for your very soul. At this moment, the angels and saints are cheering you on; they are praying for you; they are asking mercy for you and your brothers and sisters.

My children that you may know the love I have for you is eternal, my love for you is great, that you may know the blessings of our Father have been asked for you, blessings of every sort will be bestowed, blessings that you know that only I can ask for you. You honor me greatly with your prayers which makes my son smile, for you have also accepted me as your mother.

I thank all of those who are praying the three rosaries a day, for they are the very essence of your church's salvation, the very essence of peace for your church. Do not forget that the foundation of your church and the foundation of your peace, and the foundation of your salvation is my son.

Do not reject Him. Do not reject him again, for he is handing Himself over to you again. He is entrusting in your hands his hands, his heart. Treat tenderly that which he gives you, that which he entrusts to you. He is calling you to take care and love those close to you. Pray for them. Fast for them. Love them as he has loved you.

Do not forget. Do not put off praying and fasting for another day, for someone else to do, for this is the grace that my son is going to give you tonight. Go with my love. Go with my heart.

April 4, 1988

Blessed children of God, thank you for being here tonight. Listen, for my heart is burning with love for you. For all of my children, especially those who are lost, those who cannot find their way home. Go, my children, and make apostles of all nations. Do not be afraid, for the Holy Spirit will go before your church, your most blessed church. Open your eyes, open your hearts to receive that which I have asked for you. Every gift has been given; every blessing has been bestowed for the glory of God, our Father, for my son's glory, who sits at the right hand of our Creator, of our King of kings.

Rejoice and leap for joy, for the windows of heaven have been opened for your families! For all those who hear and believe will also be blessed. The whole of the country, the whole of the nation shall hear of the great love that your church, your families, will show. Be it known today that my love will spread even to those who are not here. My dearest son has died for your sins so that you may also have a place in the kingdom with us.

Please, my children, rejoice and be glad, for it is only in the asking that you shall receive. Pray for those who have not yet asked. Pray that the love my son has for me, and you will be the love that reigns in your heart above all else. Ask for this love that you might receive.

I smile today because so many of you have responded to my call to be holy, my call of praying for those whom my son has entrusted to you. Beware, my children, of the lion that seeks to devour. But do not despair, for a legion of angels from heaven has been sent for your protection. Continue to pray. Continue to fast. Continue to accept my son's body and blood which was shed for you. Continue to reconcile with your brothers and sisters. Judgment shall be judged on how you loved.

And those who want answers continue to ask. To ask through prayers, for your prayers shall be answered. I love you, my children; you who are so close to my heart. Continue to seek for my intercession, for my son is waiting to answer your prayers. But ask and pray with prayers and petitions of truth, for he sees your heart and knows. For when you ask in truth, the lights shall be shown.

April 11, 1988

My dearly beloved children, I have a smile on my face to see so many of you together. Please, my children, remember to smile, for this is the smile of Jesus, which brings comfort, which brings hope, and joy to those who have none.

I have been sent to you to speak to you, to each one of you, to each one of your hearts. So, listen! Listen! For I have a message for each one of you. Listen to your hearts, for I am speaking through my heart. My heart says, "Love one another, forgive one another, pray for one another, fast for one another."

I love you all so much that our Father in heaven has allowed me to visit you to pray and intercede for you in a special way: a way in which only I can, through the grace of my son, Jesus. Hold my son at your right arm, just as he sits at the right hand of our Father. For he alone is the Holy One, he alone has died so that you may see the kingdom and be with us.

Forgive, my children, forgive, for no faster can you reach my son's ears. My dear children, so beautiful, so holy. For when you say "yes" to forgiveness, then you all can be holy as I am holy. No greater love can you offer one another than through repentance, through forgiveness.

It would please me, my children, if you could enjoy the entire rosary with me. For my heart rejoices when I hear the unity of prayer, for I know you are praying to become closer to my son. No greater joy is there than that.

Thank you, children, for being here, for taking the time to believe. Continue to pray, my children, for this parish, for your parish, that God's glory may be shown, that his salvation may be encountered by all who come, by all who hear.

Go, therefore, and make disciples of all nations. Remember I am with you.

My children, all of those who are sorrowful and without hope. Know that your prayers have been heard, for you have done what I have called you to do. Rejoice, for our Lord's mercy is great!

Thank you, my children, for your ears, for your hearts; for they are fragile but strong with my son's strength. So, breathe your last breath of sorrow, and breathe with praises in your heart.

April 18, 1988^{5 6}

My children, you are apostles of my church. Blessed are you who respond to our Father's call. Blessed are you who respond when you are called. Blessed are you who accept without seeing, for you shall see the glory of God.

Sons of the Father, you shall be made worthy of the promises of Christ. There is much work to do. Do not despair, for all the path has been carved, and your names have been installed in the palm of our Father's hand. Do not be surprised when you are called, for our Father chooses carefully. He chooses, and he has chosen your church to be the mold. Love shall be the center of the mold. Love shall prevail above all else, for love casts out all fear. Love casts out all that does not belong to this church. For my son alone is the Holy One. For my son has destined your nation, diocese, to be holy as he is holy.

⁵ The following message was given to Mary Constancio on April 18, 1988 while in Washington, D.C.

⁶ See page 61 for additional message given to THERESA WERNER (FLEISCHMAN) April 18, 1988

Peace be with you! Thank you, my children, for being here tonight.

April 18, 1988 ⁷

My beloved children, it moves me deeply to see the faithful gather before me, to give unto me homage so that I may bless them and bring them blessings from my son, Jesus Christ.

My dear children, continue your prayers, your love, your faithfulness unto me. Many blessings will be bestowed unto those who continue their faithfulness and hope. Know that my love goes with you unto all times of the earth. Your Heavenly Father knows of all your needs, and he shall bring to pass all that is to be.

Go in my love, my dear ones, always. My heart goes out to those in grief. Know that I will be with you in all your times of need, as in my time of grief, when my son was crucified: my heart was grieved deeply. So it is with those lost and seeking. Continue to pray for those lost and searching.

Continue your fervent prayers for all the world and for all its people.

April 25, 1988 ⁸

Dear children, beloved of mine, what I desire from you is obedience: Obedience to say the rosary; Obedience for receiving all the graces given to you. Remember that you cannot receive everlasting joy if it were not for my son. My son is so greatly disturbed, for so many have not been obedient to our Father's Commands. His Commands are those of freedom: Freedom to worship him and give him glory. What gains a man if he is free in this world but a slave to his heart and to sin?

⁷ Received by Theresa Werner (Fleischman). Mary Constancio helped lead a "Healing Weekend" for two parishes in Washington, D.C., April 14-25. Before leaving, she indicated a conviction that Theresa Werner (Fleischman) would receive the messages at Saint John Neumann Church during that time. She did receive the following messages. They were confirmed by Mike Slate who had received the same word.

⁸ The following message was given to Mary Constancio on April 25, 1988 while in Washington, D.C.

My children, pray as I ask:

PRAYER FOR MERCY

Holy Father, you who art in heaven, be merciful to us, your servants, who are also sons and daughters of all that is promised to those who keep his commandments. Be merciful to those who do not.

We pray thee that, through our petitions and prayers, your love may shine over all of those for whom we pray, that our petitions may be made worthy by your son, Jesus' blood and covenant with us.

We pray for this through the most Sacred Hearts of Jesus and our mother. Amen.

April 25, 1988 ⁹

My beloved children, my heart calls to those in need. My heart goes out to those who are lost and searching. Continue your prayers. Continue your hopes in me and your Heavenly Father. He brings all to pass that is to be.

Why, why do you continue to disbelieve? Where is your faith? How can I bring unto you blessings from above when here I find so few among you? My dear little ones, continue to pray and bring others with you! You faithful few, how pleased I am with thee! Your prayers shall be answered. Your blessings will be added up and stored in the memory of the Everlasting Father.

Only through my son shall you find peace in your lives and in all your undertakings. Be at peace, my children, and fear not the evil one. Go in my love and in my peace.

May 2, 1988

My blessed and beloved children, I come here again to remind you of the love I have for you. It gives me great joy to see you, to see that your faith will grow for believing: Believing that I have come to bless you so that you may come close to my son.

This week, my children, remember to show homage unto me by saying the rosary daily, for this brings graces that only I can bring. My son wants to bring joy and peace for your families, for this peace is eternal.

My children, although it brings me joy that you are here, it does bring me sorrow to know that there are still so many of my children who will not see the kingdom of our Father if you do not pray for them.

⁹ Received by Theresa Werner (Fleischman).

Know that my promises are not in vain and are for the glorification of God, our Father, who knows your heart and knows your sin, but who also knows your love. Look, my children, into your hearts. Look to see if God is your Father whom you glorify, whom you honor and glorify above all else in this world.

My children keep inviting others to come with you; for my promise is that of love, and not without grace to grace you with. Come all you who are sick, all who are in sorrow. For your sorrow will only be for a little while. Know that all is taken care of by our Father, who hears your prayers, who knows your hearts and what you need.

Continue to pray the rosary. Continue to fast. May the peace of Almighty God; may the peace that my son gives you, and may the peace that I offer be with you. My children, go in peace, for I go before you always. That is my promise to you! Look for me, for I am there. Look for me, for I have something for all those who seek my graces.

My children, my messages are of great urging, for no one knows the hour or the day. There is so much to tell you. So much! So pray that what I have given you may be engraved in your hearts forever! For I do come with strength and power given only by our Father in heaven.

Thank you for being here tonight.

May 8, 1988¹⁰

This is what Mary wants us to recite in the “Hail Mary”; the words of the Blessed Virgin's "Ave Maria."

HAIL MARY (Queen of Mercy Version)

Hail Mary, full of grace, the Lord is with thee. Blessed art thou among women and blessed is the fruit of thy womb, Jesus. Holy Mary, mother of God, pray for us sinners. Send forth the grace of your flame of love to all mankind, now and in the hour of our death. Amen.

The Virgin Mary is asking and calling to all of us to keep Thursdays and Fridays as days of special graces, to regard them as days of atonement of her Divine Son.

¹⁰ Received by Theresa Werner (Fleischman).

The way to achieve this is with the holy hour of the family. During this hour of reconciliation, you should say various prayers (the rosary, for example) and sing hymns.

Begin the worship by making the "Sign of the Cross" five times in view of my son's five holy Wounds. Reflect on Jesus' shoulder wound, which was his most grievous wound, which tore his flesh and bared his bone. Carry his cross! Finish it the same way, five "Signs of the Cross."

Continue the worship with spiritual readings. Light a candle in remembrance of my promise. Urgent! Keep a holy hour in your family. Thursdays and Fridays should be special days of grace. On these days, make special reparation to my Divine Son. Visit the Blessed Sacrament. The hour could be spent filled with the singing of hymns, meditation, various prayers, and the rosary. Begin adoration with his five holy Wounds on his shoulder. Make the Sign of the Cross five times.

If there are many in reconciliation, I, the Blessed Mother, will be satisfied with as little as five minutes per person.

The deeper the prayer, the more Satan will be blinded! Soon! Do these things for me!

¹¹Our Blessed Mother asks of all of us:

Try to hold these reconciliation sessions in twos or threes because where two or three meet in the name of my son, he will be there, more if possible.

You should also try to make a practice during the day of crossing yourselves five times, one after the other while offering yourselves into the mercy of the Lord. This will bring you nearer the Eternal Father, and your heart will be filled with grace. Start this as soon as possible. Urgent, please! Mary is asking it from all of us to show our love and devotion, beginning the 12th and 13th of May and continuing from then on!

Messages to parents, mothers, and fathers, from our Lord Jesus' mother:

Jesus said, "Let it be known to others, my child, that without faith and trust, no other virtue can take root in you. It is the foundation of the holy cause for which we prepare ourselves. And begin making this known very soon."

¹¹ From Our Lord Jesus Christ.

"All of you mothers who bring pleasure to My Heart, the merit of your work is no less than the deeds of the priest in the highest office. You parents, you mothers, understand the sublime vocation I entrusted to you. You are destined to populate My Kingdom. From your hearts, from your bosoms, every step of My Church comes forth. My kingdom grows according to how you mothers take care of the created souls. You have the greatest responsible work. This work I laid in your hands to lead the multitude of souls to salvation. To this, your responsible work, I give my special blessing."

May 9, 1988

Listen, my children, with ears opened to hear that which only your hearts can see! Know, my children, that I can see that sorrow with which you suffer, that sorrow with which you rejoice. For only through my son can you experience any joy at all.

My children, my whole purpose in blessing your church is to bring joy, to bring peace, to bring love, to bring mercy from God, our Almighty Father. I ask you again to reach into the very depths of your soul and seek to whom you give glory, to whom you give homage. The time is coming when I will shine my eyes on all those who believe. The time is coming when you shall see my eyes. Be prepared, my children, for our Father has done great things for you, and much more will he do.

How much must I plead with you to bring others with you? I say again to spread my message: My message of mercy, my message of hope for all those who have none.

Fight the enemy, my children, with weapons that I have already sent you: prayer, fasting, communion, and reconciliation. Pray with petitions and prayers of all sorts, especially those prayers that have been inspired by the love of my son, Jesus. Continue to ask the Lord for mercy every day, every moment, for great is our Father's mercy. Great is his compassion, and unending is his love.

I plead with you again: bring your families; bring those whom I send you to bring, for they are all my children.

Blessed are they who desire to please my son, those who desire to please our Almighty Father who rules over his people with love and mercy.

Please bring others with you. Thank you for being here tonight. Now take this message to all who believe - even to those who do not, that they may believe. This is my love letter to you. May all the Fruits of the Holy Spirit be among you. May the fruit of all women's wombs here tonight be blessed to bring forth the peace of the world.

My children, this month is a special month in which you take time to give me homage. Take time this month also to teach with that special love and tender compassion and concern which I also give you.

Do not be too busy to take time to pray. To love!

¹²My dear children, thank you for being here tonight. I prayed for you all today that you would have the strength and courage to be here. I know that many of you had many trials today. Be strong, my children. My son needs you. Pray for strength and perseverance. You have been called to continue the work which he started here on earth.

My children, be aware that you will be under attack, that you will be tempted. But remember that my son and I are praying for you. And when you feel tempted or are aware of the evil one, pray to my son for strength, for he will not forsake you.

Go with my peace and my love, my children.

May 16, 1988

My dear blessed sons and daughters of God, you who have responded to my call will be blessed by God Himself. My son has seen your hearts and has announced to our Father that he desires this church to be glorified for our Father's sake. For glory, all glory belongs to our Father of heaven and of earth. He is to be glorified by every tongue.

For one who is not of the Lord cannot give glory to my son, Jesus. For he alone has brought salvation to all nations and has destined this nation to be God's.

Pray, my children pray for the conversion of hearts. Pray for the Lord to give his breath of life into each soul. Be strong for I give you strength to love, for I give you love to forgive, for my son forgives all who ask for forgiveness.

My children, the time is coming soon when my disciples will blow the trumpet to proclaim that which I desire you to know. You are my reason for being here, for I hear the cries, I see the agony, I see the promise you have made my son.

I have come to make all things possible, for I am the Mother of God. I am the Queen of Mercy. Call to me, all those who desire mercy. Call to me for I am there.

You must be responsible for bringing your families to God, for bringing them under my protection.

¹² The rest of the following message was given to Mike Slate

Pray, pray, pray.

Thank you for being here tonight.

I shall come through the clouds like a storm that cannot be consoled but gentle as a dove. I come only to set my people free that all may give glory to God and all may be with me in heaven.

It gives my son great sorrow to see you at the teeth of the one who seeks to devour. I have come to pull you out of Satan's hands. To set you free.

Thank you, my children, for being here tonight.

¹³My dear children, why do you continue to pierce my soul? I have come to show you that way to salvation, to everlasting joy. My children, you must repent. You must fast. You must pray. And you must love your brothers and sisters.

My dear children, I beg you to take advantage of the Sacraments of Penance and Holy Communion. You need to go to confession regularly to make good confessions. My son knows all your sins already; you are not hiding anything from him when you fail to confess all your sins. My children confess them. Get rid of them and then sin no more.

I also beg you to receive communion as often as possible. To receive communion when you are in the state of grace, for no better gift can my son give you than his very Body and Blood. The graces that come with this are beyond your understanding. You must believe my son is truly present. When you receive communion faithfully, his Body and Blood become one with you. Rejoice, my children! What greater gift could you have?

Go with my peace and love: Love and forgiveness.

My children, you must forgive each other. Do not hold grudges. Forgive as my son forgives. Don't let Satan have a hold on you.

My children, time is short. Please heed my warning: turn from sin and to my son.

May 23, 1988

Beloved children of God, remember that you are his children. You are the reason for my coming here. Do not despair. And let your disbelief be gone, for I come through the force of love, through the grace of the Holy Spirit, through the power of God. In exactly this way will your prayers be answered.

¹³ The rest of the following message was given to Mike Slate

It gives me great joy to see you receiving the Life and Death and Resurrection of my son. For it is through him that you will be saved. It is through your cleansed and forgiving hearts that you shall be with me in paradise.

Know, my children, that your prayers are constantly knocking at the doors and gateway to heaven. Remember also to praise and give glory to God, for in this way do the angels of heaven praise our Father. Praising is music to our Father's ears, and he does not hear much music from you.

Be faithful to prayer. Be faithful to me through your daily recitation of the rosary.

Be on guard, for there is one that wishes to destroy you and your families. So pray. Pray. Pray for your families through all forms of prayer, for all will be heard.

Be humble of heart and meek as my son was meek when he gave Himself over to be crucified for you. You, too, must be meek when trials and tribulations come. For through them, that is your strength. For your sorrow will turn to joy.

May the Lord our God smile on your smile and shine his Heart that you may see who he is and the love he has for you.

Forgive my children. Forgive, and the light from his Heart will overshadow and take rest in your heart.

My children, it gives me joy to see your struggles to please me through your fasting, through your prayers, through your forgiveness of your brothers and sisters. For my grace continues to give you strength for obedience.

My children, my prayers for you are that you will be with me to praise our Father together. Thank you for being here tonight.

My dear children, my heart is full of joy to see you here and receiving the Body and Blood of my son. We are all rejoicing with you.

My children, I love you so much. I want you to have eternal happiness. I want you to be with us in heaven, where we will share in the joys of my son and our Father.

My children, the way to eternal happiness is not difficult. If you believe and trust, follow the Commands of my Lord. Love the Lord your God with your whole heart, your whole soul, and your whole mind, and love your neighbor as yourself. It is necessary, my children, to love everyone, to show kindness and mercy to all.

Listen, my children, to the wind. Listen for the angels. Listen for the heavenly choir. Keep your hearts pure and open to my love and that of my beloved son. I love you, my dear children.

¹⁴My dear children, you must show love and kindness to your priest. He was chosen by my son to shepherd this church. He has been chosen to lead you to eternal life. He has been given a great responsibility. And he has my prayers and special graces.

But you, my children, also have a great responsibility. You must help him to help you. Pray for him. Love him.

My children, I want this church to become like one family. I want you to treat each other as brothers and sisters. This is not a difficult or impossible task. Pray and fast for the grace to live together in peace. And then trust in the love of my son.

Go with my peace and my love.

May 30, 1988

My children listen and hear the cries of those who cannot proclaim the goodness of the Lord. The darkness of the world has so many of your brothers and sisters in bondage, so many are caught by the snares of sin, the empty lies that only Satan has offered.

Ask for my son's love, for my son's grace, for through this, and only this, can your brothers and sisters be freed from the chains of their hearts.

I love you, my children, with the love that our Father in heaven has given me, the love that the son has for you. So much love that he has for you that he laid down his life for your life, death, and resurrection.

I have chosen you to be a light which will give life, which will give life to the full.

There is so much to say and much to love, and only when you give love can you receive it in return, and tenfold. You have come to believe, come because my son has called you to be here. My son's call to you is that call which can set you free, free to give glory to God here on earth and in heaven with us.

¹⁴ Given to Mike Slate.

My children go and give comfort. Go and show mercy. For it is through your comfort and mercy that you shall bring your loved one's home. Be gentle. Be kind. Be ever ready to forgive. Be ever willing to love. And be wise. Only through my son can you have wisdom, so do not forget to receive him often.

Your church is truly blessed, and you do not take it to your heart. Our Father holds it in his bosom as a mother takes her child to love, to correct, to forgive.

Children, our Father knows all and sees all. Only those who deceive themselves think otherwise.

Take all that I am entrusting to you and entrust it to someone else. For I am with you, ready to show mercy, ready to enter into the hearts of those who accept.

My children do not tremble when the enemy roars, for the angels are with you. My son, Jesus, is there at your beckoning call, ready to bless you, ready to comfort and love you all the days of your life and eternity.

There is a great sign coming to show you the great favor I have for you. But this favor is not for you alone. This is for the world.

Thank you, my children, my children who seek to comfort my son and me. My children, thank you for being here tonight.

My children, confusion comes through a lack of prayer. Pray that peace and joy may fill your hearts. Pray that you may be faithful to prayer. For in asking is when the Lord can answer your prayer.

Thank you, my children, for being here tonight. Do not forget your neighbor. Bring him with you.

¹⁵My dear children, rejoice; you have found favor with the Lord. My children, I want to tell you how happy I am when families join together in prayer. My son gives his blessing when families come together and pray for each other. Your family will be richly blessed and brought closer together.

¹⁵ The rest of the following message was given to Mike Slate.

My children, I have told you of the great power of prayer. But when families pray together, the power is multiplied.

My dear children, I also want you to pray daily for the souls in purgatory. Fast for them. Pray for them. For when they are released, and in the presence of our Father, they will pray for you.

My children, I have known great pain. I know what it is to suffer, for I have suffered greatly. But, my child, I also know the great joy knowing my son. My dear ones, bring him your pains, your sorrows. He wants me to comfort you as I comforted Him. Ask in faith, my little ones.

Go with my peace and love.

June 20, 1988

It is Mike Slate's message to you through your most Holy Mother that you should continue your fervent prayers so that these homages made unto me shall blind the eyes of Satan through Mary's Flame of Love.

¹⁶Continue your prayers, for it is the hand of the Lord your God that will strike upon the earth, and all peoples shall suffer.

June 6, 1988

My children, today I ask you to give yourselves totally to God. Surrender all that you are so the Lord can bless all that you give Him. I will help you to surrender. For the Lord knows your heart and knows your sin. My children, why are you so ready to give yourselves to sin, so ready to condemn yourselves? Pray that the Lord may have mercy upon your heart.

I am very sorrowful today, for I see much sin. My children, you must be responsible for your own sinfulness. Only through prayer and surrender can that sin be offered to God that he may forgive and wipe it from your heart forever.

The Almighty Hand of God has destined this century to be His, but you must be ready to accept Him, love Him. He has sent his only son to be destroyed by your own kind, but merciful is he. He is merciful, our Father of heaven and earth.

¹⁶ On the date of these messages, Mike Slate was in Vermont. Theresa Werner (Fleischman) felt she was given the following message on behalf of Mike Slate - that this is the word he would have received had he been present.

A great sign will come unto thy church, proclaiming that "Jesus Christ is Lord of all, that Jesus Christ is your only way of salvation unto me."

It is right that you give unto God all glory and honor, for so many forget even to honor those in authority over you. For God knows all and gives power over you unto those he chooses.

Show homage unto me, my children, by loving one another, by forgiving one another. Be ever so patient, waiting on the hand of the Lord to bless you and show you his Way and his Will. Do not be afraid to ask for patience, for patience is a grace from our Almighty Father which brings you closer to salvation. Remember, I am with you. I am only a prayer away.

Continue to pray for reparation of my Immaculate Heart and the Sorrowful Heart of Jesus, for there is much sorrow in our kingdom today. Continue to console us with your prayers and with your love for your brothers and sisters.

Thank you, my children, for being here tonight.

¹⁷My dear children, I have come to set your hearts on fire with the love of my son. My dear ones, join your hearts with ours. Become one with my son.

My son lived in this world also. He knew temptation. He knew fear. He knew betrayal. He knew love. My children call out to Him. Share the innermost secrets of your hearts. We can understand. We can help. We can console.

My dear children, it is very important that you pray daily. Quantity is not important; just pray with your heart. Talk to my son. And then listen to Him.

My dear children, I am your mother. I love you with a love only a mother can have for her children. That is why I call you "my dear children." I love you all. I watch over you all. I am concerned for you all.

So many have been lost; I don't want to lose you. My heart becomes heavy and sorrowful when I see you willfully turn from my son and to Satan. If you only knew the pain that awaits those who reject my son. I pray for you, my dear children. Turn from Satan's temptations, for he will deceive.

So, my children, your mother wants to protect you. Your mother wants to love you. Your mother wants to safely bring you home.

¹⁷ The rest of the following message was given to Mike Slate.

Go in my peace and love.

My children look to the east. Look for a sign. Look for miracles and healings. Prepare your hearts. Listen to the wind, for then you may believe.

June 13, 1988

My dearly beloved and blessed children, your Father has mercifully bestowed on you all that you ask for. For the windows of his Heart have been opened that your hearts may also be opened. He has done a great thing, for he is greatly pleased with what is happening in your hearts.

Joyful may you be for the kingdom rejoices. For signs and wonders are already at hand, have already been bestowed. Open your eyes and see, open your ears and hear, open your hearts and love. For he alone is worthy, and only he is the sinless of this world.

Remember, my children, rejoice, for in rejoicing do you give glory to God and all his people.

Listen, my children, for my voice is gentle, and my touch is peace and will bring mercy to all who ask.

Proclaim on mountain tops, proclaim in your homes that I have come to your lowly church that all may know of the love of God, of the mercy of God and of his son. Proclaim that my merciful hand will touch the waters of your fountain that will be overflowing with love, with compassion, with forgiveness for my people.

Know that the Kingdom of God is also at hand; also is the kingdom ready to claim you, ready to pray and intercede for you.

Look, my beloved, for you shall see, see that which is impossible to see with eyes of the world. But ask for the eyes of my son, for he only seeks to give glory to his Father.

Each one of you, each soul, is precious in my Father's eyes. Each one has been given so much of him that you can only have peace and joy when you are with him, safely at home with him!

Seek today to find yourselves in God. Seek and find his everlasting love for you. He has prepared a place for you with us. Seek, my beloved, that which is already promised to those who call on our Father, who give him all the glory. Call on your Father for he wishes to be your Father. Beloved are you. Beloved are his children.

Thank you, my children, for being here tonight.

Look, my children, to the east at that storm that awaits you. That is how I should come. Sing glory to God as often as you remember. So few times are these words offered to our Lord. Our God has a choir of angels that sing his song always, but that still is not enough, for he wishes to hear your voices, his children's voices, lifted to him.

¹⁸My dear children, I thank you for being here this evening. I thank those of you who participated in the Mass and received the body and blood of my son.

My dear children, I want this parish to revive a custom which has been almost lost in your country. I want you to start an Adoration and Exposition of the Blessed Sacrament on every Friday after your evening Mass. I want you to adore and spend 15 minutes with my son in the Blessed Sacrament every Friday evening. I beg you, my dear children, to spend this time with my son.

My dear children, I also want to remind you tonight about your Guardian Angels. It seems that these, too, have been forgotten in your time. Our Father has given each one of you a special guardian, a special protector, and a special friend. My children call upon your Guardian Angels. Pray to them. Ask them to protect you and help you to turn from sin. My children, your Guardian Angels are special just for you. And remember, my dear children, that they are in the presence of God our Father, and they are charged to protect and guide your soul to heaven.

Go in my peace and love.

June 20, 1988 ¹⁹

My dear children, my little ones, come to our Father as children, for the kingdom is for such as these.

My dearly beloved, my touch is gentle, and my love comes with the power to free those who are chained to the world. The Father in heaven must be given all the glory for this. For our, Father has greatly loved and still loves, his children.

I would like to be with you and to guide you and to guide your children. Listen to me in the morning and listen to me in the evening, and your wisdom to bring your children to salvation and to know when our Father calls will be of no understanding to man. For the ears of men deceive them if their hearts are not the Lord's. When you listen with your heart, then you will understand.

¹⁸ The rest of the following message was given to Mike Slate.

¹⁹ See page 61 for additional message given to THERESA WERNER (FLEISCHMAN) June 20, 1988

I wish to bring all families to myself. For when you allow my presence among you, you will be truly blessed. I come to your families as a cool breeze on a hot night to soothe and bring peace to your hearts.

My children listen to my words. Take heed of the messages, for they are true. Would your Father who loves you enough to send his only son to be destroyed by mankind, would he not be concerned enough now to send me to your people? That they may grow in love, with divine love, that you may be with us in heaven. You see, my children, I am always with you. I am but a prayer away.

Remember the cross my son carried for you, for your cross shall be worn with zeal and with love. But remember, my children, this cross is for building of the Kingdom of Heaven.

My children sing to our Father often. For when you sing, the Lord God can hear what's in your heart.

²⁰Children, those who listen to our mother, who listen and pray with their hearts because our Father talks to us from his Heart: Please, I ask you today that you please bring all your families, the children, and the grandparents. It gives me great pleasure that they have been blessed. They have listened to believe. They have helped and healed the hurting. They arrive cleansed to be called and prepared to see the glory of the Lord.²¹

Thank you, my children, for being here tonight. But do not forget your daily rosary with me. My grace of my son and your Lord has been sent. Await his coming with your heart.

My children, I can see all who are here. I can hear the sound of your prayers. My children, I am here, but you cannot see me with the eyes of the world. Ask for the eyes of my son, Jesus, and much will be revealed to you. Ask that your heart may be ready to receive what you see.

²²My dear children, thank you for seeking me this evening. My love and my joy are with you.

²⁰ This message was originally given in Spanish Mary Constancio and has been translated by the messenger.

²¹ End of Translation

²² The rest of the following message was given to Mike Slate. NOTE FROM MIKE SLATE: On Monday, June 20, I went to Saint Michael's Church, Brattleboro, Vermont, to pray the rosary with my family.

My dear children, there are still so many who don't believe, so many who refuse to believe, so many who make the world their god. I ask you to pray for them, to offer sacrifices for them, to do penance for them. My heart is breaking: they don't understand, they won't open their eyes.

My dear children, I wish you knew the power of prayers, the power of fasting. For when you pray and fast, my son and our Father in heaven hear your prayers. Be persistent, my children, in your prayers. You must pray constantly. Make every action, all your works, all you do, a prayer. For when you pray with your heart, the angels and saints in heaven join in with your prayers.

Again, my children, I must remind you of the importance of frequent reception of the Sacraments. You need the many graces given when you receive the Sacraments of Confession and Holy Communion. The whole world needs the graces that are given when you receive the Sacraments.

My children, I come to show you the way to my son, the way to salvation. I have come to lead you home, to the place which our Father has prepared for you.

Pray, my dear children. Pray.

Go in my love and my peace.

June 27, 1988

Dearly beloved children of God, sons, and daughters who will reign in heaven: my children, many blessings have been given; special graces which are needed to come closer to my son have been given. Your prayers, many of your prayers, have reached my Father's ears.

My children bring forth your blessings; bring forth your families to me that I may rescue

When we got to the church, the church was locked, so we went to a park to pray the rosary. During the rosary, I received the message (included here). We prayed the joyful and sorrowful mysteries, and then left for home. As we entered my parents' home, the phone was ringing. It was a lady from the church who said there were three women who wanted to pray the rosary. So I told her we would be right there. When we got there, I told them a little about what was happening in our church (Saint John Neumann, Lubbock, TX.), and then we began the rosary. I told the ladies that each person speaks out a dedication for the rosary. Each person mentioned members of their families who had left the Church, praying for their return. After we prayed the rosary, I read them the message (printed above) I had received at the park. I believe our Blessed Mother was speaking to these women when she said, in the message, pray for those "who don't believe."

them with the love, with the peace that the Lord gives me.

There is so much to tell you, so much to give you, but the time is flowing, flowing into an eternity which cannot be captured once it is gone. Each moment of life, each breath you take is because the Lord God has allowed it, but so many do not even give our Father the glory for it.

See, my children, the flowers of the field. They neither sow nor reap but give all glory to our Father, for he is due it. These flowers are beautiful because my Father cares for them. You, too, will be beautiful with splendor if you give glory to God.

My children run after the salvation of the Lord. For you can no longer take ease of time at accepting your Lord as your savior.

My children, our Father, has destined this church to be saved for the glory of God. And all those who accept and receive all that the Lord wants to give you will also be saved.

Do not fear, my children, for when you call to me, my son is always there with me to answer your prayers. Remember, my children, and keep it close to your bosom, that the sorrow you will encounter will always turn to joy; joy which is unexplainable in the jaws of the world, for it wishes to devour you. So I have come to this lowly church to break the tyranny of this world that offers only imprisonment of your soul.

My children say the rosary daily, for this will blind the eyes of Satan.

My children, you are so dear to me, so close to my heart. I pray for you always. I keep the path open to God our Father and to the Lord of all. You, my children, have been chosen to bring many to salvation, many to know the glory of God. Keep your eyes on the Lord when the trials come. For the Seeker of Souls only promises emptiness for your lives.

My children, be ever so mindful of the children I give you, of the prayers, I ask you to say. For my heart becomes sorrowful when I remember, when I see so many, so many of my children falling into the grips of Satan and believing. Because, my children, no one has prayed for them, no one has offered them up to me.

Yes, my message is long. Yes, my message is powerful. Yes, my message is for you. The time is neither counted, nor no one knows, but God Himself, when it is your time. Our Father does not see time but sees the hearts of his faithful.

You must learn to listen to your shepherd, for he leads you to hear our Father's call and to recognize when he calls you.

My children go forth and bring your lame, your crippled, your souls which have no hope, for I will be merciful to them through the mercy of our Lord, Jesus Christ. Thank you, my children, for being here tonight. You will see the blessings poured out on you and your families for being here with me.

Look, my children, look. And listen to your hearts, for you will know if your heart will receive the Lord. You receive the things of this world so easily, even inviting these things of the world to take possession of your hearts. My children become simple. Shed these things that keep you from the Lord; these things that interfere with the praises of the Lord. The Lord will give you the grace if you ask him for it.

Tell my children that they are a precious gift to me, that I pray for each gift that the Lord has given me. I know my children by their prayers, by their hearts. So many are now receiving the trembling of their hearts, for they do not know the love of my son. So many are crying for drops of water to come forth to their lives, but none comes. My children, you are blessed. Give thanks to God for his mercy. Each drop is a sign to you that he is pleased with your petitions.

²³Children, listen, for today, your mother speaks. I tell you to awaken and do not sleep any longer. Rise so that our Father of heaven and earth can see you. Rise with love that you may love the Death and Resurrection of Jesus, my son. You come that the Lord may bless you. Go with confidence that he has heard your prayers. May God, our Father, go with you. May my son, Jesus, give you peace in your hearts, that you may take this peace to the world.²⁴

²⁵My dear children, I thank you for being here tonight. I thank you for answering my call.

My dear children, the time of repentance is upon you. You must seek forgiveness from all whom you have injured, all whom you have hurt. Don't put it off, my children.

My dear children, the celebration of my Assumption into heaven is approaching quickly. My children, I give you a special invitation to be here; and I ask that you give an invitation to others to join you. For if you come in faith, if you come with a pure heart and pure soul, if you come with love, my children, I will bless you. I will give many blessings and graces that day. I want you all to be whole, my children. This is for you, for those who believe, for those to believe.

²³ This message was originally given in Spanish by Mary Constancio and has been translated by the messenger.

²⁴ Translation ends

²⁵ The rest of the following message was given to Mike Slate.

My children, I ask you to love, to love all. When you can love all, then you can love my son, for my son is love. Open your hearts, my children, for you may never know when you may be entertaining angels. Angels sent by my son to test your love. My dear ones, I also ask that you open your hearts to those who come here from a distance. They are coming at the direction of my son. Show them the love and kindness you show to those in your parish. Remember, you are to be a light in the darkness, a beacon on the mountaintop. Shine forth the light of my son.

My beloved children, your prayers have been heard. Your conversion has been noted. That is why this land will not suffer the great drought. Thank you for your prayers. But, my children, a great destruction is coming, great pain and suffering. My children, pray for yourselves, pray for your families; offer sacrifice and fast for them.

My children, I tell you this not so that you will worry, but that you may be prepared. For, my children, that is why I am here, to help prepare you, to tell you to turn from your sins, to turn to my son, for we both want you to be with us for eternity, praising our Father.

Go in my love and my peace.

July 4, 1988

My dearly beloved children of mine, how much love I have for you, so much love that surpasses all understanding. I love you so much as to plead with our Father that he would allow this visit of mine to come and be with you, to come and instruct you on how to live a most holy and godly life here on earth.

So many warnings have come. So many warnings have gone: Warnings not to bring fear, but to bring peace. For when you are holy as my son is holy, then can you live a life in abundance. Not only will your life be abundant here on earth, but you will see the glory of God with us for eternity.

My children, I have come to bring peace. I have come to bring peace. I have come to bring love. And I have come to send forth my graces which are in abundance and are there through the power of God. For happy is a man that spends all his waking time wanting to please our Father. You can be assured that he is already pleased.

My children, count your blessings today. Do not count them as curses, for they shall become blessings. When you walk in the light of our Lord, then your path is lit. Your path is yours from God, our creator. I have come to lead the way, my children, so heed my instructions, heed my love.

²⁶Sons and daughters of mine, I come especially that you may know that you are also my children and you are also children of our Father. And you are also brothers and sisters of my son. It sounds marvelous, and it gives me great joy to hear you united in prayer with the prayer that I have asked you to say. It sounds like a song of love to my heart. When I hear songs of this sort, it gives me such great joy that even the heavens celebrate with me. Continue being united. Continue searching to be united if you are not because all are sons and daughters of mine, and all prayers from the heart are heard, which my Father hears.

Do not think that I have only come for you, but for the whole world, and also for your small world. Ask yourselves how many brothers and sisters see the glory of God, either through prayer or through the love of Christ, or through your examples. Thank you for being here tonight.²⁷

My children, I trembled with pain upon watching my son agonizing on the cross, knowing that he would not be seen by my eyes until his resurrection. My children, that meant that his flesh, his earthly flesh, must be consumed by the mystery of his death. My children, I still tremble when I see you crucify each other with anger, with unforgiveness. Remember, my children, our Father, will forgive on how you forgave.

Thank you, my children, for being here tonight.

²⁸Peace, my children. Thank you, my beloved children, for coming here this evening.

My children, I want you to pray for peace in your homes, in your country, and in the world. Your prayers are very powerful. Your prayers are heard by my son and our Father. My dear little children, I cannot tell you how important your prayers are, especially when you come together as tonight.

My children, the light has shone upon your church. You are now charged to nurture that light, to spread that light, to make that light glow. The light go with my peace and my love.

²⁶ This message was originally given in Spanish Mary Constancio and has been translated by the messenger.

²⁷ End of translation

²⁸ The rest of the following message was given to Mike Slate.

July 11, 1988

²⁹My children, do not be afraid of what I ask of you because today I give you grace that you may go and ask forgiveness, that you may love. This very day I ask you to go and ask forgiveness of all those brothers and sisters that you have offended.

Today I bring you news from our Lord, from God our Father proclaiming that we are his children and that we should love him more than anyone else. Love your God with all your heart and with all your soul.

Search your hearts, brothers and sisters, to see where you would go this very day, or this very night if God requires your life today. Have you done everything possible, not through your strength, but by the strength that Jesus gives? Have you loved? Have you prayed? Have you fasted for those that the Lord has given you in this world? And, my children, have you forgiven?

Listen, for today your prayers have reached our Father's ears. And with your prayers, he also sees your hearts. He also hears your hearts and hears your supplications. Remember the love that my son has for you. Do not lose the opportunity to love him also, by receiving his Body, by receiving his Precious Blood, his Blood that covers many of your sins.

