VALLEY CHAPEL COMMUNITY CHURCH

"Bloom Where God Has Planted You"

May is a month of blooming fields, warmer sunshine, singing birds, and fresh beginnings. Everywhere we look, creation reminds us that God is still at work. The same Lord who paints the flowers and feeds the sparrows is the same God who watches over His children day and night.

"Pastoral Perspectives"

May is a month of blooming fields, warmer sunshine, singing birds, and fresh beginnings. Everywhere we look, creation reminds us that God is still at work. The same Lord who paints the flowers and feeds the sparrows is the same God who watches over His children day and night.

Sometimes life can feel long and difficult. We carry burdens, worries, disappointments, and questions about the future. Yet spring quietly preaches a sermon every year: God brings life out of what once looked dead. Bare trees become full again. Empty fields turn green. Flowers bloom after long winters.

Christian friends, do not lose heart.

God has not forgotten you. He knows where you are planted. He knows the season you are walking through. And in His perfect timing, He is able to bring beauty, growth, and fruitfulness into your life again.

May is also a reminder to let our faith bloom before others. A kind word, a helping hand, a prayer for a neighbor, an invitation to church, or a quiet testimony about Jesus can plant seeds that God may use for eternity.

As the flowers bloom around us this month, may our hearts bloom with gratitude, compassion, and renewed faith in Christ.

Keep your eyes upon Jesus. The Gardener of your soul is still working.

Prayer:

Heavenly Father, thank You for the beauty of spring and the reminder that You make all things new. Help us to trust You in every season of life. Let our lives bloom with faith, kindness, and love so others may see Christ in us. In Jesus' name, Amen.

In His Gracious Love,
Pastor Johnny R. Davis
