Additional Services

Vaccines

- ☐ Bordetella Vaccine (Kennel Cough) - $20
- ☐ Leptospirosis - $15 Lepto is spread through the urine of wild animals, including mice and rats, and it is deadly. Humans can catch lepto from an infected pet, so vaccinating against lepto is highly recommended and it is considered a core vaccine in our area.
- ☐ Lyme - $25 Lyme disease is extremely common in our area, so this vaccine is strongly recommended for all dogs.
- ☐ FeLV (Feline Leukemia) - $20 Feline Leukemia is spread through contact with infected cats. This vaccine is considered a lifestyle vaccine, and it is strongly recommended for indoor/outdoor cats and outdoor only cats.

Testing

- ☐ 4DX (Tests for Lyme Disease, Anaplasmosis, Ehrlichia, and Heartworm) - $40 Lyme Disease and Anaplasmosis are extremely common in our area, and they can cause slow clotting during surgery.
- ☐ FIV/FeLV (Tests for Feline Immunodeficiency Virus, Feline Leukemia, and Heartworm) - $40 This test is especially valuable for cats found as strays. Both FIV and FeLV can be easily transmitted to other cats.
- ☐ Blood Panel (CBC & Chem 17) - $100

Stray Haven may run any of these tests at the veterinarian's discretion if there are concerns during surgery.

Other

- ☐ Nail Trim - $10
- ☐ Microchip - $20
- ☐ Flea/Tick Prevention - $15 If your pet is found to have live fleas, Stray Haven will administer flea/tick prevention at the veterinarian's discretion because fleas can hinder the healing process and cause infection.