Thank you, my children, for being here tonight to listen to your mother, the same Mother of God.³⁰

My children, I am so pleased to see all of you united in prayer. My children, do not falter in your faith. Your faith will be built and not destroyed if you believe that I have come. Come seeking my faithful ones to go out and love their brothers and sisters, to go out and bring comfort to those who have no comfort, to take peace wherever they take my son, Jesus.

Remember, my children, rumors of war, rumors of the end will come and go, but my son's peace will be with those who seek my comfort, with those who seek refuge in my son's bosom. Be assured, my children, that in coming here to be with me, you are in the midst of my son's bosom.

Rejoice! Rejoice! Rejoice, my children, for you are truly blessed. Now, my children take this blessing to others. Thank you, my children, for being here tonight.

²⁹ This message was originally given in Spanish Mary Constancio and has been translated by the messenger.

³⁰ End of Translation

Our Blessed Mother, the Queen of Peace, and the Queen of Mercy has asked me to tell you, with tears in her eyes and in her heart, that she loves you very much. She loves us so much that she gives her son again to us. She has tears because she knows that we will crucify him again. And with those tears, she entrusts him to us.

She pleads with us to love Him, to care for him the way she cared for Him. The same way our Father cares for Him. And the same way he cares for you.

³¹My children, my heart is full of joy to see you here this evening. I have come to bless you and to show you the way to my beloved son.

My dear little ones, listen to my messages to you. Read them, live them, for they shall bring you to share in the eternal happiness with our Father, my son, and all the angels and saints, to share in that glory forever and ever.

My children, you must prepare yourselves. You must believe in the coming of my son. Do not delay. Continue to pray. Continue to fast. Continue to seek the graces of my son. If you have not been praying, if you have not been fasting, my children, I beg you to start. Offer up yourselves, your fasting, to the Lord. Ask for his grace, his help. It is very important, my dear children, that you begin now if you are not praying and fasting already.

My dear children, so many disbelieve, so many refuse to open their eyes, to open their hearts. Can you not see the signs that have already been? And still, you ask for more signs. How many signs does it take for you to go with my peace and my love?

July 18, 1988

My blessed and precious children, I call you forth to bring your blessings, to bring your hearts and your souls to our Father. My children remember that at this hour, this hour after receiving the body, the blood, the resurrection of my son, how you too, are holy for my son is holy. Now, my children, you are at your purest state of the soul when you humble your lives, your hearts, to my son.

My joy, my hope, my mercy, my prayers, and my peace are with you, my children. My children, I want you to love your God with all your heart, surrender your lives, your hearts, to Him.

³¹ The rest of the following message was given to Mike Slate.

My children, when you seek after love, my children, you are closest to my son. Rest, my children. Rest in prayer. Rest in the bosom of my heart. There is much work to prepare, much love to seek for. Seek the Lord your God in everything you do. When you do this, you can be assured that there is already a place for you in our kingdom. My children, there is much love in the kingdom for you, many prayers that are being sung to our Father for you.

My children, do not be sad. Do not be sad; be joyful in your hearts. Have peace, a peace that only I can ask for you. Today, I tell you, laugh with your hearts full of love, hearts full of love for your brothers and sisters. I ask you with all my heart and with all my soul that you forgive; for when you forgive, you shall be forgiven. Listen to your prayers because God our Father is going to answer them. Be patient with your brothers and sisters, just like God our Father is patient with you.

³²My children, you are the saints of this world. You are my saints in whom I entrust a most sacred task. Your task is to bring others with you, my children. Your task will be blessed, will be with grace. My children, you are truly blessed and full of grace. My children, do you not see it? My children, when you come to our Father in this way, he sees a flower from heaven, a beautiful ecstasy that only he could create. Give him the glory for all that you've done for all that the Lord has allowed you to accomplish. For a bird does not fall to the ground except through the Will of my Father.³³

Thank you, my children, for being here tonight. Thank you, my children, thank you.

Again, my children, I want to tell you and assure you of the love I have for you. I know your trials. I know your hearts. Do not be afraid to come forward and ask for forgiveness, for he already knows your sin. Like of Adam and Eve, you cannot hide your sinfulness from the Lord. The pure heart you can have, if only you would believe in his mercy, in the mercy that our Lord showed for us.

Come, my children, into my refuge and receive peace. Peace, my children, is praising God.

³⁴My dear children, my heart is broken. Why do you still insist to live in sin, to live for worldly goods and evil ways which bring a moment of pleasure but which can cause the ruin of your souls?

³² This message was originally given in Spanish Mary Constancio and has been translated by the messenger.

³³ End of Translation

³⁴ The rest of the following message was given to Mike Slate.

I did not come here to prepare you for the Feast of my Assumption but to prepare you for the coming of my son, for the final judgment. My dear little children, listen to me, your mother. I want to help you. I want you to be in heaven where we can praise and serve our Father for all eternity.

Yes, my dear ones, you must have signs, and you will have your signs. I will bless you. But it will be up to you to believe and to turn from your sinful lives and to my son.

My dear children, I want you to love all whom I send here. Show them the love and compassion of your brother, Jesus. But, my dear little ones, don't overlook your own brothers and sisters here. All need your love. All need your compassion. Share your faith. Share your life. Share my son.

My dear children, I must share my joy and happiness with you, for your coming here this evening, for filling the church, for receiving the Body and Blood of my beloved son, for receiving the Sacrament of Reconciliation. Thank you for listening to my pleas. Thank you for hearing me. Go with my peace and my love.

July 25, 1988

³⁵My children have peace in your soul; this peace that no man can understand, this peace that comes with love, with compassion, with forgiveness for your brothers and sisters. I am full of joy, full of love for all of you. Why do you not believe it? Why do you not believe that my son is present in your life today? This day, believe that with my son's love, that very love he gave for you, he also blesses and heals your wounded hearts. Do not cry anymore! Do not cry! Because at this very moment, I am pleading for you. All in heaven, all those that can ask for you are pleading for you. They are also rejoicing because they know that the glory of God is being spread among you. Sons and daughters of mine have a sincere and pious heart. Have a repentant heart. I do not want only words but deeds that the Lord Jesus, my son, can see.

At this moment, take the time to see Jesus in your brothers and sisters. Love them. Now look up to the heavens and see the glory of God being unfolded, being fulfilled in you, my children. Blessed are you. Blessed are you who come who have come to know my son. Love Him! Love Him! Love Him!

Do not allow another day to pass without loving, without praying for those sons of mine that ³⁵ This message was originally given in Spanish Mary Constancio and has been translated by the messenger.

my son has placed in your churches to guide you and to lead you on the road to God. This very night, I am asking my son to invoke among these sons of mine a special grace of his divine love. But among you, I ask a grace that you may be able to forgive them that you may be able to love them. Do not hold any more pride or resentment over your brothers and sisters, especially those children who have been chosen by the Hand of God to serve their brothers and sisters. In order to be first in the Kingdom of God, you must serve. I thank you. I also give you my love, my compassion, and my graces which you need to be in this world but not of this world. Remember to come close daily to my son's cross, for there you shall find strength.³⁶

Remember also to use the sword that I have given you. The sword is my rosary, my children.

My children, the blessings I give you tonight are too blind the eyes of Satan. Blind him daily. Do not allow him to see that your eyes may be always on the Lord.

Thank you, my children, for being here tonight.

My children ask for the blessing of fasting. Use this tool for the destruction of evil in this world. Use it to bring peace to the world and to bring peace to your very soul.

³⁷My dear children, how happy I am this evening, as we share in the joy of our Father as he sheds his many blessings upon you and this church, upon you and your families.

Our Father is very happy that you take time to receive the Body and Blood of his beloved son. He wants you to follow in the footsteps of his son, which will lead you to the Father.

My dear children, I will give you my blessing this evening; you only have to ask, you only have to believe. Call to my son. Call to me, for I will intercede for you. I will pray for you, for I love you, my dear children.

My little ones pray. Pray often, and don't forget, my dear children, to give thanks, to give thanks for all you receive. My children, give thanks to our Father for all that he has given you. Remember where your gifts come from.

My children, I want you to celebrate the Feast of my Assumption into heaven with me. My children, I want you to rejoice with me. Come, my dear children. Come to the water, for you shall be refreshed; you shall be renewed.

³⁶ End of Translation

³⁷ The rest of the following message was given to Mike Slate.

My dear children, if you only knew the love I have for you. Let me love you. Let me comfort you. Come under my mantle, for I will protect you. I will hold you. Let me love you.

Go with my peace and my love.

August 1, 1988

My dear blessed children, dear children of God. You are blessed, for you have come to be faithful to your mother, to my son, and to our God. Blessed are you who believe without seeing. Blessed are you who seek after the Kingdom of God.

Beloved children, you are the light. You are the light of the world now. Now go forth and light candles of your brothers' and sisters' hearts; for they need you like I need you. Pray for them like I pray for them. Love them like I love you. Show mercy as our Father shows mercy toward you.

My dearly beloved, I am very happy. I am very joyful. But I still have sorrow in my heart, for so much sin still reigns in your heart. When you seek after the world, you seek after sin. Give up your chase of the world, for it only leads to your own condemnation. Chase after the eternal glory of our Father. Your efforts to seek after God and his Kingdom will always end in victory. Run the race with faith, with trust in our Lord that he will comfort the athlete with his water that never ends, an eternal fountain of life that has no end. He will always quench your fears, your troubles, and your despair with his blood, with his Body.

Many of you have received the Body and Blood of my son tonight. Thank you.

My children, my children, many of you have come only to seek a sign. If this is the only reason for coming here, I am in sorrow, for your heart is not yet prepared to accept all my blessings you will receive tonight.

I have a most pleading message for the young. Listen, my children: You have been chosen by the Father to bring forth the next generation unto the Kingdom of God. For when you lead someone on the straight path to God, you, too, will inherit the kingdom. You are truly blessed, for now, is the beginning of life for you, the beginning of eternity. Take what I give you tonight with an open heart and open your heart to obedience of God. My prayers are for you, are for your strength.

My children listen to your confessions, for with these very words that you speak, our Father hears.

³⁸My little children, how I love you. There are no words to describe how much I love you. Not only with words do I say this, but with action: The action of handing over my son to you. The same I ask of you, my children, with love of me and love of my son, to take my son and offer him to your brothers and sisters. Do not be ashamed to, for he was not ashamed when they had to strip him to beat him for you. Listen to me, my children. Do not leave here tonight without a change of heart, without promising Christ to love Him. This promise you make, make for my son that he will give you strength to keep.³⁹

My children listen to your Father, for he IS. For he IS wisdom. He IS mercy. He IS just. From God our Father, from my son, you must learn to be merciful; you must follow after wisdom, and you must seek after justice.

My children, you have come for healing of the flesh. Seek after healing of the soul, for what good will your flesh be to our Father? For the Lord says, "If your eyes cause you to sin, pluck them; if your hand causes you to sin, cut it off." For if your hand sins, then all of you sins. Then you truly will be cast into the fires of Gehenna, where eternity is a reality for many, many of my children. Even your homes, this very day, are full of sin. My children, I speak of the destruction of your minds by the constant intervening of other gods between you and my son. This is evil. My children cast it out if it does not cause you to come to my son.

I love you, my children. I love you. Thank you for being here tonight.

My children learn to be wise. Listen and do what I ask you to do, for I want only to lead you to my son, only to lead you to be with me in eternity.

My children learn how to pray. My children, prayer will come easy when you love our Lord. My children love. Love has no beginning and has no ending. Love has always been here and will always be. Ask the Great Lover. Ask, and you shall receive this unending love.

Thank you, my children, for I know you heed my message.

⁴⁰My dear children, my heart is filled with great joy this evening because you have responded to my call. Thank you, my dear children.

Yes, my dear ones, there is much healing in your faithfully receiving the Sacraments. There is so much healing when you forgive, really forgive, your brothers and sisters: So much healing when you turn from your worldly ways and turn to my son.

³⁸ This message was originally given in Spanish Mary Constancio and has been translated by the messenger.

³⁹ End of Translation.

⁴⁰ The rest of the following message was given to Mike Slate.

My son wants so much to present you to our Heavenly Father. My dear children, he gave his very life for you. What have you given him in return? He doesn't ask the impossible. Turn to my son. Surrender yourself to him and live for Him.

My dear children, I would like you to prepare yourselves for the Feast of my Assumption. I would like you to spend a few more moments in prayer each day, to fast at least one day a week, to read the Bible daily, and to offer yourselves, your service, to your brothers and sisters. Cheerfully offer your help when needed and when called upon.

My children, I want to change your lives. Don't just live for yourselves and for today, but live for Jesus and for eternity.

My children, why do so many of you insist on referring to the Feast of my Assumption into heaven as just "August 15th?" My children, this is a very important day to me and to you. Please give it the respect it deserves and not just refer to it just as a month and a day, but as my Assumption into heaven.

Go in my peace and my love.

August 8, 1988

My dearly beloved children, how I want you to know how happy I am. Once again, my children, I want you to turn from your sin. My children do not be so ready to say "yes" to sin. My children, do not wait any more: say "yes" to God tonight and ask his forgiveness for your sins.

My children, I am so happy. My children, your prayers are changing this nation. I need you and your prayers. My children, if God can entrust his only son to you, so has he entrusted this nation to you. Pray for it. Love it.

All of you who are here are so precious in our Father's eyes. He knows you from the beginning because, my children, he created you, he formed you with the breath of his love, with his hands. My children, so precious are each of you that he will move mountains, he will part the seas, he will go to the depths of the oceans to rescue you when you call to him. I, too, my children, am ready to deliver you into the hands of my son.

⁴¹O, my people, how I love you. How I plead with you to turn back to God, to accept the Death and Resurrection of my son as your own, as your own salvation!

Yes, my children, you are my people. I have heard their cries. I have heard their hearts full of sorrow, crying for hope, weeping for mercy. For this world has deceived you, this world has placed an iron curtain over your prayers. Do not be deceived any longer by this world's luxuries and desires. Empty your house of this world's lies. Fill your homes with blessed people, with your holy family.

Yes, my children, your families can be holy if you hand them over to me. Let go, my children. Let go first of yourselves to me, your pride, your envy, your sinfulness, that the Lord Jesus may bless and forgive you.

My children do not go home with an unchanged heart.

Come back to confession, which should be done at least monthly. Let go of your pride, let go of your fear, trust, and have faith in God.

Go and receive my son's grace of Holy Communion as often as possible. It would bring you closer to God if you came daily for this grace. It will give you the strength to turn away from sin; it will become easier for you to fight temptation with this grace.

My children, start fasting if you have not already. Start saying the rosary daily if you haven't already. Start forgiving if you haven't already. Blessed will you be, children, for believing, for trusting in God and his goodness. For his goodness only produces goodness for you. So accept his goodness.

Go, my children. Go, my little ones, to love and serve the Lord in your brothers and sisters. Offer your services to the Church, that you may serve others. Bless you, and peace be with you. Continue to ask for mercy. Thank you, my children, for being here tonight.

My children, your hearts ache such as mine aches, with despair for your loved ones' pains and sorrows. My children, this is a time of special graces in which I teach you how to live for God. Listen and heed my instructions that your sorrows will turn to joy.

My children, if you have not done so, come and strip yourselves of your sin just as my son was stripped for you. Do not carry this sin with you any longer. Be cleansed and start anew to praise your Father for his mercy, for his generous mercy.

⁴¹ Messenger's note: As our Mother cries and pleads with her people to turn back, she again has joy...but is also sorrowful.

⁴²My children, I remember the pain of my son. There is no imagination that can see his pain. But I also remember all of my children that were martyred for your faith, the faith that Christ has given to us. Do not let go of this faith, my children.⁴³

⁴⁴My dear children, I love you. My dear children, I love you. I have not been sent here for my glory but for the glory of my son and our Father. I have been sent to instruct you and to show you the way to eternal happiness.

Listen to me, my children. Listen to my messages and live them.

My dear children, I come to you as the Queen of Mercy. Come unto me, my little children, and let me show you my mercy. Come under my mantle, and I will give you comfort. I will protect you and present you to my son, for my son's love for you is unconditional; his love is never-ending. His love is complete.

My dear children, open your hearts to the many blessings that will be given during this next week. Pray, my dear children. Pray. My son is sending you many pilgrims who are searching, searching for the light, searching for the truth, searching for life. You, my children, must show them love.

I am praying for you for a special outpouring of the Holy Spirit upon you so that you may minister with your heart. My dear ones pray daily this week for the gifts of wisdom and knowledge. Go with my peace and love.

August 22, 1988

⁴⁵My children come and enter the heart of my son. Seek after him; love him with all your heart and with all your soul. My children, it gives me much sorrow that many of my children have left the sanctuary of my son. And many have stayed away because they cannot forgive. They cannot see that here in my son's sanctuary; you find love; you find mercy; you find graces to live in this world.

⁴² This message was originally given in Spanish Mary Constancio and has been translated by the messenger.

⁴³ End of translation.

⁴⁴ The rest of the following message was given to Mike Slate.

⁴⁵ This message was originally given in Spanish Mary Constancio and has been translated by the messenger.

Listen to your dearest mother. She pleads with you not to hold bitterness in your hearts, but open your hearts that her son may enter. I plead for you every moment, but I do need your prayers from your heart.⁴⁶

My dearly beloved, holy is my son, holy is our Father in heaven; come my children, come and enter my heart, my heart of mercy, my heart of everlasting love for you. I will bathe you in showers of love, with showers of graces for your protection against this world's deceptions.

My children, the time is coming when my time to be with you here on earth will be gone. But, my children, I have given you everything. I have offered you all our Father has allowed, which is his heart; his promise to hear your prayers. My children, come ready to accept his answer, for he truly is faithful to his people, his Israel.

My children, I will leave with you a great sign, a sign that you may see that you may see with your hearts. This lowly church has been chosen to bring many to see the glory of God, many to know my son. But, my children, what you take from here is not to be kept for you alone. It's to be shared with your brothers and your sisters the way I have shared my son with you.

My children, I love you, yes, each one of you; very much. Do not forget that I am only a prayer away.

I kneel in your presence pleading with you to love my son, pleading with you to treasure my son's love for you, my son's forgiveness, and my son's mercy for you. I plead with you to forgive, to show mercy, to show love. This I leave with you.

Thank you, my children, for being here tonight.

⁴⁷My dear children, I thank you for your love and your belief. My dear children, you are now called to a deeper spiritual life, a deeper prayer life. You have been given the light to share with the world; you must share the light as I have shared with you.

Your mission is just beginning, my dear children. You must prepare yourselves more. Do all that I have told you, and I will be with you. Your church will continue to be blessed and will be protected.

Go with my peace and my love.

⁴⁶ End of translation

⁴⁷ The rest of the following message was given to Mike Slate.

August 29, 1988

My dear, dear children, today, when the death of John is remembered, I still become saddened because, my children, there are so many blasphemous thoughts, so many blasphemous actions still pursued today. As of the days of old, it still grows with intensity without any repentance, without any acknowledgment of sin.

My children, turn away from your sin. Turn today, say yes to God today, say yes to God at this very moment, do not wait for any more signs. My children, you must convert before it is too late. You must turn to your loved ones, to your brothers and sisters, to forgive and to ask for forgiveness.

My children, you shall see, you shall feel a glimpse, a shadow of God's love for you, of God's mercy, his great mercy for you when you forgive and when you are forgiven.

Listen, my children, to my instructions. I will not lead you astray. I will lead you only to my son. My children, you must first ask for God's mercy, for his unending love for you. You must come to be in the presence of God's mercy. You must come back to his son, his son's body, his son's blood. This will cover a multitude of sins. This will help you turn from sin. This will decrease the power of temptation in your life.

My children, you must offer your labors, offer your entire day to the father. It is his already, but he wants to bless you and your family's labors.

My children, with the blessings that our Father bestows on you, so must you give him all the glory. Ask for a heart full of thanksgiving that you may thank him for what he has given you. Our Father sorrows when you do not thank Him.

My children, you must be fed with the Word of my son. You must be fed with the living water of the Most Holy Bible, the Word of God. In this Word, your Father has already seen all of your troubles, and so he shows you how to keep from them.

My children, you must go to Holy Confession at least monthly. Do not fail to receive this grace, for, without this grace, many sicknesses are loosed in your temple. By your own will is this sickness released.

My children remember Satan is not responsible for what is within your hearts. Do not give him all the credit for your own wickedness. My children, you must say the rosary daily, for, with the rosary, you can blind Satan and his attacks against you and your family.

My children ask my son tonight for the grace to strip you of your pride, for this is the greatest blasphemy against God.

My children, you must listen to my instructions that you may live a fruitful life, and life to the full. Pray, my children; ask, my children, and forgive, my children, for our Lord awaits to come and visit you this very night.

Thank you, my children, for being here tonight. Thank you, my children, for heeding my message.

My children, you must fast. Remember, my children, fasting will bring you the gift of obedience. My children, if your fasting is not bringing you to obedience, then your fasting is not for God. Obedience will be brought to its fullness in all the areas of your lives.

⁴⁸My dear children, I must impress upon you the importance of praying always. My dear children, how easy it is to pray. How easy it is to love my son when you experience his presence when you witness his signs and miracles. But, my dear children, you really prove your love for my son when he seems to be hidden, when you can't feel his presence, and when you don't see signs and miracles, you continue to pray, continue to love, and continue to search for Him.

My dear children, my son loves you always. Won't you love him in return?

Go in peace and love.

September 5, 1988

My dear children, our Father, has already prepared a place for you here with us. But there is much work for you to do here on earth. For there are still so many of my children that are lost, that are in darkness. My children be a light to them. Be a light shining forth, that all of those around you can see the path of life, the narrow path. Be a light of love, a light of forgiveness.

My children, when you forgive, there is always conversion. Great is our God that he gives us that power to bind with love. But, also, we bind with a lack of forgiveness. My children, you have the grace to loose the chains of torment by forgiving. My children, my message for you today is to forgive. Forgive. Forgive my children. Decide today to forgive, and much joy is proclaimed in heaven. My children, so important is the grace of forgiveness that my son died for it, that God would forgive you. My children, seek after forgiveness, and you will find love.

⁴⁸ The rest of the following message was given to Mike Slate.

My children, how I want you to know of a love only given by our Father, which he gives freely to those who accept. My children, I wish you to know of the great depths of love that no man can understand. Come, my lovely ones, come and share the victory of my son's Jesus Christ's resurrection with me for eternity. Remember, my children, eternity is forever, whether you are with us or not. Do not turn away from the place God has prepared for you.

My children, thank you for being here tonight. My children, those who come from afar, you will be blessed with your coming, and your going will be blessed.

My children, all of those in sorrow, all of you who are in agony, bless you, for the Lord has seen your sorrow and felt your agony. Bless you, my children, for God the Almighty can use your pain, your trials for the glorification of his kingdom. For many of your sufferings can bring many of your brother and sisters, bound by this world's lies, to know my son, to know who their Lord is and accept Him. My children, remember your sorrow will turn to joy, and your agony will turn to comfort.

⁴⁹My dear children, thank you for responding to my call. Thank you for being here this evening, especially those of you who have traveled a great distance to be here.

My children, I ask you to share with your family and friends the light that you have received here.

The time is drawing short for the world to turn to my son completely. Don't just proclaim that "Jesus is Lord." Live your life so all will know. Surrender yourself to my son. Give him your sorrows, your joys, your everything.

My dear children, why do you still harbor disbelief in your hearts? Why do you still refuse to listen to me? You asked for signs and miracles, and you were given many signs and miracles, and you will continue to receive more. But will they change your life? Will they draw you closer to my son? I continue to pray for you, my children, but you must also pray for a change of heart.

Go with my peace and my love.

⁴⁹ The rest of the following message was given to Mike Slate.

September 12, 1988

⁵⁰My sons, my children, I have come to loosen the chains of sin, that those chains of intellect may be loosened, and also those chains of the past must be broken.

Pray, my children, that God in all his glory and all his mercy may hear your petitions of love from your heart.⁵¹

My dear children, my heart is overflowing with love, with joy.

I wish this temple to be a shrine for me that all who come may know that my son reigns here. My children, your hearts should also be the temple where Jesus reigns.

My children, many will be spared the torments of hell. Pray for those who are working their way there that their labors of sin may be turned to labors of mercy.

My children, why have you taken the ease of prayer, ease of fasting? Do not slow your works for the Lord.

My children, this night I am so joyful. My heart beats with pangs of love for you.

My Lord will truly bless those who are faithful, those who are faithful to prayer, to fasting, to following my instructions. For these will only lead you to truth and to conversion.

My children, you must pray with your heart, you must fast with your heart, you must receive my son's blood and his body with your heart, and my children, you must confess with your heart. My children, you will see a new light in your heart when you do all that I call you to do with your heart.

Praised be the name of Jesus! Praised be the name of Jesus! Praised be the name of Jesus, my son, the Son of God!

Today, my son comes with me as an infant so innocent, trusting on my love and the love of our Father to watch over Him, to protect, to guide, and to love Him. So must you become as a child, trusting totally on our Father, for your life has already been claimed by our Father. It is up to you to allow our Father to mold you to see the kingdom with us.

My children, do not let yourselves be deceived by the Satan of liars. Do not be too prideful

⁵⁰ Messenger's note: As our Mother cries and pleads with her people to turn back, she again has joy...but is also sorrowful.

⁵¹ End of Translation to ask guidance from your brothers and sisters who love our Lord. Call on the Holy Spirit for the truth, the truth which uncovers the darkness.

My children, I plead with you to continue your fervent prayers with me these evenings. The time is coming when the Lord will call me home. I cherish these moments with you, for I see my children's hearts, and I see so many of my children returning back home.

I am preparing you for eternity with me. Do not despair, for we shall be together for eternity.

Remember, my children, I am always a prayer away. I will always pray for you that our Father may always show favor on you.

Thank you, my children, for being here tonight.

My children, these times are special times of graces. Take this opportunity to repent, for God, is so merciful. He is handing over to you this special gift of life for all eternity.

⁵²My dear children, oh how I love you, oh how our Lord Jesus loves you, oh how our Father loves you.

My children, you are also called to love all. First, my dear children, you must love yourself, for you have been created in love by God, our Father, in his image. For how can you love others unless you can love yourselves?

Then, my children, you must love your families with all their joys, pains, and struggles. Always be open to the Fruits of the Holy Spirit.

Finally, my children love all. You can't ignore people and pretend they don't exist. Because when you ignore and when you deny someone, then, my dear children, you are ignoring and denying God.

My dear children, love and forgiveness, go together. You must be able to forgive in order to love. You must be able to forgive yourselves, you must be able to forgive your families, and you must be able to forgive all who have injured you. For when you can really forgive, then you can really love.

Go with my peace and love.

⁵² The rest of the following message was given to Mike Slate.

September 19, 1988

My dear children, I would like you to remember to pray every day. Give God his place in your home and in your heart. And, my dear children, his place should be the head of every household.

My children, how can you know God if you do not communicate to him and allow him to communicate with you, to guide you, and to protect you from the lies of this world? Remember, he created this earth, everything around it, everything in it, the creatures, the life that seeks after our Father's life-giving breath.

My children, he created you. So precious are you in his eyes, for his very hands took time to place in you all that you are.

My children, if you cannot accept that my son died for you, it is because of your lack of prayer, your lack of communication, and your lack of blessings from God our Father.

Learn to pray in the morning and at night before you lay to rest, that even your rest may be offered to our Father.

My children, pray with petitions of every sort but do it all with your heart.

My children, it gives me much joy to see you come to the table set for you by my son. My children, the table is set for all, and he never turns anyone away. But, my children, it is you who turn your backs to Him. Seek to prepare yourselves to receive my son.

My children come with a repentant heart to his table, ready to accept his life for you that you may live with him for eternity.

My children, my son, calls you by name. He called to you at his agony, and he calls you again. I plead with you to respond to his call with love and with conversion in your heart.

Today is the day to turn from your sin. Turn your face from it, leave it behind, and do not turn back, for everything is possible for my son. So call on Him.

My children, much is the pain that you carry. My children consider the greatest pain in your life. Multiply that by one thousand, and you have not yet felt the pain that our Father, and that my son and I have whenever you sin against God.

My children, you must live a simple life, live a life worthy for God. God, our Father, cannot reach you with your cars, with your television, with your houses filled with luxuries that only your flesh can find pleasure in. My children, seek after the Kingdom of God and store up your treasures in heaven with us, for only these treasures can be used for eternity.

My children, rid yourselves of your financial burdens that only tend to enslave you to the debtor. My children, no longer must you be blinded by this. Learn to be wise, and in your wisdom will you find joy that will be a blessing upon your soul.

My children, you must stop making gods and false idols of your material goods. Use your blessings for the precious souls God has entrusted to you.

My children do not walk, but run, for your salvation, for your forgiveness, to be forgiven, but also to forgive. Do not allow this sin to corrupt your soul any longer. My children, this is the urgency of my message for you.

Thank you, my children, for being here tonight. Go with my peace.

⁵³My dear children, thank you for being here this evening. I also send my blessings to those of you who are trying to reform your lives, trying to come closer to my son, and for letting him come to you.

My children, I want you to know my son, to know his life and his works when he was on earth. My dear children read about his life in the Gospels. Study his life, follow his examples, and know Him. For how can you say he is your Lord and Savior if you don't know him?

Go with my peace and love.

September 26, 1988

My dear children, I have been sent to you to bring you into the presence of our Father in his Kingdom.

My children, each soul, is so precious in our Father's eyes, for he created you.

My children, each one of you must be prepared to face our Father. Your life of love, your life devoted to bringing others to our Lord, will be revealed.

My children, your sins also will be brought with you to be judged by our father. So, my children come and face our Father blameless in his sight.

⁵³ The rest of the following message was given to Mike Slate.

My children awake and see the graces about you; awake and do not sleep any longer in your faith. Our Father is calling you to a deeper look at Him, a deeper commitment to prayer, to fasting, to receiving the Sacrament of Reconciliation. Take it seriously, my children, not just as an obligation!

My children, go to Holy Mass every day, if possible, for here you will find much grace. My children remember to do this also with your heart, for my son is there whenever his Name is proclaimed.

My children, my son, is ready to make flesh of your heart once again. So many of you have hardened your hearts. Remember, my children, you cannot love with a heart of stone, for even the pagans love those who love them.

You are to love your enemies. You are to love those who persecute you, for this is the greatest of the gifts. This gift is precious in our Father's eyes and is given to all those who ask, all those who forgive.

My children, Satan is attacking you in your families. PRAY! PRAY! PRAY! Pray together as a family.

I have once asked you to have a special time of prayer, of singing hymns on Thursdays and Fridays. Many of you have not done so. There are special graces given for families on these nights.

Please, I plead with you, heed my message and my request, that for many of your trials of sorrow may not come to pass. My children, the time is not important. What is important is that you start. My children, it would bring me much joy to see more families here united, more of our youth ready to serve the Lord. For the harvest is ready.

Thank you for being here tonight.

⁵⁴My dear children, thank you for being here this evening.

My dear children, Satan is prowling this earth, seeking the destruction of marriages and the family. My dear children, you must pray as families. You must teach your children. You must teach your families. You must teach your children to pray with you at a very early age. But, if your children are older, it's never too late to start. Pray with and as a family. For I remind you again, my dear children, your prayers will blind the eyes of Satan.

⁵⁴ The rest of the following message was given to Mike Slate.

Go with my peace and my love.

October 3, 1988

My dear children, I come to you again with a heart full of joy and love for you. My children, so will your hearts be when you love our Father as you should.

My children, blessed, blessed are you who believe without seeing. Know that God our Father has seen your faith and will not fail those who come with open hearts to receive our Lord with all of their hearts.

My children, thank you all for coming here tonight. My blessings will be on your families. Remember, my children, God's blessings for us is his love for us. Do not forget to thank him for all he has given you.

My children pray for your families. Satan only wishes to divide, to destroy, that God may be saddened by this.

My children awaken and do not fall asleep, for the thief comes to steal what God has given you. Our Father has started a mighty work in your hearts. Do not let Satan steal this work.

My children, our Father, wishes to ask you for your faith, your faith to trust in him, and what he is doing with you and your life. Our Father has his hand in your heart. Trust in him.

Remember, my dear children, that you cannot come to our Father except through my son, Jesus. So receive him daily with an open heart. Come to him every day in every form. Read the Scriptures, pray to him and receive his body and blood as often as possible.

My dear little ones, how I wish to see more of you seeking after the Kingdom of God in a deeper way. Seek it in truth, and the Holy Spirit will guide and lead you on the path that leads you to our Lord.

My children, my son is your friend and your salvation. And he refuses no one.

My children, I would like you all to start a rosary group in your homes. The unity of prayer is a great voice for our Lord. Much strength comes from the unity of prayer. My children take home my graces to love and serve the Lord in any way that he calls you and leads you.

My dear ones, pray always to Jesus, and I will pray with you and for you. Set your eyes on him, and you will never be disappointed.

Thank you, my children, each one of you. I thank you for being here tonight.

⁵⁵My dear children, thank you for being here this evening.

My dear children, I invite you to come unto my son, for he is your refuge; he is your salvation.

My dear children, my son, is calling you to turn from your worldly, selfish ways and to come to him.

My children, his love for you is so totally complete. He wants to give you eternal life. He wants you to share with him the Kingdom of Heaven.

My children, you have been shown the way. My children follow the Commandments of our Lord and receive the graces offered by frequent reception of Holy Communion and receive the strength and courage you need by regular attendance of the Sacrament of Reconciliation.

My children, these are the tools given to you. Use them.

Go with my peace and my love.

October 10, 1988

My dear children, our Father in heaven, is preparing a Holy Nation, and you are a part of this nation.

Through our Father's preparation, he has sent his servant to help in preparing his people. But you must heed my messages, blessed children, for our Father loves you beyond any comparison on this earth or in heaven. He created you, and so he has blessed you by sending you his son to die for you.

My children, my son, Jesus, is pleased with your efforts and your struggles to pray for my lost sheep, especially my families who are suffering from pains inflicted by Satan. Continue your fervent prayers to my son, for he will not abandon your needs.

Many of you have already consecrated your hearts to me. Remember, my children, that I only lead you to my son.

My children adore my son with all your hearts by loving him through your brothers and sisters. For if your hearts are consecrated to me, then they already belong to Jesus.

⁵⁵ The rest of the following message was given to Mike Slate.

My dear children, my mantle of love is yours for the asking.

MANTLE PRAYER

Mother of Mercy,⁵⁶

Arm of strength and gentleness,

Net of salvation,

Tears of joy and sorrow,

Love of God,

Eradicate and Erase the power of darkness.

My children, always remember my mantle, for it will bring joy and peace in your hearts.

My children, the glory of our Father, will be shown unto you when you heed my messages.
My message is to love: to forgive those who have hurt you.

My children, I call you tonight to repent of your sinfulness, and you will find conversion within your hearts.

My children, thank you all for being here tonight. Those who respond to my call will be blessed, for I know you come ready to believe, ready to accept my son, Jesus.

My children, pray for your families, for each family is graced and will be graced. Defend and fight for your families with your prayers and the armor already given to you. My children, I will pray for you, but your prayers are essential in this battle.

My children, I see the hearts of sorrow and of joy, hearts of flesh and hearts of stone. My children, I see them all, and I hear your prayers and the love that comes with them. Do not stop loving your brothers and sisters who have hearts of stone that their hearts may become hearts of flesh, full of mercy from our God.

⁵⁶ Note that the breakdown of the word MANTLE is a deliverance prayer invoking the Blessed Mother under five titles, followed by the petition for her intercession.

My children, thank you again for coming. You will be blessed for believing without seeing.

⁵⁷My dear children, I am full of joy this evening.

My children, your prayers are like roses when you pray with your heart when you pray with love. Your angels gather these roses from your heart and present them to me. What a beautiful bouquet I have received from you.

My children, the Light of the World continues to shine forth from this church. It continues to call all mankind to return to the Lord, to return to the Church, to return to prayer, and to seek eternal life.

My dear children, place your lives in the hands of our Father and not in the hands of this world.

October 13, 1988⁵⁸

“My children, I have come to set my people free. To make them aware of this world’s deceitfulness and of God’s great love for them. Heed my messages already given unto you.

“Consecrate yourself, and your families to the Sacred Heart of Jesus, and your families will never be turned away.

“My children, when you open your hearts and pray with your hearts, I can see all the goodness that God has given you. The goodness of God lights up your very soul. “

October 17, 1988

⁵⁹My dear children, you must listen to your mother, for I speak to you and pray for you whenever you call on me. I will bring you through those times of turmoil, those times of distress. You must remember, my children, that my son is your only Savior.

Today he comes with his Sacred Heart ready and open to accept those who call on him for his help. He will show you the way: For he is the Way, the Truth, and the Light.

⁵⁷ The rest of the following message was given to Mike Slate.

⁵⁸ A Tower Message: given to Mary Constancio at the base of the Saint John Neumann church tower.

⁵⁹ Messenger’s note: Today our Mother wears a sash of silver color, very shiny...and Jesus is with her.

My children, he is here because he also pleads with you to turn to him and accept and respect me as his mother and as your mother.

My children, my heart is burdened with sorrow, for I have seen many conversions, but there are still so many of my children lost and seeking.

My children, I come to you with my Immaculate Heart, inviting you to see the glory of God under my mantle.

My children, conversion is why I have come. With conversion in your heart, there is hope for all of your troubles. With conversion in your heart, you have found God, you have found my son, you have found the Holy Spirit, and you have found everlasting life.

My children, you must seek conversion and not wait any longer. There is not much time for some. You must not be lacking in your prayers, especially for your own families.

My children, you must believe with conversion in your hearts and a willingness to do it God's way, and all your prayers will be answered. How can you expect your families' hearts of stone to turn to hearts of flesh when you yourselves have not yet converted? My children, I love you.

My children, many of you have stopped praying the three rosaries a day. You must continue fasting. Satan's army comes to discourage, comes to put out a fire that God has started. Do not be blinded by Satan with all his negative desires against you. You must blind him with the rosary.

My children, I remind you to fast, to reconcile, to pray, and, most importantly, to receive the body and blood of my son with your heart.

My children, God will speak to you, will lead you when you open your hearts with truth to Him. Do not deceive yourselves by covering your heart with anger, with deceit, and with lack of forgiveness. You must remove this covering by allowing forgiveness and love to reign in your hearts.

My children, as I glance out among you, I see each heart, and each heart is ready to believe, ready to love. But, my children, you have not brought others with you that they may also believe, that they may also love.

My children, you must also love your brothers and sisters of other faiths, for I love all. We must fight one enemy, the enemy that destroys the soul, not each other.

Go with my son's peace. My children, thank you for being here tonight.

My children, pray for those with authority over you that God's will be done. My children, your prayers are the sustenance of your faith. If you do not pray, you do not believe. For if you believed, then you would pray.

My children, nations could be converted, natural disasters would be lessened, and the disasters in your own families would be banished with your prayers.

My children, it is most important the prayer with your community, for the power of prayer is multiplied. My children ask for the grace to love and serve your own communities, your own pastors. This grace the Lord will not withhold.

⁶⁰My dear little ones, I exalted with you to God our Father and my son. I could see your hearts open with the Flame of Love of my son, with graces being poured in to all those who accepted them.

Go, my children, with God's graces, and love your brothers and sisters by serving them.

⁶¹My dear children, thank you for being here this evening.

My dear children, each morning when you arise, give thanks to the Lord and offer up your day, all your works, all your joys, all your sufferings for the conversion of sinners and for those who do not know the love and mercy of my son, that they may come to know Him.

My children, I offer to you this Morning Prayer. Ask our Father for the grace to live this prayer.

⁶⁰ Messenger's note: Jesus is with our mother today and He looks at her with such love and affection. He, too, offers his Mother to us and tells us not to cause her tears. He tells us to be gentle and loving to our own families and those the Lord has placed in our hands. In this way we will give her joy instead of sorrow. He is so loving toward his Mother.

⁶¹ The rest of the following message was given to Mike Slate.

MORNING PRAYER

Thank you, Father, for safely taking us through the dark of night into the light of this morning. Father, as we face this new day, we ask that all we do bring us closer to you. May all our actions and thoughts of this day be pure and filled with your love and mercy.

Dear Father, send us today those you want us to touch; those who need your words to be spoken to them today. Speak through us and use us this day for Your glory and honor.

And, dear Father, when we fall and stumble on our journey today, send us your angels to gently lift us and place us back on the path to you. And let us live this day as though it is our last day, and if, dear Father, you call us home today, may we be prepared to meet You face to face. Amen.

Remember, my children, you are standing on holy ground: ground that my son has claimed.

My children do not despair. My son will give you all the graces you need. You only have to ask.

Go with my peace and my love.

October 18, 1988 ⁶²

My dear blessed children, how can I tell you the importance of praying for others. The immense responsibility God has entrusted to your hands. Do not take it lightly. God, in his great mercy, has blessed you for this task. My children, think of it with your prayers which may mean life or death for your brothers and sisters who do not know God's love and mercy. You must pray for them and love them just as God loves them. Then you can feel their pain and turmoil.

My children, you will be so blessed, for blessed will you be for believing without seeing. For you will pray for the destitute, the hopeless, and some of those you will never see. But your Father in heaven who sees all will bless you.

⁶² This message and prayer were given on October 18, 1988 by our Blessed Mother to Mary Constancio. Also included is an explanation of the term "Sacred Tabernacle"

Store up your treasures in heaven, my children. My children, no one will thank you, but all of us will pray for you. And remember, my children, those released from purgatory, will pray for you also.

My children, please say this prayer:

PRAYER FOR THOSE IN BONDAGE

Forgive them, Lord: forgive them for they do not know what they do. Please, Father in heaven, with all your love and mercy, we plead for our brothers and sisters who are in bondage and held captive at this time.

Please, Father, give them only a few seconds of clear vision to see you and love you without the deception of this world and the lies that Satan use to blind us: ⁶³ that they no longer wait but choose to do right; that our brothers and sisters may have a chance of saying “yes” to you just as our Blessed Mother did; that they may have a chance of being in paradise with you. And, Lord, create in them a new heart worthy of this paradise. Amen.

This prayer must be prayed with the rosary nine consecutive days. On the first and the ninth days, you are to attend Mass or fast for the intention. If you say this prayer as a novena, we are to dedicate this novena to the Sacred Tabernacle of Mary: for in this tabernacle, the Son of Man was created. For nine months was God's salvation for the world being created and formed so that in nine days, a new heart begins its formation.

Through this Sacred Tabernacle, new blood, new nutrients are to run through our hearts to give us new strength to mold us for God's kingdom.

This was the tabernacle of all tabernacles with which none could compare. In this tabernacle, a new creation and formation of a new dawn were created. No holier place could be found any place on this earth. For the Son of God was being formed to bring salvation to all the world. No other place was chosen to build the new kingdom.

So I desire to have brought to me all those who have no hope of salvation, no hope of everlasting life. I will show them a new life in Christ Jesus. I will give them a new beginning. I will show them the way to Jesus, which is the way to eternal happiness with God our ⁶³ Addition “that they no longer wait but choose to do right” from message August 15, 2014 by request of the Queen of Mercy.

Father, which should be the ultimate of all dreams. ⁶⁴

October 18, 1988 ⁶⁵

Love and forgive all those who come. Do not turn anyone away.

With mercy, all is possible. With mercy in your hearts, then you can receive mercy and have hope in God's eternal love for us. With mercy, conversion will be easy. With mercy in your hearts, you can know God's goodness and love.

October 24, 1988

My children, I invite you all to my table; come and eat of the fruits of life. For the fruits, I offer you are everlasting. These will nourish you to the full and will bring light to your eyes. And you will hear the voice of God, and you will know the peace of my son.

My children, let his peace flow throughout your hearts. Do not have any walls of anger or bitterness, for it is of your will to tear down this wall that keeps our Lord from showering his peace on you.

My children, you must not forget your promise to the Lord to pray, to fast, to love, for your families, for your brothers and sisters. You must bring reconciliation into your families. You must love enough to reconcile, to bring peace into your families. You must first reconcile yourselves to God to bring peace to you, thus being able to bring peace where the Lord calls you to.

My children, my children, I see my few faithful. I see the lack of faithfulness among my families. What more can I do but to invite you and to pray for you?

Jesus has heard my prayers and yours, and many have been healed. Many have hope once again. My children, I again invite all of your families to be here with me to bring comfort to my Sorrowful Heart. Comfort me with your love, with your hearts, with your families. Peace of my son, Jesus, go with you to protect your hearts from unfaithfulness.

Thank you for being here tonight. I will send my blessings to you tonight.

My children, do not forget to pray for your shepherds. They need you, and they need your prayers, just as I need your prayers for them. My children do not be so ready to condemn, be ready to forgive, to love, to show mercy.

⁶⁴ REFLECTION: Our Blessed Mother sorrows upon seeing her children in bondage and blinded by Satan's lies. She sorrows and asks us to pray for those in bondage. We are asked to love them and, thus, they can have a chance at eternity.

⁶⁵ A Tower Message: given to Mary Constancio at the base of the Saint John Neumann church tower.

My children, do not be so involved in your world that you cannot take time to pray, to love. Remember, my children, the Kingdom of God should be your first concern. Meditate on the Scripture of Matthew, where Jesus urges you to seek after God's kingdom first.⁶⁶ ⁶⁷My dear children, this evening, I come to share with you the peace of my son, Jesus. A deep peace, a peace the world cannot give. You will know that this peace can only come from my son.

My children, I share this peace with you, and I ask that you also share this peace with people whom I send. My children, this is not for you alone, but you must spread it. You must proclaim the goodness of my beloved son. So many are searching. So many are seeking worldly things to give them peace and joy. My children, you have found the answer. Now you must live it and share it.

My children, do not let the pressures and material goods of this world hold you fast. You must surrender all. The joys this world gives will fade away. The joys my son will give if you follow his ways will never fade.

My children, you only have to ask my son for his graces to turn from sin and turn to Him. Ask my children, and then strive to follow Him.

October 25, 1988 ⁶⁸

You have received a great gift from God to serve and love his people: a very special calling from God. All the strength you need, you will have. He will not send you unprepared. He will prepare you and strengthen you. You must always ask the Holy Spirit for guidance and ask for Jesus' love for the mercy of God.

October 27, 1988 ⁶⁹

Love your priests. Love them by praying for them and fasting for them. Forgive and be obedient to them. Remember, they are a gift from God. Take care of them.

⁶⁶ See Matthew 6:25-34

⁶⁷ The rest of the following message was given to Mike Slate.

⁶⁸ A Tower Message: given to Mary Constancio at the base of the Saint John Neumann church tower.

⁶⁹ A Tower Message

October 31, 1988

My children, you are my children, and I am your mother. Remember this always, and you will know that Jesus is your brother, your friend, your salvation.

My children seek after Him, and you will find life. When you seek him with all your heart, all your soul, and all of your mind, you find everlasting life. Your life will be fulfilled, the sadness in your life will be lifted, and your emptiness will be filled.

My children concentrate on praying with your heart and, thus, God will find you by the light that your heart gives out. For when you pray with your hearts, Jesus is there.

My message for you is to love and teach others to love by your example. Love, my children. Love, love, love, love.

You will truly be blessed for your faith, for faith is a gift given when you ask. Thank you for being here tonight.⁷⁰

⁷¹My dear children, thank you for being here this evening. Thank you for sharing in the body and blood of my son.

My dear children, my time for being with you and instructing you is quickly coming to an end. My children, I call you to live the messages I have already given you. My children, you must learn to love. You must learn to forgive, and you must learn to seek forgiveness.

My children ask for the Holy Spirit to come upon you. Ask for the Fruits of the Holy Spirit. My children, these are gifts freely given; you only need to ask and accept. My children, let these gifts, these fruits, transform your lives. Let them draw you closer to my son and our Father.

I love you, my children, and I want to comfort you. I also ask that you comfort me in my times of sorrow, for I also need your comfort. I need you to wipe the tears from my eyes.

Come to me, dear children.

November 7, 1988

My dear ones, for indeed you are dear and precious to me; all of who you are, all you surrender to me, is never taken for granted. My little ones, your heart is the most precious of all.

⁷⁰ Messengers note: She is dressed as a queen. She has a crown that glitters and the mantle is attached to her crown which goes all the way down to the floor. She is praying; all of heaven is truly preparing for the feast of the saints.

⁷¹ The rest of the following message was given to Mike Slate.

My children, when the time comes for you to hear this message, much of God's plan has taken place. There is much turmoil, and much consoling is needed. My children, I am here for you, always waiting. Always ready to ask my son for his mercy. Do not sorrow any more. It is time to be joyful. It is time to accept the One who sends me.

Remember, my children, I have not been sent out of my own power, but by the power of the Holy Spirit, the same power used to raise my son to his resurrection. Think of it, my children: if there is power of this magnitude for the raising of my son for your salvation, then how much bigger can your problem be?

My children, all of my love stays with you. For when I give, more is given; I must be emptied to be filled. Just this way must you be.

My children, if you have been listening to my instructions throughout this world, your hearts will be at peace: You will have known God and his mercy, my son and his love, the Holy Spirit and all of its graces, and me with all of my peace.

Thank you, my children, for being here tonight.

My children, it gives me great joy to see you sharing with those who have less than you. For it is in giving that we receive; it is in sharing that we are rewarded. And, my children do not expect your reward from the world; but know that your treasure will be added to your castle. Set your eyes on the highest of all rewards, and happy will you be when you finally reach your life eternal.

⁷²Rejoice, my dear children, for I am with you, and I shall continue to always be with you.

My dear children, now, above all, you must continue to pray, continue to fast, continue to obey those who are placed in authority over you in the Church.

My children, I am pleased that you are listening to me, that you do as I say. I will not forsake you. You must trust and believe in the goodness of the Lord.

Now, my children, your trust and your faith will be put to the test. How will you do? Will you continue to believe, or will you lose hope? God's plans are greater than yours. Have you done your part? Now you must continue to pray and fast, continue to love, for your love will show the greatness of the Lord.

⁷² The rest of the following message was given to Mike Slate.

November 07, 1988 ⁷³

“You must again surrender your life to me once more. Reach down to the depths of your soul and give me everything you did not even know you had, and purifying my son will do. I am pleased in what you have decided to do for my son and me. Continue your fervent prayers and add another rosary recitation to me daily.”

November 08, 1988 ⁷⁴

“It is okay to ask questions and doubt, but once you have received your answer, you must believe.”

November 14, 1988

My children, you must learn how to accept suffering in the hours of your agony; this is when Jesus can reveal his kingdom for you if you accept your sufferings for his honor and glory. You must learn to smile at your death, for it is, indeed, your life, the beginning of the end. Learn to trust in your Father and his plan for each one of our lives.

My children, listen to me and hear the sound of my love, the sweet sound of my heart that yearns to have you next to me in the Kingdom of God. Do not despair. Keep hope in your hearts and hear the Lord as he wanders over to you to soothe you and comfort you. These times are of sorrow to some and, yet, to some, they are of joy. You ask, what is the reason for this joy? It is their knowledge of hope in their hearts, their wisdom of their forefathers that speaks to them down through the generations.

It is of vital importance that you not wait any longer to accept Jesus as your Savior, as your healer, because, my children, it is your soul I am concerned for. My children, all your needs are of concern, but only your souls are allowed in the kingdom. All of your needs are looked after when you offer them up for God's supervision, knowing he will honor them. But, my little ones, all of these needs are to cultivate and knead all of your hearts, to purify and purge your hearts to see God.

My children do not leave this earth without God's permission, without his call. It is Satan who calls to you, to devour you, if you leave by your hand. The Father created you, and he knows what you can handle, for he gives you the very strength to abide by.

⁷³ A Tower Message: given to Mary Constancio at the base of the Saint John Neumann church tower.

⁷⁴ A Tower Message

My children, do not be concerned by the cares of this world, for they are only to cover your heart with worry and disaster. Rid yourselves of these luxuries that were not intended for men but created by them. My children seek always to please your Father with songs of thanksgiving, a heartfelt victory over sin in your life. It is not you who have won this victory, it has been the strength of my son, his final offering of himself for you.

Remember, my children, for those whom the Father loves, he corrects. Do not be offended, but be overjoyed for his correction. My children, continue your efforts in struggling to strive to perfection, for it is in this that my son can perfect your soul. My children, you will always be remembered for your comfort of my son by your love for one another.

My children, when you pray, you blossom like a flower of the light. My children, this light must not be covered. A light's purpose is to guide and lead in the dark. It is a sign of life where love can be found. It is a ray of hope where there is none. It is the salvation of the world.

My children, please remember I will never leave you, nor will I forsake you. You can come to me always in your sorrows, and remember to come to me also in your joys. Peace of Jesus be with you to always lead you to the Father and keep you strong in the hour of need.

⁷⁵My dear children, thank you for being here this evening. My children, I am very concerned this day. Satan is prowling the earth freely, and so many are unaware of his devious acts, so many are unconcerned, so many don't believe in the power of Satan and his followers.

My dear children, Satan does exist, and he is seeking your soul. My children, there is a hell with its everlasting torment. Do not be deceived, my children.

Yes, my children, my son has won your souls and opened the gates of heaven, but you still can be lost. You must continually seek the Lord; you must constantly search for the truth.

Be strong and persevere, my children, in following the ways of the Lord; so that you may find eternal happiness with the Lord in heaven forever.

November 21, 1988

My dear children, remember I am the Queen of Mercy, your Queen, and your mother. I do not only come as your mother, but as a queen who has been given powers; not of my own, but of our Father, for he alone distributes to whom he chooses.

⁷⁵ The rest of the following message was given to Mike Slate.

My children remember that I turn no one away and will not send anyone away empty-handed or empty-hearted. The graces given unto me are yours for the asking. My children, so many of you have failed to ask for fear, fear of unworthiness, but remember, my children, no one is worthy to be called sons of our Father except through my son. Through my son's love and the power of the Holy Spirit, and God's mercy, all things are possible.

My children, how many times must I plead with you to pray? How long must the Father's patience endure with your obstinacy against him? My children, blessed will you be when you believe in my coming and in my going, for my son always comes with me.

My children, I am pleased that you have come to be with me on this day of joy for me and all the kingdom. Thank you, my little ones, for being here tonight. May the blessings of my Father and those who love you be upon your heart.

⁷⁶My dear children, I thank you, and I bless you for being with me this evening. My children, I have come to warn you against the dangers of your getting involved in seemingly harmless games such as Ouija boards and horoscopes. My children, these are instruments used by Satan to gain entrance and a hold on your soul. My children, you must put your faith and trust in God; he will lead you. Don't put your trust in horoscopes.

My dear children, I love you so much my heart aches for you. Why do you so easily give in to temptation? Why do you refuse to turn from your few minutes of pleasure for an eternity of damnation?

My dear children, during the upcoming Advent season, you have another time of special graces to convert and turn your life to my son. My dear children, during these next four weeks, offer yourself daily in a special way so that on Christmas Day, you too may begin anew and live your life for my son.

November 28, 1988

My children, prepare your hearts to see God. Prepare them as though you're preparing for a feast. A feast is a joyous occasion, and much cleaning is required. Your hearts must be prepared to see God, for only those whom God calls to this feast will come. My children do not wait any longer to respond to my call. It will be too late for many who are waiting for you do not know the hour or the day.

⁷⁶ The rest of the following message was given to Mike Slate.

My children remember to comfort my Immaculate Heart with First Saturday Devotions. You will make my son, Jesus, happy and joyous when you comfort me. For my son is with me, watching over me always, so he sees and knows my children; and knows their comfort towards me.

My children remember my son's birthday with expectations of joy and of exaltation, for my son brings joy to many if you will allow Him. And his joy is not powerless, but comes with power for conversion; power to soften the hardest of hearts, to soften them to know and give honor to our God.

My children remember to pray always. With prayer, natural disasters can be lessened. With prayer, all things impossible become possible.

My children remember also the penance that is called from you. My children, our Father, will not ask any more of you than what he's given you. Do not be afraid to ask, for our Father is gentle and merciful. Ask for peace. Ask for your penance, which will be revealed to your heart.

My children, peace of Jesus be with you. Thank you, my children, for being here tonight. And remember, my children, I have not come to prepare you only for today, but I have come to show you how to live everlasting life.

⁷⁷My dear children, thank you for being here this evening. All of heaven is rejoicing with you as you prepare yourselves for the coming birth of my son, Jesus. Open your hearts, my little children, for the rebirth of my son. May he be born anew within you this season. May your hearts be one with him so that you may love with the love of Jesus, so that you may forgive as he forgives.

My dear children, prepare yourselves. Fast, pray, love, and forgive during these next four weeks so that you may prepare a place for our Lord within your heart. Make ready his manger. Make ready for his coming.

Show the love of my son during this time to all whom you meet: feed the hungry, clothe the naked, give shelter to the homeless, visit the sick, for as often as you have done this to the least of my brothers, you have done it to Jesus.

I am praying for you, my dear children, that you will have a true conversion during the ⁷⁷ The rest of the following message was given to Mike Slate.

Advent season.

Go with my love and my peace.

December 5, 1988

My children, listen for the new heart that begins within you is solely for our Father and for the kingdom. My son will be loved when you love his Father. My children, the way to attain this divine love is to give and give of yourself. In doing so, you have died to yourself for the glory of God and for his reign to be at hand.

My dear little ones, so much have I prayed for you. So much have I suffered and sorrowed for you. My children, I do this that you may be with me, with our Father standing before him with a clear conscience and a sparkling soul which is a reflection of your heart.

My children, do not lose heart for what you've prayed for. Continue fervently, and you will not be disappointed. For our Father is merciful and hears our prayers, for your pains, your sorrows, your struggles, and your hunger for my son. My children, the hunger for my son, has been called forth from the Father.

My children, it is when you hunger that you will be filled and that food will last for eternity. Your thirst will be strengthened to take of the living waters, living water that flows into the kingdom.

My children, thank you for being here tonight. Thank you for your hearts that you so gently hand to me. I will handle them with love, with compassion, and with mercy.

Remember, my little ones, your prayers are a beckoning call to my heart. My faithful, and even those who are not so faithful, receive my attention, my intercession.

⁷⁸My dear children, thank you for being here this evening. My children, I want you to join with all of heaven in preparation for the birth of my son, Jesus. My children, now is the time to prepare your hearts.

The greatest gift you can give to your family is a new heart full of love for your savior, Jesus, and for all members of the Body of Christ. My dear children, don't waste your time and money on material things that are here today and gone tomorrow. Give yourself to the things of heaven which will lead you to eternal happiness.

⁷⁸ The rest of the following message was given to Mike Slate.

Make these next weeks worthy of my son. Show love and peace to all you meet. Show the love of Jesus. Make this your holiest and most blessed Christmas. Make this a day of celebration of love with my son.

Prepare his way. Make ready for his coming.

December 12, 1988

My dear children, today is such a special day for me. And so it is for you too, when you celebrate with the kingdom. My dear ones, many special blessings are being sent out to you. If you are praying with your heart, then your heart is open to accept the special blessings of graces. If you are still doubting, then much of your doubt will be torn down with these graces.

My children, I come to tell you that you are working too much and praying too little. You take our Lord and your prayers for granted and do not love enough, for, through your prayers, your love will be exalted, for others and for our Lord.

My children, listen and learn to be wise, for when you heed my message, your wisdom is shown. This season give with your heart. Give what is most precious of all your treasures. Do not be afraid to love again and again, for it is in loving that we receive it in return.

My children, I have come to comfort you with my love. I come to ask you to trust in my heart and in my bosom. I will embrace you in your agonies and comfort you with peace. And I will protect you with my mantle. I will be your total shelter for finding Jesus. Jesus is always with me, and when you come to me, I hand your name, your heart, your love to my son. He so enjoys coming into your lives to transform them and give you joy. It gives him joy to give you joy. It comforts him to comfort you. It blesses him to bless you.

My little ones, let go of your pride, let it fly away with your hurts, your pains, and your sorrows. Allow peace and love to dwell within your heart that it may dwell in your soul; For this oblation is pleasing to the Lord; this sweet fragrance of love gives our Father smiles and tears of joy, for he knows his children will be with Him.

My little ones, one more time, I will sing from my heart to yours. My children, how can I say goodbye to my little ones without causing pain to you? My pain is also that I will not be with you much longer to instruct you, to love you. But remember, my little ones, I am always a prayer away: and my son, Jesus, is with you every day in the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass.

My children, how I love you. My children, my blessing will always be here. My choicest of graces will be found to be in this sanctuary. The peace of Jesus be with you. My children, thank you for being here tonight.

⁷⁹My dear children, thank you for responding to my invitation to be here with me this evening. I thank you for giving your mother a few hours of your time and for coming to celebrate with me.

Thank you, my children, for coming to receive the Body and Blood of my son. Thank you for coming into his presence at the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass.

My children, this Christmas, I give to you a special gift of my son, Jesus. My children, prepare your hearts to receive this precious gift. But, my little ones, do not keep this gift for yourselves: you must share him with others so that he may grow in your heart.

December 19, 1988

⁸⁰My children, blessed are those who believe as though they see. For the eyes of love, the spiritual eyes are used to see.

My little ones, many times have I pleaded with you to pray and have called all of you back to the sacraments, back to our Lord. For if you come back to Holy Communion and Holy Confession, then you return to my son, like the Prodigal Son: never refused and always seen with compassionate and understanding eyes.

Please, my little ones, at this time so close to the birth of my son, there is so much preparation taking place on the earth and in the heavens. I remind you to show the love I have shown you. So gentle and so strong should be your peace that no one can take it away. I have come to leave my peace, my mercy, my love. Just in this way should you give peace, mercy, and love to all in need.

My mission with you, my little ones, is almost complete. My messengers continue with the mission I have given for you. There is so much for you to experience with your hearts that you may experience my son's Life, Death, and Resurrection. Keep in mind always your families and how much they need you and your prayers.

My little ones, I wish you to always continue devotion of the Benediction, for many graces are bestowed at this. I will be always among you when this holy time is being recited with the heart.

⁷⁹ The rest of the following message was given to Mike Slate.

⁸⁰ This was the last Monday night Rosary Message given.

My little ones, my departure is upon me now. As I come to bless you, my little ones, I bless you to proclaim the Good news for the world.

Thank you for being here tonight. You will be blessed for taking time to love and respect me as your mother.

⁸¹My dear children, thank you for being with me this evening. This is a very special evening for me, for this night marks the last time that I will be coming to you, the last night that I will be giving you messages from this church⁸².

But do not sorrow, my children, for, as I have told you, I am only a prayer away.

My children reread and study and follow the messages I have given you. Remember to pray always, to fast and obey those in authority, and love, first love God with all your being, and then love your neighbors.

I will continue to keep watch over you and your families. And I will continue to pray for you, for I, your mother, love you very much. And I want you to be with us one day. ⁸³

----- Rosary Messages End ⁸⁴ -----

After December 19, 1988, all the Queen of Mercy messages were given exclusively to Mary Constancio

December 25, 1988

⁸⁵I would like for Saint John Neumann Parish to seek after love. The gift of love is given freely, but it is a gift, especially when you are encountered with my people. This gift is not ⁸¹ The rest of the following message was given to Mike Slate.

⁸² It is noteworthy that though the messages were not given again by the Queen of Mercy inside Saint John Neumann Church that Mary Constancio kept on receiving messages.

⁸³ The December 19, 1988, message was the last known message given to Michael Slate.

⁸⁴ The Blessed Mother would continue to come to Mary Constancio and give her private revelations (messages).

⁸⁵ The following message was given to Mary Constancio when she was on a pilgrimage to Medjugorje, Yugoslavia.

to be hidden, but to be shared at every opportunity. Do not be afraid of losing it if you share it. Love will come in your hearts to be distributed in many hearts.

Remember, my little ones, my love will always be with you. My strength for you is my love. You need nothing else. But, God, in all his mercy, will always bless you with the gifts of the Holy Spirit to guide you, to support you, and to strengthen you for the tasks he has called from your parish.

My little ones, my graces are poured out to you constantly as I pray for you, but special times of graces and blessings are in the Sacrifice of the Mass, at the time of the Benediction, and at the times of prayer time for families I have specified for your parish. I also will not forget the times of intercessory group prayer to shed my love for you. The heavenly angels will always be in your midst praising and glorifying the King.

You must not weaken in your faith. I wish your faith to be strong and healthy. Do not forget prayer and fasting. I need them to bring to pass what is to be in your parish. Do not feel abandoned. Although many of you will feel empty and lost like sheep that have lost their way, our Lord and my love will always be with you.

I wish to confirm also that you are to love your brothers and sisters enough to bring them the Good News of my son. He is ready and waiting for them, for their hearts. I pour out my love and my son to you and wait for your answer.

I have written to you of how I feel and how my Father and Lord love you and await your answer. We wait patiently and yet with an urgent message, for the time is short. You have not much time. You cannot wait and see anymore, for if you wait to see it will be too late.

My whole purpose in coming to bless your families was to bring you to life and resurrect the Christ that is within each one of you. I plead with you to love each other with alms of giving, giving of yourselves. Do not be too busy and forget my children entrusted to you.

My little ones, my heart burns with sorrow to know that many of my lost ones will not find their way home but will accept the invitation that Satan offers them in money, in sins of the flesh, losing to drugs, and smoking. No more are your bodies considered temples of God, but empty vessels to fill with pleasures of iniquity and sorrow. My little ones, your temple must be ready to accept the call of our Father, of our Lord.

My little ones, how many more ways can I show you, my love? Whatever it takes to get your attention: through my prayers of constancy and petition and my tears of blood for you.

My little ones, I will always bless your church in special ways on all of my feast days. Remember, I am always just a prayer away. Peace of Jesus be with you.

Thank you for being here tonight.

December 26, 1988

My children, this world has been entrusted to your hands and your care. You have destroyed many of the creations by your own destruction, by your hands. Out of convenience and spoilage, you have taken what God has given to you. In this same way, you have destroyed your families. I ask you and pled with you again to care for your families with prayer and fasting for them.

No more can you take your ease for tomorrow. Take to heart all that you have learned and all you have heard me speak to your hearts. My little ones, I speak of love and a great concern for your souls. Your soul is that which I seek to bring to my son.

Mary Constancio's Notes: We are called to decrease our time with the television by 30 minutes a day and to add prayer of 10 minutes to each day. We have made our work, our jobs our god: in thinking that we are our own gods. If it were not for God's mercy and his love and his life, you would have nothing. There is too much work and not enough prayer.

The following writing is Mary Constancio's reflection on her private revelations received during December 1988 in Medjugorje, Yugoslavia.

The "Rosary Messages" she has already given are for the world. Her children are crying for her to answer their prayers. They are hungry. She is going to send Henry, my husband, and me on this mission to feed many.

In Medjugorje, I saw that the messages are not distributed by Saint James Parish. Saint John Neumann Parish does not have to encourage or send out the messages. Others have been chosen to do the work, to "Go and tell..." the world about the "Rosary Messages." Saint John Neumann Parish must concentrate on living the "Rosary Messages."

She has also said that the Saint John Neumann intercessory prayer group confession can be every two weeks instead of weekly. But we should go to Mass daily.

She has called me to a real dedication to the rosary. She has pleaded with me for the rosary daily and fasting as I need to. She wants me to trust her and have a strong faith. She wants me to commit to deeper prayer life. The sacrifice she needs from me is love. She said her message would always reach me, but it would be through the Holy Spirit. It's like it will be on another spiritual level than now.

February 28, 1989 ⁸⁶

⁸⁷Our mother came to visit us today since it was the Anniversary date of her first message at Saint John Neumann Church. She was so happy, radiating joy, and very pleased with our responses to her calling. She came and blessed everything in the church. She blessed everything by praying before whatever she was blessing. She knelt before the Tabernacle in deep reverence. She went to the chapel, to the fountain outside, and to the statue of Our Lady of Fatima to ask her Father's blessing. She said she had left two more angels with us, which I felt were two special angels. This was at 12:00 noon. It wasn't raining but it looked like a mist or cloud was covering the church and its' grounds. This cloudlike mist was coming out from under the doors of the church and began to cover the courtyard and all the grounds like a protective coating and blessing over all.

March 25, 1989

My children, all of heaven, and all creatures of earth rejoice with you. Let all exalt his Name and the power of his love to bring about the resurrection of each soul: if this were not so, I would have told you.

What more can I say than to plead with you to listen with your hearts to my son and his heart full of love and mercy. Rejoice. Rejoice. For the Kingdom of God is at hand.

I am bestowing upon you many blessings of perseverance and graces of love for endurance for Christ our Lord.

Peace of Jesus be with you! I love you, my little ones.

What more could I have done than to have offered my son to you? Take him home with you tonight and never, never let him go.

Thank you for being here tonight.

April 18, 1989

The cries of the innocent are so overwhelming. Piercing sounds of unquenchable anguish are heard in all of the heavens. The pain is so great that even the choirs of angels sing extra hymns of praise and consolation to our Father to bring to him comfort where he cannot be comforted.

⁸⁶ Anniversary day of her first message to Mary Constancio

⁸⁷ From Mary Constancio's diary on the visit Queen of Mercy on this date of February 28

Woe to you who have hardened your hearts to the mercy of God, for if you do not show mercy, neither will the mercy of God come to console you in your hour of need.

We are to pray and fast very fervently for the next 3 months for the decision of the abortion issue. There is to come a decision. God will no longer tolerate the innocent slaughter.

If this nation does not respond to God's Commandments, then his chastisements will be intensified against this country.

May 4, 1989

My dear children, I am so elated with joy tonight. For it blesses me so to see all of you here with me and to know you have especially come to be with my son. Do not forget the "Stations of the Cross", which I have asked to be erected in my son's honor and glory, and for your blessing of coming to know my son through his whole life.

My dear ones, you have been called to be here by me. My invitation was special, and my son's invitation to be with him is also one of deep concern and love for you. He wishes today to invite you once more to visit him daily in prayer, in Scriptures, and in the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass.

My little ones, you will never know the great power in which my son was raised in the hands of our Father until you know and experience my son in these ways. But, my children, much of that same power is bestowed to those who believe, to those who accept and use it solely for the glory and honor of the Lord.

My little ones, I do bestow on you tonight a special blessing of love and forgiveness in action. I bestow my mercy that you may go in the world to share this mercy. Go, my little ones, and love and forgive.

Thank you for being here tonight.

May 31, 1989

Note from Mary Constancio's diary: Our Blessed Mother was with us and blessing everyone with graces of perseverance for prayer: and prayer would help us in our trials.

June 3, 1989 ⁸⁸

My children, I have blessed your parish with my presence once more. I missed all of you who did not even remember my day. But my children, when you do come, I await you with a burning love for you.

My children, I wish that you search your heart for any bitterness or unforgiveness. This is the root for many of your sicknesses, not only of the flesh but of the soul.

My children continue to struggle to serve the Lord with all your heart, for he finds joy in your suffering for Him. My children praised be Jesus. Praised be his holy Name. Always my children search for God and his mercy for all of you.

Thank you, my children, for being here.

October 14, 1990 ⁸⁹

My dear children, since my visit to Fatima, many things have changed, and many things have stayed the same. But, because my visit to Fatima and to your heart has such an impact on souls, God requires much more from the world. The souls of my children remain stubborn, embraced with fears: fears and angers instilled by Satan and the world.

My child, my visitations also bring joy and hope of Jesus so as to bring about the love of God.

My children, I come to you again with an urgent message to repent, and conversion will be easy. I pray for you constantly adjuring God for his mercy upon you. I plead for you moment-by-moment hoping to see you here with me. My heart reaches every heart that calls me. I am the Queen of Mercy: I am the Holy Queen of Sinners. Come unto me those heavily burdened with pain and anguish, those without hope or joy. I will quench your fire of pain; I will bring to you the hope of salvation and the joy of knowing my son in all of his mercy.

My children, I call you again to bring joy; also to me by repenting by converting. Fill my heart with your forgiveness, and you will fill me with love too. Share with your brothers and sisters who have no love; who you have forgiven.

⁸⁸ Feast of the Immaculate Heart of Mary

⁸⁹ Historical Note: Starting in the mid-1990's, Henry and Mary Constancio began the tradition of gathering those that considered themselves to be Disciples of Mercy and the ministers of the Ambassadors of the Flame of Mercy Ministries together to be with the Queen of Mercy when she came each October 14. This yearly gathering of the ministry became known as the "Family Meeting."

Go my angels and love in action with your smile, with your touch, for I smile, I love with you, and I touch with you.

My little ones, all are called, but will you respond to the call with despair and fear, or will you respond with love and humility? My graces I pour out to you is from the same love God has given to you. Pray, pray, pray my children, for much destruction is being done by interference of God's plans by pride and haughtiness.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.

Thank you for being here tonight.

November 1, 1990

My dear children, I remind you to be as children when you approach me and when you come close to my son. As children, you come innocent and humble. As children, your faith becomes strong, and your love is forgiving. Today in this most holy day for the Saints, I would also invite you to be like Saints in your daily tasks and duties of life. As Saints, you must strive to reflect Jesus in all that you do and in all that you say.

My dear, dear children, I sorrow so often because many of my little ones are deaf to my words and my love. Many of these my children will not recognize my son's call either. Pray for these little ones, for your brothers and sisters.

My little ones, you are not to worry about tomorrow: you are to seek God today, and tomorrow will take care of itself. Rumors of war and famine prevail over the earth, but you are to be steadfast in your faith and your commitment to Jesus, and our Father who watches over the littlest of all will watch over and protect you.

Thank you for being here tonight

December 12, 1990

My dear children, you are my children, and I am your mother. I am also the mother of the Americas, but the Americas will not allow me to be their mother, and thus they do not realize that Jesus is their brother. They cannot fully understand this until they have accepted his mother, his family. You are all his family, so they must also accept you as their brothers and sisters. My lovely ones, that is what Christmas is all about: loving, giving, and dying for your family. Those at home with you and those that are entrusted to your hearts.

My little ones do not focus on what to give, just focus on giving, and then through that love, it will become easy to know what I am calling you to give. Remember, my little ones, the most important gift of all is my son's love: if this is in the giving, then the receiver will not look at what you give, but he will receive the love.

My little ones celebrate with me my day of great joy⁹⁰, not because of the celebration, but because of the many souls that are with me today. They would not be here if there were no yes's given. Say yes to God, and he will say yes to your commitment to him: and his yes is for eternity. Decide for heaven today, and you have decided for eternity. My greatest joy is to hear a yes from the heart and thus seeing my son's death become his resurrection in that soul.

My children, thank you for saying yes to me, for accepting me as your mother because now you can also see Jesus as your brother.

Thank you for being here today.

Peace of Jesus be with you.

December 25, 1990

My dearest beloved, how I thank you for your love of my son. It is through this love that you will be brought to me. I await with a burning love for you. I await your presence here with me with open arms.

My children say yes to Jesus today as a child accepts his parents' unconditional love.

My children be lovers of the soul, and it will be easier for you to forgive; it will be easier for you to see them as God sees and accepts them. Go my children and be lovers of all who I send to you.

Give, give, give in all its forms. This is my children, a way to be like my son.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you, and thank you for begin here tonight.

February 5, 1991

My dear children, I plead with you again to heed my warning and to live the message of love. In this way many will be saved. Remember, my child, the power of love is determined to save souls, and no power is greater than this. My dearest little ones, console my son and I with your love and forgiveness for one another. Remember my child to consecrate to me daily your family and yourselves: in this way, my covering and shield of love will protect you.

⁹⁰ Feast of Our Lady of Guadalupe

My little ones, God has thrown the net of salvation onto your land, and all that is required is a willing heart. My child, do not offend God by denying your faith, for your faith is the latchkey of the kingdom.

My dearest beloved, do not forget all that I have given you. Put all into practice what I have asked of you, for there is a purpose for the things I ask of you. My child, remember also that I too need your prayers to accomplish many of my works, especially in your church and your country.

My children, the horn of justice has been blown, and those with the mark of the beast will be destroyed so that my children may have life in its abundance of fruits and love. My children heed my message.

Peace of Jesus with you, and thank you for your heart.

February 28, 1992⁹¹

My dearly beloved children, my heart is filled with sorrow, but your devotion and love for my son and me bring me comfort. Do not neglect your rosary, my children, for I need your prayers to accomplish the will of God in your lives. My children, peace of Jesus be with you. Thank you for being here today.

I will bless you all today with a special grace that you may pass along to others. The grace is to help bring others to conversion. Go with faith.

Thank you. Thank you for your devotion to me.

February 28, 1993

My dear children, how I wish you to know about all the Kingdom of God. Please, my little ones, accept my invocation of graces upon your souls. Do not go another moment with sin on your soul. Do not weigh your soul down with unforgiveness and pride. Pride destroys the soul, and this is a great sorrow to me. My beloveds, be patient with one another. Do not hold inconvenience of serving against your brothers and sisters. In the inconvenience, you will find God. Thank you, my little ones, for being here. Thank you for the inconveniences you have endured to be here, for indeed you have God.

⁹¹ Historical Note: Mary Constancio received her first visit and message from the Queen of Mercy on February 28, 1988. On every February 28 since then, the Queen of Mercy has given a message to Mary Constancio of encouragement for God's children. The Ambassadors of the Flame of Mercy Ministries prepares for her arrival each year by holding a retreat during this event.

Continue to walk in the path I have now put you on. Jesus has gone before you, and he has carved the right road for you. I am joyful that you have answered the call of your desire to be here to learn about my spouse, the Holy Spirit. Now my angels, go and live what you have learned. There is much work to do, many souls to fight for, many souls to win over to Jesus. Let go of all your unforgiveness.

Thank you for being here with me. Peace of Jesus be with you now and forever.

Say the Creed for the intention of your family and have oil blessed by a priest, and we will hear your prayers.

The souls cry to be freed from sin. One of the greatest sins is pride. Pride is the root of unforgiveness. The time is short.

August 15, 1993

My dearest children wait no longer for a sign, a sign in which to believe, for I, the Mother of God, have come to you and too many other places to grant to my little ones graces and blessings never before given.

My children, be strong and fear not, for God honors my requests. He has chosen you, my beloved, in which to fulfill the promises promised. Blessed are you, beloved. Thank you, my little ones, for coming to be with me. I feel your pains and agonies, but I am here to comfort you. Even though you do not see me or feel me, I am there. I am only a prayer away. The time is short, but it has been lengthened for your time of conversion. Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.

The shorter the time, the more graces I pour. Be ready to receive grace through prayer, through the Holy Sacraments. There are many here that are to spread the word of Christ, to evangelize. I will go before you.

November 15, 1993

From Our Lord Jesus:

The cross, every time you remember, every time you kneel before my cross at that moment, you are receiving graces like an arrow that hits the target. Brace yourself for trials.

Do not accuse me anymore with your lack of faith, for I have shown you what I can do.

In your day-to-day journey, you are to affirm one another with sincere love for me.

My mother has been sent to you with the power of heaven to lead you, guide you, but remember you have the fortitude of graces to keep you in perseverance of what is.

I Am Who Am, and I Am with you always, yes to the end of time. I know you better than you know yourself so keep your heart steadfast of my love for you.

August 15, 1994

My beloved children, I am preparing a way for you, for I want that you be with me in paradise. My children, how I wish you to accept our love for you. My love will purify you and purge you to come to my son. Bring to me all of your joys and all of your sorrows, for I will be joyful with you, and I will turn your sorrow into joy.

I am shedding upon you today the grace of faith. Faith, my children, will bring you through as though I was holding you myself. My beloved many have chosen the road of destruction. I ask you to choose the road of salvation. My children, how I love you and wish that you would turn to my son. My beloveds choose for Jesus today, for he has already chosen you. My children, the Kingdom is for you. Will you choose the Kingdom?

My children reach out to one another in prayers and petitions of every sort. Reach out in loving service to the needs of your brothers and sisters.

My children, I receive you and your hearts. I love you. Grace and peace be with you. Thank you for being here with me. Join with me your prayers and petitions. Together, my children, we will bring to God your brothers and sisters.

Peace, peace, peace be with you.

February 28, 1995

My beloved, do not be afraid. My heavenly servants have been instructed to what your mission is for me. My Immaculate Heart will triumph at the end of this century, and I want you to triumph with me. For our triumph will be for the Kingdom of Heaven.

My beloved, I go before you. You will see clearly my graces in your life. You will know what is being asked of you and how to do it. Do not wait when your call comes for the reign of God is at hand.

My children, how I love you, and I will never abandon you. You are my gift from God and a gift to him. My beloved, how my heart burns to hold you and tell you that you are precious to me. Never forget these words, for these words will bring you comfort in times of tribulation. My children, my Ambassadors, indeed will I trust you with this message of love, of forgiveness, of reconciliation. Go, therefore, and make disciples of those you touch.

My message is of hope and joy. Rejoice in that all that you do for me is for the greater glory of heaven.

Bless you, bless you, bless you. Peace of Jesus be with you. Thank you for being here and celebrating with me.

August 15, 1996

My beloved, my dear children, I am honored to the point of tears at seeing your love for me and for my son. I am but a prayer away for all of you. Do not worry or show disbelief at God's goodness, for he is a God of mercy, and he shall not be denied of his mercy.

MY MESSAGE IS OF LOVE

My little ones, my message is of love, the love of my son's triumphant blood. For through his triumphant blood, many will be saved. Rejoice when you are called to carry this message and see it through. It is because of the power of love that all of you are here. This love does not force, but yet you become a prisoner for it. The love of God is so powerful that it pursues you for life – everlasting life. Love can conquer all things. It can bring down the forces of evil. It can melt the hardest of hearts, and it can tear down the biggest wall. Love triumphs over injury, and in fact, it heals the wounded heart and soul from all iniquity.

My children, if you could see through the eyes of love, if you could only be lovers of the soul, you would be at peace. Surrender all of your anxieties, for they only take away life. They do not add to your life.

Thank you, my children, for being here. Peace of Jesus be with you.

October 14, 1996

My beloved, the grandeur of God's plans for you will take all your life and those of your children and those of your children's children to understand. Do not take for granted these graces, for they are being offered in abundance.

You are being showered with the graces to be lovers of the soul, with the graces to put mercy into action. Then you can be the vehicle of grace to others.

February 28, 1997

You are in my sanctuary of grace. You are at work to build for God, for me, then you are building for the body of my son, Jesus. Thank you. Nothing, not even a stitch, is taken for granted. Everything must be done for love of God.

My beloved, how I plead with the Father for special favors for you so that you can pass on these favors of grace. My children, do not let go of my love for you. Cling to the divine grace given to you today. Graces of endurance and perseverance are to be shared. As you live them, others will follow. Be a light of forgiveness, a star of hope, and a ray of love for your enemies.

March 18, 1997

My beloved, by December 22, much of God's plan will be revealed. Many souls will be reaching out to heaven seeking consolation and answers.

My children, all over (the world) must be ready with answers from heaven. Jesus will be their refuge, and his light will be the fountain of strength.

My child, my Immaculate Heart will be throbbing for love of my children: it will capture many hearts who are lost and need a mother. No longer will sorrow triumph. What will be needed is trust. My child, you too must believe and persevere in love and forgiveness. My child, prepare yourself for trials. Pray, pray, pray. I will always be with you.

Thank you for being here tonight.

Peace of Jesus be with you.

August 15, 1997

My beloved children, I wish that you bring to me all of your family into the sanctuary of my Immaculate Heart. I will penetrate the strongest heart to become like the heart of my son, Jesus.

I wish that husbands and wives become one in Jesus. Today, I pour out my grace to be a holy family, to be kind and compassionate to one another. Most of all that mercy may be the center of your lives. When you have failed in your ways, always turn to mercy. Mercy is the justice of God and the fulfillment of Jesus' suffering. Remember, my beloved, when mercy is sown, your abundance is multiplied according to God's justice. The divinity of God's mercy is shown when you act upon mercy. I remind you, my children, that mercy is love and forgiveness in action. Repentance cannot be achieved until forgiveness is given.

My beloved, I love you forever. Thank you for being here today. Thank you. Peace of Jesus be with you.

Give all your efforts to give Glory to God, and you can be assured that you are on the right path. Struggle and truth bring about conversion. True devotion to me comes from loving Jesus.

August 15, 1997

From Saint Joseph⁹² answering the question “What it takes to be a Man of God?”

“You must surrender your manhood to Jesus.

You must trade your will for God’s will.

You must surrender your knowledge for God’s wisdom.”

August 30, 1997 ⁹³

The men’s retreat is so much in the will of God that I wish you to hold it every three months, and I will come.⁹⁴

February 7, 1998

My beloved, I shower you with the graces to endure and persevere the trial by fire. As the fire comes upon you, it is like a two-edged sword that purges, and as this purging is endured, your endurance will turn into love. Pure love is innocent of all wrongdoing and does not commit error because of lack of wisdom.

My beloved, stand up, stand up, and gird your loins and stand in righteousness, and no one on the earth or under the earth will harm you. You are mine because you have been given to me from above, and I, your mother, will defend you so that you can defend your brothers and sisters.

The boat is afloat, and it is being rocked to turn you over to drown you. Do not be afraid and stay firm in your “Yes,” your commitment to Jesus, to me. What else can I do for you? What else can I promise you that you will believe me that I am with you? My love is ⁹² Historical Note: Henry Constancio asked Mary Constancio to ask the Blessed Mother about Saint Joseph, and what it means to be a man of God. The Blessed Mother didn’t give us a description, but instead she brought Saint Joseph who gave the following special message:

⁹³ Historical Note: That first Macho Men of God Retreat was held on Labor Day Weekend, 1997, and we had sixteen men attend. By the power of the Holy Spirit, the weekend teachings all came together and God touched his sons. He touched those teaching also. The surprise was when Mary Constancio came in and said the Blessed Mother, the Queen of Mercy had come to bless us. She gave the ministry this message.

⁹⁴ After this message the Macho Men of God retreats were scheduled every 3 months. These messages are easy to identify for most of them contain the phrase “My sons,” but the messages are truly for all of God’s children.

unconditional and everlasting. There is nothing I would not ask for you that my son would not answer.

My beloveds, peace, peace of Jesus be with you. Thank you for being here tonight.

February 28, 1998

My dear children, why must you put God to the test? I speak to your hearts. Do not condemn, do not look for wrong where there is God. Show the same respect and love for one another as has been shown to you. Do not refuse the grace of truth that your hearts are receiving this very moment. Be ready to repent, be ready to love. Love one another, for love, is of God, and you are God's chosen ones. All of you have been given the task of taking my message of love, my message of forgiveness. Reach out this very hour to those that you have hurt. The path of grace is opened to each one of you. Repent. Repent of your unforgiveness and hold on to my mantle as it covers you and showers you with the strength to do what you must do.

My little ones, how I love you. How I hurt for you when you hurt. Like a sheep that needs tending, so my son will tend to you. Please, I plead with you to pursue the gifts of God, for nothing he gives is impure. Receive all he gives you, for these are your weapons to defend against the enemy. He knows what you need.

My beloveds, peace of Jesus be with you. Thank you for being here tonight to celebrate a most blessed time of God for me. Our Father has honored me with you and granting my request for you.

May 2, 1998

All your labors should be to build the Kingdom of God, whether it is to construct or whether you are a doctor; all forms of labor should be for the Kingdom of God.

Stand firm in your knowledge of God, resist the devil in righteousness, and you will conquer your flesh. Do not subject yourself to the temptations you know that you are weak in. Run from the stain of impurity. Reject the wiles of your mind as they tend to stray from God's ways. Your joy will be complete as you fulfill the will of God. Offer to God this very night all of your transgressions and admit that you will walk in his ways all the days of your lives. ⁹⁵

⁹⁵ The Queen of Mercy blessed the men, embraced them and gave them helmets to protect their greatest battlefield; their minds.

St. Joseph was also present with the men and gave this message.

August 15, 1998

Pray! Pray! Pray!

September 26, 1998

My little ones, I want to give you a mother's blessing. A mother's blessing consists of protection against the wiles of the enemy and the wiles of your own heart and for the best for her children, which is Jesus.

My children do not try to measure my love for you cannot measure or count the graces I have to give you. I will cover you with the blanket of my mercy, for there is no end to my mercy, for it is rooted in the mercy of God.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you. Thank you, my children, for being here tonight.

She also asked everyone to bring Bibles here. As many Bibles as you can.

August 15, 1999

My children, I love you as only a mother could love her children. I embrace you as my children. I want you to live a holy life. Just praying will not make you holy. It is living your prayer that will make you holy.

Be kind and gentle.

September 4, 1999

My sons, I know you as my own. There is nothing you can hide that I do not already know about you, no secret too scandalous that will surprise me. For as your own mother knows you, so I do, and even unto the depth of your soul that no man knows. Bring yourselves into my Immaculate Heart that I may make you immaculate before the Father.

Much rejoicing is done with you and for you today. Through your "Yes," your family will be saved. Do not worry about yesterday but pray that God will restore and refine your tomorrows. Make no mistake, for your salvation is at hand.

I am sending you out as the David's to fight the Goliath in your lives. The stones you shall use will be the rosary. I will give you eagle's wings so as to reach the highest level of sanctity.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.

October 14, 1999

My beloved children, how I rejoice at seeing you here with me and joining me today. You honor me with a sacrifice of your presence. I take this sacrifice and offer it as a sacrifice of praise to my son. Indeed it is sweet and pure. My children, how I wish and will pray for you that you will all be with me in paradise forever and ever and ever. What rejoicing that will take place when I have you next to me. I am emptying myself unto you. I must be emptied in order to be filled.

Peace of Jesus be with you, and thank you for being here with me.

October 23, 1999 ⁹⁶

Purity of intention turns into purity of desire, that turns into purity of action.

As you come to me with this purity of desire, I can help you put into action the purity of action. Purity means clear vision, vision of God.

My beloved sons, how it pleases the Father that you are here seeking his ways, for to you his ways will not be held from you. As you please the Father, as he smiles upon you, who can be against you? For to you, the Kingdom of God is not only at hand but also in your hearts. Your pilgrimage here on Earth is to bring glory to God, and as you become closer to God, you bring him much glory.

This time with me will help to bring you closer to the completeness and fullness of heaven. I speak to you not as just my children but as servants of God. Behold, my sons, I stand before you to bless you.

Peace of Jesus be with you and thank you for being here tonight.

November 6, 1999

My dear children, your song touches my heart to tears of sorrow for you and tears of joy because you are here. Know that this is the perfect will of God. You are receiving an ocean of graces, and the angels and saints are praying with you. Do not hide anything from God. Bring your sins to God and lay them at the foot of the cross of my son Jesus. I will restore your innocence, but you must cooperate with the grace being given to you. I am moved by your faith and your love for me. Know that it also pleases my son that you honor me.

Tonight, I pour out myself to you that you, too, may receive the crown given by God. Hold not yourselves from me, for I take you as you are. Consecrate yourself to me, and I will mold you, shape you unto the likeness of my son. That you may love like him and that you forgive as him. I rejoice in your sacrifice, for it only brings you closer to my son. My sons, the more impossible you think it is that God will save you, the greater miracle it will be for the glory of God.

⁹⁶ (Advance Macho Man)

Peace of Jesus be with you. Thank you for being here tonight. I bless you; now bless each other. I love you beyond your understanding. Do not despair but wait in jubilant hope that the fruit of your sacrifice will be seen.

December 8, 1999 ⁹⁷

My beloved children, how I long to hear you call to me. My heart burns for love of you. Your prayers of love call to me, and I must respond. Your sacrifice of love deeply touches my most Immaculate Heart. Thank you for responding to my call. Thank you for being here today on my feast of my Immaculate Conception. This feast is not for me alone, for this feast was just the beginning of God's will for salvation.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.

⁹⁷ This message was given on the Feast of the Immaculate Conception. In many ways this message is the summation of all the messages giving the basic definition of mercy, how to pray with the heart, and defining love - which is an expansion of 1 Corinthians 13.

WEAR THE EYES OF MERCY

Wear the eyes of mercy where you become a lover of the soul, where you see beyond your pain, beyond your needs for love, beyond your desires of comfort.

Mercy is looking and seeing, and most important: loving to the point of forgiveness where all debt is paid for, and forgiveness of the heart takes place. Remember that, my children, your debt has already been paid, but you must accept it by forgiving the debts of others. Mercy is love and forgiveness in action. Where are you lacking in action?

I will triumph with my most Immaculate Heart through mercy. I will triumph over the souls you pray for by your mercy.

Today I pray, today I send you the grace of mercy. I hold back nothing from you, especially mercy. So must you also do. Think today of who owes you by hurting you. Give them to me. Forgive as though your life depended on it because it does. I desire that you may be the truest example of my mercy. Hold no one back from me. Treat each child of mine as though I am loving through you. Desire more to love than to be loved. The eyes of mercy see beyond judgment, beyond condemnation, beyond your eyes of selfishness, beyond your eyes of self-reliance. I wish that you would decide today to be disciples of mercy. Hold not back love or forgiveness.

PRAYER OF THE HEART

Prayer from the heart means forgiving with the heart. This grace is not acquired on your own. This grace is given to those with ears that hear and eyes that see that they need God. Place no limits on God today; then you will free yourself from any bondage to unforgiveness, to sin.

Prayer of the heart is not selfish and self-giving; its motives are not selfish.

Prayer of the heart is in the will of God; it is truthful with no deceit.

Prayer of the heart is answered quickly, for it rejoices the heart of God to answer it.

Prayer of the heart allows God to answer however he wills. Prayer of the heart is a surrendered heart.

Prayer of the heart is willing to follow the perfect will of the Father.

Prayer of the heart is from a humble heart.

Prayer of the heart is a blameless heart.

LOVE

Love is beyond feelings.

Love sees all and knows all and still chooses mercy.

Love rejoices even when you sorrow.

Love reaches out even when you have been hurt.

Love does not count the pain or the inconvenience.

Love restores, rebuilds, and renews where destruction has been caused by lack of love.

Anger, bitterness, and unforgiveness: all these things are because of lack of love.

Love is the healer where there is no hope.

Love is not afraid, for it knows its source.

Love never fails.

Love is unending.

You can never love too much.

Love is a gift that only multiplies when it is given.

February 5, 2000

My dear children, you honor me greatly with your presence here tonight. I have waited for you. So many of you have cried tears of sorrow and despair, I have placed these tears into my heart; they are like arrows of fire, which the living waters can quench. My sons, come to me and be not afraid, for I will lead you to these living waters of my son, Jesus.

Peace of Jesus be with you and thank you for being here tonight.

February 28, 2000

ACTIONS OF MERCY

The mercy of God is so vast it is like a pebble dropped into the midst of an ocean. The pebble is us and our sin, and the ocean is God's Mercy. As this pebble is surrounded by the ocean, so are you surrounded by his mercy and his love. The closer you come to him, the more you recognize his mercy, the more you recognize your emptiness except in Him.

Mercy pierces the darkness of judgment to bring the light of forgiveness and love.

Mercy penetrates the hardest of hearts to bring forth gentleness, kindness, and compassion.

Mercy brings to pass God's eternal salvation.

Mercy sets in motion God's forgiveness.

Mercy sets you apart as children of God.

Mercy receives love and gives love.

Mercy admires the humble and responds to the poor.

Mercy acquires the crown of glory.

Mercy removes the scales of injustice from our eyes and replaces them with the light of truth.

Mercy overcomes all obstacles to receive its reward.

Mercy sees its goal and does not turn back.

Mercy hurdles all pain to receive joy and peace.

Mercy chooses to wear kindness as his smile and gentleness as his laughter.

Mercy always chooses to be grateful.

Mercy overshadows the unkindness of others.

My children, receive into your hearts my commitment to you: my commitment to be by your side at the hour of your death, that I, your mother, will defend you, I will protect you, and I will also admonish you into the arms of my son, Jesus. My beloved, so lovely are you today as you come with an open heart, a heart ready to receive my love!

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you. Thank you for being here today.

May 6, 2000

My dear children, my beloved sons, how I sorrow when you sorrow; I grieve with you; I rejoice with you, and I struggle with you. For your grief is my grief; your sorrows are my sorrows; your joys are my joys, and you and your struggles are mine. For as you surrender your heart with me, our hearts will beat as one. The closer you are to my Immaculate Heart, the less anyone can distinguish your heart from mine. My children, how I wish we could love those I send you; those that hurt you; those that trespass against you.

My children come close to me, and you shall be close to my son. My beloveds, as I love through you, mysteries of love will be revealed through you for the sake of your neighbor. My heart burns for love of you, and so must your heart burn with sorrow for injustice and unmerciful acts performed by your brothers and sisters in Christ.

My sons, please take these words to heart, for these words were especially spoken for you.

Peace of Jesus be with you.

MYSTERIES OF LOVE ⁹⁸

Love challenges your struggles.

Love reaches beyond your strengths.

Love fills the empty and lonely hearts.

Love forgives and does not see ingratitude.

Love receives rewards not asked for.

Love is the shovel that digs beyond hurt and pain.

Love does not fail the faithful.

Love commits to things not yet seen but hoped for.

August 15, 2000

My dear children, how the Kingdom yearns to hold you. How I wish that you would all say, “yes” to my son, to my call of mercy. Today, I send to you the gift of love. With this gift, many souls can be saved for the Kingdom of Heaven. Much sacrifice is needed for this kind of love. Only when you ask for this kind of love can you experience this ever-giving gift. So much sorrow reigns on these people of mine. Sorrow is given, and sorrow is lived. With this love, you remove not only sorrow but the effects of sorrow. My children listen to your mother, for she speaks from a heart filled with pain to see her children suffering needlessly.

⁹⁸ The message continued with the Queen of Mercy talking about love

You have it within your reach to comfort the sorrowing, to console the sick, and to love the unwanted. By saying yes, this grace reaches your heart, your soul to do what I have asked.

Peace, peace of Jesus be with you. Thank you for being here. Know that I will bless you.

November 18, 2000

My dearest of sons, how I hear the cry of your hearts and my heart cries with you. Your cry is for holiness, for peace, for joy. I am here, the Queen of Mercy, to help you reach this goal, this desire. My son comes with me today to crown you as the priest of your family. Saint Joseph comes to help you surrender all that holds you back from reaching the kingdom of God. I send you on a mission, a mission to bring back to me, to my son, all those I have entrusted you with. The struggle to be holy will be more difficult because the temptations of the soul will also increase, but so will my graces. If you remain faithful, the temptations become less powerful, and the graces of my son become victorious. My sons, thank you, thank you, thank you, for being here this weekend. Many of you I have snatched from the jaws of the lions.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.

February 3, 2001

My sons, you have come here to find purpose and direction to your life. Remember that your life has been bought at a high price. Since before you were born, I knew you and loved you. And so my son has loved you unto death. Let not his death be for nothing. Take hold of his cross, and through it, you will be redeemed. Hide not your face with shame, for I know your faults and failings, your victories, and your triumphs, and still love you. There is nothing you can do that will make me stop loving you. Tonight I wish to inflame your heart with the love of Jesus and mine.

As this weekend continues to unfold, so also your life. Let today be only one of many seeking the face of God. Do not stop seeking. Do not stop loving. Remember, I am only a prayer away.

My children, how I wish you to know of the love I have for you. Go with my peace, and go with my love.

August 15, 2001

My dear children, how I look to the day when we will be in heaven together forever. I come to prepare you for the paradise of all paradises, so keep your eyes fixed on this goal. Your purpose of being a disciple of mercy is to bring others to heaven with you. Do not resist the call, for the call is called from heaven. Many of you have waited for a sign. I tell you today, do not wait any longer.

My beloved, I am with you, and if you recite the rosary with your heart, I promise to come for you at the hour of your death. I wish that you would recite the rosary daily, for the rosary blinds the eyes of Satan. The rosary gives graces to those who say it and for the intention of the rosary. Pray, pray, pray. Keep vigil over your heart, and let faith protect it.

Peace, peace of Jesus be with you. Thank you for being here today.

November 10, 2001

My beloved sons, trust in the love God has for you. Throw yourselves into the mercy of God, and you will never be disappointed. Give to God all of you. Completely surrender everything to him, for nothing belongs to you anyway. You must seek God with your whole heart, soul, and strength. Leave nothing to chance, and make everything in your life count for the glory of God.

Reach out to those who also need the mercy of God, and you also will receive mercy. Bring to me all those who need mercy, including yourselves, and mercy will be given. Hold nothing back! The more you give, the more you can receive. Pour out to me your desires, your joys, and sorrows, your sin, and it will all be for the glory of our Father. Today I give you the grace of faith, that faith may reach trust, and trust may turn into surrender to God.

Today as you surrender, you surrender your will to the Father that his will may become yours, and your will becomes his will. Some of you still hang on to a sliver of will: Give it all to Jesus. There is a great purpose for your life in God, but it must become God's, or the purpose is only for you and your selfish desires.

How I love you, my children! How I long to hold you.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you."

PRAYER OF SURRENDER

Today, Father in heaven, my Father, I surrender my total being: my soul, my strengths, and all my will to the omnipotent creator. To thee all of me I give to thee: all of who I am and all of who you want me to be, all of my strength and all of my weaknesses, everything that I can see, and all that I can't. All control I think I have I give over to my Lord, that all my desires be the Father's, for I know now that all he wants for me is more than I could ever want for myself and for all of my family. As I surrender everything, now the Almighty can take care of it better than my hand in it. Thank you, Father, for wanting me as your child.

February 09, 2002

My precious children, how I wish that you would accept all that I have to give you, all that heaven wants you to live. My dearest sons, children of God, how pleased I am that you have come. Indeed, I cry tears of joy to see you seeking the perfect will of the Father. Do not seek any less than his perfect will for you and your family. You have a great responsibility to lead your family to God; however, you have lots of help if you ask for it. Ask for it on a daily basis and on a moment-to-moment basis, for I am only a thought away.

My dearest beloveds, continue seeking the path to God, and you will walk as a light to call others to this path. There is much sorrow and darkness in this world. All that is needed is a spark to bring about a blazing fire.

Bring to me your sorrows and your pains, and I will relieve you and bring to pass peace and understanding. My children, I will continue to console you, especially at the Eucharist. You will always find me there. Much grace is given for those who pray in the Eucharist.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.

May 4, 2002

My children, how much it pleases me to be with you, that I may fulfill my promise. How much joy I have at seeing you here seeking the will of God for you and your families. Your lives in Christ are changing your ancestors to become blessed for a thousand generations. As you say yes to life, yes to Jesus, there is nothing that will keep my son from answering your prayers. May you, as my children, receive my Immaculate Heart into your heart. Do not be afraid, for I am entrusting my heart to you. Receive it and honor me.

August 15, 2002

My children, my beloved, I come with a pleading heart to plead with you to love one another, for when you refuse one another love, you refuse my son. When you injure one another, you injure my son. You place him time and time again on the cross. Do not allow pride, pain, and hurt to stand in your way to do for Jesus any kindness and love.

Today reach out in love. Think first of others' needs before yours. I reassure you, there is always enough time for you. My beloved, there is no longer love for neighbor but love for self-fulfillment. My children, today I call you to forgive. Forgive. Forgive. I call you to especially forgive my sons of the cloth that I still claim as my own. These precious ones of mine are indeed under much pressure and persecution. Do not judge and condemn them, for God alone will judge all of their fruits in their life.

Pray, pray, pray for them. Their justice will be much more severe if you do not pray for them.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you children. I am only a prayer away. Thank you for being here today.

September 1, 2002

My beloved sons, as you come with a broken heart and wounded souls, I am here to bring you closer to my son and teach you the ways of God. Refrain from doing that, which is normal. Grace is being sent to help you do what is to the world abnormal, and that is to love your enemy, forgive those who condemn and use you. Today choose God and to follow his path. Mighty and powerful graces have been given to bring you here. These same graces you can share with others to bring them also to God. Rejoice, rejoice, for you have been chosen to produce much fruit for the kingdom. Look – even in the midst of your unworthiness, God in his mercy has chosen to pierce the hardest of souls to bring about the conversion of souls. It is by the divine mercy of Jesus that you are made worthy.

Thank you for being here tonight. Peace of Jesus be with you.

November 16, 2002

My children, I am so pleased with your sacrifice. My heart is filled with joy to see you all on the path chosen by God for you.

Today my sons, my promise to you is to bring all your family to God, as you bring me into your homes with praying the rosary. I will be there to bring graces of conversion and peace.

My children, you are my children, and as your mother, I will respond to your need. I smile because I am filled with overwhelming joy at seeing you here. Thank you for coming here.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.”

February 1, 2003

My beloved sons, today I wish to bring to you the gift of the Holy Spirit. With this gift in your soul to be stirred up, you become a new creation in Christ, a new child of God. As you ask for the Holy Spirit to penetrate your soul and your will, you will be able to see and recognize good from evil and have the power to live in accordance to the good God will call out of you. What a gift that no amount of gold and silver can purchase. Only a sincere and beckoning heart will be able to receive it. My children, your heart of stone will be transformed into flesh, a heart that can show mercy and a heart that can forgive.

My sons, there will be struggles. My promise to you is that I will help you choose for God.

Thank you for being here tonight. Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.

My sons, there is so much to tell you. Please pray the rosary so that I may speak through it.

February 28, 2003

My children, it pleases me always to spend this time with you, and my heart rejoices as you have desired to be with me today.

My children, do not take your ease on your prayers, for your prayers are powerful weapons against the darkness that lurks at your doorstep. My children, I am with you today, and I am responding to your heart's needs.

My children remain faithful to God, for he never fails you. Remain steadfast in your faith and determination to stay holy. Seek always the good in all, and you will find Jesus.

My children, do not try to think for God, for it will only get you in trouble, but remain humble and ready to bend your will to His, and you will never be disappointed, for he always has your best interest at heart for you.

My child, I love you, God loves you, my son loves you, the Holy Spirit loves you, all of heaven loves you.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you. Thank you for being here with me.

Today I send you the grace to remain faithful to God. As you remain in the light, the darkness of sin is soon over-taken.

May 17, 2003

My beloved children, how I wish that you would trust in the Holy Spirit and his love to remove sin and sickness from your life. The Holy Spirit comes to extinguish in your life the serpent that comes to destroy you. The Holy Spirit comes to render the attacks of Satan to nothing. When the Holy Spirit is invoked, he comes with such power of love that nothing can withstand its purity, for it comes to purify, and as purification happens, empowerment comes. The Holy Spirit renders the power of sin powerless in your soul. Invite this divine Breath of Life to fill you to the extent that you will never be the same. As this fire of purity fills you, so you also will be a flame of love.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.

Thank you for being here tonight.

June 7, 2003 ⁹⁹

My children, how I wish, how I urge you to embrace the free gift and promise of the Holy Spirit: true love that gives freedom to love that is given to you freely. I wish that all your fears be washed away in the power of this love. Allow yourself to be immersed and filled with this most precious gift of renewal.

Open your hearts to be purified and burnt with the fires of love. This is the only flame that gives life.

Peace, peace of Jesus be with you. Thank you for being here today.

Celebrate with songs of thanksgiving and praise. Prepare to stand in the Glory of God as you stand in his presence.

August 15, 2003

My beloved children, how I wish you would come to me as a child who is ready to listen and ready to learn the will of God. My children, my purpose of coming always is to lead you to my son. He is the Savior, the conqueror of sin, the joy of Heaven, the terror of Satan. My children, Mother Church in its wisdom, has called me Immaculate. I was a divinely inspired word from God our Father, the Almighty, who is ever omnipotent and ever-present forever: who has always been and who will always be. My children do not place limits on God. God is calling you to remove the chains of limits which are around your mind and hearts. You will only begin to see the grandeur of God. As you do this and accept God as limitless, then he can begin to empower you with graces to live his blessings as humble servants – to love to forgive, and to show mercy.

⁹⁹ Pentecost weekend 2003

From the notes of Mary Constancio: Carry his message and blessing along to others, even those who have hurt you. We do not reach God because of our own pride, but it is important that we repent and say to the Lord that we are sorry because, through repentance, we are called to redemption in Jesus Christ. Our Lady reminds us that many of us walk around with needless sufferings when we have a Savior and a Healer. We seek for healings, and even when we seek the Savior, we still do not repent. God has chosen us today to carry out his messages, accept his graces, and do not hold back on what we can or what God can do in us and through us. Just be ready and always say yes to God.

My children, peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you and thank you for being here today.

August 29, 2003

Today I bring the grace of mercy. My sons, you can never repay God for his mercy. There are not enough prayers or enough sacrifices to cover you from the guilt of sin. Only one sacrifice was enough to cover the guilt of your sins. And so, today, accept Jesus as that sacrifice for the total payment of your guilt. Come to me empty, empty of all your pride, all your fear, and all your guilt, and I will remove it with my mercy that has been given to me from the Giver of All.

My sons, forgive, forgive, forgive, and you will experience the mercy of God. My sons decide today to choose for Christ, and you will be given grace to fulfill this commitment.

My sons remember that it takes humility to accept the gift of mercy, so seek and ask after humility.

My sons, do you realize what a struggle it was to get you here? For the jaws of Satan wish to devour you in guilt and confusion. Prayers and petitions of every sort have broken the power of Satan and the world over you. My sons, as you repent tonight, know that your sin is cast into the Ocean of Mercy, never to return.

Thank you, my sons, for being here. Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.

October 14, 2003

My children, I would like to thank you for your “yes,” for your “yes” will set the captives free.

It will raise the dead; it will break the hardest of hearts, even yours. My beloveds, I am with you to help you be faithful to your “yes.” My children, all of heaven proclaims the greatness of God as you follow the path of God’s will for you. My children, know that your being here is not a mistake but a divine call to build the Kingdom. Prepare. Prepare for I am sending a cadre of my chosen ones to come and serve God. Your hearts must be broken and ready to love. Always look forward to what God has for you.

As my ambassadors, be ever so ready to reconcile with one another. For this is the will of God, which brings me and all of the heavens to rejoice. When this takes place, love, divine love, merciful love has been perfected in you. You will, for an instant, experience God’s love!

My children, I wish that you would open your hearts completely to God. As you do this, I am there, ready to love through them. Today, I give you the grace to give to God all that is His: everything!

Be not afraid. be not fearful of the unknown, for to God it is not unknown. He only asks you to do what he will prepare you for.

Peace, peace, peace. Peace of Jesus be with you.

Thank you for being here today.

November 1, 2003

My dearest sons, once and for all, come to God and do not waiver anymore in your trust of God. Seek him, seek him in all things, in all God’s people, and you will find him: In the hungry and the homeless, in the sinner, in the non-believer, you will find him, for your eyes are to be always focused on the glory of God.

Repent and conversion will happen.

I have come to bring you all that heaven has to offer. Believe me when I tell you, I only come through the power of the Holy Spirit and from the love of my son and my Savior Jesus, who is to reign forever and ever.

Let this day be sealed in your hearts to strengthen you in times of turmoil and trials. Do not resist the Holy Spirit, for if you do, you are resisting God himself.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.¹⁰⁰

December 01, 2003

My child, I wish to place legions of angels around each home that the flow of grace may flow in your homes. Wherever my children are, wherever they find themselves in the will of God, they will have peace, and that will transform their fears into trust, trust of God.

My child, I wish that families would pray together; I wish that husbands and wives would take time to pray together to join their wills and unite them for God. My child, the greatest power on earth is not the atomic bomb, but the power of prayer when there is unity, when there is love united of one heart and of one mind. My child, how can I deny to answer your prayer? How can the Holy Trinity look away from this kind of prayer because it is the Trinity that is in the center of this prayer?

My child, seek to find ways to bring holiness into your lives. Where you seek holiness, you will find grace to live it.

My child, do not be afraid to love. Where do those fears come from? Is it pain that has wounded your heart to love? Offer that pain to me, and my son will heal you, he will heal you with his love, he will repay every affliction done against you, but you must surrender it.

My child, why are you afraid to love? Are you afraid to tread on God's will? My child, when you love only to please God, then you will please him. Never has anyone loved in this way and been punished or rejected.

My child, why are you afraid to love? Is it because you fear the souls themselves, what they will think, what they will do to your love, to your heart? As you give yourselves to mercy, then you will not be afraid because you will be walking in perfect love. Throw yourselves into my mercy, into the same mercy of God the Holy Trinity, and you will never go wrong.

My child, allow me to teach you this great mystery of love and forgiveness, of mercy. Reach deep with me as you seek within yourselves to find truth, and you will find enlightenment. Do not neglect good deeds, for it is in these deeds that you will find me. You will lose yourself only to find yourself.

¹⁰⁰ Note from Mary Constancio: She came with Jesus her son and they brought with them all of heaven. The saints made a ring around everyone, and then the angels made a ring around the saints. Standing with Jesus and Mary were Father Abraham, father of faith, King David, a man after God's own heart, and King Solomon, a man filled with God's wisdom. These three men went around the room and blessed everyone.

May you find the joys of everlasting life in giving of yourself this Christmas. Do not be afraid to love and reach out to those I send you.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you. And may the merriment of my son's birth be reborn in your hearts.

February 14, 2004

To my beloved sons, I thank you for responding to my call. Today you are given the grace of faith. Today you can choose to pick up this grace or leave it behind. This weekend is real! I am here, ready to embrace you and carry you, ready to help you carry the cross of my son. Do not despair for your sins. Confess them and turn away from them. Repent, and you will find peace and joy once again. My sons, I am speaking to your hearts, to your souls that need healing, that need courage and strength to do the will of God.

My sons, bring to me all of your pains and disappointments, and I will bring to you a grateful heart. My sons choose today to follow God and do not turn back, but if you do, I will always be there to direct you back to God.

My children, what you do not understand is that with faith that is being given to you today, you can change the world; you can change the world around you to bring glory to God, to bring the mercy of God to let others know that God exists.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.

The reason that you cannot let go of your sinfulness and guilt is because you have not yet accepted my crucified son.

February 28, 2004

To my beloved children, I am here to help you, guide you, and instruct you down the path of Jesus. I have come to prepare you for eternity. As you offer to God all of your day, all of you, he begins to mold you, to direct you, even the times you think he is not there, he continues to prepare the way for you.

My children, do not be afraid of giving to God all of you. Seek him, and you will always find him.

My children, how I love you, how I wish you would become disciples of this love.

My children, thank you for being here today. Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.

My children, I wish that you live in the light. Do nothing to extinguish this light. Do nothing to cover this light with sin.

May 1, 2004

My sons, rejoice! Rejoice! Rejoice, for my son has resurrected. The magnificence of this gift has been given to you by the Holy Spirit. It is through the Holy Spirit that I will reach into the depths of your soul to bring forth the resurrection of joy, of peace, of love; it is in your giving yourself to my son. Can I come and dwell in your lives? You give me the power to purify and polish that beauty of your soul for God, for my son, for the Holy Spirit, and for your neighbor.

Who is your neighbor? It is the one who is crossing your path of life. Do not forget to smile at your neighbor, for it is through this smile that I can shine through you.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.

Thank you for being here tonight.

August 15, 2004

My children, today, I am asking for an outpouring of love, an outpouring of the Holy Spirit to fill you so that you can be an instrument of love. As you embrace one another in love, remember that my son and I are loving through your arms. As you speak words of love, remember that we are speaking through you. Be then an instrument of mercy for the glory of God.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you. Thank you for being here today. Continue to persevere in what I have called you to do.

September 4, 2004

My children, I wish to thank you for being here tonight. Bring to me all of your concerns, all of your doubts, and I will help you to bring about faith and trust in God for your lives. My children, I ask tonight that you consecrate your hearts to me and thus consecrate your whole family to me. Do not be afraid of what I will ask of you, rather be concerned if I am not asking anything of you. For as you pray the rosary, I am there, I am ready to answer your prayers. My sons do not forget to pray the rosary, for in it there is much grace.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.

Tonight I wish to bless your marriage as being a holy family, for you are a holy family as you come to me as a family.

October 14, 2004

My children, today, as you are before me, I am so pleased with joy in my heart that so many have said yes, like my son, your yes has been a sacrifice, and much suffering is turned into grace for the salvation of many souls. Your yes will call many to say yes to God also. My beloveds, your hearts are so intertwined with mine that I know all of your needs before you speak them. Please, my children, do not forget that I am with you now and forever.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you

And thank you for being here with me.¹⁰¹

November 6, 2004

¹⁰²With much love and care, I come to tell you: Pay attention to what my son is saying. Do not resist the Holy Spirit. Do not have fear to what I am calling you for. With much care and love, I beg you to follow him here now and to continue to follow my son. The road is ready for you to walk it. This road is narrow, and the blessings cannot be held back. My children, how many times have I called you? How many times have I rescued you from your dangers? Now I plead to you to leave your problems, your afflictions, and lift them up to the cross of my son.

Why do you resist? Why do you not believe? Do you not know that if you were the only one in this world, my son would have died for you? Be attentive, and I beg you to follow my son. Do not look back. The Lord is ahead of you, so put your focus on Him. Today I would like you to give yourself to my son. Do not allow another day to go by without making this ¹⁰¹ Mary Constancio also wrote: On October 10th, 2004 our Pope made this the year of the Eucharist and on October 14th our Blessed Mother illuminated only a small fraction of the enormity and vastness and magnitude the Eucharist has in our lives. I was shown Henry as a child receiving Holy Communion. I saw his little hands folded receiving Jesus for the first time. I began to see angels fall down all around him worshipping Jesus in the Eucharist Henry had just received. Then I also saw all of us when we first received Communion, and the same thing happened. The angels were all prostrating themselves all around us. What an awesome sight. Then I saw angels weeping when we receive Jesus unworthily. There is praise and worship to God and the Lamb of God every time we receive the Eucharist. When we receive the Eucharist this calls down the graces from God. These graces not only fall on us but those that are in our hearts, and also those around us. When there is a soul that is righteous and holy, these graces are multiplied 1000 fold. Can you even imagine what this means? Needless to say, now, every time I receive the Eucharist I look to see if my angels are crying.

¹⁰² Original message was given in Spanish. English translation by Mary Constancio.

decision to give yourself to God.

May the peace of God descend over you, for there is much; much grace is here with me.

My children, I gather you to my heart. I am holding you in my arms to give you the strength to follow this road. My little children, why fear this road to heaven? This day your names are written in the Sacred Heart of my son. Today I come to give you my Immaculate Heart, for you also can become saints.

My children, harken to the voice of the Lord, for he speaks to your heart. Do not harden your heart. Be ever so ready to repent and have faith.

February 12, 2005

My beloved sons, be assured that I constantly pray and plead for you. I have not lost hope, neither shall you. With God in your life, there is always room for victory in the name of my son Jesus.

My son has opened the red seas of your life to get you here to prepare you to receive the kingdom in its fullness.

It pleases me so much that you have persevered to be here with me. For indeed today, the heavens have opened to pour out a flood of graces for your walk, the walk that has been called from you. Today is no accident. Today is no mistake or coincidence. Every step of your life has been planned, but for many of you, your steps have been your own. Today, I have invited many of your loved ones to remember you and pray for you. Please, my little ones, listen to your heart as I speak to them.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.

Many of you, Satan has asked for you because of your families, but I have rescued you for the Kingdom of God. For some of you, tomorrow might have been too late. But today, you and your families are written upon the folds of my mantle, under my protection.

I see many of you being stoned with words, but my mantle will not allow them to pierce your soul. These words are used to discourage and disarm you of Christ's armor. Stay steady, and for only one goal must you reach for.

These souls have rendered their hearts helpless so that I will help them.

DISCIPLES OF MERCY¹⁰³

- You will be in the front line.
- Being persecuted.
- Being the first to forgive.
- Being the last to ask.
- You will be despised and envied, for God will be with you.
- You will be spat upon for your love and mercy.
- You will be among the poorest of the poor, asking for the graces of God.
- Here in this world, there will be no honor until you reach paradise that is promised to you today.
- You will be set aside like the broom that is useless, but in the kingdom of God, your voice will be heard even above the angels on high.

February 28, 2005

My blessed children, blessed are you who are here who have believed what God is doing and is going to do in and through you. My children, thank you for being here in this my feast of Queen of Mercy. I helped you prepare for this feast last night. This kind of joy and love is found in those who seek God fervently.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.

My children, I am blessing these rosaries so that they may be by your bedside or as you take them to bed with you as you pray. Spend at least the last 5 minutes of your day praying with me, giving thanks, and to prepare for the morning. Many of you spend your last 5 minutes with the world, hearing bad news, blasphemes, and discouraging words. Rather, spend this time with me.

BEDSIDE PRAYER

Hail Holy Mother of Mercy, Queen of Mercy, bless me, bless my family and bless even my enemies. As we lay ourselves to sleep to rest our bodies, allow also our souls and minds to rest, that we may awake refreshed and joyful, ready to do the will of God. And if tonight the Lord chooses to take me home, take me home with you mother that I may be with you for eternity. I thank God for this day and all that this day held. I praise God for everything. I ask God to forgive me for any offense against God and give me the grace to ask forgiveness if I have offended anyone who has crossed my path. My Beloved Jesus, let me lie in your bosom so that I may acquire what your heart has to give; that I may give also. Bless my night, ¹⁰³ The following is a description of a will happen to those who choose to be a disciple of mercy.

my mother, that the serpent may not harm me or my family in any way. Amen.¹⁰⁴

April 30, 2005

My sons, thank you for responding to my call of reconciliation. Many of you had separated yourselves by your lack of obedience to the call of God.

Tonight I rejoice with all of heaven for your “Yes” to forgiveness. No quicker will your prayers be heard than through forgiveness. No quicker can the graces blow than through this action of mercy. My children, the path to heaven is paved with your acts of forgiveness. The more you forgive, the stronger the path is. It is as gold, so bright and shiny, which leads you to the Father.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.

When we come to God in forgiveness, we become his children, and he becomes our Father, but when we come to him in unforgiveness, he becomes our Judge.

August 15, 2005¹⁰⁵

My beloved children, today I am inviting each and every one of you to begin to pray the rosary daily. Each prayer from the rosary is a sweet oblation of love. I plead with you to pray with all your heart this special prayer for those you love and for those you wish to love. These are prayers of magnificent power as you pray.

Pray, Pray, Pray.

My beloved’s, your nation, your families are in need of much prayer. It is to you that I ask for these prayers; you are my children. My angels are being sent this very moment to defend you in a battle that you cannot see, and you can only win with prayer. My son Jesus is at the beginning and at the end of every prayer you say.

My dear children, there is so much I wish to tell you, so much love I wish to give. My children, I have left you many love letters in my messages. I have pleaded with you to pray, to go to confession, to go to receive Jesus in the Most Holy Sacrament of the altar. Please go and receive these graces, for they will lead you to my son. Thank you, my children, for being here today.

¹⁰⁴ An angel of protection is sent to those who pray this prayer, and seek God for his will and do it.

¹⁰⁵ Mary Constancio also wrote in her notes: The Blessed Mother came as a Queen that Jesus has crowned with a gold crown. Gold is a reflection of the glory of God.

I am blessing these rosaries so that you may pray. Many of your prayers are like that of gold however they're sent to me, and I smile. I am showered today with your petitions, and all will be answered. I too am blessing your handkerchiefs to bless your loved ones with my love and mercy.

My children do not forget to send those prayers on the wings of forgiveness.¹⁰⁶

August 15, 2005¹⁰⁷

My beloved's, there is a battle to fight, but it is not with each other. Look to see what thing in this world that is enticing you away from Jesus, from his kingdom.

The kingdom of God is Jesus. What is filling that kingdom? What are you putting in you that is destroying that kingdom? Is it anger, unforgiveness, self-pity, anxiety? What resides inside that is causing unpeace? Whatever steals your peace also steals your joy.

There are angels ready and equipped to fight that good fight, but you must seek the will of God on a daily basis for these angels to go into battle for you. Take to heart these words. You are to love the Lord and your God with all your heart, soul, mind, and strength. Nothing less is required of his saints. Go therefore and be not afraid to face the enemy that confronts you, but stand firm in faith and resolution to love and show mercy.

Peace of Jesus be with you, and thank you for being here with me.

September 3, 2005

My dear sons, I come to you as your mother, Mother of Mercy, Queen of Mercy.

My sons repent and do not turn back from your yes, for it is for your own salvation that you should honor and sacrifice your will for doing the will of God. Just as you seek this world's pleasures, turn that around to seek God's kingdom. Put more effort in doing the will of God than your will. Seek into your hearts. Look to see where you have other gods in your life. I am calling you and pleading with you to turn from your sins. Repent and seek first God's will in your life.

There are many broken and resentful hearts. Today I bring my mercy that you may know ¹⁰⁶ Mary Constancio also wrote in her notes: I asked why it rained so much during the celebration. She asked me if I could count the raindrops and I said 'no'. Neither can we count the blessings that are being poured out.

¹⁰⁷ The Blessed Mother gave this message to all the ministers and workers that served at the Feast of the Assumption 2005 that God is with you.

Turn to one another to seek Jesus. Love one another.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.

Thank you for being here tonight.

Many of you doubt. This is as real as the day that you were born. Believe, it is better to believe than doubt when God comes into your life. You doubt because you judge. I choose my imperfect servants and mold them in the perfection of my son. As you resign to live as my disciple, you are choosing the perfect way. ¹⁰⁸

October 14, 2005 ¹⁰⁹

My children, today I wish to express my love for you, to tell you of God's great love, of my son's undying love, and the Holy Spirit's purifying and empowering love. Now you too are beautiful. You too can proclaim you are love.

The more you can accept love, the more you can love, the less fear you will have.

I wish too that you would reach out to those who cannot love, and you will see the power of love transform and renew in them the love of God.

My children, today I am entrusting to you, my Ambassadors, this transforming and radical love for Jesus.

Thank you, thank you, thank you for being here with me. You are here because you believe. Blessed, are you.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.

I wish that your hearts become this fire of love. As your hearts touch the lives of others, their souls will be singed with the fire of the Holy Spirit.

¹⁰⁸ Mary wrote: "I asked about New Orleans." She said that the scales of justice and mercy were tipped. "They are suffering the sins of the nation. Do not judge them but love them. As you love them you are loving yourselves. Be generous with your love; do not hold back from giving. You can never out give the giver."

¹⁰⁹ Mary Constancio wrote in her journal, "I saw the Blessed Mother and she was so beautiful-so radiant, patient, humble."

Bring to me all your fears and disbelief.

Be lovers of the soul.

My children, I have great tears of joy because I accept your yes – do not fear for I am with you.

My children, you are doing a great work of mercy as you have committed as a Disciple of Mercy.

Many walls that Satan has built are being torn down by your “yes” to love.

Today heaven rejoices as they see your heart and hear your praises.

November 5, 2005

My sons, there is only one enemy who wishes to destroy you and your family. Many battles were fought and won for you to be here. You are not here on your own. God is in charge and control of your life, do not deceive yourselves into thinking that you are in charge. However, many of you make choices and refuse to listen and be obedient to the will of God and the Holy Spirit. My heart is ever so ready to take you into my most immaculate heart. Many of you have come with hearts and souls filled with anger and disappointment. Please, my sons, put this into the center of my son’s wounds so that this anger and this disappointment may be transformed into the grace and gift of love. My flame of love will indeed put out the flame of anger that you have. As anger has arisen and pain has been that root today, this weekend, this root will be pulled into the pits of hell.

So many of you have questions, and as you listen to your heart, the answer is already there. Listen to me, your mother, for I come as a mother to love you to my son. Some of you, my sons, have taken hold of my hand tonight; I ask that you not be afraid to take me into your heart.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you, and thank you for being here tonight.

Some of you are being called to be Disciples of Mercy. Please respond and do not fear, for I will help you fulfill your yes. I will remind you of my love for you.

November 30, 2005

To my beloved children, I wish that you would intensify your prayers. The next two months, you will see such tremendous work(s) of God that it will awe you. His handiwork will be you. He will astound you with his love and surround you with his wonders. You will not be able to flee but to him.

My dearest beloved children, what was once only a game to Satan, he has now decided you are a threat to his kingdom. He will use every tactic, but especially he will use your weakness if it is not given over to my son and me. He will try to expose your nakedness to try and bring shame. He will exploit every dark corner so that he can bring fear, and most of all, he will try to hide and steal mercy. I have taught you all the mercy God has empowered you with. When you need the power to love, do not hold back. This power has the power to transform the hardest of hearts, those hearts that have been impenetrable; those hearts that cannot choose God.

My children, please look around you, allow yourselves to see mercy in those around you. I have given you each other. Each one was chosen to bring together the puzzle of your life and of this ministry, my ministry, the ministry ordained by God, and the sanctuary of grace my children that God has allowed and chosen.

God's justice will take care of whatever is not in your hands. What I have asked you to do is love. My beloveds, take to heart these words just as you take to heart all the souls that God has chosen and placed. My children, it is important and vital that you stay awake with prayer and fasting.

I have not left you, nor have I abandoned you. Only the hired hand that works only for themselves will run. You will see them by their fruit. My beloveds, fear not tomorrow, dread not the work of God, rather remember the Our Father, the great and wonderful I AM has called you out of the world for his purposes. Although you cannot see the great damage you have done to Satan's Kingdom so you can neither see the great victory you are doing for the Kingdom of God. Keep your focus on mercy: love and forgiveness in action. Put this into action, and you will not be disappointed. My children, bring your sorrows to me, bring any unforgiveness to me. Bring any fear of loving to me, and I will raise you up into my son's heart that you can love like he loves.

My children, how I love you. How I can see that beautiful diamond beneath all of this world's fears and opposition to mercy. My children, this is your first glimpse of God's mercy. Think about it, my children, God shows this kind of mercy every day on just you.

My beloved, I am elated at your struggling to love, to show mercy. I am with you to take the next step. Your next step is taken in faith, not feeling. Your step will take you into a place no one can describe, but only those that truly want to live in the fullness of God's kingdom will cross over.

February 12, 2006

My beloved sons, I wish to bathe you in the light of love. In this light, all darkness is quenched, and your motives are brought to the surface so that you can repent and resist the enemy's temptations not to love. My sons, you should be the example of our Father's mercy, of his love and forgiveness in action.

My sons, I wish that you would take all that I have given you, take these tools of love to create and recreate a new atmosphere of love. Do not be afraid to love, for I am always with you. My children, even if it seems to be a failure, when it is done in love, it is always recognized as a sacrifice to be accepted.

My sons, run to me, and you will run into my son also, for it is thru his love that I love. It is thru his mercy that I show mercy. Take great joy, my children, for great is God, and great is his glory. As you bring glory to God, so will always his glory be reflected in you also.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.

Thank you for being here with me today.

¹¹⁰All the answers to your questions are given to you in the great book of love¹¹¹.

My beloved Ambassadors, I wish to be that beacon of light through you. Do not be afraid, for I am with you. I will not ever leave you orphaned, for I am your mother.

My sons, I am coming with a new strength to help lift the burden off of your shoulders. Spend time with me.

February 28, 2006

To my blessed beloved children, hold on to the faith that God has given you, for it is being purified, and to some, it is being restarted and strengthened. Today is a day to renew your yes to Jesus, your yes to me. My children, concern not yourself on how God is going to fulfill his will in your life but only be reassured that he is. When you say yes to Jesus, nothing is a coincidence. Your steps have been carefully and wonderfully planned. It is when you step out of his plan that chaos happens.

¹¹⁰ Additional message given that night

¹¹¹ That is the Bible.

My children begin to think of ways to love this Lent. Give up only those things which will allow you to love more.¹¹²

I wish that your hearts be converted into messages of my love. Choose always to love. Leave my imprint of love on all of those who you embrace.

My children, peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you. Thank you for being here with me today.

Where is your heart in regards to love? What is your first reaction when someone offends you? Begin to seek after love's reaction. Look to see through the eyes of love. Seek, seek, seek after love.

What are the consequences of our lack of love? Look at Jesus and the consequences of his love.

I will give you the courage to see where you can love with no limits. See-through your eyes with innocence of the offender's sin, and no offense of the offender. Look at all of your persecutions as challenges to love beyond you.

May 6, 2006

My beloved sons, today I am entrusting onto you the grace of trust. My children, the grace of trust is a building stone for your life in Christ and on Christ. Today, I take you as my own.

The grace of trust is thus down poured on you that you may trust that I only lead you to my son Jesus.

I wish to shower you not only with trust but all those graces that will build on trust.

Do not forget your "yes" to me, for I have not, for many of you have not stepped out in your yes: this stumbling block for many can be your salvation.

Thank you for being here with me tonight.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.

¹¹³My children doubt will rob you of grace. Doubt will transform faith into fear. Doubt will enslave you.

¹¹² Giving up things that don't lead to a holier life, is a wasted effort.

¹¹³ Additional message given that night

I remind you of your yes to be a Disciple of Mercy.

Warriors of the Cross and Defenders of the Faith, tonight I invite you to another step of mercy: you become closer to the Sacrifice of Love.

July 15, 2006 ¹¹⁴

My blessed and beloved children, I am the mother of mothers. I am the mother of fathers. I am the mother of sons. I am the mother of daughters. I am your mother. I have come that your life may be free of anxiety. I have come to bring to you a clearer truth of my son Jesus. Resist the devil in all of your temptations. Resist him by standing in mercy. He cannot flourish in the environment of mercy. My children, I am so pleased with your love of Jesus. Heaven rejoices with the victory of God's word in your life. My beloved's how I love you, how I wish that you would embrace this love from me to you.

Peace, peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.

Do not fear or fret about anything. Bring to me all of your anxiety, all of your weariness, all of your conflicts. As you do this, forgive without conditions, you will see how your sickness and disease will melt away like snow on a warm day. The warmth of the Holy Spirit will melt away the hardened heart of your pain. Please, my children, forgive yourself – do not allow yourself to be between you and God, you and Jesus, you and the Holy Spirit.

Thank you for being here today.¹¹⁵

August 15, 2006

My beloved children, I come today with much joy at seeing you take this time to be with me, your mother, who knows each one of her children, who knows the heart, who knows all their weaknesses, and knows all your goodness of God in each one of you.

¹¹⁶My children, do not wait to follow Christ. Follow and give him your hearts. There may be no more time left. Today I plead, today I plead with all my love to trust in me that I take you to my son. He is the Savior. He is your Savior. ¹¹⁷

My children, follow the path, the way of Jesus. You will not be led wrongly. There is no

¹¹⁴ Received during the Resurrection of the Self-Image Retreat

¹¹⁵ Mary Constancio also wrote: I see warrior angels all around us and around our families. I see them in white with their wings and a sword.

¹¹⁶ This section of the message was given in Spanish. Translation by Mary Constancio.

¹¹⁷ End of translation mistake when you follow his ways. There is no more needless suffering when you completely submit to his will.

My children, I ask today that you pray, pray, pray for mercy in our world. I am asking for extra portions of mercy upon you today that you may spread this mercy on others.

My children, thank you for being here today.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be upon you, in you, and in your family.¹¹⁸

September 2, 2006

My beloved sons, whatsoever you do in the name of Jesus, you do it in the name of love. Be assured, my sons, that your prayers are breaking the bondage of sin and are penetrating the walls built from unforgiveness, from the sin of anxiety and fear.

My sons, my children, blessed are you that have believed and trusted in God's love for you and answered his call. My children, your prayers are shaking the very foundation of hell. My sons, my beloveds, pray for your brothers that are leading a life astray from Jesus. Pray that they come into the fold.

I have anointed you to do the work of God has called of you.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.

My sons, thank you for being here tonight.

¹¹⁸ Mary Constancio also wrote in her notes: As Mary gave this message, she saw the Blessed Mother first as our Lady of Guadalupe, then our Lady of Fatima, and then as all the other ways she has appeared to us throughout the world. This was to let us know that she is the mother of us all, and appears differently so that each culture knows she is their Mother, too. She is Mother to us all.

The Blessed Mother took Mary to see all the places of suffering and showed her how there was such a lack of mercy. She then showed her a drop, representing a drop of mercy with which Mary was to bless each person present. They are to carry her mercy to others and to learn what it means to give mercy.

Mary also saw all those who serve God covered with a cross from their head to their feet and from shoulder to shoulder; a cross made from the blood of Jesus, as told in Egyptian times when blood was put over doorposts to keep death away. These servants of God walk in this cross. They are to receive a special blessing of receiving this cross today.

October 14, 2006 ¹¹⁹

My beloved children, it gives me great joy that you have stood in the grace of forgiveness. Ask, and it shall be given to you. Ask for forgiveness. Ask for love. Ask for blessings, and it shall be given to you. Today you bring to me your sin, your weakness, and today I am showering you with grace to do the will of God and not follow the fiery passions of your flesh. They come from the fiery darts of the enemy.

Continue to bring to me those fears that don't allow God's love to fulfill your soul. Bring to me anything that is in your heart that does not leave room for my son.

The following prayer was said by the Blessed Mother: My Lord, my God, I thank you for these, my children, my little ones, whom you have called Ambassadors. I give them to my Father for the grace to persevere and to endure through the many trials of purification, many trials because of my son, Jesus, because of their "Yes" to my son and me. My Father, these are my most precious ones.

The following prayer was said by Jesus who was with the Blessed Mother: Now Father, I am consecrating these, my brothers, my sisters, my friends unto you. ^{120 121}

November 4, 2006

My beloved sons, I am joyful to be here with you. Your faith has drawn me here to you. My sons, my heart is ever so ready to embrace you to my heart. My heart is big enough for all ¹¹⁹ Before the message, Mary Constancio received word that we were to do a litany of repentance, asking forgiveness to be as pure as possible by confessing our sins.

¹²⁰ Mary Constancio said that the Lord put on her heart that John 17:1-26 was also applied to the Ambassadors.

¹²¹ Mary Constancio stated and wrote: I am seeing Blessed Mother Mary and Jesus consecrating, giving us (Ambassadors) to the Father; then the Father entrusts us to St. Peter. I see this as a consecration to the Church.

Our greatest armor is mercy, forgiveness and love. I see, as far as the eye can see, warriors: a new kind of warrior, new armor, different kinds of armor.

Our greatest battle will be on our knees, will be through humility. If there is any chink in your armor, that is unforgiveness, it will attack you like an infection, and the only way it is cured is with forgiveness and love, and mercy.

Mercy is not about feeling, but about action: Love and forgiveness in action. Much, much is given and much more will you receive.

of you, now can you open your heart for me. My sons, your calling on the Holy Ghost has empowered me to love you beyond your understanding.

Yes, my sons, I have come just for you. I will draw you unto my son Jesus; do not be afraid or ashamed. Come to me and allow me to embrace you. As I embrace you, I am going to empower you with love. This love can tear down walls of your lukewarm heart so that they can be a burning coal of fire of the Holy Spirit. You can each be an instrument of my love. Do not put limits on what God can do through you.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.

And thank you for being here tonight.¹²²

January 13, 2007 ¹²³

My beloved sons, I am here because you are here. You have called me, and I have answered. Be patient, especially with yourself. I will unmask the deceit that keeps you in bondage. My sons, I am in joy to see you here, for I know of your sacrifice of love it has taken for you to be here. Do not respond to the impulses of the flesh that want you to keep you in darkness. The light of Jesus continues to lead you, and he has led you here.

My beloved sons, keep up your courage and hope in my son and what he can do for you and your family. I am ready for many of you to take a stand against temptations of sin, for I am standing with you. I will shield you as my sons.

My sons, I bless you with the graces you have asked of me.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you, and thank you for being here with me.

February 10, 2007

My little sons, I ask you with all my heart that you follow the Lord; this is the only way you can reach heaven. There is no other way that God will direct you. My son has come to ¹²² From the notes of Mary Constancio: Our Blessed Mother forgets no one. All who do acts of kindness and love are always at the foot of the cross as our Blessed Mother takes you there. I see so many of you have been dragged across coals and you have been burned with needless suffering and she wants to heal those wounds. Remind everyone that the Holy Spirit is the fire starter of love and to clean impurity, and he is that water hose that will put out fires not started by Him.

Some of you are so dry that any spark of anger will light that needle of suffering.

¹²³ The advance men's retreat was named The Mucho Macho Men of God Retreat

rescue you for the reign of heaven. I love you, my sons, my little sons. I thank you for being here with me tonight that the peace of the Lord be with you.¹²⁴

February 28, 2007¹²⁵

OIL OF GLADNESS

This oil of gladness comes from my heart of joy, to bring others joy, especially in the joy of obedience and humility. You will see how I will use this for the glory of God and the building up of the kingdom.

May 5, 2007

To my beloved sons, welcome you all into my mantle of mercy. There is nothing that can keep me from responding to your call, for I am here, your mother, to take you into my most immaculate heart. Turn then from your sin and receive what God has for you.

Bring me your heart full of disappointment, fear, and hunger for God, and my son will quench that thirst and restore your faith and trust in God. Believe that my son can do all things, and thus with his grace, you can do what he calls you to do.

Rejoice! Rejoice, for the angels and all of heaven rejoice with you for being here. Thus today begins a new chapter in your life. Do not look back at your lack of God in your life but look today at what a wonderful creation he has created in you for tomorrow.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you, and thank you for being here today.

I see many of you with hearts full of questions, and you are not yet convinced that God exists, and he exists with power to destroy your hardness of hearts. You must pray. Pray for those who do not have anyone to pray for them.

August 15, 2007

To my dearest children, beloved of mine, thank you, thank you for responding to my call. I wish that you would take what I give you to those at home. Take peace, joy, forgiveness, love. Take mercy! My children, take hold of my mantle and do not let go. For it will give you strength in times of distress and hopelessness. My mantle of mercy has no distractions but helps to keep your goal in sight. My children, my little ones, be not dismayed or disturbed at the world's signs of doom. Keep your faith, and seek to strengthen it. Seek the purification of this faith: a great gift from God. I will bring to you signs of faith in your lives.

¹²⁴ From the notes of Mary Constancio: I could see a pyramid of men (of Gods servants) on their knees with the new men standing on them bringing them closer to God. Praise God!

¹²⁵ This message was in response to question about the Oil of Gladness that was given as a gift from Our Lady.

My beloveds seek out; seek out what you have at your hands this very moment. Many a saint, many an angel has desired what great treasure that has been given to you today.

Thank you for your honor, for it brings glory to God.

My children, there are many with disbelief. My children ask for the grace to believe.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you. Thank you for celebrating with me today. I invite you to continue this pilgrimage 'til you reach eternal salvation. I invite you with a most loving heart to visit me here on my next Feast of the Assumption and bring others with you.¹²⁶

September 1, 2007

My dearest beloved sons, thank you for responding to my call. You are indeed my children. It is a great honor that God has given you to me and me to you. My sons, special and unique, how can I tell you of the great love we have for you if you will not believe me?

My children, many of you were on the wrong path, but you have come to my Sanctuary of Grace, where there is a reservoir of graces for you to feast on. My son, no longer will you sacrifice your family, yourselves for nothing. Decide today that everything is for God. Allow him to be your Father, to bless you, to cover you with his love and mercy. My sons, do not turn your back on what you know is truth but run to the giver of this truth, the truth that will set you free. My children moisten your lips with the gift of praising God. All of your stress and disturbance of your mind will be lifted, for your focus will be on God. Come, come my ¹²⁶ Mary Constancio also wrote this in her notebook: There were angels dancing all over with great joy. There were celebrating. They were throwing rose petals all over you. She blessed the handkerchiefs and rosaries and all your objects of faith to bring you more faith. Our Blessed Mother came in a bright white dress. Then I saw her with flames, as the Holy Spirit covered her. The flame of her love, she wants that I embrace with that flame. The flame will keep you burning for the love of God. Send forth the flame of love to all mankind, as she tells us in her rosary message.

She called me her little rose of Shallowater (instead of the rose of Sharon). She asked us again to leave her imprint of mercy on others.

“My child, you must be this rose that is open always to those whose hearts are as the winters, that are cold. This rose will be the warm gentle fire that melts the hardest of hearts.”

children, and receive your hope of salvation, your hope of a new life. Do not be disturbed, for I am only a thought away.

My sons, peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you. Thank you again for being here with me to celebrate this day with me.

My sons, I thank all of you who brought others as servants of mercy, as disciples of mercy. You have and are helping to bring the Kingdom of God.

All of heaven and those in Purgatory, especially your family, was listening to your prayers. Prayers were breaking through many barriers of unbelief, of sickness, and disease.

Your prayers are tearing chains of Satan's stronghold in your life. Many of your family members were being set free from Purgatory. This is my gift to you that you will know this and believe.

October 14, 2007 ¹²⁷

My beloved children, how you honor me with your presence. How you honor me with your love. My children, as you honor me, know that my son is also honored and has joy. My children, do not veer to the right or to the left from your "yes." Do not allow emotions to determine your commitment.

My children, my daughters, honor your husbands as you do me. My daughters, recognize the great calling as a servant of your family. This calling is also a great and mysterious role of the church. This calling is no less than the one to be an ambassador for me.

My sons, honor my daughters with respect for this calling. Do not hinder them from loving you as I would lead them.

My children, rejoice today, for I have great and wondrous duties for you to fulfill. I would ask that you fulfill them with joy.

My beloveds, reach out in awe as you stand before one another, and behold what great work God is doing in one another. My child, I reach out today to you in love and with the great gift and grace of faithfulness. I have instructed your guardian angels to remind you of ¹²⁷ From Mary: I saw our Blessed Mother and Jesus ride upon a white horse. I saw an army of angels on angel horses surround us. Then our Blessed Mother said she had such an army for each one of us. Wow.

I thought she was only going to send one angel with each one of us, and she said there was an army your commitment.

My children, peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.

Thank you for being here today.

November 11, 2007

My beloved sons, I am deeply pleased and honored that you are here. My sons, you bring joy to my Immaculate Heart, and so I also wish to bring joy to you. My children, how I wish that you would come to a place of profound understanding of my love for you. Please be assured that you are in my heart. My children, my sons, do not despair for your sins; only despair if you refuse to repent. My sons, focus your attention on the goodness of God, not on your weaknesses and sins, for all things are possible with God. For, our God exists, and he exists to bring you unto himself. My sons, you do not understand the great and awesome gift you have given to the Body of Christ, to your brethren who need God. Thank you. Thank you for your yes to your commitment.

My sons, I grace you today with a grace to be victorious over pride, a pride that blinds you and binds you to your will. My sons, I am removing from you the scales from the eyes of your heart, the scales of indifference to prayer and fasting: this is the true mark of a warrior for Christ.

Thank you, my sons, my children, for being here tonight.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.¹²⁸

My sons attend to your duties as husbands as fathers to your families. Do not neglect what God has gifted you with! Do not neglect your duty as the sons of the Almighty. Give to God what is due to him. And he will care for everything else.

February 9, 2008

My precious and beloved sons, there are so many hearts that are ready to receive me and ¹²⁸ From Mary Constancio's note pad: I saw our Blessed Mother all in white and little children all around her as though they were in their communion attire and she was telling us to prostrate ourselves before the tabernacle and I didn't know why other than Jesus had been in the tabernacle, but she reminded me of the Blood of Jesus on the corporal. Then I understood.

Then I saw rockets like fireworks going into the sky and popping with bright and beautiful colors and she said that's how prayer and fasting work to get the Father's attention. I saw even banners like on planes across the sky. These banners are our prayers.

receive my son, but there are still a few who want more proof of God's existence. There are humble hearts, those ready to believe. There are hurting hearts that cannot see past their pain. There are fearing hearts, unable to take the step of faith; they are afraid of what God will ask of them. There are those hearts that take for granted God's graces; thus are unfaithful to what he gives and become ungrateful for what they've been given.

My beloveds, where do you find your hearts today? If God required you today, in what condition is your heart? Are you ready to give over to him your heart?

My children, I have come to tell you, it is not too late, for I have come with graces of conversion. The Holy Spirit will bring these to you in a most powerful and complete love. My children, my sons, there is no use in hiding your actions, for I even know your motives for these actions. Jesus, my son, has come to restore to you what has been stolen and what you have given away. He wants to restore your health; he wants to restore your innocence; he wants to restore your purity.

My sons begin tonight these blessings by forgiving. As you forgive, you give way to love; and love, this kind of love, leads to God. For God exists. He is not the God of yesterday or tomorrow; he is the God, the I AM of now. For he is not the God to forget or the God to remember: he is the God to live in; for the Kingdom of God is here. He is within you if you want him. My children, always know that I love you, and I am only a prayer away.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.

Thank you for being here today.

February 28, 2008¹²⁹

My beloved children, it is of a grateful and joyful heart that I come to you today. My Disciples of Mercy, you will go with a fire in your heart to bring others. Those you touch, those you smile at will be touched with this fire. My children do not despair for anything, for in all things, God is in charge.

My beloved, blessed, blessed are you for your faith and your belief in me. Thank you for bringing me into your hearts. My son to rejoices for this honor.

My children break forth in songs, psalms, and every kind of praise, for the Kingdom of

¹²⁹ 20th Anniversary of the Queen of Mercy. Given at the Mercy of the Holy Trinity Retreat

Heaven is upon you. Blessed are you. It has pleased the Father greatly to shower this upon you in a greater way.

Be ever so ready to respond to his call, and be generous with whatever he calls from you. Do it with joy and fervor, for the Lord loves a cheerful giver. My child, become as one of these little ones¹³⁰ who have no care of how their food or clothes shall come, and yet they are well fed and protected so that they can face who God has called them to be.

My children, how my heart burns for love of you, and this will never end until you are here with me. We will both struggle together to get you here. I have called my many faithful servants to join me in this struggle for and with you.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.

Thank you for being here today.

May 3, 2008

To my beloved sons, I have called you, each one of you. This weekend, this time here is no mistake. This time learning about God, about my son, and his ways is a turning point for your life. There is grace for everyone. There is enough forgiveness, enough love, enough mercy for everything you bring me tonight. My sons, whatever you have been looking for, you can find here, you will find my son, for he is your everything and your all. With him, your life is to be found complete. Without him, life is but a flash, a shadow of what God can do.

My children, do not be afraid to open your hearts. Do not be afraid; you will not be rejected. You will only be loved to your capacity. You will only be asked to do what has been given to you through grace.

My sons, young and old, come to me as your mother, and I will prepare you for salvation, for eternity.

Peace. Peace. Peace of Jesus be with you. Thank you for being here with me.

Again, I invite you for my celebration of the Feast.

I cannot defend you unless you drop your defenses.

God cannot be in control unless you give your control over to Him.

¹³⁰ There were 4 very young boys in the chapel with their mother at the time of the message.

August 15, 2008

My beloved children, I am so pleased and honored that you have come to be with me. Thank you for being here today. My beloved, you must listen to the signs. The signs are to lead you to where you should go.

Pray, pray, pray for your nation and for its leaders. Pray that God may mercifully place a leader in your midst that will fear Him, for this fear will bring him to love God and to do his will.

I continue to call the lost and forsaken, those without hope, those that are hungry for God. I pass on this task for you to do: The task of loving to the point of turning the hardest of hearts to God.

My children, thank you for all of you who have said “yes” to the service of God. Come follow the ways of mercy, for they will lead you to the paradise of love.

I am blessing you today with the grace of true discernment, the grace to avoid evil in all its forms. Your eyes will be opened to see that which is poison to your soul; that which is harmful even to your physical being.

There will be a new awareness of directions you are to take, my children, how I wish that you all be with me in paradise.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.

Thank you for being here today.

Remember that as you embrace, you are embracing with my arms and my heart.¹³¹

August 30, 2008

To my beloved sons, I thank you for being here today. Thank you for your hands, your feet, for your heart. My beloveds take to heart these words: love the Lord your God with all your ¹³¹ Mary Constancio’s notes: I see gold falling from heaven. This gold is to represent our time with mercy and prayer will pave our way to our Lord.

She (our Blessed Mother) also wants me to remind you of the family prayer nights of Thursday and Friday. She wants us to return to the Blessing of our children and of our family.

The Rosary is a light to light the way of Jesus as you believe and study the Rosary; you will recognize that Jesus is in the light of the Rosary.

heart, soul, mind, and strength: for in this way, you are to walk daily in the Kingdom for your brothers and sisters. Be faithful to your yes. Be transformed into the light of my son. Do not be afraid of your past or your present, or even the future. Be concerned for your now that is to be placed in the Father's hands. He alone can take care of your tomorrow. Be ever so ready to allow him to take care of all the consequences of your yes to him.

My sons, I am your mother who responds to your call, who responds tonight with compassion, with mercy.

Thank you for being here.

Peace. Peace. Peace of Jesus be with you.

October 1, 2008¹³²

SICKNESS OF THE SOUL

The sickness of Sorrow brings about despair, cancer, and autoimmune disease.

The sickness of Disobedience brings about witchcraft, drugs, and alcohol.

The sickness of Distrust in God brings about worry – ulcers.

The sickness of Unlove brings about hunger and deprivation to the soul – brings anger, insecurity affecting the liver and kidneys. Unlove is the most detrimental to a soul.

The sickness of Criticism of Words brings about bone and muscle diseases.

The sickness of Unkind Acts brings untrust in God. Patience and kindness, doing kind acts will turn this around. The lack of kindness brings loneliness.

The sickness of Hopelessness brings death, mental illness.

The sickness To be Right drives away relationships.

The sickness of Unforgiveness brings about the rewards of hell and all its fury – it brings unpeace of the heart, soul, and mind.

¹³² Mary Constancio stated that the Blessed Mother came and took her by the hand into a dark room. In that room where sick people in beds. Our Lady took Mary Constancio to each person and explained what made them sick:

The sickness of Inconvenience brings poverty.¹³³

I want that you bring about the Good News of the Gospel – that you discover and put into practice the promise of the kingdom. I desire that you love my children to life with resurrecting words, with words that will draw souls out of their pain and misery. Be aware of how you choose your words of discouragement and of criticism. These words bring about death and dying. Bring to me all your words, thoughts of despair, worry, and hopelessness, for these will not only influence your today and tomorrow but those around you also. Let words of life; let the living waters flow from your mouth; by your smile, by your words that you speak, and those that you don't.

If you have my smile on your face, then you know good will come from the messenger of your soul.

Stand up! Stand up! Strip yourselves of all kinds of vile things said against you and those you've said about yourself. Take off those things that will only weigh your heart and mind down from reaching the goal God has set for you.¹³⁴

From God the Father:

Thousands will fall to one side and the other, but your heart, your soul will not be singed by this fire of doom and gloom of this impending doom that people think is going to happen. For I, the Lord your God, am in control of all. My children must remain faithful to what I have called them. Remain steady on your journey. Do not look to the right or to the left to be rescued; my hand is long enough to pull you out when it is time. So look to the Cross for your salvation, look to the resurrection for your victory. This home will beat my love to others. This ministry will sing and praise the words of hope of my existence. Nothing, nothing, nothing happens without me. Worry has blinded you and made you deaf to my faithfulness, to my promises, to my love. Listen now to the signs of life, the signs of the forefathers: I even opened the Red Sea to the unfaithful because of my faithful son. Stand firm, press down, and know that I have gone before you: I am with you, and I will go after you. Do not fear, for fear is useless. It is only useful to the devil. Do not give him any tools to work against you. You have given him much, but today your almighty, omnipotent Father has removed these tools from him: he has not power over you except that which you give him in anger, greed, and words of death, for I am your Father, your God, your Yahweh, your ¹³³ See the footnote of October 14, 2011 for several more sicknesses.

¹³⁴ From Mary Constancio's notes: Praising – praising will bring about God's will.

everlasting joy, your hope.

October 14, 2008

My beloved Ambassadors, so close are you to my heart. For I know the battle is furious, and many casualties are at the enemy's forces. My children, my children, fear not, for I am protecting and defending you with the mighty Army of Justice and Mercy.

Stand up and be counted among the merciful. This army cannot be defeated, for God is at the head and my son is your breastplate, and the Holy Spirit speaks and proclaims the words of life: life of the Spirit, life of the blood, life of the flesh. Be therefore expectant of the miracles that will come thus forth from your mouth. For just as the furious battle forges on, you must be content with the result, for this is not your battle. You are just the casualties of the demons' fury.¹³⁵ For he sees and knows the great victory that is being used through you.

My children, how joyful I am at your presence.

Peace, peace of Jesus be with you, and thank you for being here today.¹³⁶

November 08, 2008 ¹³⁷

My beloved sons, there is a great calling to the men: that all men should be men for the glory of God. My sons, I call again for the most triumphant forms of prayer: Holy Eucharist, prayer from the heart, fasting. This will shoot the arrow into the hearts of these men that cannot choose for God and his ways.

My sons, resound the eternal word with authority and confidence that your prayers and petitions are being heard.

¹³⁵ Mary Constancio explained that this means that the battle is between Satan and God, and we get hit by the debris and spinoffs from the battle.

¹³⁶ Mary Constancio's vision: I see a garden of flowers in the Kingdom, and there are different gardens, all giving glory to God—all are different.

Those of you that are here have been picked for this day—this day to bring me joy with your presence.

We are to pray and fast for the rest of the garden, for this will bring forth the rivers of living water to those that are needing this sacrifice of love.

We are to pray the chaplet of mercy over each name every night.

¹³⁷ Mary Constancio told the men that King David, Saint Paul, and Saint Anthony preceded the Queen of Mercy with words of fire coming from their mouths: "Praise the name of Jesus. Praise the name of Jesus. Blessed be his holy name. Blessed be the name that made heaven and earth. Blessed be his holy name. Blessed be his mother. Blessed be our mother."

My sons, thank you for being here tonight.

Peace. Peace of Jesus be with you.

February 07, 2009

My sons,¹³⁸ I am your mother of mercy. I am also your mother. I see you without a path without direction in your lives. Many of you have come searching, searching for direction because you are lost. There is no joy, no peace, and some of you have even lost your families, your jobs, and perhaps even your lives. But you have a merciful God full of compassion and love. He has been waiting for you to give yourselves to God. He is faithful. He is a God who can, a God that knows everything, today, yesterday, tomorrow. You have what you have been looking for! Stand up because God has heard the cries of your heart.¹³⁹

Listen, my children, to your brothers who speak words of wisdom, words of life, words that will bring you hope. Hope to change those things that seem hopeless, to change things that seem like they will never change. My sons, follow the path my son has already paved for you.

Praised be the name of Jesus! Praised be the name of Jesus!

Thank you for being here tonight.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.

February 28, 2009¹⁴⁰

My beloved children, you have been called. You have been called. Will you respond to my call? I am calling you to forgive. I am calling you to love. I am calling you to be at a higher place of grace, to show mercy. It is mercy that responds with love and understanding. It is mercy that can live without pride and resentment. It is mercy that can restrict the pain of judgment from taking root in your heart.

My children, how will you respond to my call? How will you respond to my whisper to your heart when the inconvenience of love comes? My beloveds, how I sorrow when needless suffering is taking place at this moment.

My little children, bring your children to me. My children take to heart these words: I have called you by name. Take all your suffering in the past, present, and future and offer them to my son. He will, and he has already, atoned for it. My children, this lent I call you to fast and pray. Fast and pray that you and your family, that the rest of your brothers and sisters in Christ can resist the enemy in his fury against your nation, your world.

¹³⁸ Translated from Spanish

¹³⁹ End of translation

¹⁴⁰ Given at the Sickness of the Soul Retreat

My beloveds, thank you for being here today.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.¹⁴¹

Renounce the evil past. Renounce the works of the devil you have done for him. Renounce the work of pride in you.

Re-live now in the name of Jesus. Purposely live for him. Purposely love for him-purposely die to yourself for him.

May 02, 2009

My beloved children, the heavens are in awe of what they see: these men of God that struggle to do the will of God. I ask for the grace of perseverance and wisdom for each and all of you. God in his great, great and magnificent mercy is showering you at this very moment with the grace to endure your trials in joy and the resolution to wait on God. My sons, how much joy you have brought to the kingdom of God. There has been a great battle, and the battle continues to pound this generation with division. Be ever so ready to stand firm in your commitments, and most especially those you have done in the name of the Holy Trinity: Father, Son, and Holy Spirit.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.

Thank you for being here tonight.

Mary Constancio asked the Blessed Mother, “What was happening in the world and especially with the reduced number of persons coming to the retreats”? The following was her reply:

My daughter, you are seeing part of the Chastisement: Men have chosen to do their will. They have cried out to be free of God, free to do all kinds of evil without consequences. If ¹⁴¹ From the notebook of Mary Constancio: I saw our Beloved Mother and all her warriors being sent out to all of the homes to be cleaned out. I saw all of our prayers and our fasting attached together being dropped over the world to bring about conversion. (This was as light falling on a dark world.) There can be a purpose for all.

you choose to live without God, you choose death; you choose to be in Satan's playground, which has no mercy, only death of the soul, heart, and your conscious.

You are seeing and feeling the wrath of Satan against the victory of the Cross.

My child, it is so important that you protect your family with the blood of my son: the Lamb of God. Like in the day of Moses when the blood was on the doorposts, so must you place this protection around your hearts, your mind, and your soul.

This is not to bring you fear, but it is to bring you to stand and gird your loins in the holiness of God. You have been called to defend the Body of Christ.

I see a darkness that covered the nation when the new administration took over: the demons of death have been unleashed. Repent if you have been involved in any way with abortions. Cleanse your hands of any blood sacrifices. Bring to me your holy praises unto God, and together the triumph of the cross will come at the appointed time.

There are now, at this moment, all kinds of inconceivable sacrifices being done. Only thru the sacrifice of the Sacred and Powerful Blood of Jesus will this be put to an end.

Be ever so ready to say yes when I call on you. Come forward and be Disciple of Mercy.

August 15, 2009

My beloved blessed children, how glorious a day it is today. How glorious is every day when God is first in your lives. My children, allow for every area of darkness in your life to be removed. Let the light shine, and the love of God will remove the destruction of sin in your soul.

My children, how joyful I am to see families worship together. When families worship together, Satan's kingdom is melted with this kind of love. Seek, seek to pray together. Bondages of every kind will be broken in families. The greater the unity, the more victories you will have over sickness and disease in your family.

My children, you need each other. You need each other's comfort of love. My children, I sorrow upon seeing the many, many destructions of the Holy Families. My children, the scales of injustice and destruction of my families will be overturned with you coming together and praying. Pray the rosary. Pray, pray, pray for those in authority over you that God will triumph.

My children run under my mantle of love, of mercy. I am your mother. My children, remember, I am only a thought away. I am not far away. I am as close as your heart.

My holy ones seek after being holy that grace alone can bring about the conversion of your heart. My children, do not neglect the sacrament of the Church that brings to you life and those desires to seek after holiness.

My children, peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.

Thank you for being here today. ¹⁴²

September 5, 2009 ¹⁴³

My beloved sons, thank you for responding to my call.

My sons, thank you for your sacrifice – I have taken it to heart. Know my beloveds that our Almighty and Omnipotent Father is smiling, for he sees the struggle, and in this struggle, you are becoming the warriors for his kingdom. There is no mistake that he has called you to be men – men of God. It is no mistake he has called you here.

My beloved sons, I welcome you most joyously into a new path set for you by our Lord.

My beloveds, learn to be meek and humble as my sons: for too many of you, this will be a great sacrifice of love. As my son, the teacher will teach you as his students to be docile as a reed blowing in the wind: the wind of the Holy Spirit: ever so gentle, and kind and firm.

My beloveds, do not fear, for God will give you the grace to be those men of God that will run to the Goliath of your life. My sons, be ever so ready. Be ready.

My sons, thank you for being here tonight.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.

October 14, 2009

Thank you, my children, for coming to celebrate with me today.

¹⁴² Special message from Our Lady, “I want to thank all my ambassadors for loving enough to bring their time and support to my children.”

¹⁴³ Mary Constancio wrote in her journal before she received the message from our Lady: “I see what seems to be a courtroom, God as judge, Jesus as the Advocate, our Blessed Mother as the one praying. All the men are lined up one at a time and each one being vindicated with the Blood of Jesus. The spirit of condemnation is being lifted off of you.”

The great joy of hearing your “yes” has produced much prayer for you: just as in my “yes” that brought many trials and tribulations because of the great and everlasting conversions. The most important conversion is your own, for, through your conversion to follow God, many saints and martyrs have come to be. Through your “yes,” many, many souls will be saved.

My beloved children, as a mother speaks to her children, I speak to your hearts not to conform to this world’s wiles, for this will bring much confusion. Do not make things more complicated, for this brings more upon your shoulders than God has willed.

The message is simple: to love and serve God. We serve God because of our love for God. We love God because he loved us first. My beloveds, it is so important that you have each other to encourage one another to holiness and to remind you of the simple message of love, of forgiveness.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.

My beloved children, what joy it brings to my heart to see my family pray for one another in love. This is a celebration of life, love, and mercy for God and for one another. The gift of yourself you have offered to one another is so great. It is a mystery now – only to be revealed in the life to come.

November 7, 2009

My beloved sons, you honor me greatly with your presence and, most especially with your love and faith. Your faith continues to draw others here.

My beloved sons, you come seeking answers; you come seeking a resolution to your problems; you have come to the right place. For any time, faith and love for God and men are the gifts of love flowing freely; this too sets you free of your iniquities.

My beloveds, seek first the Kingdom of God, and you will find treasures beyond your imagination.

My Disciples of Mercy, you are conquering many, many Goliaths, not only in your life but in those that you touch with your “yes.” You are counted among the few who have kept to your “yes.” It is by the grace of God that you are here, pray for those who have not responded to the call of love.

My children, you are in my Sanctuary of Grace. Open your hearts completely so that all the graces that are meant for you, that have your name on them, may be absorbed into your soul.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.

February 13, 2010

My beloved sons, to God, be the glory! Sing praises, sing, sing, sing for God has heard you. You are his beloveds.

Many of you have roamed this world aimlessly, looking and not finding because you intended to do it your way. God in his mercy has brought you here. The mercy of God has named you as his own. Now walk as children and men of the light. Go therefore and proclaim not only in words but, most importantly, in action.

Behold, I have come down to remind you that my son was crucified for all – all of your sins. There is no exception. Ponder at this moment your greatest sins; now give them to my son crucified so that you can be resurrected.

My sons, my beloveds go and sin no more.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you. Thank you for being here tonight.¹⁴⁴

February 28, 2010¹⁴⁵

My beloved children, how blessed I am to be among you, as you honor me this most blessed day. Rejoice, rejoice, for God has such a heart full of joy to see your faith, for it moves him to answer your prayers to bless more and above than you could ever expect and imagine.

My children, my Ambassadors, I am ever so grateful for you are a gift to me from our Lord. My Disciples of Mercy, blessed, blessed are you, for you have been chosen to see and live for God.

What others hope for, what the learned and the schooled think they have, you have received. There is no spiritual gift that has been withheld from you, for you have sought them out, you have knocked at the doors of the hardest of hearts, and they have been opened to you, and there lie the treasures of the Kingdom. It is in loving, in forgiving, in showing mercy that these treasures are uncovered.

¹⁴⁴ Special note to the men: Our Beloved Mother wants to thank all of you and bid to thank your wives and families for blessing you to be here.

¹⁴⁵ Given at the Unleashing Healing by the Power of the Holy Trinity Retreat

My children, if you could only see what we see, you would not be disappointed. You would exalt in joy as we are at your perseverance, at your endurance, for blessings upon blessings are the fruit of those who wait and hope upon the Lord.

My beloved daughter, do not fear, my Mary, for your commitment to love is ever going to be increased, and your own desires of your will will decrease.

Thank you, my children, for honoring me today and being here.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.

Humility begins with a grateful heart.^{146 147}

May 15, 2010¹⁴⁸

My beloveds, I want to inflame your hearts with the fire of love. My sons, do not be afraid to expose your hearts to one another. For as you do, that deep-rooted sin will come to the top and be plucked out of your heart.

My sons commit to my son, to one another your lives, to my son to live what's left of your lives to God and for God. You will see the Glory of God ring thru your hearts. Do not perceive to know what God thinks of you. Be it known to you that God loves you. Tonight, this weekend, he is filling your cup to overflowing.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.

From Jesus:

Here I am calling you each by name. Your lives are no secret to me. For this reason, I died. Here touch my wounds. Touch your heart. Touch your wife's heart. Touch your families' hearts, and you are touching my wounds. They these wounds are real, and I wish to bring healing for your empowerment to become real in your lives.

My brothers, I will not talk to you in parables. Repent and be healed and filled with the Holy Spirit. Go and sin no more.

I want that your hearts be inflamed with my love. Go, therefore, and do the same.

¹⁴⁶ The definition of humility was not written down but Mary Constancio said the Blessed Mother had been given her this definition.

¹⁴⁷ Mary Constancio stated that an angel of gratitude was sent home with each person.

¹⁴⁸ Queen of Mercy came with Jesus and Moses.

From Moses:

My brothers, listen to God. Be obedient children. Do not look back and move ye therefore forward with no resentment and no murmuring. Believe in the promise given to you. Pick up your pace in following God. Indeed! Indeed! You are blessed. Go forth and take these blessings to your family.

You are being empowered as Men of God. Be the example of holiness. Do whatever it takes to put this into practice. ¹⁴⁹

August 15, 2010

My beloved children, thank you for responding to my call. It pleases me greatly that you join your prayers as a family. My children, I am sending you the grace today to persevere in what God has called you to do. Do not turn to the right or to the left, for this path is lined with the graces you need to fulfill God's will.

Take what I have given you already. My motherly instructions are to lead you and guide you, to bring you peace and joy of the Lord.

My beloveds, be ever so ready with your weapon of the rosary, for it will defeat the obstacles that keep you from God.

Now, my children, I wish that you would also persevere in going to Holy Communion, the Blessed Sacrament of Reconciliation. My children, all of these graces lead you, guide you, strengthen you to be that tower of love that God wants you to be.

I need you to be a reflection of the mirror of my son, Jesus. I want that you be an oasis of peace.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you and thank you, thank you, for being here today with me. Thank you for the sacrifice to seek out my son in me.

September 4, 2010

Mary Constancio wrote: Our mother has come as the Queen of Heaven. ¹⁵⁰

¹⁴⁹ From Mary's notes: I see that men are going home and blessing their families with graces given to them. I see them holding up their hands as Moses did to part the Red Sea in their lives.

¹⁵⁰ Our Blessed Lady came with a crown on her head. She was crowned by her son. She opened her heart to me so that I could see what was happening or has happened in your lives. She had tears of sorrow for so much pain – the pain we inflict on one another.

Mary Constancio received this vision: Husbands and wives arguing and making each other feel like there is no hope – no God. Brothers hate brothers. Mothers are killing their children. Wives are uprooting the good of the husband who follows God is doing. Husbands are not protecting and using the gifts given to them for their families.

Queen of Mercy:

My beloved sons, I wish to bring peace, peace to your home, to your abode.

Come to me as you are, and I will love you through the mercy that I have been given so that you can live out this mercy.

My beloveds, I would wish that you would gather your family to pray a rosary together. You will see how your mountain of problems will tumble to nothing so that there can come a peace that no man can give.

My beloveds, if you could see only a few seconds of clear vision of God's plan for you, you would cry with joy. Our doubts and our fears, our lack of wanting to love, keeps you from humbly walking this path, this plan God has intended.

My sons, you are here because your name has reached the Father's ears; he is here to bless you, to be your Father. Call to him. Call to my son for the forgiveness of your sins. You will be forgiven.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.

Thank you. Thank you for being here today.

October 14, 2010

My beloved children, remain with me as you pray, as you work, and as you love. Rely not on your love to love. Rely not on your forgiveness to forgive. Call on my son, for he is the teacher and master of this grace.

My beloveds, it pleases me greatly to see you here that I may bless your hearts for your faith. My beloveds, I will ask of you this day to be of one mind, one heart. Do not be afraid to open your heart, to love, for I am there.

When you are afraid, you base your decisions on fear. When you are angry, you base your actions on anger. When you are hurt, you retaliate with pain. I wish that you would begin to show mercy when you are angry, when you are in pain, and you will see how all of these will be melted off.

Again, I bless you with my love. Empty yourselves this day of judgment, of condemnation, of fears, of anxiety, of disturbances of the heart, of expectations; give them to me. I will fill you with holiness, with boldness to do what is right in the sight of God.

My children, thank you for being here today and celebrating with me this day,

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.

October 16, 2010¹⁵¹

I wish, my beloveds, that you seek after holiness. I wish that you would seek it daily with the intention to be holy. Seek it with a purpose to please God.

My children, no longer do you seek to please God, but you seek to be holy to satisfy yourselves. No longer do you seek to love, but you seek to be loved. My children, no longer do you seek to be merciful, but you seek to retaliate and get even.

My beloved children, I will help you in your journey to be holy. I have instructed you, I will instruct you. I will guide you if your hearts are open and ready for this journey, for the Holy Spirit is kind and gentle. And so, we are ready; heaven is ready to hold you by your hand and by your heart. Bring to me your doubts; bring to me your weaknesses. Bring to me all your reasons of “why not,” and I will strengthen your weary hands and weary souls. I will help your “yes.”

My children, take to heart these words: Be Holy for God is Holy, and he is calling you to this.

Thank you, my children, for opening your heart.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.

November 7, 2010

My beloveds, I come tonight with a heart full of love to bestow on each one of you. This love comes from the chambers of God’s love, his love, his mercy. This love is not earned now or ever. It is a total complete gift from the one who gives generously. I am ready to be emptied out into you. Please ask yourself if you are ready to receive? Do not deny me of this joy, this joy of giving you the grace to follow God's plan for you. My son's it pleases me and rejoices me that you are here, seeking, serving, and some of you abandoning your old selves to me and to my son.

¹⁵¹ This was an unexpected message given to Mary Constancio that Our Lady wished to be placed in this newsletter.

My beloveds, continue your effort to be holy. As you seek this, know that the world will despise you and ridicule you. When this happens, you know that you are on the right path. My son's take to heart these words, for at this moment, this moment in time, God has chosen that I be here with you. No other place has the blessing of my words being spoken to them.¹⁵²

My sons, thank you for being here with me. Thank you for the gift of you.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.

January 22, 2011

I wish to shower my sons with graces and virtues of love. With this love, there is no limit to what God can do through you. My sons, be ever so mindful of what your mouth speaks, for from them has come curses and blessings: let it not be so. Let your mouth be a mouthpiece only to speak these things that glorify our Almighty and Omnipotent Savior.

My beloved sons, I am pleased that so many of my disciples of mercy are here. My sons, you have come because you have been called. No greater a calling is there than this. My beloved sons, I am now calling a greater army, and I will call you for this task. My sons, take to heart these words today, at this moment. All obstacles are cleared so that your prayers can be heard by the Almighty. Stay on the path God has shown you. The path of love is first. Protect it and stay focused on this path. I am showering on you today the grace to persevere. Be faithful, for God is faithful.

Thank you, thank you, my children, for being here tonight.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.

It gives me great joy to hear your prayers of the heart. For it calls forth the power of God through his instrument of the angels.¹⁵³

¹⁵² Mary Constancio stated to the men that normally Our Blessed Lady is appearing at multiple places in the world at the same time, but that on this special night, for this moment in time she was only these men in Shallowater.

¹⁵³ Note from Mary Constancio: I see that I am to bless the hands as they hold their hands to receive

February 28, 2011 ^{154 155}

My beloveds, it brings me great joy to be with you today. I have been with you for this weekend in a special way: the way of mercy. My children, I wish that you take this mercy and spread it to those that need mercy. My children, that would be all of those that are around you, and all of those that you have met, and all of those you will ever meet.

My children so many of my people are wandering in the wilderness lost and afraid, they do not know how to reach the promised land, they cannot see beyond their own pains and misfortunes, past their sins, but a kind act of mercy will be their guiding light to this land filled with milk and honey, life and blessings. My children persevere, endure to live a life holy, void of sinful actions. Live life full of merciful actions instead. My children, my Disciples of Mercy, more will be called from you, so more grace will be given to accomplish this calling.

Listen. Listen. Listen more than you speak about mercy. Listen and learn what the whispers in the heart have to say, and you will hear me.

Thank you, my little one, for being here today: this feast that we can celebrate together.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.

May 14, 2011

¹⁵⁶I am being shown – and led to a room – where there are beds that are covered with sheets, and she reaches to uncover the dead – they rise.

And she, the Queen of Mercy, says, “I have come to bring the resurrected Christ that is already in them to come closer to my son.”

Then there are those others in the room who are the walking dead are last and are being led the treasures of heaven.

¹⁵⁴ Given at the Mercy of the Holy Trinity Retreat

¹⁵⁵ Mary Constancio wrote in her journal: I see our Beautiful Mother just standing and looking at each soul here and she is so pleased and so proud as a mother to be your mother: there is not one of you she would not accept as her child. I am seeing that she is calling forth so many graces and for each one of you is calling a specific grace: this grace is given to bring the Kingdom of God in your lives, and even what one will do for her. Stay on the path.

¹⁵⁶ From the notebook of Mary Constancio on the vision she saw when the Blessed Virgin Mary came.

astray because of the lack of grace.

Then there are those who have the light of Christ, but because of sin, the light is dimmed and under a bushel basket.

Then there are those who walk, talk in the power of the resurrected Christ.

To all of these, you my sons, I bring my son who is the way, the way out of wherever you find yourself.

My children, at this very moment, there is gnashing of teeth, and the lion growls because you are here.

My beloveds, there is a heaven. My beloveds, there is a hell.

Proclaim today your choice, your decision to seek afterlife to seek after heaven. My children, God exists! God exists! God exists! He is real! He is real! If you are here, it is because our omnipotent Father has heard someone's prayer for you. Why you are here has nothing to do with your decision to be here but God's almighty hand bringing you here, embracing.

My sons do not harden your hearts, for when your hearts harden, you become prideful, and you think that you are in control.

My son's, today I send thee grace to praise, to worship for these will pull you out of pride: they will pull you out of sin.

My sons, I wish today that you would renounce the glamour and deceit of the promises of evil. My children proclaim that you are children of the light, men who proclaim, live, the resurrected Christ.

Thank you. Thank you, my children, for being here today.

Peace, peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.

Renounce also your unbelief and your doubt that God exists and that he has died for you.

From the notebook of Mary Constancio: I see the Lord and the Blessed Mother pulling back doors to see a room past eternity full of people, souls, angels cheering us on. Then I see the fires of Hell wanting to reclaim those who do not believe.

June 25, 2011 ¹⁵⁷

My beloved sons, ¹⁵⁸ prepare yourself to be vindicated, for many of your sins are like a puff of smoke to your lives because you have seen the great and wonderful task and gift you have in bringing your children on the path of salvation.

¹⁵⁹My little ones listen to your heart, for I speak through them and to them. Cling to my son, and he will make sure that you are on the path of glory. My promise to you is that my mantle of protection will be upon you.

¹⁶⁰My sons, the responsibility of these little warriors is a noble and honorable one, for you are to prepare them for the kingdom of God. Do not so worry about being perfect for as long as you are faithful to the perfect one; he will make you perfect in him.

Peace. Peace. Peace of Jesus be with you, and thank you for being here.¹⁶¹

August 15, 2011

My children, my children, my beloved children, how much joy it brings me that you are here! And I would wish that my joy continue as I go home with you; that you would share with others what you have received. Be prepared to be inconvenienced for the love of God, for a little inconvenience now will bring you much joy in the everlasting. Do not leave my sanctuary today without making a resolution to do things God's way. For his ways are far more than you could ever imagine, and he is only asking a small sacrifice from you: to love. Step out, step out of where you are comfortable, and you will find me.

My children, you seek after joy. Seek after knowing how to love, how to surpass your own needs and wants, and seek after God's needs for your heart, for he calls you to return back to him with your whole heart, mind, and strength. Joy is found in the heart of God.

My children bring to me your hearts and give them to me, and you will also see a change in your family's hearts. There is too much talk and not enough action. Place into action the love I described to you. Do not be afraid of what you will lack when you give. Know that everything you give is for the glory of God!

¹⁵⁷ Granddad, Dad and Sons of God Retreat

¹⁵⁸ To the fathers

¹⁵⁹ To the children and youth that were present

¹⁶⁰ To the fathers

¹⁶¹ Mary Constancio added that she felt this retreat would be held once a year, and is special beyond our understanding.

Now, my children, I give you a prayer that everyone here is called to say for all of your brothers and sisters.

INTERCESSION PRAYER¹⁶²

Almighty Father, creator of heaven and earth, creator of all, we plead now for an outpouring of the grace of the desire to follow you and to do your will. Pour out your Holy Spirit of love that your beloved ones would want more, thus seeking you and the source of where to get filled. We call on all the warriors of God to quench the arrows of Satan on God's people, thus allowing your people to say "yes" to you. We pray this with our beloved mother. Amen.¹⁶³

September 3, 2011

My beloved and honored sons, thank you for coming to this banquet of plenty. This banquet has plenty of the graces that you need. My sons, for many of you, the journey here has been a difficult one. You have fought Satan, himself, to be here. Be ever so joyful to know that you have not fought in vain, for we have fought with you and for you. My sons, Satan is real. He is the father of temptation to lead into sin and away from God. My sons, he will use your will to do his work. He will use the world of knowledge: the world of not enough to get your eyes off of Jesus.

My sons, please, I plead with you to follow the path of righteousness. This will teach you the priorities of your life and those of your family. For many of you, the way was lost to you, but now it has found you.

My sons, today I wish that you would pick up the cross of Jesus, which is the cross of moral and right living before God. My sons, our Almighty Father, knows all, sees all, and still ¹⁶² From Mary Constancio: Remember that Our Beloved Mother is not just asking us to pray this prayer by ourselves, but she is going to pray this prayer with us.

¹⁶³ From the notes of Mary Constancio: Our beloved mother says that his children are being devoured by the Satan of More and thus not being satisfied and grateful for what they already have: they are seeking after things instead of God, for these things have become their Gods. Be therefore, satisfied.

I saw the most glorious vision in our Blessed Mother's mantle: she took me into the mantle where it was so so bright, that it was gold.

I felt so loved and safe. She said that this is my refuge for Jesus is here. I was enveloped with so much peace that I did not want to come out. She says that this her mantle is a safe place from the world, from the world entering our hearts.

chooses to love you.

Satan wants to complicate your mind into thinking that God does not see you and know what you do in the dark, for if you want to live in the light, you must bring these things to the light and ask forgiveness.

My sons do not allow Satan to use these weaknesses against you, for he uses it to condemn you and leave you weakened by the burden of guilt.

Peace, peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you, and thank you, my children, for being here.¹⁶⁴

Mary Constancio wrote in her journal, “I am to thank those that have come again and again for the fruit of this will show in their family.

I am also to remind you not to go back to your sin. Ask for prayer, for help.”

October 14, 2011

My beloveds, my precious Ambassadors, I wish that you would accept the calling that has been entrusted to you. Believe without looking back. Move forward without regret. If you have sinned, ask forgiveness. If you have offended someone, seek to restore what has been stolen by your offense. If you have stepped off the path, step back on. If you think you are not worthy of the calling, look to Peter for intercession and know he was there.

My Ambassadors, you are surrounded by a cloud of witnesses that are cheering you on. A cloud of witnesses that will never be disappointed for your weaknesses.

I know these times are difficult to go through, but with grace, nothing is impossible. My daughter, keep your focus on the One that is worthy of your trust, for there is no one else.

My children, remember that my joy for your sacrifices has far surpassed any failure you may think you have. For your faithfulness is shown by your sacrifices.

My beloveds, thank you, thank you, thank you for being here today.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.

¹⁶⁴ Mary Constancio wrote in her journal, “I am to thank those that have come again and again for the fruit of this will show in their family.

¹⁶⁵ My Mary, I am washing away many fears that bring your soul to doubt in our love for you. This is one ingredient to the sickness of your soul that has infused into your kidneys. Another ingredient is guilt. Guilt puts a shield to stop God's love, the Holy Spirit's love, my son's love, and my love. My daughter, put down your shield and allow the healing love of God to infuse all of your being.

November 5, 2011

My sons, you ask why there are so few. There have been many angels of darkness sent to keep my sons in the darkness. Your battle is to pray for the light of truth to be revealed. Do not be afraid of the darkness unless you are in it. My sons combat evil with patience and kindness, but be ever so ready to stand for the light, for the way. Get out of Satan's way when he strikes out to destroy unless you are called to fight this battle.

My sons, thank you for being here and coming to learn about the direction, the laws, the statutes for your life, for this pleases the Father and my son to see you here, to take in the living water into your souls.

My children, my sons all around me: I hear the prayers and petitions of mothers, wives, and children for their beloved husbands, sons, and fathers to become that head of the household and the instructor of their homes to teach holiness and the ways of the Lord. I hear the cry of desperation when there is suffering especially needless suffering. The families, your families, need for you to protect their families against the Satan that only wishes to destroy by separation of families.

My sons seek, keep seeking the ways of the Lord instead of the ways of the world: you will never be abandoned to your own will.

Peace, peace of Jesus be with you. Thank you. Thank you for being here tonight.¹⁶⁶

The only way Satan can have a foothold on your life is if you have mortal sin in your life. Run; don't walk to confession if you have mortal sin.

November 2011 ¹⁶⁷

My beloveds, as you come here to learn about you, learn about my son, and you will know what you are called to be and what you are called to do. My beloveds, heaven will be waiting for you.

¹⁶⁵ From Mary Constancio's notes: I see our Mother washing my feet. She is washing away the lack of love that is shown by rejection; that is shown at discouragement; that is shown by betrayal.

¹⁶⁶ Mary Constancio's note: I see Padre Pio and Mother Teresa here to help us.

¹⁶⁷ Exact date in November of this message was not written down.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.

January 28, 2012 ¹⁶⁸

My beloved sons, as you are being witnessed by angels, saints, and all of heaven, you too shall be a holy witness to God's mercy. His mercy was poured out on you this weekend. This is not a dream, a fantasy of what God is about: this is a truth that no one can change. The grace of patience is being poured out on you today that you would especially be patient with yourself. Be patient with God as he molds you into his image. Be patient with those in charge of you, for God is with you, and he will defend you, he will guide you that God's will be done in you. Be ever so patient with your family, for this patience is seen as the hand of God and his compassion.

My beloveds, let not your heart be troubled for your infidelity against God, for he has brought you here out of his great and unfathomable love for you.

My sons, as you seek God's mercy, there is no greater music to God's ears than that of repentance. The most beautiful choir of angels cannot compare to the sound of coming back to the Father.

There is no greater work than to bring one soul back to God. My sons again, I thank you as you serve your brothers in this way, for not only are you serving those that you see here, but all those families, all those souls that these your brothers are going to touch.

My beloveds, as you repent, if you believe, that power of the Holy Spirit will go with you, will go before you lighting the path with the Light of Christ.

Peace. Peace. Peace of Jesus be with you and thank you for being here tonight.

February 28, 2012

My beloved children, thank you for being here today to celebrate with me this most blessed day. Thank you.

My beloveds, if you could only see through the clouds of darkness, the clouds of your despair, the clouds of sickness and disease, the clouds of pain and sorrow, you would see God's glory shining through. My children, you must persevere and strive towards holiness, and then the light of God's most magnificent glory would and will shine through, even through the darkest storm.

¹⁶⁸ Our Blessed Mother came and gave this message during the men's retreat while the men were reciting a Litany of Repentance. Mary Constancio wrote in her journey, "I see a cloud of witnesses. They are witnessing the repentant hearts who are asking forgiveness for their sins".

My beloveds, how much do you want to love? How much do you want to love? How much do you want to love? My children, how much are you willing to give up? How empty are you willing to become to be filled with this kind of love? Empty yourselves first of all of unforgiveness. Empty yourself of any materialism that keeps you from coming closer to my son. Empty yourself of despair and ask for trust in God. Give God praise for all that you do have.

My children, you have come seeking answers. My beloveds seek after holiness, and all these answers will come.

My children, I look into your heart, and I still see so much sadness. My beloveds with the Kingdom of God that is with you, should you not rejoice instead; for if we were not with you, then truly it would be a time to wail and despair.

My beloveds, how I love you. How I wish that you would follow my ways of mercy, for it is not only for you that I wish this but for all of those that you touch with your words, with your hand and feet and your heart. My children, do not justify being unkind for being kind shows you are children of God.

My beloveds, thank you again for being here today, and peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.

February 28, 2012 ¹⁶⁹

My Ambassadors, I have called you to another level of mercy. Do not forget that you are to be my example of mercy. You are to be that smile of love when you do not feel like loving. You are to ask for forgiveness, to be those Ambassadors to bring others to God. How can you bring reconciliation between God and those that need to know God if you stand in place of needing to be right. Not only will you drive away relationships from you but also from God. My children, you do not understand the great and awesome calling for which you have been chosen, but you have been equipped with graces, graces that others have not even thought of. My children, I have given you much through the love of the Holy Spirit. You are truly, truly blessed.

¹⁶⁹ This message was given to the Ambassadors after the main message of February 28, 2012.

May 05, 2012

My beloved sons, you honor me with your love. You honor heaven with seeking God. You honor the whole of creation of God with seeking things of heaven. My sons, why do you sorrow so when you have already been forgiven? Now embrace joy, hope, and peace for your life, for your family.

My sons seek without rest the treasures of heaven, the treasures God has already given you; the treasures my son has died for. My sons, you have hidden yourself from God, thinking he would not see, but God in his mercy has seen you and has shown you mercy. An ocean of mercy has cleaned you with the grace that you no longer hide in shame, but that you stand in humility and confidence that we love you, that my son has died for you.

My sons, my son has given you a daily portion of all that your soul needs. You have starved your soul from graces that you need to follow the path set before you. I wish that you would seek daily communion in the Eucharist, in the daily sacrifice given for you and to you. You would avoid many, many calamities, many wrong decisions, many abominations if you would daily partake of my son's invitation to commune with him.

My sons, I see your hearts tonight. Some are lonely; some are hurting from pain inflicted on you and pains you have inflicted. Forgive and be forgiven, for this is in the perfect will of your Father.

Peace. Peace. Peace of Jesus be with you and thank you for being here tonight.

August 15, 2012

My beloved children, my sons, my daughters, how pleased and joyful I am that you are here ready to fight the battle – the battle is for my beloved souls. The battle will be fought on your knees first, and then you will be shown how to fight in action. My children, the fight will always be with peace and humility. My children pray, pray, pray for your own family.

I will prepare you to be that warrior to defend the defenseless, the hungry, those that not hunger for food of the flesh but for the everlasting food from heaven. From the youngest to the oldest are being called to put into action God's mercy.

I am pouring onto you, my children. Graces, graces, graces that you will daily need to fulfill God's will.

Thank you. Thank you for being here today. Peace of Jesus be with you.¹⁷⁰ ¹⁷¹From the Queen of Mercy: “I see several people with their swords already. I will use their weaknesses that have been redeemed by Jesus. Many of you have their plans already, but today I wish that you would ask the Lord what he is calling of you.

This is a holy appointment that God has ordained. My children, my Ambassadors, this is what I have prepared you for. For those who are still standing now have the grace they need, for such a time like this is where my saints will come forward.

September 01, 2012

My beloved sons, be therefore ready, for you do not know the hour or day of your calling, be ready to say “yes” today, for God the Almighty has great and wonderful things of which you have not even thought of or considered. Be faithful, stay faithful, and you will see the light of hope. Come through the dark clouds of despair, hopelessness, of doubt, discouragement, and fear.

My beloveds, I give to you today the grace to unite, to come together, of one heart, and of one mind.

My children, my sons, how I thank God for allowing me to be with you, to nourish you, and to strengthen you with the mysteries of God’s mercy. Be ye, therefore, grateful for God’s great mercy upon you. My children, be ready and stand firm in the truths that have been shown to you, for it does what it has been sent to do.

Peace, peace, peace, of Jesus be with you. Thank you for being here today.

My daughter, I want to bless the rosaries so that the prayers said will be heard as they join with their families to pray for the unification of family, your close family with those that you consider family. My Immaculate Heart will triumph in this way, as families come together, know that the Heavenly Family is with you and joins you in your petition and prayers.

¹⁷⁰ From Mary Constancio’s diary: She has blessed all of our rosaries that when we say it with our hearts the prayers will echo all the heavens.

“The Blessed Mother is asking us (the Ambassadors of the Flame of Mercy Ministries) to do 7 days training, every 7th month to empower, to instruct, and most important to receive the graces to fulfill this calling.

¹⁷¹ Mary Constancio asked all those that felt they truly understood what God was calling of them in their lives to stand up.

My children, you are accustomed to praying without expecting your prayers to be heard, but as you seek God with all of your heart, God will show you what and how to pray.

Some of you are full of fear of the future: be ready today, and tomorrow will be taken care of.

October 14, 2012

My beloved children, thank you for being here today. Thank you that you have responded to my call: pray, pray, pray that those that are called will respond to my call.

My children pray and ask for the grace to see through the eyes of mercy and love. My children today, this very moment in time, I am pouring out the grace of awareness: awareness to see beyond your own eyes, your eyes of judgment, your eyes of inconvenience, your eyes of pain and discomfort. My children, if you know you have been called, then act on it.

PRAYER FOR FAMILY UNITY¹⁷²

Father in heaven, you know the hearts of your children, how they are so far away from you. I pray for a desire to come close to you. I pray that I may unite with all of those that are praying for the salvation of souls, and I pray for the salvation of families.

My dear mother, I call on your motherly love and mercy to shower upon us so that we may love and be patient and wait on you as you bring my brothers and sisters closer to you. I pray that you remove the cobwebs from eyes and hearts that we may all seek God as one family.

Holy Family, pray for us. Holy Family, strengthen us in faith. Holy Family, shower us with your love that we may be as you. Teach us how to love. Teach us how to persevere. Teach us how to show mercy in action.

In the Name of Jesus Christ our Lord, name above all names, name most favored by God, name of abundant blessing, powerful name of Jesus, write this name upon our hearts and souls that we may truly know we are yours.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.

November 03, 2012

My beloved children, my beloved sons, there are so many of you here with a heavy heart.

¹⁷² It was requested that we recite this prayer daily.

Your heavy heart comes from guilt and judgment. Know my children that I do not condemn you, nor do I judge, so you should also not judge or condemn you. My sons, why are you in despair? If you are following God's will, you should not feel like a failure, for God is in charge of your destiny. My beloved sons look to hope, look to joy, and walk away from fear. My sons remember only my son has brought you your hope by his death, and he has brought you joy by his resurrection, but you must embrace them, for they are already yours.

My sons, my sons, how I wish you would accept the great love and the great sacrifice that has been given for you and to you for your eyes to see. My sons, they are given to you as gifts freely given so that you can give to others.

My sons, I send the grace to persevere in the atmosphere of persecution, in the atmosphere of unlove. My sons, your response should be that of love and patience.

My beloveds, thank you for being here today, and may the peace of Our Lord fall upon you.¹⁷³

February 09, 2013

My sons, beloveds, many of you have chosen to ignore God as if he will go away. But he will chase you in order to embrace you: If you would stand still long enough for him to love you through his embrace.

My sons, I smile with a grateful heart, a heart full of mercy. I am here not to condemn you for what you have or have not done. I am here by the power of love, the power of the Holy Spirit. I am here to bring you the graces that you need to do the will of God. My children, my beloved sons, my son at this very moment in your life is showering, pouring graces of mercy: love and forgiveness in action. Do not neglect them but embrace them. Do not let this hour of mercy pass without grasping what God is doing for you.

My beloveds, I talk to you as a mother, a mother that concerns, prays, rejoices, and hurts with you and for you. For I see the tremendous battle against my children, the children of God. More than ever, I need your repentance of unforgiveness of justifying why you should not love, why you should not be kind, and why you should not show the mercy of God. My children, when the opportunity comes that you should show mercy. Do not let it go by, for this is your call to stand for God.

¹⁷³ From Mary Constancio's note book about Joe Hoelscher who had previously come to many Macho Men retreats and had died earlier that week: "Joe Hoelscher was here with our Mother. He is so happy – He said the last time he was here he prayed for healing, and he said "Look I am healed.""

My sons, thank you for being here today, and peace, peace of Jesus be with you.

February 28, 2013

My beloved children, here is my love letter to your hearts. You are my beloveds. You are here because my love sent for you. You are here because there is so much of God that you need to share. You need to bring to my children's lives so they, too, can have hope and joy in their trials and tribulations.

Be there for one another, as there is a need. Be an instrument of love, the hands, and feet of Christ, to bring one another comfort, consolation, and joy. Joy, joy, joy, my children, is a sign that the Holy Spirit is in your lives. Joy brings to light things that are in darkness. Inner joy is always there, even when the storms come to quench that joy. But joy will overtake the grief, the emptiness you may feel when things get hard.

See to it, my beloved, that you place your eyes on the one true love and that you do everything for him.

There are so many things that are in my heart to tell you. Pick up the sword. Pick up my messages and pray them. Let them melt into your heart. Let them change your heart as they become part of you.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you and thank you for being here today to spend my special day with me. Now it can become your day also.

For the Ambassadors:

My children, you are on the right path to unity. Stay on that path; do not veer to the right or the left. It is imperative that you come together as a community to pray.

From the Lord:

Amen, I say to you, seek daily my will for your daily tasks so that your toil may never be in vain, but for the glory of God.

Queen of Mercy:

There is a daily battle for your soul, a daily battle to throw you off the will of God, to discourage you, to make you feel that God does not love you. If you believe this, Satan can destroy you with hopelessness. To hope is to know that God loves you and that he has your best interest in his heart.

My daughter, the Flame of Mercy newsletter is to send forth the message of mercy. The message of unity is to bring unity with the calling I have given you.

May 04, 2013

My beloved sons, each one of you has been called by name. This is no accident that you are here, for your father knows your next step, he knows your thoughts and actions. He has called many of you before, and you have turned your back to him: but he loves you no less than before. For he has witnessed all your steps in your coming and your going, and there is nothing, nothing, nothing that you can do in secret that he does not see. But my sons, you are not to look back to what you have done or have not done. You are not to go to the right or to the left, but my son has already paved your path for you. There is no guesswork at what God wants from you, for it has been written for you to follow, for he is the light unto your path. I am blessing these candles¹⁷⁴ to remind you that he is your light, and I am with you to help you reach the goal of heaven.

My sons, if would only knew how much heaven is rejoicing at your being here. For today is a new day, and if you have taken on these words of life, then also you are a new creation. Do not look or pay attention to your inabilities or weaknesses, but look to my son and his victory over them. He has already won the battle for you if you will take it to heart. The battle is of your will, and if you will, hand it over to him. The Principalities and Powers of darkness have already been defeated, but you must stand out of the way for Jesus and the Holy Spirit to see you through the darkness.

Thank you. Thank you, my children, for being here today, and may the peace of my son melt into your hearts.¹⁷⁵

August 15, 2013

My beloved, I bless you, my children, for your faithfulness. I bless you my daughters, my sons, for it rejoices me beyond words: it rejoices the Father, my son, and the Holy Spirit, my beloveds, that you are here celebrating with me for this glorious day that God has prepared for you. Today is no accident. Today is a gift from our almighty, magnificent, compassionate, and loving Father. Listen for he speaks. He speaks; he is alive in your hearts, ready to receive what you have to give. He asks for all of you so that he can bless all of you.

¹⁷⁴ Those attending the retreat were asked to bring a candle with them to this event.

¹⁷⁵ Mary Constancio's note: There is a cloud of witnesses surrounding you today. There are family members of each one of you here. Everyone is so happy that you are here.

My beloveds, today is no accident: it is a divine impartation of God's divinity upon those that will truly seek God with all of their hearts, soul, will, and strength. Some of you are comfortable with only doing a portion of God's will in your life. My children, the young and the old, listen and put into practice the wisdom of God's love. My children, the reason so many suffer needlessly is because they do not trust God. Rather, they choose other things as their God. They depend on money, on family, on jobs to keep them and make them happy. My children, I tell you these words from the treasures of my heart so that you can come closer to my son.

My children look into my heart, the heart of my son. Do you see your reflection? If you do not, there is much work to do. My children, do not lose hope, for I will be with you to help you, to instruct you, to love through those treacherous times. My children, rest in the assurance that God is in charge. Let him be in charge over your life.

My children, today I invite you into my mantle of mercy. Come, come, come all of you who need love, who need hope, who need God. What do you need, my children? I, as your mother, am inviting you into the most holiest of holies so that you can become holy.

My children, thank you, thank you, thank you for being here today with me to celebrate this most glorious and wonderful day.

Peace, peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you. ¹⁷⁶

¹⁷⁷When you say "yes" to God's calling, when you carry the cross of my son and persevere, it is my son in you that will endure to the end. Ask for that grace to say "yes."

¹⁷⁶ From Mary Constancio's notebook: I saw our blessed Mother drop a sea of rose petals over us that we will carry the scent of her love with us wherever we go. I see all the mothers and grandmothers with our Mother: they surrounded the pavilion. There were angels on top of the pavilion.

She is so joyful with the 7-day retreat.

¹⁷⁷ She is so joyful for our "yes" for through our yes so many souls will come to the Kingdom. I was shown that when we say "yes" not only do we see our own families come to God but all who your family will touch.

August 31, 2013

My beloveds, there is a great need for God, for his mercy, for his love.

In your country, there is the denial of God and that he exists. You, my sons, are to be the hand and feet, the heart of God and my son. My beloveds, I am clothing you, I am empowering you with the graces you will need to proclaim God and his existence. My beloved sons, I am so pleased with your search of holiness and of God's heart, for those who seek will find it. Those who ask will receive it. My beloved sons, it is you whom I have called. I have called many, but you have responded with your yes.

My sons, I see the struggle, the struggle to do God's will, to seek God's will, for as you seek, the answer will come. My beloved sons do not look to the right or the left; do not try and figure out whether you can do things without God, for it will always end up unfinished and undone.

My sons, as I have called you, now I send you also but not without grace. There is a cadre of angels that are going with you. My sons, do not let your guards down. Keep fasting; keep praying to get my sons here.

Thank you. Thank you for being here tonight, and peace of Jesus be with you.

October 14, 2013

My beloved children, I am indeed honored to be in your presence. I am so very grateful that God the Almighty Father has sent me to you. My beloveds, these are wicked and dark times for many, but like in the past, with your prayers, especially your prayers of your heart filled with mercy, how can I not answer your prayers and turn these dark times into the times for God's glory to shine and be upon those who seek holiness.

I want today that you throw down your swords of anger, of fear, of pain, for these swords penetrate the hearts of those around you. Now I wish that you pick up the sword of the rosary and pray for your enemies. Pray that God bring to you revelation where you are hurting others, that you may drop that sword and allow Jesus to take it. My children, be ever so ready to serve when I call you, for blessed will you be.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you, and thank you for being here today.

¹⁷⁸My beloveds, continue to pray the prayer I have given you. Now spread this prayer for others to pray with you. Let this fire that was started here be lit wherever this prayer is prayed. My beloved children, unite as one family, and as you pray together, your prayers will be answered.

¹⁷⁸ Concerning the Unity Prayer given on October 14, 2012.

November 09, 2013

My beloved sons, you have come here to receive your cup full of mercy. You have thirsted for my mercy: your thirst can be quenched if you will allow this mercy to wash away guilt and fear. My sons, you have found the way to learn¹⁷⁹, the way to accept, the way to experience this mercy, this great and awesome gift of mercy that will pull you through the gates of heaven and pull you out of the jaws of Satan, the devourer.

My sons, many of you have been in the pits of hell, in the pits of arrogance, in the pits of darkness, where you have taken your family and those entrusted to you. My sons, bring to me your weaknesses as they can be transformed into glory for God.

My sons, what are you waiting for? Why do you wait to do the will of God? My sons, much grace is being showered upon you that you may place into action what I have called of you.

Thank you, thank you for being here tonight. Peace of Jesus be with you.

The hour is now, now, now! Do not take your ease, for the evil one is prowling looking for whom he can devour. When you choose sin, you have left the door of iniquity open, open to the invitation that Satan is looking for. Choose to do right. Choose the righteousness of whom you have sought and found, Jesus. Always fall back into the arms of mercy when you have failed, and you will never be rejected.

January 25, 2014

My beloved sons, you have come seeking God. You have come seeking strength for the journey. You have come to touch the face of God and understand his heart. You have come to the right place, for I dwell among my beloved children.

As you seek the heart of God, you will also be seeking your own. Look not only on what you have not done but look at what you have. My sons, you tend to measure and weigh the good and the bad you have done, but it can never be measured against the goodness and the mercy of God. My sons put on the armor of God so that you can fight the furious battle with humility and love. As you raise your fists to defend yourself, raise your fists to prayer.

¹⁷⁹ Note: The Macho Men of God retreat weekend was focused on the Books of Wisdom found in the Bible: Wisdom, Sirach, and Proverbs. The “way to learn” she is referring to is reading and studying these words of wisdom.

My sons, today is your day, your day to face God with all your heart without hiding anything. Today is the day to make peace with God so that you can be at peace with yourself. My sons, hold not back and give to him your all.

Thank you, thank you for being here today. Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you. ¹⁸⁰

PRAYER TO UNITE OUR HEART WITH THE HEARTS OF JESUS AND MARY

Come Holy Spirit and reveal those hidden things that are an abomination to God so that we may become as a cool breeze to the Father, so that we may bring comfort to our Father when he sorrows; so that our hearts may unite with the hearts of Jesus and Mary through the Holy Spirit.

My sons, it takes courage to pray for the heart of God: and I will bring it to you and prepare you for this grace. I will rout out the root of fear so that you may not fear the night of the soul.¹⁸¹

February 28, 2014

My beloveds, my children, I am so pleased that you are here celebrating with me this special day, this day of great mercy. Because of this mercy, many of your families are being released from purgatory. So rejoice that many are free to pray for you and others in your family.

My grace to persevere is being showered upon you so that you can persevere when unholy and ungodly things are presented before you; that you can remain faithful to your “yes” to God, your “yes” to me.

The “yes” is that you will follow God and put into action all of his ways all the days of your life and that you reject Satan and all of his lies.

¹⁸⁰ Note from Mary Constancio’s notebook: The Blessed Mother is showing me how bad arrogance and pride are: they close the door to God. He stands knocking at the door of your heart and you close it when he tries to talk to you about mercy, about forgiveness. Fling fear out of your life. Run from it as the fire that it is.

¹⁸¹ Saint John of the Cross wrote a poem that narrates the journey of the soul from its bodily home to its union with God. The journey is called “The Dark Night”, because darkness represents the hardships and difficulties the soul meets in detachment from the world and reaching the light of the union with the Creator. Our mother is promising to help us in our journey by removing fear if ask for this help.

Today you are given a clear vision into the Kingdom of God so that you can say “yes” to God.

With all of your heart, give back to God what is His: Give you to Him.

My children, today is a day of consecration. I take you as my own as I also consecrate you to my son, our Father, and the Holy Spirit. Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you, and thank you for being here today.

There is a throng of witnesses as you offer to God yourself. What a great gift to me—to God. The heavens are rejoicing.

I am inflaming your heart with mine.¹⁸²

May 3, 2014

I have come, my sons, to bring you the light. I have come that you may believe that this light has brought the Word, which is a lamp unto your feet, a light, a way of your life. My son, the Everlasting Light, will bring to light all the darkness in your life. There is so much darkness in this world my beloved sons, but you my sons, you who will open your hearts and souls and minds that God may enlighten you to see and understand beyond your understanding into the hearts of men: not that you may judge, but that you may pray.

My sons do not allow Satan to fool you into thinking that your sin is not sin. Do not allow Satan to convince you that bad is good, for there is a chasm between these two.

My sons, be careful in your words, for they are a two-edged sword, and if today you find yourself in need of grace to overcome, ask for it. Ask your brothers and sisters here, for that is why they have been called. My sons, my beloveds, I am here, the Mother of Jesus, your mother to guide you to grace: you to the Glory of God.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you, and thank you for being here tonight.

I wish to bless all the Ambassadors here today to receive extra grace to take the light into the darkness.¹⁸³

¹⁸² Note from Mary Constancio: I see a little flame on our hearts.

¹⁸³ From Mary Constancio's diary: The more we spend time with Jesus the Light, the more we will shine that light.

June 7, 2014¹⁸⁴

My beloveds, we have come with great rejoicing and empowerment to give you all. My children, the joy comes because you are here to learn and to be renewed, restored, and filled with the joy-giver.

My children, my beloveds, the Holy Spirit comes to bring enlightenment into the Kingdom of God. He comes to bring knowledge of your sins so that you can repent. As you repent, your heart is open to receive this grace, this gift of love. This kind of love disrupts your plans and puts into place God's plans for your life.

My beloveds, I wish that you would trust me with your children, with yourselves. This, indeed, is a consecration of your hearts to me.

My children, I am with you; I am praying with you and for you because of the great, great mercy of God.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you, and thank you for being here tonight.

Tonight, I am also empowering you to be a Disciple of Mercy for those who wish this grace.

Today is also a day that has been given many, many graces.

They are being showered upon you to live a holy life. A holy life is a life lived for God!

August 15, 2014

UNLEASH GOD'S LOVE

My beloved, I am so elated with joy that you have come to spend this time with me. As you seek me, you will always find me. I am with you always.

My beloveds, the serpent has been unleashed, and its consequences and the evidence of his presence is the increase of evil. Evil can only be alive without God. You must therefore be the heart of God, the love of God, being unleashed into people's hearts. Do not bind love in your hearts from others, rather love in action, not in feelings.

My children, so many of you wait to feel before you take action, but you must take action to feel.

¹⁸⁴ Mary Constancio's started off this message in her diary: Be it done unto me according to thy word!

My beloved children, how my heart yearns to see you loving one another, praying for one another, sacrificing for one another: this indeed is God in you.

My children pray with me the *Prayer of Unity*¹⁸⁵ so that once again, my children can pray together and bring God back into homes. Pray, pray, pray for the will of God to be fulfilled in this nation, in your family, and yourself.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you, and thank you for being here today.

She wants that our hearts melt into her hands so that she can remold them with mercy. As you pray the Bondage Prayer,¹⁸⁶ add this into the prayer, “Do not wait anymore!”

She wants me to encourage people to come to the *Triumph of the Immaculate Heart of Mary Retreat*¹⁸⁷. The Triumph of my Immaculate Heart is the triumph of my mercy in your hearts. This is when I have won over your hearts to God the Father, Jesus, and the Holy Spirit in love.

When Jesus has triumphed in your heart to forgive, the trumpets¹⁸⁸ have begun to blow!!! Let your hearts be the home of mercy, of love, and forgiveness. Get rid of unforgiveness and vengeance in your hearts. If your life was to be called of you today, what would your anger prove? How would you be remembered? What I wish is that you would be remembered as a soul that loved God above all else.

August 30, 2014

My beloved sons, it overwhelms my heart with joy to see you here to come, to come closer to God.

My sons, many of you have been in warfare for the wrong reasons. Now I call you to be warriors for God. The battle I call forth from you will be done on your knees, and when it is time, then the actions of love will be called forth.

My sons, put down all of your weapons of anger, of fear, of jealousy, of heartbreaks. Lay

¹⁸⁵ See message of October 14, 2012 for the Prayer for Family Unity

¹⁸⁶ See message of October 18, 1988 for the Prayer for Those in Bondage

¹⁸⁷ See note associated with the message of August 15, 2012 in which the Blessed Mother asked the Ambassadors to hold a 7 day retreat every 7 months. This retreat has been called the Triumph of the Immaculate Heart of Mary Retreat.

¹⁸⁸ This is a reference to the message given May 16, 1988: My children, the time is coming soon when my disciples will blow the trumpet to proclaim that which I desire you to know. You are my reason for being here for I hear the cries, I see the agony, I see the promise you have made my Son.

them all down at the feet of Jesus at the cross. Allow Jesus to give you the weapons that you will use for his kingdom. My sons, the first will be to defend your family, defend them with the power of love. This weapon will tear down strongholds: it will tear down the strongest of the fortresses, the hardest of hearts.

My sons, do not close your eyes and hearts to the horror of Satan's attacks, especially those on the families. My sons, this is not just about you; this is about the kingdom of God; this is about serving and thus glorifying the Almighty God. Go forth! Go Forth and proclaim that God exists, and his existence brings mercy, brings his love, brings his forgiveness, but it also brings his justice. If you are angry at anyone, forgive them. If you are afraid, bring it to me.

My sons, I again invite you to come to learn the ways of mercy. I invite you to the Triumph of My Immaculate Heart retreat

My beloved sons, today I send, I shower upon the grace of mercy!!!

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you, and thank you for being here.

From the notebook Mary Constancio: I see the serpent walking the streets and taking and destroying your families, and he is using us to do much of this. There are occasions when we are even offering our own.

The rosaries will be the first line of defense. Use everything you have been taught and all I have taught you.

October 14, 2014

My beloved children, my Ambassadors, I am so pleased that you are here. Today is another day in which to share my love with you. Open your hearts today so that today you may have new visions from the heart of God, from my heart. My beloveds, blessed are you, and blessed will you be as you seek the will of God. Hand over your will to him daily so that his work may be accomplished in you and for his kingdom. My children, rest in the knowledge that God is in charge, and as you give him your will, then indeed his will will be done on earth as it is in heaven.

Live today, live this moment in the holy presence of God. Live every second knowing that what you do makes a difference for the Kingdom of God.

Rejoice! Rejoice with me today. Rejoice as you join your voices and minds to work together for the Kingdom of God.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you, and thank you for being here today.

November 08, 2014

My beloved sons, it brings me great joy that you have come. Not only do I rejoice, but all of Heaven is cheering you on, praying for you, encouraging you, and I am sending the grace you need to continue this walk. My sons, some of you have come with great faith, some of you have come seeking faith, and some of you do not know if God really exists. Your mind wants to believe, but your heart is holding back. My beloved sons, your path is before you. Blessed are the feet of those who bring the Good News. But my sons do not have one foot on and one foot off the path, for this gives Satan a stronghold on your life.

My sons, many of you hide under the pretext of weakness. Give all your weakness tonight to Jesus, and they will become your strengths. My sons, my beloved sons, my sons destined to be holy, listen to me, your mother, for I speak only the words that God has given me to speak, only the words given to you with power, power to defend your families, power to defend our faith.

My sons, I speak to your heart: listen with your heart, and you too can speak from the heart. My sons, things you have not seen, things you have not heard will be revealed to you as you remain faithful. Remember I am only a thought away: I will never abandon you,

My sons, thank you for being here today, and peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.

Many of you have come with shame and guilt as you look at your past and even your present. Ask God to forgive you, and he will: and now forgive yourself. This will be harder because you expect more of you than God does, for he knows you; He knit you in your mother's womb.

November 22, 2014 ¹⁸⁹

My daughters, it brings me great joy as you seek the will of God in your life. My children, this time with you gives me the opportunity to bring graces that are being showered on you today. My beloveds, many of you have come through a tunnel of fear, a tunnel of turmoil and uncertainty, and yet with the grace of God, these graces are to bring you to a place with God that only those that persevere can make. Your journey is not over, but now you know where you are going.

My beloveds, how I wish that you would accept this great, great love of God, to tear down these walls of the flesh to give you strength to do the will of God.

¹⁸⁹ Message given at a Woman's retreat

Thank you for being here today, and peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.

February 7, 2015

To beloved sons, my sons who have come with wounded hearts, with searching hearts, seeking the truth, seeking how you are to serve God. Many of you come not knowing how to seek and where to seek. My sons, the most important thing is that you are seeking. In your journey, you have come here; you have come to my sanctuary. Do you think that I would not bless you, that I would not stand by your side when you call? My sons, it brings me much joy to see you here. Even where you sit, you are receiving beyond your comprehension. Today I give you the grace to persevere, to persevere in this journey, to persevere in love until you come to be with us. My beloveds, believe me when I say I am with you through the hard times and through your everyday struggles to stay holy.

My sons, I see so many with lost hope. You see how you could have done things differently, but today is a new day; do not wait anymore for you to start anew.

My beloved sons, thank you for being here today and thank you for responding to my call.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.

February 28, 2015

My beautiful beloved children, I am so pleased that you have come to honor me with your presence, and even more important, that you have come to learn how to love because of God, to learn to love yourselves because God loves you.

My children, I continue to extend my mantle as a refuge from the world and from the fires of Hell. My children, I wish that you would continue your journey and the path into the land of the living: the land that is overflowing with the sweet milk of mercy, the satisfying taste of honey which is doing God's will.

On this land, you will find all of your needs taken care of. You will find rest and peace from the worries and cares that you have allowed yourself to pick up and carry. On this land, there is a love that you never tire of: this love that restores and repairs the hearts and souls of those that suffer indignation and all kinds of disrespect for humanity and who God has created.

My beloveds, thank you, thank you for being here today, and thank you for responding to my call. Peace. Peace. Peace of Jesus be with you.

May 2, 2015

My beloved children, my beloved sons, it brings me great joy to see you here seeking the face of God, seeking to do his will.

My sons blessed, blessed are you. Bless are you, for God has called you, and you have responded. This is no coincidence that you are here. God has a perfect plan for you, my sons. Blessed and chosen are you who bring the Good News to God's children.

My sons, so many have come here with a need and emptiness in your heart that only God can fill; only God can heal. Do not look anywhere else to the left or to the right for your filling of what you need.

My sons, my sons, my little ones, put down the weapons of anger, arrogance, and pride that keep you from loving mercifully. So many graces are being showered on you this weekend. These graces come from the power of the Holy Trinity. Have thus a grateful heart for what God is bestowing upon you: DO NOT TAKE IT LIGHTLY.

Thank you, thank you for being here tonight. Thank you for responding to my call.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.

Special Message to Mary Constancio for the world:

3 @ 3 PRAYER

Every Friday at 3:00 p.m., the Christians around the world are joining together for three minutes in prayers against Satan, the enemy of God and mankind. The three minutes of prayer is, to begin with the following prayer:

In union with the Holy Trinity, I join my voice with the rest of my brothers and sisters who are united against the evil and dark forces of death. For as we pray, we know our fight is not with one another but the Principalities and Powers above, below, and on this earth, in the name of Jesus Christ Our Lord and Savior.

(Repeat this prayer three times.)

If you don't have the three minutes to pray or miss the 3:00 p.m. time, then just say:

In union with the Holy Trinity, I join my voice with the rest of my brothers and sisters.

May 2, 2015 ¹⁹⁰

My mantle protects your Holy Communion, Mass, Confession, fasting, praying, and loving in mercy. All of these protect you from fiery darts and lies that Satan and your flesh use to destroy your soul.

August 15, 2015

My beloved children, today I am asking that you ask and plead God for an increase of love for your neighbor. That you choose today to reach out to those you have hurt. Bring forth my Flame of Love to those around you. My child, look into your heart. Seek, seek, seek after compassion; seek to love first. Look for ways to reach hurting hearts with your kindness and your smile. My children, my precious ones, I wish that you could love yourself as I love you, as God loves, as my son loves. Ask the Giver of Love, the Holy Spirit, to send forth the Flame of Love to inflame you with love to put out the fire of anger, of hurt feelings. Let go of these injustices against love that have caused your life to be full of revenge and bitterness.

My children, thank you, thank you for being here today, and may the peace of Jesus reign in your hearts.

September 5, 2015

My beloved sons, it pleases me so to be with you, to reach out and embrace you and touch your heart with mine.

My beloved sons, there is a great purpose in your coming; there is a purpose for your life. God has called each of you by name. Will you respond to this calling, this calling of mercy? For it is in the mercy of God that you are here. There is no mistake for our beloved Omnipotent God does not make mistakes. He ordered your steps for this weekend. He opened many a red sea for you to be here and learn about God's most perfect will. My sons break forth in praises for the Almighty God's love for you.

My sons, depart from the temptation of sin, for this sin tempts you to pull you away from the grace of God: this grace that keeps you embraced to the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit. My sons, there is no sin too great that God cannot forgive except the one against the Holy Spirit. No longer must you look at how great a sinner you are but how great God is and his forgiveness.

¹⁹⁰ This message was in response to a question to the Queen of Mercy to understand more deeply her mantle.

My sons, ask for a grateful heart, for in having a grateful heart, you will not complain of the inconvenience, of the great sacrifice that God will call from you but gives you the grace for. My son's no greater joy is on this earth this very moment but to see you and your heart. All of heaven is taking notice of your great faith by being here. Go out; step forth, for God wants to number you among the elect. And so be at peace, at joy to know he is smiling on you.

Thank you, my children, for being here tonight and responding to my call.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.

So many are wary of doing the same thing over and over and expecting God to change his mind. I remind you to unite in prayer. They will know you by your love and mercy for one another. ¹⁹¹

November 7, 2015

My beloved sons, indeed, you have been called, called by God. Others were also called, but blessed are you for you responded to my call.

My sons, there is no greater love than to lay one's life for a friend. My sons, my son your Lord, Our Lord and savior has laid down his life for each one of you. Not one of you has been forgotten. Not one of you needs to miss out on this gift of eternity my son is offering you today. Today should be a day of exaltation for you have found answers to your questions. My sons, you have been deemed worthy by my son's blood, soul, and divinity, so accept it with no reservation, for God's mercy has been sent to set you free from what this world would say: that you are not worthy.

My sons, God wants to reach down into your heart to pull those things out that keep you from him. My little children come to me as children. Bring to me all of your concerns. Let them not trouble your heart, for, in the end, your only concern should be if you loved.

My sons, a great prophet has been sent to the world to remind the world that God exists. That God the Almighty omnipotent powerful and Loving Father has your best interest in his heart. You must ask for the grace of trust, and you must learn to trust the Great I Am, for he alone can and will save humanity if they choose.

¹⁹¹ A question was asked about replacing the current aging ministry retreat center located at Shallowater with a new building. The following was her response: Put forth and call forth your gifts and talent to build my place, my Sanctuary of Grace, to bring others to learn about the greatness of God and that he exists.

Today I ask that question: Do you choose God today? Do you say yes to him today as the one, the only one who can take care of the most difficult of tasks? For you, it is impossible, but to God, nothing is impossible.

Thank you, my son's, for being here today. Thank you for responding to my call!

December 5, 2015

My beloved, on the eve of the Year of Mercy, I wish to impart on you this night the gift of the Mercy of God.

Think of it, my children; you have been given the opportunity to start new as a newborn babe. My children, such a gift should be pondered and embraced. My beloveds, we stand here ready to give you the grace of what you desire. May this desire be a loving and kind, merciful grace for the Glory of God; always for the Glory of God. If you have doubts that God exists and that he has sent me to you, let those doubts melt like snow on a warm day.

My children, so many have been unjustly inflicted with pain that only Jesus, my son, should take from you. For he alone has been given grace to take on these injustices. Now, my children, I wish that you would not be the one who causes these kinds of pain and injustice.

My children, thank you for coming. Thank you for responding to my call. At this time, as you prepare for my son's remembrance of his birth, let my son be born in you this time and bring him to those I have given you.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.

January 30, 2016

I welcome you, my beloved sons. I welcome you in the name of the Holy Trinity. Welcome you with open arms, and most especially with an open heart.

My beloved sons, many of you have come to see if God is real if he is real to you. If he forgives you, if he can love you with all your failings, with all of your sins. My sons just listen with an open heart knowing that God speaks to you through the power of the Holy Spirit. That he has forgiven you through his son's redemption, for on your own, you can do nothing that brings glory to God.

My son's many of you think God is beyond your reach, that he is deaf to your prayers and petitions, to your needs and wants. He knows you at this moment, what is your next action, and words you will say.

My son, you are being called to live a holy life; if it were not so, he would have said so.

My sons, thank you for coming. Thank you as you come to serve God, that you come to learn the ways of the Lord.

Mary Constancio asked: My mother, show me the hearts of your sons.

Some come with hearts wrenching with fear, fear of being deprived and rejected once again.

Some come with hearts seeking a place in my heart and God's heart, for they have been abandoned and orphaned.

Some come with a repentant heart seeking God's heart, seeking to please him and follow him.

Some come with uncertain hearts, not knowing what God is calling them.

Some come with expectant hearts seeking God's blessings.

Some come with hearts full of pain that they no longer want to live in this pain but have to be delivered and set free from this pain.

Some hearts have come seeking why do they ever exist in this world because they are so full of disappointment.

Some have nagging hearts seeking to find something better.

Some have come asking, "Can God ever, ever forgive me?"

My sons, my precious ones, you are here because God is real, and he exists, and he wants you to know how much he loves.

Thank you for being here tonight.

Peace. Peace. Peace of Jesus be with you.

Mary Constancio asked: What are the Sons of Mercy?

Sons of Mercy are to be a part of the arm of the AFM Ministry. Some will live here and teach others how to be holy men of God. In this Year of Mercy, I will strike at the hearts to accept this calling. Pay special attention during this Lenten season.

February 28, 2016

To my beloved children, Children of God, Children of Hope, Children of Mercy, I come today to encourage you, to give you the grace to persevere in times of despair, in times of temptation.

My beloveds, your faith to me is a sweet oblation unto God, unto the Holy Trinity. Today the graces are flowing so freely as though there is no fear of love, no fear of the unknown. You're walking into the paradise of graces. What my children do you need of me today, for the great and omnipotent I AM is here. The Consoler and Comforter is here. My son, the redeemer, not only of time, but the redeemer of everything before now and tomorrow is removing that which was meant for destruction of the Kingdom of God: it will be restored and redeemed for the glory of God.

Today I consecrate each of you unto my son, unto the Holy Trinity. Today I wash you with the tears of joy that you would live in joy, the joy of knowing that today God has smiled upon all of your sacrifices, your sacrifices that are never taken for granted.

My beloveds, thank you, thank you for being here today. Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.

April 2, 2016¹⁹²

My children, I have come for your faith has called me forth; for the mercy has called me forth. The force of love has impelled me to be with you, and this causes me much joy.

My daughter, Mary, in you, there is a door that has not yet been opened.

Question from Mary Constancio: "What is this door, mother?"

It is not what you think. It is not a bad or sorrowful (thing), but it is a door that now is the time; now is the season for an intense knowledge and grace of God's kingdom.

My daughter, today, wherever there is a retreat of Divine Mercy, there are also the graces needed to live in this mercy. Mercy is not a feeling; it is a calling of all humanity to show love, to show forgiveness in action. But my daughter, nowhere on this earth am I coming as the Queen of Mercy. Nowhere else has God ordained for me to bring this kind of mercy. All who are here are receiving a double portion of mercy so that you, too, can go out and spread this mercy.

¹⁹² Eve of Divine Mercy Sunday

My Sons of Mercy: you will have such an intense love and desire to be with me here that nothing will console you; nothing will gratify until you are here with me.

My children, as you face the east, now open your hearts and receive the mercy that I send today, that my Divine Son sends you. The water and blood signify cleansing, signifies being cleansed in the blood of my son.

Thank you, my children, for being here, for the sacrifice you have made. Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.

Thank you for responding to my call.

My daughter, you have brought down many of Satan's strongholds, many of his kingdoms, the souls that are being saved because of your faithfulness are beyond your comprehension. The souls that have chosen a life of holiness, a life of prayer, is and will be brought to your rescue as they pray for you.

My beloveds, thank you, thank you for being here today. Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.

April 30, 2016

My beloved sons, my sons who have chosen to be here this weekend seeking God. God in his great and unending mercy has called you. He has ordained your steps and your path to be here this weekend.

My sons, God in his mercy, has placed you in my garden, my garden that I look after, that I water with the graces given to me: where I gently pluck the weeds out of my beautiful garden of so many different gifts. My sons, how I wish that you would accept and embrace this mercy being offered to you.

My sons, bring to me all your beloveds; bring to me those that have been entrusted to you. My sons do not fear the unknown, the unknown I am calling you to.

My children, here you are with expectant faith, a faith that will not go unanswered. My sons, your prayers and petitions, your desire to be holy is being recognized by all the heavens; there is nothing you do in the name of the Mercy of God that is not noticed.

My Sons of Mercy, I am asking that you step up to the calling. All has been taken care of so that you can respond to the call. Remember, my sons, seek ye first the kingdom of God, and all will be taken care of. At this very moment, there are angels equipping you with what you need.

Thank you, my children, for answering my call. Peace. Peace. Peace of Jesus be with you. ¹⁹³

June 11, 2016

My beloved children, your love has drawn a path for me to be here with you.

My children, many of you are here because you love God, many of you are here because they want to love God, and many are here because they want to know if there is a God, but it does not matter why you have come, but that you did come.

My child, there are many questions, but it is important that you be ready for the answer by asking for perseverance and endurance as you wait for the answer.

My children, as you are here and listening, as the walk to Emmaus, is not your heart on fire and your eyes opened as truth is revealed in love to you. My children, each one of you has been chosen.

There is amazing grace during these few days: grab hold of them as the man who was blind called out to God, to Jesus.

My beloveds, today a grace of life-changing and empowering grace is being rendered onto you this night, the grace for which my son died, a grace which Satan and his kingdom loathe that grace is forgiveness: this gift that binds and loosens, this gift that empowers or condemns, this gift that can give you life or take it away, this gift that restores or robs you, this gift that when you even think of Jesus is there.

¹⁹³ Mary Constancio wrote: I saw each person here being raised up, and as they were, God the Father, Jesus, and the Holy Spirit were blessing them, and as they did they became new and sparkled as with a gold dust.

I see a broken heart cut right down the middle.

I see another one with their soul split - not knowing who they are - She's joining back together.

I see a very lonely - sad young man - who thinks and asks will I ever be all right? Yes, one day you'll wake up and won't even remember why you were so sad.

She thanks all of those who are committed to bringing others to God for your world is God's and he will take care of it.

My beloveds, you are being called to holiness. Nothing less is called of those who are called.

Thank you, my children, for being here tonight. Peace. Peace. Peace of Jesus be with you.

August 15, 2016

My children, I have come to bring you closer to my son, to heaven, forever and ever. I am greatly honored that God, in his great mercy, has given me your honor, your love. My children, so much joy comes from my heart today because you have come to spend this time with me.

Today my children, I am pouring the grace of a grateful heart so that you to maybe joyful in all things, especially when you are called to serve. My daughter, I wish that you would unite in prayers with your heart for the mercy of God and the triumph of my Immaculate Heart be in all hearts.

My children, I am showering my Ambassadors, Sons of Mercy, and Disciples of Mercy with a special and life-changing grace that where I send you, you will take my scent of love, my aroma of mercy.

My beloveds, do not lose heart when it seems impossible, when it seems that all is lost for those struggles, make you stronger against the forces of the enemy, for I am only a prayer away. I am only a thought away.

Again, my children, I invoke on you to become united to overcome the powers of your own hurt and pain, sorrow and bitterness that keep you from loving.

My children, how I love you. How my heart fills with a great joy as I look and listen to your hearts.

Thank you, my children, for coming today and joining my day of celebration as the Church celebrates the day I rose to be with the Creator, my Savior, and my spouse, the Holy Spirit.

My children, there is a place for you in heaven with me. Know that I am working hard to see you here in heaven with me.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.

My daughter, when you see through a grateful heart, you can see through the eyes of Jesus: your blinders of disappointment, of anger, are lifted off of your heart.

When a grateful heart takes over, so does joy take over, and you see things clearly.

Our mother continues to bless the works of the Lord of the merciful hands that have given without expecting anything in return. ¹⁹⁴

September 3, 2016

My beloved sons, you have come with a heavy heart filled with anxiety because of your past sins. The weight of this guilt does not allow you to move forward towards holiness. My beloved sons, if you could only see with the eyes of mercy, if you could see your hearts so ready to forgive, so be ready to follow God and his ways. Find the path and stay on it. Do not veer to the right or to the left.

My son's as you were led here, know that this is a way of mercy like no other. My sons, always, always pray the rosary: make it a part of our daily priorities. My sons, many of you have lost sight of what God has called you to. Because of this, you have been dealt many hardships.

My sons tonight, the whole of the Kingdom is watching, waiting to see how you will respond. There is great anticipation and rejoicing for your hour has come, your hour to choose life, or do you choose to continue a life that only leads to death.

Today my sons, you can no longer sit on the fence, but today, this moment, I am sending the grace for those who choose for God.

My sons, you will be among the few who if you decide for the Lord. Many will look to you to also follow the ways of God.

My sons, what you choose today will not only affect you but the generations to come.

My sons, you were given today the gift of confession: do you not know Jesus was there taking your sins upon himself and sending them to the pits of hell, never to return unless you do not forgive yourself.

You have knocked at the heart of God as you forgive and ask forgiveness, and the door, the heart of Jesus, is open. Throw your guilt and hopelessness into the flame of his heart, and put on now the armor of God, the armor with which to fight the battles and win. Now invite him into your heart.

¹⁹⁴ Mary's notes: I am to lay hands on the eyes that the scales of an ungrateful heart can be removed.

My sons, my Warriors of Mercy, my Sons of Mercy, it gives me great joy to bless you.

Peace. Peace. Peace of Jesus be with you, and thank you for being here today. ¹⁹⁵

October 14, 2016 ¹⁹⁶

My beloved children, go therefore and proclaim, proclaim that Jesus, the Holy Spirit, and God our Father exists. Proclaim God's mercy. Proclaim that he has set you free. Proclaim that there is no one like him.

My children, these are great and awesome times in which you have been chosen to live, chosen to proclaim that Jesus is Lord.

My children, today I honor my son (Henry) with this belt: the Belt of Salvation, the belt that does not let him forget who is his God: to whom the angels sing and praise.

My children, just as I honor my son, Henry, so too I honor each one of you for each one of you has a place in the Kingdom of God.

My children, you have come to receive the mercy of God by receiving the healing that has your name on it. My children, open your hearts and receive the mercy of God into your life.

Thank you for responding to my call, and peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you. ¹⁹⁷

November 5, 2016

My beloved sons, it pleases me greatly that you are here. You have been set free; do not return to the vomit of unforgiveness or bitterness, of guilt and condemnation; for God in his great and unfathomable mercy has sent graces today with your name on them. As you walked onto this Sanctuary of Grace, there were graces for you to drink and be nourished with this nectar of mercy: so sweet, so unconditional. My sons take this grace and spread it with your example. My sons, the Year of Mercy will not end but will continue in you. Let the grace of mercy do its job in you. Every moment that you say no to sin and yes to love, this mercy is doing what it was sent out to do in your lives, in this world. The world is not too big: God has it in his hand, and he can use your prayers to bring the message of the Kingdom

¹⁹⁵ Mary Constancio wrote: I see the heart of Jesus like a door and as his heart is open: throw in all your guilt of the past, of the present, and move now closer to the Throne of God.

¹⁹⁶ Note: This date was Henry Constancio's birthday and she to bless him and those at the retreat.

¹⁹⁷ Mary Constancio wrote: She want that we hand over our weaknesses to that Jesus can return it in grace to be victorious over this weakness.

of God, mercy.

Peace. Peace. Peace of Jesus be with you. Thank you, thank you for being here tonight.

January 14, 2017 ¹⁹⁸

Mary Constancio's notes: I see a curtain being drawn back, and as it is drawn back, there is sunlight, and a big sun shining through and the Blessed Mother saying, "it is a new dawn."

Our nation is being surrounded with angels once again: no more spirit of death on our country.

My children, it brings me much joy to be here with you. There are blessings after blessings being sent to you tonight: new showers of grace to strengthen you in this time.

Tonight, my daughters, a special calling is being sent to you to melt you into the grace of obedience to send you and bless you with the grace of grateful heart, the grace to trust the grace to forgive. ¹⁹⁹

February 11, 2017

To my beloved sons, here I am, your mother, ready to embrace you in your sin, in your pain, in your anger, in your pride; I am here. The love I have for you is not of my own: this kind of love comes from the Lover himself, for he knows only to love. It is his nature to love, and he freely gives it to those who ask for it.

My sons, open your hearts; let them be ready to receive the shower of graces that are being showered upon you. My sons, be the light of this dark, be a light to the darkness of selfishness, to the darkness of pride, to the darkness of unforgiveness, to the darkness of death, death to the soul.

My sons, as I have sent my priest for the forgiveness of your sins, consider them forgiven. Do not carry this guilt in your hearts anymore, for it only subjects you to live in the past and not to live in the mercy of God now and forever.

I want to thank each and every one of you for your yes, your yes to serve, your yes to be here, and your yes to the graces that are being lavished on you tonight.

¹⁹⁸ Given during the Self-Image Retreat

¹⁹⁹ I see a torch being given to me from Saint John of Arc. I see many women of the Scripture coming with torches, passing them on to the women here at the retreat.

My beloved sons, thank you, thank you for being here tonight.

Peace. Peace. Peace of Jesus be with you, and thank you for responding to my call.

Some are here with half a heart, a heart full of disappointment and despair; some of your hearts are disappointed more with yourselves; some of you have come as a last resort; some of you have come because this is an answer to your prayers; some do not know why you are here.

I see the sky and especially around this Holy Place with angels with flames - flames of love. You have asked for the flame of love. This flame of love comes from God himself.

February 28, 2017²⁰⁰

My Daughter, we are celebrating on my feast day because your, my son, our son, has come home.

Much rejoicing is taking place. My daughter, the graces that are now coming down upon you are so vast that your physical body cannot stand, but in the spirit, you can feel the grace. My daughter, know that your sorrow will turn into joy. No greater love have you given to heaven but the soldiers here on earth.

May 6, 2017

My beloved sons; Sons of Mercy; Sons of Mary, there is much rejoicing in the heavens tonight and this weekend, for you have answered my call. This call to be free, free of your sickness of the soul, sicknesses that hold you back from doing the will of God.

Tonight, you are in the perfect will of God as you are before the throne of grace, ready to receive the graces you need to continue this walk.

On this path, many have come before you paving this path with sacrifices and sufferings of the heart, of the soul. Seek, seek the Consoler, the Comforter, for solace in the spirit, the spirit of love.

Look around you and see the glory of God amongst your brothers who have been faithful to the calling. This is a new day, a new dawn for many of you. Many of you have asked the God of Miracles, the God of Mercy, for graces to walk on this path of righteousness. He has heard your prayers, and you are being given what you need.

²⁰⁰ On the Feast of the Queen of Mercy given at the funeral mass of Mary Constancio's son Louis.

My sons, peace of Jesus be with you, and thank you for being here tonight.

There are many whose hearts are hurting because of the guilt you are carrying. No more are you to walk in this guilt, for today, all is forgiven.

August 15, 2017²⁰¹

My beloved children, today, as I celebrate this day chosen for me by my son, I would like that you celebrate also. For it is not just my special day but yours also.

My children, my sons, my daughters, children of the Most High Living God, and children of Mary, I am sending showers of graces that you may continue this journey, this journey to heaven for this should be the goal. If your goal is anything else, it is all for nothing in the end: in the forever of forever. My children, give me your hearts, give them to me. Let me take them these hearts so full of sorrow, fear, and pain. For what is needed is trust: trust that you know that God has a purpose for all things.

My children, do not lose heart, for I am doing a mighty work amongst you. The numbers²⁰² do not matter; what matters is each heart here, those who are devoted to God and his will.

My beloveds, thank you for being here today. Thank you for this sacrifice as you come. I know my children, and my children know me.

I am blessing today not only those things to bring you closer, but I also bless your families and friends who you are praying for.

Thank you for being here today. Thank you for rejoicing with me on this most glorious day.

Peace. Peace. Peace of Jesus be with you.

September 2, 2017

My beloveds, listen as the mighty winds come as a whisper to your heart that is full of doubt, full of pain and anguish, but yet there is that ray of hope that God is the only one that can quiet that crying heart and soul.

Mis hijos, hoy les transmito mi Corazon de Misericordia a tus corazones llenos de dolor y

²⁰¹ I see our mother come down like in a beam of white light with glitter. And this beam it widens up as to cover us all in this light. Then I see angels around her and herself throwing rose petals on everyone.

²⁰² This is a reference to the small number of people that came to the Feast of the Assumption on this date.

dudas que si hay Dios su Padre que el existe – el existe con poder no lo detengan con su duda, con su alma que esta llena de rancor y que no perdona. Hoy les pido que dejen ese dolor ir que se lo den a mi hijo que el ya murio por todo.

Ahora su mundo va cambiar que nunca seran igual.

No hay nada que Dios no puede ser.

(translation: My sons, today I transmit my heart of mercy to your hearts full of pain and doubts. that there is a God your Father, that he exists; he exists with power. Don't hold him back with your doubts, with your soul that is full of bitterness and unforgiveness. I ask you to let go of your pain and give it to my son, who he died for all.)

Now your world will change and will never be the same.

There is nothing that God cannot do.

My children, you are loved beyond your imagination, beyond your comprehension.

Many have been called to help to serve in this field, this field filled with my faithful ones, be ever so ready to observe where your service is needed.

My sons, today I petition you to help build my chapel that your ancestors to come will have a place to come. Do not be afraid to plant in this field, for it is ready. The dirt has been plowed and watered, and fruit will be ever more abundant than ever.

Thank you, thank you, thank you for being here tonight, this weekend. Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.

November 4, 2017

My children, beloveds, there is much joy in heaven that each one of you are here, for it is for the glory of God. There is much rejoicing in the Kingdom among all the beloveds here. Point your eyes toward heaven that that may be your total purpose in saying yes to God.

My beloved sons, many here are carrying the debt of sin: rid yourselves of this, for my son has already paid for it. My sons, give your sorrowful heart to my son and to me. Let these tears of sorrow turn into tears of joy, for God has brought you here to deliver you from your sin to, to deliver you from the claws and teeth of Satan's hold on you and your family. My son's pull yourself out of the chains of pride, of anger that you can clearly see God.

My children, today is a great day in heaven for many of you have given this amazing grace to say yes to God: for your names to be written in the Book of Life.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.

February 3, 2018

My beloveds sons, it gives me great great joy to see you all here. For when you leave here, this sacred place that I have chosen to be my Sanctuary of Grace, and not by my own power, but by the will and power of God, that this place has been chosen to bring you to receive healing and heart-changing attitudes of the flesh. This weekend is a time of great rejoicing, for you will all have received grace. The grace you take with you depends on much you want this grace, on how much you know you need God.

Ask God, the greatest giver of this grace, to send it to you if you know you lack my son's grace. Do not say, "I'm okay where I am," "I okay, I can do this on my own," for that is the sure way of knowing that you lack in humility, and you need a grateful heart.

Beg, beg for these graces, for they will be part of your salvation.

My son's, as you walk into Lent this week, know that this weekend has been a great preparation for this time. My son's, your footprints on this Sanctuary of Grace will be forever remembered, and know that your name is in the midst of heaven as many are praying for your conversion of hearts.

My sons, your prayers, your songs resound in the heavens to bring much joy to all of heaven.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you. And thank you, thank you, for being here today to look for graces that God is offering to you today, tomorrow, and the rest of your life.

February 28, 2018

Today my children, I wish to bring the graces you need to proclaim God's greatness in your words, in your actions, and, more importantly, in your soul. My beloved children, if you could only see what we see, the good, the bad, and still choose mercy. Today, I want to give you the eyes of your heart to choose mercy always. My beloveds, my children, my daughters, my sons, my Ambassadors; this past year has seen a journey of walking through the Valley of Death, but as you look forward, look up, look to the mountain that is waiting for you to climb, to begin a new journey of faith, a new journey filled with the love, the forgiveness, the mercy of God.

My beloveds, many times you have not noticed that those that I bring to you look to you as being on the mountain top where they can talk to God, where they can experience God and not die. This, my children, is a great gift of God, a great gift from God to bring not only yourselves but others to him.

My beloved children, how great is our God that he allows you to live in his greatness, that he allows you to live out the Passion of my son, and then to love in the resurrection and in the Ascension of his son. My children, today is a great day in heaven, and so also here with you.

My children, in the resurrection, there is much joy. You must learn to live and rejoice in this. My spirit rejoices in God, my savior, there is much for you to ponder on, but with graces that are here and being given to you, this too will be a virtue to be lived here in my Sanctuary of Grace. But the foundation of this joy is first of all faith; gratitude and mercy are the layers that are laid down for you to live in joy; faith that God is God; trust is the brother of faith; gratitude that God is God; thanksgiving is the sister of gratitude; mercy that God is God of all; love and forgiveness are the sources of mercy from God.

My children, be totally dependent on God. Do not take anything for granted, for God is leading, instructing, and moving everything for your greater good because of this love for you.

Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you and thank you, thank you for being here today.

I will bless this effort of planting.

May 5, 2018

My beloved sons, you have been called by name, and you have responded.

Were your hearts not burning as you hear the words of mercy, words of healing and love, just as the walk to Emmaus, this should be a daily walk with the lord, a daily journey of taking the mercy of God to others. My sons, Sons of Mercy, Sons of Love, Sons of Compassion, go and show this to your loved ones, to those that I send you.

At this moment, there is a great chasm that is happening to bring those that have been asleep to wake up and be on alert, for no one knows the hour or the day. Today, my sons, the graces that you need for your salvation are being poured to assure your journey to heaven with me and the whole heavenly court.

Our Father, Jesus, and the Holy Spirit are inspiring many to believe that God is real and ready to heal, to save, to Love.

Be Blessed in the name of God the Father, the great omnipotent one.

In the name of my son, Jesus, the great I Am that has died and has changed the course of your life because of his mercy; in the name of God the Holy Spirit, the one who brings to pass the wishes of God the Holy Spirit and God the Son, Jesus Christ.

May they bring the grace that you will need to fulfill the will of God. May you accept what heaven has to offer!

My sons, thank you for being here today. Thank you for saying “yes,” and Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you forever.

August 15, 2018

Behold, for I have come to bring you Good News: my son has already paid for you to bring health and healing upon you. My children, today on this glorious day, the 30th anniversary of the Queen of Mercy, where I have been honored as the mother who brings mercy to her children, my beloved children, I have never left you, nor will I ever abandon you. As a mother carries her children in her bosom, so I will continue to hold you close to mine, where you are close to my heart.

My children, I bring to you today blessings that you cannot count, blessings from our Almighty Father from above graces, graces to overflowing that you cannot contain but are to be shared.

My beloveds, many of you are here as my Disciples of Mercy, as disciples of the Lord because you have said yes and have never looked back. My children, how blessed you are because our Almighty Father has smiled today upon your sacrifice of being here: your faith put into action by believing that God sent me to be with you.

My children, if you could only see with the eyes of mercy, you could never condemn, you could never hate, you could never destroy with your words and actions. But today, I implore you to seek, to ask for the eyes of the heart of mercy so that you can love, love, love unconditionally.

My children, place all of your burdens in the basket of hope, for all your fears, pains of unlove, pains of unforgiveness, pains of rejections are to be given to God for his greater glory and honor.

September 1, 2018

²⁰³Jesús nuestro rey, reina de las Américas, Juan Diego, mis hijos Lou & Stephen y todos mis hijos están aquí para unirse a nosotros y orar por todos aquí con la Santísima Madre, Reina, y Jesús, el rey ha venido a bendecirme y ungirme para esta misión a la que me han llamado.

²⁰⁴Jesus our King, Queen of the Americas, Juan Diego, my sons Lou & Stephen, and all my children are here to join us and pray for everyone here with the Blessed Mother, the Queen, and Jesus, the King, have both come to bless me and anoint me for this mission to which I have been called.²⁰⁵

My children, today I come to bring blessings from all kinds of blessings you need. All the blessings that their hearts are going to receive this evening this weekend will be enough. My children, how I love you. There is no son here that I do not know. My heart at this moment is in the flame of mercy to touch you. My dear children, I have called you to be here with me but more than that to be here with my son and the divine spirit.

Many here are hopeless that even some of you are already ready to lose your faith.

My dear children, there is nothing that God can't forgive.

He loves you and forgives you. He wants you in his mansion of Heaven.

My precious children, no longer hang your head down toward the earth but lift it up to heaven because God, in his great mercy, has sent his graces without end.

My dear loving children, please pray the rosary daily for the petitions I already have. Today I also ask you to forgive, forgive, forgive, forgive, for when you do not forgive, the door of your heart stays closed.

My children, thank you, thank you, thank you who were obedient to the call. May the peace of my son Jesus Christ be with you.

My children, you are going to have to pray, pray, pray, pray to free yourself from these chains.

²⁰³ The following was given in Spanish, and are notes Mary Constancio wrote about what she was perceiving.

²⁰⁴ Start of English Translation

²⁰⁵ End of English Translation

²⁰⁶Hijos míos, vais a tener que orar, orar, orar, orar para liberarse de estas cadenas.

Hay una poderosa voz dentro de cada uno de ustedes, la voz de un Guerrero, para romper cualquier cadena que ha sostenido a mis hijos.

Levántense, levántense - preparen sus lomos para estar firmes con perseverancia contra cualquier adversidad que venga contra ustedes, porque así será, pero yo estaré con ustedes y todo el cielo estará con ustedes. La victoria está por delante. En espera.

²⁰⁷My children, you are going to have to pray, pray, pray, pray to free yourself from these chains.

There is a powerful voice inside each one of you, the voice of a warrior, to break any chain that has sustained my children.

Rise up! Stand up! Prepare your loins to be steadfast with perseverance against any adversity that comes against you, for it shall be so, but I will be with you, and all heaven will be with you. Victory is ahead. Look forward.²⁰⁸

November 3, 2018

My beloved sons, it brings me great joy that you are here, that you have come seeking the voice of the Lord in your heart, in your soul, and in your mind.

My sons, my beloved sons, blessed are you who come seeking, seeking your beloved Jesus with open hearts. My sons, thank you for seeking the kingdom of God, for it will not be denied you.

My sons, you are being showered with graces that you need to be that saint in training that is needed in your family and for your neighbors.

My sons, it gives me joy, especially for those that continue to come to my haven, my School of Mercy, to learn to live in mercy and to be showered in the great and wonderful mercy of God.

Tonight I am asking for the heroic virtue and grace of courage, the courage to take the mercy of love and forgiveness to those at home. Be the warrior ready to face Satan's

²⁰⁶ The following was given in Spanish

²⁰⁷ Start of English Translation

²⁰⁸ End of English Translation stronghold, not only in you but those that refuse the grace that's being offered.

My sons, gird your loins and decide to meet those challenges with love, with love that changes all, because, with God, all things are possible. This weekend you are learning to distinguish the light from the darkness of sin.

My most precious children, how my heart wants to reach out and embrace each and every soul here. Please, my beloveds, allow me to love you. Do not fear or be ashamed of your past sins, for I know them and am ready to embrace you without reservations, my sons, mis hijos.

Thank you for being here tonight, and the peace, peace of Jesus be with you.

I am blessing what you have brought to me. Have confidence that I am only a thought away, and as you put these objects to use for the greater glory of God, I am with you. These are not magic, but only a reminder that I am with you and hear your prayers, and join with you, as too the saints and angels that stand before the throne of God, and our Blessed Lord, my son, and the Holy Spirit continue to petition our Father and bring your case to the Throne of Grace and Miracles.

February 9, 2019

My beloved sons, today, the Holy Spirit has come in a most special way. Remember that the Holy Spirit carries and is the love of God. He carries this love to you. Do you know my children that the Holy Spirit brought to me the grace to be steadfast in my yes in my Fiat to God?

My beloveds, tonight, the grace is coming to you, asking you for your fiat to whatever God has for you. You will never be disappointed. You will never regret your yes to me, for I will help you. Confirm ²⁰⁹Tonight, take from me the mercy that you lack my children. My little ones, it hurts me truly to see your wounded hearts with wounds of sins, not your own sins but the sins of those you have wounded you.

My little children, I am with you tonight, and I will go with you if you want me to, just call on me. My little children have this trust; ask me to be with you and know I am no more than a

²⁰⁹ Spanish Translation.

thought away.²¹⁰

My sons, the Holy Spirit brings comfort, brings consolation, brings boldness, brings hope, and steadfastness in your journey to heaven. Keep your eyes focused on the things above, the things that are everlasting. My children, it is indeed my joy to come and be with you in this Men's retreat. But, as you pray the rosary, as you think of me and call on me, I am only a prayer away: only a thought away.

My sons tonight choose to say yes to God: I plead with you.

My beloveds, thank you, thank you for being here today. Peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.

I would like to spread my love, my fragrance of mercy, to the whole world.

My daughter, please do not forge my unwanted children: children who have suffered greatly at the hands of those who have not grasped the love that God has for all children.

My daughter, the suffering is so great that there continue to be angels trying to bring comfort to Our Father and those in heaven where no comfort can be found.

May 4, 2019

²¹¹Today my sons, the battle is fierce. The battle is for your souls. The battle is to destroy you, to devour you with anger and unforgiveness. The battle is for your families, from the youngest to the oldest.

Today I will grace you with the grace to recognize where Satan has planted his evil of doubt toward God: the seed of apathy, the seeds of disobedience, and the seed of unlove, which becomes the Sickness of Unlove.

²¹⁰ End Spanish Translation.

²¹¹ A vision before the meditation: I see the Blessed Mother with an army. Saint Michael is cracking The Whip, a gold whip, and I see the demons cowering. This whip is the rosary, and she comes today to anoint warriors for her army, the Army of Christ, to claim her children: children of God, children of the Most High. I see horses with warriors mounted, and the horses are breathing fire, and their hooves are hitting the ground ready for the order of our Blessed Mother, the Queen of Mercy. The horses and warriors have surrounded us – the men at the retreat.

My sons, continue the journey, this journey that takes sacrifice: the sacrifice of self will by laying down your unforgiveness. My sons, as you continue to bring my babies²¹² to me, you are robbing Satan of what he thinks is a victory for him. But to God be the glory! To God be the glory! To God be the glory, for he is the Victor overall.

My sons, a fire has been lit, the fire of the Holy Spirit that burns away sin, reckless sin, but alas, lights the Flame of Christ, the Flame of Mercy in your lives.

My sons, you have been brought unto my safe home of mercy, to bring you mercy, to bring you awareness of your sin, not to condemn but to forgive so that may be reunited with the love of God.

I see a Christmas tree being lit. This tree is the tree of Jesus, and every time a child is brought to me and my son, a new light is lit: a light that will never go out. For where there is darkness, there will be light. Where there is death, there will be life.

My sons, peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you, and thank you for being here today: for saying yes to being here.

August 15, 2019

My beloved children, thank you for responding to my call. It is a day of celebration, and so when your goal of reaching heaven is finally met, we too will be rejoicing your presence with us.

There is great rejoicing today because you have said yes to the calling of God.

²¹³My son's, my daughters: I have sent you my daughter to bring you mercy, to bring you to hope, to instruct you in the ways of my son, to direct you and bring light to my words of mercy. To tell you of the great love I have for you: the great and immense joy my instructions, even when you think you fail, know that to me it is not failure but learning and understanding of who I AM.

My sons and daughters, the creator of all heaven and of all earth, speaks to you today to confirm that you are my children, to confirm that you are never neglected or forgotten. Your ²¹² The practice of during a rosary of giving names to those aborted babies which have been disowned and forgotten. This practice of giving names to aborted babies is the Body of Christ claiming disowned and forgotten for Christ.

²¹³ God the Father.

faith and trust in me are the formulations of the staying firm in the resolve of your love.

My beloveds, I am a Father of mercy and compassion, but also a Father that disciplines his children. Many of you mistake punishment for discipline. My children receive discipline as the direction to my kingdom. Punishment comes for a sinner who refuses my discipline: to those who have not me as their Father and refuse to accept my son as their Redeemer.

This day is filled and overflowing with the graces that you each need. This manna that you received today that comes from my son is your answer to your prayers is the grace you need to continue the race: the race to heaven. So, it is written, and so it is done.

My Ambassadors, it is of extreme importance that you remain faithful to mercy, that you seek ways in which you bless each other, in ways you will help each other reach your heavenly reward. Not by criticizing words, not by tough love, but by compassionate words and words that are building up the Body of Christ.

Today my family, I am blessing you with blessings of the Holy Family. Today I am blessing you with abundance and overflowing of joy. Many of you made sacrifices of love, of inconvenience to make this pilgrimage, and nothing is taken for granted. It is all stored for you in the heavenly bank.

Peace. Peace. Peace of Jesus be with you. Thank you, thank you for being here today!!

August 31, 2019

²¹⁴Tonight is all about the heart: first of all, my Immaculate Heart and the Sacred Heart of my son.

My sons, tonight bring to me your hearts that I may inflame them with love for God, first of all, love for my son, love of the Holy Spirit, and love for one another.

Tonight, I bring the grace that you can forgive from the heart, a much-needed grace so that you can continue on the path of mercy.

My beloved sons, you have not walked alone. I am with you, and I will never leave you orphaned. My grace will carry you. Be patient with one another as your path takes you to those that need patience, just as God is patient with you. Put forth your steps of faith, and as you walk, your faith is strengthened and set firm.

²¹⁴ A note from Mary Constancio's diary: At the beginning of this meditation: I saw angels across the sky, and they are blowing a trumpet, they are announcing Our Blessed Mother and calling upon the heavens and all the saints.

Thank you, thank you, my sons. Yes, you are my sons. Don't ever forget my words, my promise that I will always hear you and be with you.

Thank you for being here tonight, and peace, peace, peace of Jesus be with you.

It gives me much joy to be with you, to hear your praises, your songs of expectations that come through.

I see hearts that look like they are ground meat.

I see hearts that are bleeding.

I see hearts with swords through them.

I see hearts that are ready to forgive, that are ready to surrender, that are ready to change for the glory and honor of God.

November 02, 2019

My little children fear not because God, in his infinite mercy, has forgiven you. Today, I see much faith in you; however, that faith withers when pain and the wounds of the heart rise to your thoughts.

My sons, it is necessary that when hurts come against your thoughts, you give them to my son. Give yourself to him so that he can cover those hurts, the sadness of the heart in your life with the grace of forgiveness.

My sons, I am with you always. There is not a single moment in which your prayers are not heard, if not with words, with your thoughts, with your tears. Bring me your hope, which has been lost, because I will help you strengthen your faith.

My beloved sons, you are the apple of my eye, especially as you seek the will of God in your family. There is a mighty purpose for you, for your life. For the beginning of your first breath, God had and has a holy purpose for each one of you.

My beloveds, you indeed are my beloveds. I am only a prayer away, a thought away.

Many of you today are being adorned with weapons for this battle that you have been enduring, but the battle is going to change, so new weapons of prayer will be given and are being given.

Peace. Peace. Peace of Jesus be with you and thank you for being here tonight.

Missing Date

Sometimes in the excitement, writing down the revelation of the moment the date gets missed. Concerning the following message: it is not the date that is important; it's the message.

Unknown Date # 1 ²¹⁵

My child, when you make a decision, there should be no strife, no concern for material wealth, and no concern for your own standing in the world's eyes. All decisions should be made for Jesus out of love and respect for him.

Man tries to make decisions that are reserved for God alone.

Unknown Date # 2

My beloved, fear not the destiny you have been called to fulfill, for it will come to pass, but only with much trial and tribulation. My children do not forget the call of commitment. I will help you. I will be your shield. I will continue to stand at the throne of God for all of your needs and for all the desires in your heart that have been placed by God. My children come to me, and I will be the fortress of your endurance. It is Holy endurance that gives you the strength to do good. I will supply the needs for your soul. Your soul is thirsting for holiness sake, for the will of God, and I can lead you to the everlasting source of holiness.

"My Words" ²¹⁶

My children, I have this to say to all my children, listen to my words of love, for they wish to embrace you and hold you. They wish to bring you comfort and joy. They wish to give you peace and hope; they wish to bring you to everlasting life with us in heaven. My words of

²¹⁵ It has been since discovered that this small message was given February 28, 2000

²¹⁶ SUMMARY OF THE MESSAGE

My words:

1. Comfort and joy
2. Peace and hope
3. They wish to bring you to everlasting life with us in heaven.
4. Come with actions of forgiveness
5. They come to bring you thirst and hunger for God and my son
6. Purge you to be open to the light of Christ, my son.
7. My words of love for you are with tears of sorrow as I see your sorrow, and tears of joy as I see your joy.

love come with actions of forgiveness; they come to bring you thirst and hunger for God and my son, for he is the way, the truth, and the light. My words of love purge you to be open to the light of Christ, my son. My words of love for you are with tears of sorrow as I see your sorrow and tears of joy as I see your joy. My children know that my love for you reaches to the ends of the earth to bring to the beginning of heaven. My children, what more can I say? What more can I do for you than to give you my son? I am constantly pleading for you, and heaven is busy with your petitions of love. The angels are constantly at the throne of God pleading for you, for I send them as your helpers and mine. My beloveds, I will never forget you, nor will I forsake you.

Peace of Jesus be with you. Thank you for responding to my call.

Unknown Date # 3

My children, you are not to fear or to sorrow anymore, for there is no power on Earth that will hold you back from the work that God has called for you. For he has spoken, and his word will be completed. Do not despair or feel neglected, for no one in heaven has neglected you, nor will they.

My beloveds, renew your heart, renew your mind. Be transformed into the image of my son.

There are some who only want part of me; some who do not accept me as the Mother of God. You have been given to me as a gift, and in this gift, I rejoice. This gift of sacrifice, this gift so precious I will never let you go. You have been molded into my heart. No death, nor sickness, not even your sin, will keep me from loving you.

Unknown Date # 4

My dear children, your hearts are so precious to me, for they are the center of your soul. Make ready your heart for our Lord's repentance in your heart, for when you repent and forgive, you are loving with the heart of Jesus.

My children, it is not so important that the materialism of this world be in your struggles. My children, the greatest struggle is to receive the crown of Glory that my son can give you. My children, go forth and proclaim my love and with my son's heart. Forgive so that you may be perfect when you face the throne of God.

My children, how I love you and how I want you to know. That is the reason for my coming, to assist your hearts. Come my children into my bosom and rest your weary soul in the depths of my love and my comfort. Set your weary bones on my heart that I may give you consolation, for I am your mother. I will give you a mother's joy for her children.

Peace of Jesus be with you. Thank you, my children. Thank you for being here tonight.

Unknown Date # 5

THE DOOR²¹⁷

The door is the reflection of the Golden Door of God's heart. The door is an entrance into God's Kingdom. The door is the reminder of my many promises given. The door is the way to Jesus. Knock, and you will receive.

At this door, your presence is greatly encouraged. The Eucharist is the sure way into this entrance, for he gives the strength to perceive eternity and seek it.

Many graces are showered through these doors. God's mercy is the greatest of all gifts given through this golden gate.

Unknown Date # 6

DELIVERANCE PRAYER

My children, there are so many who suffer needlessly. However, all suffering shall be offered to God as a gift to him and for his glory. When this is done, your suffering becomes as a gift to Him, and that gift is only returned to you as a gift of mercy and is multiplied. Your suffering is a precious gift to Him, for it shows your surrender to Him. Your suffering in union with his son becomes a sweet oblation to Him, and he must respond. My children, this is an invitation to grace: a grace that gives joy and a grace that gives strength and endurance.

This kind of suffering robs Satan of his victory and turns it into glory to God. In this kind of grace, resign yourself to the will of God, a complete resignation into his hands. Allow him to decide for you what he wants of you and for you, for his grace is sufficient for you.

Prayer

Father, you are the healer of healers. You are the giver of life and the one who says you want us to live life to the full. Today, my Lord, I pray for an increase of faith that I can believe you can love me enough to want me healed and whole so that I may love you with my whole heart, soul, mind, and strength. I realize healing is the gift of mercy and an act of love from you. Help me not to deny you or your will for me today.

²¹⁷ The door refers to the many pictures taken of the sky which after development have shown a door in the sky.

I plead with you through the most precious blood of Jesus to remove from my life all sickness and disease, to wipe away any curse against me and my family, for you are the same yesterday, today, and tomorrow. I ask forgiveness of any curse my ancestors might have incurred, and I also ask forgiveness and enlightenment into any curse I might have caused upon my family and myself.

My Lord, you know all and see all, and I pray that you cut to the root of my sickness or disease so that it may never return. I pray against any pride that might not allow you to heal me.

In union with Jesus and his cross, in union with the entire heavenly family, I come against and demand that Satan and all of his workers desist their works against me who are working to cause sickness and disease, who do not allow the will of God for me to be healed. In the precious name of Jesus, and through his precious blood, I command all sickness and disease to leave my body and all cells to conform to the perfect will of God, and I become totally healed. In the name of Obedience of the Sacred Heart of Jesus through the purity and the name of the Immaculate Heart of Mary, through the omnipotence and majesty and for the Glory of God the Father and through the love of Holy Spirit, I command all creatures living and dead who have bad intentions and who are not of God to leave me and reverse any curse, all words said against my family and me. I now reclaim all money, health, friends, and family that have been lost or stolen because of interference by any demonic forces, and I reclaim anything lost or stolen from my family and me to be replaced seven times.

Almighty Father, I ask that you teach me your decrees and statutes that from this day forward, my family and I may walk uprightly and obediently to your divine and perfect will. I plead for this grace of obedience and love.

I pray all this in the name of Jesus Christ, the Lord.

Unknown Date (1990) # 7

My dear children,

I wish that you allow Jesus to be your king daily. It will be hard for those with a proud heart, but for those with a humble and contrite heart, the graces will flow easily and purely for the glory and kingship of God.

My dearly beloved, how I wish you also to know of the love of God for you. When you allow the graces to flow, then you will know of God's love for you.

Unknown Date (1988) # 8

²¹⁸ My children, you have received the Gospel commission to go out and proclaim the Good News of my son Jesus. Many people are coming here who need the doors open so they may accept my son. You, my children, hold the keys, open the doors, proclaim the good news, and do not be afraid. The words will be given to you if you ask my son in trust and faith.

²¹⁸ Undated Tower Message #3, 1988

APPENDIX

A DEEPER UNDERSTANDING OF THE MESSAGES

by Howard A. Huntzinger Jr.

"A Great Sign"

Have you ever asked yourself, if the Blessed Virgin Mary did come to Lubbock, Texas in 1988 and is still coming year after year under the title of the Queen of Mercy, is she going to leave a sign for the world to see? I have a dear friend who is a Catholic priest tell me that it is said that the Blessed Mother would leave a sign everywhere she has visited. On May 30, 1988, the Queen of Mercy said, "There is a great sign coming to show you the great favor I have for you. But this favor is not for you alone. This is for the world." Will it be a great cross that will appear in the sky? A miracle fountain springing out of the ground like Lourdes, France? Or possibly something else?

After reading this May 30, 1988 message, I asked myself and those here at the Ambassadors of the Flame of Mercy, "is this a sign yet to come, or is it something that happened right in front of me, and I missed it?" You see, since 1994, I have had the unique position of being the historian and custodian of the Queen of Mercy messages, transcribing so far over 230 Queen of Mercy's love letters given to Mary Constancio and publishing them in books and on the internet. I have discovered that while the Blessed Mother has done some spectacular signs at Lourdes, Fatima, and Mexico in history, her mission is always the conversion and healing of hearts for the glory of God. Her message to her children on August 1, 1988, warns us about just looking for signs: "My children, my children, many of you have come only to seek a sign. If this is the only reason for coming here, I am in sorrow, for your heart is not yet prepared to accept all my blessings you will receive tonight." It was Henry Constancio who discovered the answer about the "great sign" she said was coming, and it has been right before our eyes.

In Zachariah chapter 4, an angel shows the prophet a revelation, and Zachariah says, "he awakened me, like a man awakened from his sleep." In other words, Zachariah was now able to recognize the depth of the mystery right before him when a moment before, he was unable to see it. For ourselves, we awakened to the fact that the thirty-plus years of messages from the Mother of God is the "great sign" and the "great favor" she has for us and the world! Not lights flashing in the sky, but as she said on August 15, 2005, "I have left you many love letters in my messages," "go and tell..." the world about the "Messages."

Why have we been so slow to recognize this great blessing? The answer is found by looking for the sign and blessings with the heart and not the eyes. And as for myself, I was looking for the sign with my eyes and not my heart. Several of the Queen of Mercy messages confirm this: On July 11, 1988, she said, "My dear children, so many disbelieve, so many refuse to open their eyes, to open their hearts. Can you not see the signs that have already been? And still, you ask for more signs. How many signs does it take for you to go with my peace and my love?" On August 22, 1988, she said, "My children, I will leave with you a great sign, a sign that you may see, that you may see with your hearts." The most compelling message as to the Messages being the "great sign" was given on August 15, 2008, when she said, "My beloved, you must listen to the signs. The signs are to lead you to where you should go." The Great Signs that she has come are the messages themselves, calling us to read them with the eyes of the heart. The Great Signs are also the children that have chosen to live the messages daily for the glory of God.

BRIEF HISTORY OF THE MESSAGES OF MERCY

The beginning of this amazing series of events seems to stem from a proclamation of Pope John Paul II, who, on June 7, 1987, proclaimed a special 14-month Marian Year. Bishop Michael J. Sheehan of the Diocese of Lubbock, writing in the South Plains Catholic, expressed the wish that every family and every parish would show greater devotion to the Blessed Mother. Father Joseph James, pastor of the St. John Neumann Church, and parish staff members invited the bishop to dedicate the Saint John Neumann Chapel as a Marian Year shrine.

The bishop did as they asked, and apparently, the Blessed Mother took the dedication seriously, for, in the spring of 1988, she began giving messages to three people from that parish.

On Sunday, February 28, 1988, in the chapel of Saint John Neumann, after a healing weekend retreat with the pastor Father Joseph James and a handful of retreatants, Mary Constancio experienced the presence of whom she believes to be the Blessed Mother for the first time. According to Mary Constancio, one of the locutionists²¹⁹, "hearing the Blessed ²¹⁹ Locutions are interior illuminations by means of words or statements. They are sometimes, but not always, accompanied by visions. Locutions can be divided into those that are: Auricular - word actually heard with the physical ear; Imaginative - words perceived in the imagination; Intellectual - concepts perceived immediately by the intellect. The Marian locutions reported by Mary Constancio and the other messengers are both imaginative and intellectual.

Mother's voice pierced my heart, and her words could only be understood within the depth of my soul. The voice sounded like a song, so gentle, kind, and most of all with so much love that I would never be the same again." That first message from Our Lady was, "People are stabbing each other in the back with words, but if they begin praying the rosary, within 6 months, you will see the spirit of this church change." Mary Constancio said that Our Lady asked the church to start praying the rosary on Monday nights with her.

Early Tuesday morning, March 1st at 2:30 a.m., Our Lady came and visited Mary Constancio at her home, she saw her as Our Lady of Guadalupe. Awakening from her sleep, Mary Constancio grabbed a notebook²²⁰ and wrote the following message: "Go and tell your priest and go and tell your bishop that Mary, your mother, has come to give a message: that they should spread her word throughout radio, throughout television, throughout the newspaper, throughout the pulpit, throughout the world, that the world must hear the good news that my son, Jesus, has come to keep his promise: that I have come for my people.

"Please, I plead with you, my children, do not wait any longer for a sign. Do not wait, for the Sign has come. The Sign will come again in glory. I hurt to see so many, so many of you waiting: you children, you young people, you married couples, you blessed old, you poor and rich, waiting for a sign with which to believe, with which to come closer to my son. Do not wait any longer. This is your sign upon hearing this word."

According to her husband, Henry Constancio, she was so excited that she wanted to tell the bishop right at that moment. However, her husband, somewhat disturbed by being so suddenly awakened, told her to go back to sleep and let him, as well as the bishop, sleep until morning. Later that day, Mary Constancio searched out her parish pastor, Father Joseph James, to tell him the message and to get his help to see the Bishop. Much calmer than Mary Constancio, Father James convinced Mary that they needed to make an appointment with the Bishop's office.

Shortly after that, on March 14, 1988, during the Monday night rosary devotions, Mary Constancio would write down messages from the Blessed Mother, who came under the title of the "Queen of Mercy." Since the majority of the 1988 messages were received while the rosary was being said on Monday nights, this group of messages became known as the "Rosary Messages."

The Monday night rosaries continued with more people showing up, little by little, each week. But one Monday night, a man from Dallas came and was blessed with a miraculous healing. He went back to Dallas to tell everyone, and soon the news broke over local and then national media. By the end of July, almost 1,000 persons would gather each Monday to participate at the Monday evening devotions.

²²⁰ When Mary Constancio gets a "message" from the Queen of Mercy she is basically taking dictation of what is coming to her in a locution by the supernatural grace of the Holy Spirit.

When Mary Constancio had to miss one of the Monday night devotions in April 1988, the Blessed Mother told her that Theresa Fleischman (formerly Theresa Werner) would receive messages in her absence. Mike Slate was also surprised, for he too received some messages along with Theresa.

After Mary Constancio returned, Mike Slate continued to receive messages along with Mary Constancio at the Monday night rosaries. The messages given by Mike Slate are noted within this book.

As word spread of the unusual happenings at St. John Neumann, attendance increased at the Monday night devotions. Healings were claimed by many, not just physical, but emotional, spiritual, and mental healings. The chapel was no longer big enough to hold all the people who came. The main church had to be used, and soon that was filled to capacity and overflowing.

On June 27, 1988, was the first invitation from the Blessed Mother to come to the approaching Feast of the Assumption: "My dear children, the celebration of my Assumption into heaven is approaching quickly. My children, I give you a special invitation to be here; and I ask that you give an invitation to others to join you." The opening of the public media provided the means for the invitation to be quickly sent out across the country. It was reported that over 20,000 pilgrims, coming from all parts of the country, came to Saint John Neumann parish to celebrate that 1988 Feast of the Assumption mass. (see an aerial photo of August 15, 1988 event).

Aerial View; Feast of the Assumption, 1988 of Saint John Neumann Church, and some of the 20,000 pilgrims came from all parts of the country.

During 1988 Theresa Werner (Fleischman) also received some prophetic messages from Jesus and God the Father: these messages not being part of the messages given by Our Lady under the title of the Queen of Mercy have not been published in this book.

Completion of the Rosary Message

On December 19, 1988, the Queen of Mercy gave Mike Slate the following message during the Rosary Messages: “My dear children, thank you for being with me this evening. This is a very special evening for me, for this night marks the last time that I will be coming to you, the last night that I will be giving you messages from this church.” After that night, Mike and Theresa no longer receive messages from the Queen of Mercy, and no further messages were received at Saint John Neumann’s Monday night rosary. However, while the messages were no longer received at Saint John Neumann’s Monday night rosary, Our Lady continues to give messages to Mary Constancio up to the time of the publication. The majority of the Tower Messages are found in this book.

The Tower Messages

Another series of unique experiences with the Queen of Mercy is documented in Mary Constancio’s private diary titled the Tower Messages. These events were called the Tower Messages because they occurred at the base of the church tower underneath the pine trees at Saint John Neumann. Unlike the Rosary Messages, the Tower Messages are not direct messages from the Queen of Mercy to her children around the world, but personal experiences of Mary Constancio and Mike Slate with Our Mother. Several Queen of Mercy messages are found embedded within the notes for all her children, and these messages are published in this book. What is fascinating about the Tower Messages is that both Mary Constancio and Mike Slate experienced many of the same exact visions and heard the exact same words together.

The Tower Messages only occurred during the last three months of 1988, and they ended the same time the Rosary Messages ended at Saint John Neumann, December 19, 1988. The Tower Messages have not been included in this volume except for the messages that were delivered under the title of the Queen of Mercy. The complete Tower Messages diary can be purchased separately from the Ambassadors of the Flame of Mercy.

In 1989 Henry and Mary Constancio formed the Ambassadors of the Flame of Mercy, an Association of Christ Faithful as a charitable organization²²¹ with the mission “to lead our brothers and sisters to receive the fullness of the Sacraments of the Catholic Church by promoting reconciliation between God and men through the mystery of the Holy Trinity by bringing the love of God the Father, the healing of God the Son, and the empowerment of God the Holy Spirit into action, with the Blessed Virgin Mary as our role model.”

Decades of Love Letters and Instructions For Her Children Across This World

December 19, 1988, was not the end of the messages from the Queen of Mercy: only the messages that were being given at Saint John Neumann stopped. The messages were still given to Mary Constancio, but for Mike Slate, the messages stopped.

Starting in 1989, the messages were given to Mary Constancio every year on three dates: February 28th, the Feast of the Assumption (August 15), and every October 14 (a date which the Blessed Mother allows Mary Constancio to pick). An unexpected blessing occurred when the Ambassadors of the Flame of Mercy held their first men’s retreat (the Macho Men of God retreat) on August 30, 1997, when unexpectedly Mary Constancio came into the retreat and said the Blessed Mother, the Queen of Mercy had come to bless men. The Queen of Mercy gave the members of the Ambassadors of the Flame of Mercy this message: “The men’s retreat is so much in the will of God that I wish you to hold it every three months, and I will come.” Thus, the Ambassadors of the Flame of Mercy Ministry faithfully holds a men’s retreat every three months, and the Queen of Mercy, keeping her promise, continues to come and give words of encouragement to her sons and the world.

²²¹ The Ambassadors of the Flame of Mercy, Inc. became a registered 501(3)(C) organization in 1995.

On August 15, 2005, Our Lady said, “I have left you many love letters in my messages.” At the time of this publication, Queen of Mercy was still giving her children “love letters.” God willing, the ministers here at the Ambassadors of the Flame of Mercy will continue to receive her words of wisdom, encouragement, and mercy.

QUEEN OF MERCY, PRAY FOR US.

ABOUT MARY CONSTANCIO

Mary Constancio lives in Shallowater, Texas, and at the time of this publication, is still receiving private revelations. Lead by the Holy Spirit, Mary Constancio and her husband Henry founded in 1989 the Association of the Ambassadors of the Flame of Mercy, an association of Christ's faithful. Both Henry and Mary have dedicated themselves through the Ambassadors organization to lead our brothers and sisters to receive the fullness of the Sacraments of the Catholic Church by promoting reconciliation between God and men through the mystery of the Holy Trinity by bringing the love of God the Father, the healing of God the Son, and the empowerment of God the Holy Spirit into action, with the Blessed Virgin Mary as our role model.

For information about the Ambassadors of the Flame of Mercy, go to www.flameofmercy.com.

